Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, might I advise the gentleman, and I do not want to limit his debate or discussion, that we are only talking here about House Bill No. 2326, and Senator Silvert and everyone else here have been discussing the administrative budget of the Department of Property and Supplies? If you want to get into the General State Authority, the Highways Department and the rest of it, I will be very happy to do so.

Mr. CONFAIR. Sir, I did not bring these things up. You are bringing them up. I do not want to discuss them. I want to talk about this department. You are the one who is bringing all of these things up. I did not.

I will talk about this department. We have raised them. We have given that department over $1,000,000 more than they had in the last biennium.

Mr. WEINER. Sir, to whom are you giving $1,000,000?

Mr. CONFAIR. The net increase in the State appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies is $1,581,000. Do you want me to show you the figures on it?

Mr. BARR. It is $10,000,000.

Mr. WEINER. What are you speaking of now? Are you speaking of administrative expenses, payment of rentals or which phase of it?

Mr. CONFAIR. This is just administrative expenses. I can understand the payment of rentals. You say $10,000,000, but when you go back to the rentals, I understand that we are paying more rentals this time, and we deducted $1,050,000 for the rentals.

In the administration, about which I am speaking, you have approximately $15,784,000, and the amount available for the 1957-1959 biennium was $15,499,000. You deduct that from the total amount which was appropriated. The only thing which we cut was $702,575. That is all we actually cut off.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, in the interest of being fair and for Senator Silvert's information—

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, has Senator Confair finished asking questions? Has he now yielded the mike to Senator Ehrgood? The last speaker was Senator Confair, who was having some difficulty with figures. Now is he yielding the mike to Senator Ehrgood?

Mr. CONFAIR. In all of these figures, we have just been emphasizing how much the department buys. However, I will yield to Senator Ehrgood.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, in the interest of being fair and for information's sake, this is just to clear up at least one matter in this debate on General State Authority rentals.

The information whereby we cut from $43,500,000 to $42,500,000 for General State Authority rentals came from the Executive Director of the General State Authority, Mr. Caruso.

For Senator Silvert's information, the same information was given by Mr. Caruso to the Governor's Office. I have just checked that, and I am sure that the Governor's Office knows that as well as we do, and I do not think there should be any insinuation otherwise.

Mr. WEINER. I would like to explain to Senator Ehrgood—and I have taken this matter up with responsible people or the people who should know—that this amount of money, this difference, was never transmitted to the Governor's Office, nor was anyone in the Governor's Office informed about it. As a matter of fact, the figure of $43,000,000 that you were speaking about came through the Executive Director to the Governor's Office. They took this figure and used it as their basis. This was also used in the House Appropriations Committee, and no one ever mentioned it there. The first time we had any word of it at all was when this bill came out and we found this cut. We do have an amendment which we are not going to introduce.

We were saying that if there is one set of figures for the Democratic people and there is another one for the Republican Members of this Chamber, we would like to know about it. I think we should be informed either by letter or by having the gentleman appear in person and tell us. We are not interested in giving him any more money than he feels he needs.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, I concluded a telephone conversation with Mr. A. J. Caruso approximately fifteen minutes ago. A letter was sent to Senator Stevenson. A similar letter was sent by the Governor's Office, as stated by Mr. Caruso. I assume that probably the Governor's Office gets many letters, but if they pay no attention to them, then that is another matter. However, I do believe that we should at least take the word of someone who is in authority on this matter.

Mr. WEINER. The Secretary of the Budget, Mr. Baldwin, is standing right behind me, and he advises me that he has not received such a letter, does not know anything about it and the first he learned of it was in this discussion here because I questioned him on that myself.

I would like to suggest to the gentleman that perhaps we should be at ease and bring up the Secretary of Property and Supplies and find out where this $800,000,000 figure came from. Let us also bring Mr. Caruso over here and find out from him whether he ever sent this letter. Let us get a copy of it, if it was ever sent to these people. I certainly think it puts us in a rather odd position if we do not have this information and it is not available to us. If it did come to Senator Stevenson, and I am sure that it did, I am sure he would have read it to the committee had he seen fit to do so or had the committee been in session. However, not having that information and learning it here for the first time, Senator Silvert was correct in stating that we knew nothing about this thing.

I will be very happy to be at ease to bring these people over here. Let us find out where these figures are coming from.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, I am sure the Minority Leader has enough aides, and certainly the Budget Secretary has enough aides, to go check with Mr. Caruso. Why does he not do that? I did it, and I am sure he can do it. If the left hand does not know what the right hand is doing in the Governor's Office of this Commonwealth, it seems to me somewhat peculiar.

Mr. WEINER. I not only want to show what the right and left hands are doing, but perhaps we should give the back of one of those hands to some of these people who are not doing their job properly. This might be a good time to find out who is to do that. I think this should be a matter of information for the entire Senate, rather than for any one individual to have to run around and find out these different problems. I think a telephone call should be made to ask this gentleman to come here. After all, he is a creature of our making; not we of his making. I think he has a perfect right to report to this parent body, when he did not give us information without us playing Charlie Chan and trying to find out who gave what to whom.

I think the Secretary of Property and Supplies should be brought up here so we can learn whether he ever gave this figure to Senator Confair, and if he did, the basis for it. If he did not, I would also like to know that. I think everyone here should have that information.

We do not have time to be playing errand boy, running around to find these people. It takes too much time. We have more important business to transact.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I agree with Senator Weiner. I believe some of these arguments here are as phony as a three dollar bill. There is an inference here now, and I believe that we should have His Honor, Mr. Caruso, come up here. Also, let us have the Secretary of Property and Supplies clarify a few of these phony arguments. It is just like this phony budget. After reviewing it, I think I can tell you that there is a very little increase in this budget this year.

Therefore, let us have them up here and clarify it now.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I just checked with the Department of Property and Supplies, and I found that the Secretary has left in his car from the Health and Welfare Building and is coming to the Capitol. I have got a tracer out to have him up here. I am attempting now to phone Mr. Caruso and ask him to come over here, because I am not going to stand idly by and have Senator Confair use an erroneous figure of $800,000,000 and put things like that in the Williamsport Sun.

I, for one, will keep this Senate here over night, if need be, to prove to him the fallacy of the story he put in the Williamsport paper.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am not familiar with any story in the Williamsport paper, but I assume the quotation therefrom, read by the gentleman over there, is correct.

We are discussing the budget of the Department of Property and Supplies. The unassailable fact remains that in this appropriation bill and on the item that we are discussing, there is an amount of $10,843,150 more appropriated in this bill than was appropriated to and spent by the Department of Property and Supplies in the preceding biennium.

The question before the Senate is whether these appropriations are adequate for the conduct of the departments for which they are appropriated. Mr. President, I submit that this is the issue here and no other.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Potter, Senator Berger.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the Majority Leader advise the Members of the Senate whether you are now saying, sir, that you agree that our figures are correct?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am not stating any such thing. I have not had access to their figures. However, I will say this. When these figures were submitted to the gentlemen over there, I understand they had the services available immediately of no less than fifteen accountants to go over them very carefully and to submit their findings. I have no doubt they did an excellent job. I also believe that the people who worked on this subcommittee and presented these figures and prepared these amendments to the appropriation bill did an outstanding job.

We have no facilities whereby we can contend with fifteen accountants, drawn from the various departments of the Hill, but we do submit that in this particular item the sum of $10,843,150 more has been appropriated to that department than they had in the last biennium, which we regard as being amply sufficient even to add additional personnel.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am sorry they do not have the benefit of fifteen accountants, but I understand they have some pretty high priced consultants, to which we do not have access. Will the gentleman tell us the amount spent last year by the Department of Property and Supplies?

Mr. BERGER. The amount spent by the Department of Property and Supplies, Mr. President, appears to have been $47,079,453.

Mr. WEINER. That includes the rentals, does it not?

Mr. BERGER. I do not understand the question.

Mr. WEINER. Well, the Department of Property and Supplies also pays—

Mr. BERGER. Well, the rentals to the General State Authority—

Mr. WEINER. That is included in that?

Mr. BERGER. That is correct.

Mr. WEINER. All right, sir. Now in the figures that you are looking at, and I am using your figures, is there any amount in there or any place in there where you see $800,000,000, and I am speaking just of the last biennium, not this biennium?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, the amount of $800,000,000 does not appear in the appropriation bill.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, would the Senator please advise us if in his term here in the Senate—and I am not referring to last Session but the previous Sessions when he has been here—there has ever been an amount of $800,000,000 appropriated for the Department of Property and Supplies?

Mr. BERGER. No, Mr. President. There has never been $800,000,000 appropriated to the Department of Property and Supplies.

Mr. WEINER. Have they ever spent $800,000,000 since you have been here, Senator?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I cannot answer that question. I doubt very much whether the gentleman who asked it could have answered the question prior to receiving the information which has just been handed to him.

Mr. WEINER. Senator Berger, I hope you will forgive me if I qualify you as an expert on these matters, but using your experience since you have been here, has it ever come to your knowledge that the Department of Property and Supplies has ever spent $800,000,000 in any given biennium?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I do not recall that the subject has ever come under discussion before, as far as I am concerned.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman allow himself to be further interrogated?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman allow himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. I would, Mr. President, provided the questions are not within the purview of assertions that the gentleman is able to make from information at his disposal. I submit that I am at all times willing to be interrogated on legislative matters, but, in common with a number of other people, I would say that the course of the interrogation rather transcends the ordinary legislative debate.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman may proceed within limitations.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman please advise us if there is in this budget that is before us at the present time—and I know he has made a careful study of it—$800,000,000 for the Department of Property and Supplies?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I do not know how you beg a question that you put yourself. At the same time, I want to submit to the gentleman that the amount of $800,000,000, which has been spoken of her, whether it is $800,000,000 or what have you, refers to purchases made by the Department and not money appropriated to the department.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman allow himself further to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. Within the limitations I previously stated, Senator.

Mr. WEINER. Will the gentleman please advise the Senate if there is no such money appropriated, where would the Department of Property and Supplies obtain this money to make these purchases?

Mr. BERGER. That is easily answered, Mr. President. These purchases are made on behalf of other departments from money appropriated to those other departments. The Department of Property and Supplies is the agency that makes purchases on behalf of all of the departments, I believe, including the General State Authority or not.

Mr. WEINER. Will the gentleman please advise the Members of the Senate whether there is such money in the budget today, excluding the Department of Public Instruction which does not make most of its purchases through Property and Supplies—$800,000,000—for them to make any purchases for any of these departments?

Mr. BERGER. Not in the general appropriation bill, Mr. President, nor in the revenues available to the State for general governmental purposes. However, there is a large amount of money available to the Department of Highways which does not appear in this budget. There is a large amount of money available to the General State Authority which does not appear in this budget.

Mr. WEINER. I want to thank the gentleman.

Mr. PRESIDENT, I also want to advise the Members of the Senate that the total amount of money appropriated to the Department of Highways, in which the Department of Property and Supplies participates in purchases, is only $30,000,000. The total amount actually purchased by the department, and which is in their budget, is $80,000,000. How this becomes $800,000,000, I do not know. If it is a figment of someone's imagination, I think the least they should do is correct this misimpression here. I think it casts a bad reflection on the department head and on the Cabinet Officer. I do not think anyone would find it amiss, if the gentleman did err, for him to advise us of his error. I think that would be the gentlemanly thing to do because we have always operated in that manner.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Weiner.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEINER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, does the gentleman's figure of $80,000,000, include all purchases made by the Department of Property and Supplies for all of the departments and agencies of State Government, including the Department of Highways and others that are not represented in this appropriation bill?

Mr. WEINER. This $80,000,000 figure, sir, which I just gave you, represents the total amount of purchases made by the Department of Property and Supplies. Not only am I saying this, but the Secretary of Property and Supplies, in answer to Senator Confair's statement in the Williamsport newspaper, has said the very same thing.

I know I would like to get to the bottom of the matter and find out who is not telling the truth here. We can very easily do that by having the Secretary of Property and Supplies come up. His books and records are kept in order. They are audited by the Auditor General who, certainly, is not a member of the same political party as he is. In that way, we can ascertain the truth of this matter just by two simple telephone calls. If there is an error, I think we should correct it and I think it should be stated here on the floor. The misimpression left in people's minds, if at all possible, should be cleared up here in the Senate, the same way it was created. Forgetting about the other political consideration, the $800,000,000, I am sure all of us realize here, cannot possibly be a correct figure.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, the gentleman having answered my question satisfactorily, as far as I am concerned, I have no further interrogation.

However, I might make the comment that in so far as the budget figures are concerned here and the use of the money, again I point out that the amount available is over $10,000,000 more than in the prior biennium. Also, in so far as calling another witness, if the gentleman wishes to put it that way, I include that in my statement regarding interrogation; that within the bounds of legislative debate, interrogations are proper.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Potter, Senator Berger.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. Depending on the question and the form of the question, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Senator Berger, would you advise the Members of the Senate whether this increase for the Department of Property and Supplies also includes increased rentals on the new buildings which are now open and operating and which were not considered in the 1957-59 budget?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I assume that the gentleman has ample information to answer that question himself. However, I believe that the amount of rentals provided here are projected for whatever necessary rentals must be paid on behalf of the General State Authority for the next biennium or what remains of it.

Mr. WEINER. I want to thank the gentleman, Mr. President.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I would like to inform you that not only is the figure which Senator Berger gave you as an increase in the Department a correct figure, but it does not go far enough. In stating that the rentals are increased, the amount of the rentals are greater than they have been in the last biennium. On that basis, the increase is not a proper reflection of what is being given to the department. We must, under the law, pay these rentals. If you do not pay them, you are violating the law. Therefore, the increase may be there in figures, but the purpose of the increase should be thoroughly investigated.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SILVERT and Mr. SEYLER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Barr,	Lane,	Mullin,	Sarraf,
Camel,	Mahady,	Murray,	Seyler,
DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Ripp,	Silvert,
Donolow,	McGinnis,	Rooney,	Stiefel,
Hays,	McMenamin,	Ruth,	Weiner,
Kalman,	Miller,

NAYS—28

Berger,	Fleming,	Mallery,	Van Sant,
Blass,	Harney,	Pechan,	Wade,
Chapman,	Keller,	Probert,	Wagner,
Confair,	Kessler,	Scott,	Walker,
Ehrgood,	Koprivier, Jr.	Shafer,	Watkins,
Elliott,	Kromer,	Stevenson,	Whalley,
Flack,	Madigan,	Taylor,	Wolfe,

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I now offer an amendment to House Bill No. 2326, Printer's No. 1704, and ask for its immediate consideration and adoption.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 29, line 9, by striking out "$527,885,138" and inserting: "$531,051,488".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, this is sort of a change of pace. I would not mean to imply that the Department of Property and Supplies is not an important phase of Pennsylvania government. However, this amendment deals with children and people, and this is what makes Pennsylvania great. This has the possibility of making Pennsylvania great.

This particular amendment has to do with the amount of money appropriated to school districts in the support of education, specifically for what is known as teacher units.

In my boyhood days, there was a saying in my family about paying for a dead horse. I am not very well qualified to speak on the value of dead horses or live horses. I defer to the gentleman from Delaware on this question. However, most of my remarks will deal with the fact that we, during this Session, are paying for a dead horse to the extent of $74,000,000. A great deal of that, I understand, lies in the Department of Public Instruction.

As I see the situation today, the Senate has at least a two-fold responsibility before it. We have the choice of selecting, making a choice between two sets of figures. One set is provided by men and women who work each day, every day of the year, and many of them for many, many years, at the very matters with which these figures are directly concerned. On the other hand, we have another set of figures submitted by twenty-eight men or their leaders. They are all sincere and dedicated men also, but men who do their work and make their decisions, frequently without full consideration, and, oftentimes, in the light, heat and smoke of a political caucus. They meet and consider these matters relating to children with the publicly announced purpose, before they start, that $100,000,000 must be sliced from the budget, and men who, in addition to this problem of public education, have great concerns in other fields of government also. Since we appear to have but two choices in these matters, chance would say that each group would have a fifty-fifty chance. However, my Senator friends, this is not a matter for chance. This is a matter affecting our lives in our time and, more particularly, the lives and happiness of our children and our children's children. Now remember that each of these two groups, in the preparation of these figures known as the budget for education in Pennsylvania, take and apply the same set of rules. The rules for these computations are the laws, the mandates which govern the answers that appear. That is one phase of the responsibility faced by this Senate today.

The other phase deals with a more elusive aspect, not cold, mathematical formulas and equations, but it is a matter of the spirit which is somewhat removed from mathematical computations. Pennsylvania and the Nation have just been visited by the leader of the great challenge to the American way of life. I believe that the great majority of this Body believes that in the final analysis the winning or losing of this war, cold, lukewarm or hot, rests largely with the effectiveness of the respective educational programs of the two challengers; namely, the U.S.S.R., which devotes over ten per cent of its national income to education, and the United States, which devotes less than five per cent of its national income to education.

I want to quote two paragraphs from that well-known publication, the Philadelphia Bulletin, in a recent issue. The article reads as follows:

"... in Washington, the Eisenhower Administration released a highly laudatory report on the educational system built up by Krushchev.

"The report, prepared by Mr. Eisenhower's Office of Education, warned: 'We cannot afford to be apathetic about educational developments in the USSR. Clearly the Soviet Union is bent on overtaking and surprising us as a world power.'

"The official report then went on to say that money is no problem to Soviet educators; that Russia is spending 10 to 15 per cent of its budget on education compared with our five per cent; that laboratory and teaching equipment are excellent, classes small and teachers qualified."

This Senate today has an opportunity and a responsibility to take a bold vote and say to the U.S.S.R., the world, the forty-nine other States and, more importantly, to the citizens of Pennsylvania that education is one matter on which we will do our full best. We should say that we will maintain our best strength by not crippling services so that the path to a more effective program of public education is more easy to tread. We will say by our action here today, to the youth now in school, that we will support public education in such a manner that you will not have to complete with your Russian counterparts with a hand tied behind your back. Since the tax responsibility of the average Pennsylvanian, we are told by the U. S. Secretary of Commerce, is $81, while that of the average person in the average State of the fifty States is $91, I hope that this Senate today will say, by its votes, to our sons and daughters that Pennsylvanians are willing to support public education to the degree that one out of three Pennsylvania boys and girls may be in institutions of higher learning, instead of the present figure of one out of four or one out of five, in order for us to even approach in this respect a State like the State of Utah, with one out of two in colleges.

None of us can estimate the boost to the morale of the youth of our Commonwealth, to the school directors of the State, laden with heavy burdens, and to the anxious members of the Congress of Parents and Teachers who, by card, letter, wire and personal contact, implore each of you daily to give better support to public education. If the newspapers tomorrow would carry the headline that the Senate of Pennsylvania refuses to lower educational levels set by the House, this would be a great day. What are some of the conditions of public education in Pennsylvania? I made a very brief but personal survey of school organizations in the two counties which I represent. Here are just one or two findings from this personal study. They consist of conditions as they are in central Pennsylvania and probably not unlike conditions in Pennsylvania in general.

I asked the heads of schools a couple of simple questions; namely, the number of professional employees they have this fall and the number of new employees, those who are new in their jobs. This is a basis, by continuous change in turnover, which weakens any organization.

In one district,—I shall not give the name—there are 145 professional employees, with seventeen new ones this fall. Out of those, ten have never taught school before. This amounts to over ten per cent. Another district has 64 employees,—these are relatively small districts, but there are many small districts in Pennsylvania—with nine of them new this year. Another one has 146 employees, twelve of whom are new this year. Another one has seventy-five employees, ten of whom are new this year. Another one has 225 employees, fifty-nine of whom are new this year. This should give you some conception of the difficulties under which public education is working today.

Now back to the first phase of the situation and a few background statements.

As Governor Lawrence has so aptly said, "The State Government is very largely a collector of taxes and a distributor of funds from the State Treasury." However, Mr. President, the funds are distributed according to rules and regulations, actually the laws of the Commonwealth, as all of you know. We have mandated that the Department of Public Instruction must pay certain standards. The Department has no discretionary power in most of these cases. Therefore, the problem before us today resolves itself into one of taking the figures of a staff whose sole responsibility is this work, or the figures of twenty-eighty earnest men, with a self announced figure of a $100,000,000 cut in front of them. This $100,000,000 figure probably excludes from view of many of the twenty-eight that this budget deals with children, their needs and their future. Does it make any difference which figures we use? In a sense, the answer is "no." If we use the lower figure, the Commonwealth must pay and will pay to every school district the amount earned during the two year period, whether we put it in this budget or not. In that sense, it makes little difference. However, it may make and has made considerable difference if enough money is not appropriated for school districts. If it does not arrive to school districts in time, as has been the case when we undershoot the mark, then hard pressed school districts must negotiate high interest, short term loans to meet their obligations. These are really obligations that we have failed to meet. This adds to the financial woes of the poor districts of the Commonwealth and, thereby, adds misery to misery. It also has the effect on the State level of creating the dead horse situation, at the beginning of the Session. Before we start paying for the current two years, we must first levy taxes to pay for the dead horse of the previous Session. Of course, a more polite phrase, but equally distasteful, is deficit financing. This adds unnecessarily to the tax load of the citizens of the Commonwealth. I think we can all remember this situation earlier in the year, when we discovered that the work of the Senate Majority, in 1957, had cut these budgets which caused some of these deficits. These people are mostly the same people who are here today.

We can all remember two years ago when, at this same stage of deliberations, the Senate Majority agreed on the amount of money that would be required for teaching units. I shall not go into this intricate formula, but I am sure that you know that school districts are awarded money for teaching units. A teaching unit consists of thirty elementary pupils and twenty-two high school pupils.

However, when we came back to this Session, we discovered that the Senate had missed the correct amount by $9,649,910. Therefore, a deficiency appropriation to that amount, to correct the guess of 1957, was passed and voted for, I believe, by all the Members of this Senate. Despite this experience, so recent, we now find that this same Senate is being asked to accept a $3,000,000 deduction from the figure that came to us from the House with the approval of the Department of Public Instruction. What does a $3,000,000 cut mean? This means, Mr. President, that some people are guessing that there are going to be 20,000 less children in Pennsylvania than what some other people are guessing. As I listened to the debate yesterday and today, there seems to be a consistent theme. We are cutting from the Department of Health, which must mean that they expect less people in Pennsylvania; they are cutting from the Department of Welfare and the Department of Public Assistance, which must mean they expect less people in Pennsylvania; and they are cutting from the important Industrial Development Authority. It seems to me a program of this kind is a program saying that Pennsylvania has no future. Twenty thousand children are going to be short in Pennsylvania. I doubt if the Majority in this Senate believe that Pennsylvania is on the way down.

The Senate today seems to have a clear-cut choice. It can either accept well thought out estimates of needs, to comply with existing law, or continue the phony budget balancing which was practiced two years ago and, I understand, some years prior. Is it not about time that we face up with the financial facts of life, anticipate all our bills and pay our bills on time? In this way we could avoid some interest charges and stop the too long trend of deficit financing in Pennsylvania. The best place to start is here and the best time is now. The Majority Party in this Senate has, I am sure, carried with pride the three-letter symbol "GOP." I think this is a proud symbol for most or all of them. However, it seems to me that another financial deficiency in 1961, like we had when we came back in 1959, will cause some people to rechristen your Party as the Party of the three "D's,"—"Deficiency, Delay and Deceit."

Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote for this amendment, restoring $3,000,000 to the teaching unit budget.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, at this time, I want to congratulate Senator Hays. He is always a breath of fresh air.

Sometimes it is incumbent upon us not to do the political thing, but to do the thing that is right. Perhaps, because I am new here, it is with hesitancy that I call a fact a fact. I have heard arguments about what facts are this morning, when the fact is easily ascertainable and close at hand. However, I think I would be remiss, even though it is unpolitical to do so, to not call attention to several things this morning.

Jo Hays, when he talked about a dead horse, was so correct. We came in here and voted for $74.5 million in a deficiency appropriation. We know that because of the so-called recession we had a $67,000,000 loss of revenue. Those two figures added together gives you the $141,000,000 deficit. One-half of this deficit is caused by what you are doing today. It is the deficiency appropriation for two years hence. It is sleight of hand. It is budgetary trickery. There is no question about it.

Now let us talk about the conservative side. There are two items in this budget, and if I were not new, I would insist upon an amendment. In fact, for one of them, I had it prepared. I had an amendment prepared for page 30 of the bill, stating that the $4,755,100 should not be spent for closed schools. We are paying and kidding the public by paying practically $5,000,000 for schools, some of which were closed twenty years ago.

Who is kidding whom, and why? A slight inquiry brought to my attention the fact that Governor Leader's administration tried to eliminate this item, and the bill died in this Body. If we are going to pay out $5,000,000, let us put a proper label on it. I certainly cannot see why we should stand by and pay for closed schools. On the face of it, it does not make sense. I have not had time to do the proper research on what the proper amendment is here. Perhaps it should be done gradually, rather than take the chance of taking a flyer which would not be quite the right thing.

It is a fact that we did have and do have an Appropriations Committee in this Senate. That Appropriations Committee did not function. Three men were given the right—and under what authority, God only knows—to make cuts, and they came in here and refused to say why they did it or what items they cut. I say, why did they not study this item? Where was their report? There was no Member from this side of the Senate that I could go to and say, "What is this $4,755,100 doing in here and why is it not eliminated?"

No, they did it secretly, in the dead of the night, and hid back when they were questioned, saying, "We are not going to tell you," like little kids. "We know something you do not know, and we will not tell you." That is the approach we are using to run this State.

The people are not dumb. Our people are people who know what they are doing and they do want the facts. Hiding the facts from them on the idea that "We know what is best for you" certainly is not the basis for an intelligent debate or an intelligent basis upon which to found a budget.

I also draw your attention to something that has two wrongs to it, and that is on page 26 of the bill. We have an item for approximately one-half million dollars, $477,196, for payment of rental charges to the General State Authority for capital improvements at State-aided educational institutions.

I say it is wrong, either one way or the other. The General State Authority rentals are already handled by the Department of Property and Supplies and well handled. Here we have two items totaling that amount where the rentals are paid by the Department of Public Instruction. Where you make an estimate of these rentals in the Department of Property and Supplies, if they are over on one or under on the other, they can make it up. Here if they miss, there is a deficiency. I say to you, what about this problem? Why should we be paying this? We gave them the credit of the State to allow them to build new buildings. We own the land. What is going to happen when this is all over? They own the building and we own the land. What is the outcome of it? Why was this done? I say on both points, it is wrong.

Again we get down and we find them fooling around in the dark of the night, but where there is necessity of action, they have not acted. They have said, "We are the three who will cut. We want no truck with you. We will not even talk to you. We will not tell you why we did it, or what we did, but here is the result. Take it or leave it. We have twenty-eight votes that do not vote on conscience or on fact. We just vote."

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, last week, when these figures were released to the public, a number of papers in my locality carried the information that the Senate Committee had increased the budget of the Department of Public Instruction by $74,000,000, all of which, of course, is misinformation.

For the information of the public, I would like to quote these figures accurately and I hope you will take them down accurately:

Public Instruction received actually in the 1957-1959 biennium a sum of $786,920,244; recommended by the Governor for the 1959-1961 biennium, the sum of $844,963,521. The Senate of Pennsylvania, according to this figure, recommended $861,090,978.

Mr. President, what I wish to call to your attention is the figure supplied us this morning in regard to deficiencies. I have marked them out here.

The budget cut on teaching units, according to these figures, is $3,166,350. However, in the 1957-1959 budget, there was a deficiency amounting to $9,649,910.

We go on down and we find that on transportation, there was a budget cut of $1,000,000. However, there was a deficiency in the 1957-1959 of $2,650,000.

Then we come to supplemental payments for unions and jointures of school districts. We find there was a budget cut of $432,500, and if you please, there was a deficiency in the 1957-1959 of $765,873.

Speaking of closed schools, there was a budget cut of $144,900, and there was a deficiency appropriation of $140,000.

In regard to extension education, there was a budget cut of $500,000, and there was a deficiency in 1957-1959 of $772,000.

To me, and I believe even the Members on the other side will admit, their figures are very, very misleading. I have often wondered and I talked on this floor quite a number of times yesterday in regard to exactly where all of the cuts were being made. We have limited information as far as the budget is concerned on Public Instruction. Nevertheless, the fact remains that what they are trying to do, in my opinion, is economize at the expense of public education.

I recall not too long ago a Member of this Body, Senator Whalley, was on the rostrum. He talked about his visit to Soviet Russia. It was a wonderful speech. I might say that, in my opinion, it is one of the best speeches I have ever heard, and that man is a Member of the Majority Party. He mentioned in his speech quite emphatically, Mr. President, the way Soviet Russia is going about with the education of their children. I think all of us agree that he was very well informed on that particular subject. I thought at that time his speech was quite apropos. I thought it was very appropriate, because we were coming to the period when we were going to allocate money for the education of our children.

I thought, too, Mr. President, that Senator Whalley would more or less be on the side of the liberals in making sure that we have the funds to educate our children.

I do not know how he is going to vote. I have no idea. However, it seems to me that we should surely practice what we preach.

I realize that the Republican Party in Pennsylvania is trying to make a record. I might say to the gentleman here today that I think they have done some very fast foot work. We have done a mighty good job as far as taxes are concerned, but when it comes to cutting the budgets of essential portions of government to the extreme, it seems to me that we are shortsighted.

I do not suppose anything I say is going to change anything here. However, I do say this to the Members of the Majority Party. You are stepping on the wrong toes when you take away funds for public education. I think a number of great men have often said that where education is concerned, it has priority over anything else because it is a broadening of the mind. It means that the individual will be able to go out in this world and do a job not only for himself, but for the people. Without education, we would be lost. If we did not have the great leaders in the nation who are well educated and have a grasp of all of the problems, we would be lost now against our Soviet enemy.

I have always admired the men in the Foreign Service for their broad viewpoints, which they acquired through extensive education, if you please. Here we are being shortsighted by cutting the budget where it is essential that we have it in there, and cutting the budget on something which is going to come back to haunt us. Therefore, I plead with the other side here today, to let us review our position on public education and do something for our children and our children's children.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, that was a very fine speech by Senator Lane. There is only one difficulty. No mention was made of the Senate increase for special education, and the "shortsightedness" that Senator Lane is belaboring should be perhaps pointed at the Governor's office.

Now the facts are, as the Senator well knows, that there was a deficiency of $6,000,000 in the last biennium for special education, and that, as a result, $18,150,000 was spent for special education. We all know, and it was testified to in our Public Instruction Hearings, that the expensive part of special education is coming along. The Republican side of the Senate, recognizing that, increased that appropriation for special education because they did not want the built-in deficit that the Governor evidently thought would be occurring here.

Therefore, I would say to Senator Lane that the arguments could be well used in reverse.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, my heart always goes out in sympathetic interest to anyone's speech on behalf of the boys and girls in Pennsylvania and our public schools. I have stood on this floor many times over fourteen years during seven Sessions. We have argued sometimes with the gentleman on the other side about the distribution of subsidies, but I have never belabored them, to my knowledge, and I think the record will show it. As to their sincerity in their interest in education, or as to their genuine concern for the Commonwealth and its children, there was a grand speech made this morning at the outset of this when the amendment was offered for boys and girls. It is just unfortunate that it wound up as a springboard for accusing the Republican Party of being the party of deceit so far as education is concerned.

I submit that it might be well to take a course on how to make friends and influence people. If the genuine desire is to enrich the school program and to get the Republicans to join in further enrichment of it, since the Republicans are in the majority in this Senate, it might be well to be a little more kindly on the approach, rather than hurl charges of deceit and deception and trickery.

I would submit to the people of Pennsylvania the record, so far as these vast public school programs are concerned, and ask under what administrations these programs were launched. The programs included the matter of jointures and union districts; the matter of school buildings and participation of the State in payment of those buildings. Certainly many Democrats, some of whom are in their seats today, have fought valiantly and helped immeasurably to accomplish this. However, in the fact of the political record, if you want to call it that, of performance so far as education and school children are concerned in Pennsylvania in the past fourteen years, I submit, Mr. President, to all who are interested and who care to listen or to read, that the Republican Party need make no apology, and is certainly not fairly subject to derision and to accusation on this floor.

During my fourteen years here, I have not experienced one Session when I was not importuned to help to restore appropriations. Appropriations are always suggested. Some figures are always altered. Some changes are always made in everybody's budget. I do not think any were ever made more drastically than under the recent Governor Fine. However, when these things would happen, because I was Chairman of the Education Committee, before I became a Member of the Appropriations Committee, friends of education would come to me to intercede to see what measure of restoration I could achieve for these various budget items.

I have been around here since this budget was talked about and these appropriations were adjusted. Up to this moment, Mr. President, I have not had one representative of the State School Directors' Association, I have not had one member of the Pennsylvania State Education Association come to me and accuse the Republicans of doing anyone dirt so far as these public school appropriations are concerned.

They are the ones, Mr. President, who have always been first to raise their voice in protest if something were out of order.

I would like to address myself not so much to the speech that was made. There was a lot of talk about dead horses, the oldest and the deadest horse of which is the $141,000,000 deficit left by our previous governor. I assure you that was not due entirely to cuts in appropriations. It was due to the addition of thousands and tens of thousands of employees in the State over and above the number that had been engaged prior to his Administration.

However, regarding the speech which Senators Hays and implied that it was neither founded upon good education in offering an amendment dealing with reimbursement for instructional units, in which he takes us to task for reducing because he said it was an educated guess, tion or upon a high I. Q. perhaps of those who were educated in the figures, I would like to say to the gentleman and to his associates on the other side that those cuts came from the figures supplied by the Department of Public Instruction. No matter how educated, Senator Hays, there has to be a certain amount of guessing, as you know, when you estimate school costs.

The Department of Public Instruction, as recently as the time when they compiled the figures for this budget, estimated that 1959-1960 there would be 68,432 units of pupils at a reimbursement cost of $3,799 per unit. They estimated 70,030 units for 1960-1961 at $3,799 per unit. Comes June of this year, not a much later date, and the research department that is supposed to give accurate figures rather than educated guesses in the Department of Public Instruction found that their figures had originally been 69,257 units, which, subtracting the 68,432 which they now state are the most accurate figures they have, makes a difference of 825 units less.

I submit, Mr. President, this is a pretty serious business. This takes a terrific chunk from our budget and from our taxes. We cannot afford to appropriate money for 825 units of pupils who probably will not be with us in 1959 and 1960.

This started with the House. There were eight millions of dollars reduced in the House. Then another discovery was made. A discovery was made, Mr. President, that for the 70,030 units of reimbursable units eligible for subsidy, the department revised their figures downward $45 per unit, which multiplied gives you $3,151,350 and is the reduction in the item which Senator Hays is trying to amend this morning.

I have no criticism of Senator Hays' tremendous interest in this because, as he knows, I share it with him. If he felt this was arbitrarily cut out from that appropriation, I, of course, can understand why he got excited about it, although I am sorry he got excited to the point of calling us deceitful.

I submit, Mr. President, if the Department of Public Instruction is right—I have faith in them and I am not chiding them because these figures were too high. I give them credit for conceding, after they were pressed a bit and did some re-evaluating, and coming up with a different figure. The savings which they now find are in order, as compared with their original estimates for the budget, amount to the sum of money which Senator Hays wants to restore to the budget and which I do not think is necessary. For that reason, I would advise the men on both sides to vote it down.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would just like to point out to the gentleman that I think he is sincere in trying to cover the area. However, the P.S.E.A. and the P.S.D.A., the Education Association and the Directors' Association, are hardly what you would call nonpartisan groups. I think they have their political leanings and I think they are pretty well defined. I think most people recognize what they are. When they did not take any position at all on the Tax Equalization Board's action and in other areas of education where they should have been an impartial party but, instead, looked for the political implication and moved from that point on, I hardly think they would be the proper people to cite as any kind of authorities on any kind of problems involved.

I would just like to point out to the gentleman that although he and Senator Ehrgood spoke about the increase to the Department of Public Instruction, the Governor's Budget called for $884,000,000. The amount actually given in the last biennium was $786,000,000. When you say that you have cut this amount which the Governor has asked for, by the amount that you did, actually by $23,000,000, and you say you have given an increase of $74,000,000, you are not giving a true picture. In a sense, you are not saying the $74,000,000 is an increase over the 1957-1959 recommendation.

I am sure we all recognize that the cost of living has gone up. Schoolteachers are demanding more salaries. Schoolteachers, at least, want to be put on a level where they are being cared for and being handled in the same manner as the other people who live in our economy.

The gentleman who just visited our Country, Mr. Khrushchev, who is the Premier of his Country, stated the amount of money that is being spent for education in Russia. He told how they treat their schoolteachers and how they are given preferential treatment. I hardly would think this is the kind of thing which would be done in a socialistic economy. Senator Whalley, in his very fine presentation in discussing Russia last week, went on to point out how these gentlemen who educate the young are treated, how they are cared for and how they are given preferential treatment. We are not even beginning to meet the problems. The average salary or income to schoolteachers is very low. The fact has driven many, many of our young people out of the profession. In Philadelphia, they have a great deal of trouble in filling the positions. I am sure this is not just peculiar to the city of Philadelphia. They are taking people who are not particularly well trained, but they are taking the best they can get in order for their classrooms not to go empty for want of teachers. We are having many, many problems which have been brought on by our lush economy. We are having more juvenile delinquency, which is not brought on by the school system or any one factor. It is brought on by a number of factors. We are not being realistic. I do not think that economy is the type of thing we are seeking. I think the thing we are seeking is to build good citizens and educate them properly so that they can take their place in this world.

I think one of the things we should constantly bear in mind, especially in this area, is the challenge which has been thrown on us by Russia. Russia says that she not only wants to equal us, but wants to surpass us. This is one of the areas in which we are being challenged.

Therefore, Mr. President, I think we should be very careful and scrutinize our monetary problems very carefully before we take any action in any direction which might be harmful to the future.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I want to make a couple of brief statements which I think are facts.

I know that it is true that the Department of Public Instruction revised their figures in this area since last January. These revisions, I am reliably informed, were made on the basis of additional data available for the year 1958, which was not available in January or whenever these original figures were given, about which Senator Wagner spoke.

I think it is also a fact that no data has come, no change or revision has come from any branch of the Department of Public Instruction since the House passed this particular appropriation, which the Senate has reduced a little over $3,000,000. I can only say that the record shows that two years ago, we rationalized about this same way and we cut this phase of the budget. I cannot tell you the exact amount, but I do know that last January we were $9,000,000 short.

Therefore, Mr. President, I do not think Senator Wagner and I can resolve this problem until January 1961. Then if this cut goes through and no deficiency appropriation is offered, I will eat my hat and apologize to the twenty-eight gentlemen. However, if they come in with a deficiency appropriation of $3,000,000 or more, then, it seems to me, that we have taken the wrong set of figures. This is the only stand I make.

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, first of all, I want to say that I am in favor of an adequate budget to do the right kind of an educational job in Pennsylvania. It was certainly not my intention to speak on this bill, but they have brought in this Russian situation.

I think as a result of the Russian educational program, Governor Leader asked from 100 to 300 people, about one and one-half years ago, to meet in Harrisburg. At that time, it was brought out that in Russian education, the different subjects, the different sciences, the ten years of mathematics, the four years of biology, the five years of physics, the six years of chemistry, in the first ten years, were compulsory things. They brought out in the educational program that the weakness in Pennsylvania's education was the fact that high school freshmen were permitted to choose their own subjects. In many cases, the brainiest students were selecting the easiest courses. Not over a week ago, I asked Doctor Boehm whether or not anything had been done with that particular item. He apparently was not able to answer me.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am of the opinion that freshmen in our high schools today are still able to select the easy subjects. I do not think it is a case of the Republican Senate trying to reduce this budget drastically for political purposes. Fifty-eight million dollars from $1,700,000,000, I think, is about a three per cent reduction. I think what budgets of Governor Fine were $2,600,000,000; I believe they are trying to do is show the public that something must be done to stop this unrestricted spending.

I am not sure of my facts, but I believe that the total budgets of Governor Fine were $2,600,000,000; I believe Governor Leader's total budgets were $3,800,000,000, or an increase of about $1,200,000,000. I believe Governor Lawrence's first biennium budget is about $2,600,000,000. On the same basis, for the next biennium, it would be a total of $5,200,000,000, or approximately $1,400,000,000 more than the Governor Leader budget.

This is the kind of spending that we are going to have to be careful of. I can remember the time when Pennsylvania was the number one industrial State in the Union. Just a few moments ago, Senator Weiner made a statement that Pennsylvania grew three per cent in population last year. I was of the impression that Pennsylvania's population increase was three per cent since 1950 census. As I remember it, California and Pennsylvania were tied in 1950. We have gained approximately 300,000 people, or approximately four and one-half per cent of the total since 1950, while California's increase has been six times as great. New York's increase has been twice as great as Pennsylvania's. Ohio's increase has been three times the increase of Pennsylvania, and Michigan has increased in population four times that of Pennsylvania. The average of the entire Nation, since 1954, has been ten per cent. Therefore, Pennsylvania is less than one-half the average of the total population.

Senator Mahady made the statement that he was confused with this budget and I, too, have been confused. Personally, I cannot understand why, up until the present time, we have had what they call line budgets. For some reason or other, at this time, we appear to have what they call a lump sum budget. I listened with interest yesterday afternoon to the discussion on the mining appropriation, and I think it was well over $5,000,000. However, someone got up on the other side and talked about a $103,000 deduction in mine sealing. House Bill No. 2326 did not show me that. It was a lump sum. I cannot understand the advantage of these lump sum budgets.

To get into House Bill No. 2326, I think you will find on page 36 that the mental hospitals receive a lump sum budget, and on page 26 appear the budgets for State Teachers' Colleges. If there is any particular advantage in a lump sum budget for mental hospitals, why would it not be just as well for State Teachers' Colleges? Someone told me that the Superintendents of the State Teachers' Colleges, when asked about the budget, said that under no consideration would they be interested in a lump sum budget. They said it would only reduce thrift and that under a line budget, they knew exactly what they each had. Under a lump sum budget, if by chance they were thrifty and did not use that amount of money, then some other school which was not so thrifty could come in and take it.

Since I am up here, I might also say that within the past two weeks, Doctor Teller, who is one of the world's most famed brains, a wonderful scientist, a wonderful mathematician, and the man who invented the hydrogen bomb, said that, in his opinion, the United States will never catch up with Russia in education unless we put the same restrictions on our students, with certain compulsory subjects.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Hays, may I ask that you stay within the limitations of the amendment?

Mr. HAYS. I hope to do that, Mr. President.

I share with Senator Whalley the concern of the rising costs of government. That is the reason why I have submitted this amendment. If he wants to cut the cost of education in Pennsylvania, he cannot do anything on this. The laws are written which tell us exactly how much to pay the districts. He must submit changes in the laws to change the subsidy formula, if he wishes to do this. The simple problem is that we must pay as much as the laws say we must pay. If we underestimate that, we must borrow money at the State level and the school districts must borrow money.

Therefore, Mr. President, I subscribe in the interest of the thing he talked about. It seems to me he should support this amendment.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I am a great believer in saying your piece and then letting what happens afterward stand upon your declaration. I will try not to make a second one.

I want to observe in the first place that I have no desire to see Senator Hays eat his hat one or two years from now. I sincerely hope that Senator Hays uses his hat only to throw it into the ring for education and continues to help to advance it. However, I would like to set his mind at ease, if I can, on this particular amendment. I thought I had done it before and now I shall try to do it again.

He stated that the department revised their figures on the number of units for reimbursement and that the House cut the budget approximately $8,000,000 because of that. He knows that no figures were given out since. He is probably correct, so far as his understanding is concerned, because Senator Hays, even though he is a bit smarter, has no way anymore than Paul Wagner has to develop these figures himself. However, it does happen that for the 70,030 units to be reimbursed in 1960-1961, the Department of Public Instruction, after re-estimating the reimbursement fractions that are going to prevail and adjusting their figures, has certified that $45 per unit, which they previously asked for, will not be needed as their figures are now projected. If you multiply 70,030 units by $45, you get exactly $3,151,350 which, therefore, does not need to be restored to this item of the appropriation. I believe those figures were submitted by the Department of Public Instruction as recently as June 18. They wind up by saying that the $45 reduction per unit nets a saving of $3,151,350.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, on page 30 of House Bill No. 2326, on the first two lines, it says as follows:

"For payments to school districts on account of closed schools . . ."

I have been informed that some of these schools have been closed for a generation. I can understand appropriations for schools that are operating, but I cannot understand, to my own satisfaction, why $4,755,100 should be given to closed schools. It sounds like gravy to me.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, just as a matter of some information for Senator Whalley, he finally opened up a "Li'l Abner" that I was hoping someone would open up for me.

As I understand it, the reason the State Teachers' Colleges were put on a line budget is because they are given so much per pupil, the same as the medical schools that are aided by the Commonwealth. However, much to my amazement, I notice that the bill has been changed since it came over from the House and the changes and additions that were made occurred just in the Republican Senators' Districts.

Let me name them for you: State Teachers' College at Clarion, in Senator Stevenson's District; State Teachers' College at Cheyney, in Senator Watkins' District; State Teachers' College at Lock Haven, in Senator Stevenson's District; State Teachers' College at Mansfield, in Senator Berger's District; State Teachers' College at Millersville, in Senator Kessler's District; State Teachers' College at Shippensburg, in Senator Wade's District; State Teachers' College at West Chester, in Senator Harney's District. Is that not just ducky?

The PRESIDENT. I think we are getting a little far afield. I have asked the Members to limit themselves to the amendments which is before us. I hope that you will all continue to do so.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I would like to say to Senator Barr in reference to the Cheyney Teachers' College—and I think the other colleges fall under the same category—that I think he will find there were errors made in the budget and that this was agreed upon by the Administration. There was a complete error in the number of students at Cheyney—and I will only speak for Cheyney—and I think the mistake was rectified. I think Senator Barr would concur in that and want to go along with it. There certainly were no politics because, very frankly, they all vote Democratic out there.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I want to speak on the amendment, but I would like to yield to Senator Weiner.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not want to get into a harangue on everything everyone says, but the Secretary of the Budget is sitting right here beyond the rail. I want to make sure we have the facts, because if we are misstating the facts, I want to be corrected. I certainly do not want to vote for anything under a misapprehension or misimpression. He advises me that he knows of no agreement that was ever made to increase any of these State Teachers' Colleges other than what was submitted to the House or the Administration. If this has been done, I would like to know who was the person who gave the authority to do this, because if it is part of the Administration or part of an agreement, I would certainly like to be a part of it.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in elaborating further on this Teachers' College business, when we had the budget meeting with the Teachers' Colleges, I must say they did not want a line budget. The reason for that is that they have certain moneys which they must use. In addition to that, they use tuition and fees in order to finance the Teachers' Colleges. However, the Administration has allowed a certain amount for students. I talked with Mr. Baldwin just a little while ago because I had gone over the budget and noticed the changes in the various Teachers' Colleges in Pennsylvania. Senator Barr is correct. There are changes in Cheyney, Clarion, East Stroudsburg, Lock Haven, Mansfield, Millersville, Shippensburg and West Chester.

I, too, would like very much to have an explanation of the changes in the budgetary figures because, it seems to me, that on the surface it appears to be favoritism. I would like to hear from one of the gentlemen on the other side, probably Senator Stevenson. Perhaps he can clarify the situation because all of us over here feel that we are more or less left out. If you are going to increase any money to these Teachers' Colleges, I will guarantee you I want some for California.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Lane, I am sure that an explanation of those items would be in order, but not on this amendment. We are presently faced with an amendment which must be voted upon.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I now would like to speak on the amendment. I, first of all, would like to say that in my experience with Senator Wagner, I have always observed that he has hued the line as far as the facts are concerned, and that his statements are dependable. However, Senator Wagner, along with all of us, given a set of facts, I am sure wishes to put the best possible construction on the given facts that he can for the interest that he may be representing at the time.

I want to take exception to one generalization that he made which, I think, is justified. He said, I believe, that the deficits, which resulted in Governor Leader's budget, were due to many factors, not only to cutting appropriations beyond the point of need but also he said to the hiring of many employees throughout the State.

I think he perhaps believes this statement, and I do not question his desire to believe that this is true. However, I would say that in the context of the point he is arguing, it leaves a very erroneous impression.

There was a $10,000,000 deficit, a $10,000,000 deficiency appropriation in the specific item that he and Senator Hays are debating. I am sure that Senator Wagner will not take the floor and state that this $10,000,000 deficiency appropriation was due to the hiring of more State employees. He knows very well this was due to the fact that not enough money was put in the appropriation to cover the expenditure. This is the kind of a deficiency that Senator Hays is talking about. This is what leads Senator Hays to say that this is a deliberately planned deficit which, as sure as you are born, Mr. President, when the next legislative elections come around and when the next gubernatorial election comes around, will be used by the Majority Party to say this is the result of bad administration when, as a matter of fact, it is due to the fact that not enough money is placed in this fund initially to take care of the needs. So much for that point.

The second point I would like to address myself to is a statement made by Senator Whalley. I admire Senator Whalley's knowledge of the Russian situation. Although Senator Whalley, of course, has never posed as an educational authority, I believe his observations of Russia were very interesting. I think the speech which he made the other day was one of the most interesting speeches I have ever heard on Russia, and I have told him that. However, he made one point there which, it seems to me, needs to be cleared up at this point, and that is when he said that he advocates doing what the Russians do in saying to students that they must take certain courses. I do not think, in spite of the great admiration that Senator Whalley has for the achievements of the Russians—and I believe him and I share that admiration—that Senator Whalley means to say that we should change the way of life in America in the same way the Russians have done it to achieve those results.

Certainly students are given choices. Students and their parents are given choices. This is the American way of doing it. This is a part of the American way of life. We would not want to run our economy the way the Russians do. We would not want to say, "You make this and you do this." We would not want to tell a workman, "We do not want you to work here anymore. You go over to another part of the United States and work."

I do not think Senator Whalley would advocate this and I do not think he should advocate it for our schools. I do not think America has come to the point where we must take away from children and parents the right to choose the vocation for which they want to prepare or the kind of courses and the kind of training they want to take.

I think this is a point of basic philosophy, and I do not want to let this stand unchallenged in the record. I will never personally agree to any system of education which takes away from parents and children the right to make choices about the future of those children. This is what, in effect, you would be saying, if you would state that a student should have a regime of courses laid down by some teacher or administrator or some educational authority or some Legislature.

Therefore, Mr. President, those are the two points on which I wish to comment.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to address my remarks to the so-called experts on education here in the Senate by saying to them that, first, I want you to know that I am not a book salesman. Secondly, I believe you should read the book by John Gunther, "Inside Russia," which is really a revelation as to what is going on over there.

As far as curriculums are concerned, I might say there should be a review of the curriculums in our public school system because I know that young people sometimes like to take courses which are not too difficult. I recall when my daughter was in high school, she wanted to take business administration to get off the hook. She did not want to take an academic course. However, we insisted that she do so.

Therefore, I believe Senator Whalley's remarks have some merit. I agree with you, Senator. Although, I do not think that we should pattern our activities after the Union of the Soviet Republic, I still say the Department of Public Instruction should review those curriculums and make sure these children receive the proper preparatory education in order to enter our colleges, because in a number of cases now in our high schools, a number of our students are not eligible to take the course of engineering because they have not received the proper preparation in high school.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, on the amendment, the treatment of this amendment on the other side of the aisle reminds me of a client of mine. He was a man who made about $9,000 a year, and he came into my office and said, "I am having trouble with my wife."

I said, "That is too bad. She is a nice woman. What is the trouble?"

"Well," he said, "she is always after money. Last week she asked me for $100 on Monday. On Tuesday, she wanted seventy-five dollars; Wednesday, again, she was after me for $200; Thursday, she wanted $500; and on Friday, she wanted sixty dollars. Money, money, money; all of the time she is after me for money."

I said, "That is too bad. What does she do with it?"

He answered, "I do not know. I never give her any."

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, I just want to answer the good Senator, if I may.

The PRESIDENT. Try to stay as close to the amendment as possible, Senator Whalley.

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, I did not intend to say that Pennsylvania should follow Russia's educational system. I tried to bring out the fact that the principal thing they thought was the cause of our downfall in education, or a weakness perhaps, was that too many freshmen were being permitted to take easy courses, and they were going to try to do something about that.

I want to also say that I have heard so many times about Pennsylvania's contribution to education. Someone has told me that Pennsylvania pays a greater share of the cost than New York, Maryland, Ohio or New Jersey.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I feel that now, if it is proper, we should take about a fifteen minute recess in order to have lunch, because I feel the inner man.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, before we go to lunch, I want to get Senator Confair back on the floor and ask that he apologize to the Secretary of Property and Supplies, who is in the audience. I want to read to him what was presented to the Republican Senators by the Secretary of Property and Supplies.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I do not wish to interrupt the gentleman, but may we not conclude the vote on this amendment and then receive the information?

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HAYS and Mr. SILVERT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Barr,	Lane,	Mullin,	Sarraf,
Camel,	Mahady,	Murray,	Seyler,
DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Ripp,	Silvert,
Donolow,	McGinnis,	Rooney,	Stiefel,

Ehrgood,	Koprivier, Jr.	Shafer,	Watkins,
Elliott,	Kromer,	Stevenson,	Whalley,
Flack,	Madigan,	Taylor,	Wolfe,

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I realize I am somewhat out of order. However, our discussion was ended before the Secretary of Property and Supplies was able to get to the Senate Chamber.

Under date of April 19, 1959, Secretary Bradley appeared before the Subcommittee of the Senate Appropriations Committee. In addition to a verbal discussion, he presented to them a written statement. Regarding procurement, I must read just exactly what he said to them:

"The Department in negotiating all purchasing contracts, makes purchases from a range of 5000 items from paper clips to trucks. General Fund purchases average $50,000,000 annually plus $30,000,000 for the Department of Highways. During 1958 the number of procurement documents processed increased from 2500 monthly to 4800 monthly. Despite this doubled workload, without an appreciable personnel complement increase, many improvements in the complicated procurement procedure have been made. For example, the average procurement cycle from the requisition stage to the issuance of the purchase order has been reduced to approximately 28 days.

"Through the organizational changes recently effected, the establishment of proper stock control, the proposed catalogue program and the automation equipment requested in the 59-61 budget, greater achievements in efficiencies and economies in the field of procurement may be realized."

Senator Confair did not talk to the Secretary of Property and Supplies at all about this. He talked to a man by the name of McGuire, who was fired from the Department of Property and Supplies for inefficiency. I understand he has been picked up as an efficient employee by the Auditor General, Charlie Smith.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I am very sorry that my good friend, Senator Barr, made some innuendoes and some gratuitous remarks about the Teachers' Colleges.

I hold in my hand here a statement which was given to me by the Board of Presidents of the fourteen Pennsylvania State Teachers' Colleges. It is a budget request for maintenance and operation of the fourteen Teachers' Colleges during the biennium of 1959-1961.

If you will take the budget as it is laid out there, you will find that all of the Teachers' Colleges, except the ones which Senator Barr mentioned, were given a ten per cent increase. These others were not given the ten per cent increase. The effort on our side here was simply, in a matter of fairness, to give each of them a ten per cent increase. If you will multiply the figures, you find that it comes out exactly on the ten per cent basis.

I want to read a statement of the Presidents of the fourteen State Teachers' Colleges:

"The original request based on the needs of each college was for an appropriation of $600 per student for each full time student enrolled. This recommendation was rejected and an amount recommended for each college based on approximately $527 per student enrolled in October 1958." Since that time, October 1958, a lot more students have enrolled, which has partly necessitated this change. "The effect of appropriating on this basis can readily be seen. For one thing there will be an average of 20,000 students in attendance at the colleges during the 1959-1961 biennium instead of the 18,000 who were in attendance in October 1958. Reducing the proposed per capita student appropriation from $600 to $527 eliminates every possibility of having the State's appropriation equal the mandated increments in salaries and wages." In other words, by not giving these colleges this ten per cent, they cannot meet the mandated increases in salaries and wages. "Even though the colleges increase the basic fee from $144 per year to $200 per year, more than half of the colleges will be left with less money, per capita, on which to operate the college than was available in the preceding biennium. The Governor's recommended appropriations are less for the 1959-1961 biennium than they were in the preceding biennium in the case of Cheyney, Lock Haven and Mansfield, and five more of the colleges would receive appropriations involving less than a 10% increase over the preceding biennium—the rule which has been followed during the last two sessions of the General Assembly.

"In order to provide for each college an increase in appropriations of at least 10% over the appropriations for the preceding beinnium it is necessary to increase the amount of the recommended appropriations in the Governor's budget by $568,827. . .

"The members of the General Assembly should also be advised that the adoption of the appropriations as recommended in the paragraph above will still leave the colleges with only insignificant amounts to provide for the maintenance of the physical plant. As has been pointed out during each legislative session for many years, the lack of sufficient funds for building maintenance soon results in deterioration of physical plant and substantial loss to the Commonwealth."

They go on here with more statements similar to that. They said.

"It is not mere idle talk to state that the programs of the colleges including student enrollment will have to be curtailed if needed support cannot be made available. It should also be remembered that if advanced student fees are made effective in September 1959, students will be paying almost $2,000,000 more toward the operation of the colleges for the next biennium than the State is paying."

It is not my choosing to give Lock Haven or Clarion more money. It is the report of the fourteen Presidents of the State Teachers' Colleges. They sat down together and they pointed out the fact that this enrollment was figured back in October of 1958, and it was not fair. They figured that every one of the colleges should get the ten per cent in order to maintain their plant and meet the mandated salaries.

RECESS

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I request a thirty minute recess of the Senate for the purpose of having lunch.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any objections?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am hungry, too. However, I would like to have a talk with Senator Stevenson a minute on the floor in regard to these Teachers' Colleges. Incidentally, I have one in my District, and I think we should clarify a few things.

If it is all right, I will do it after lunch.

The PRESIDENT. I think perhaps that can wait.

Mr. LANE. The colleges, you mean?

The PRESIDENT. You may resume your discussion after lunch.

There being no objections, the Chair declares a thirty minute recess of the Senate.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

We will now resume consideration of House Bill No. 2326, Printer's No. 1704, on third reading, which was before the Senate prior to the recess.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Clinton, Senator Stevenson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Clinton, Mr. Stevenson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STEVENSON. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Stevenson, with reference to the increases to the various State Teachers' Colleges, I am wondering if you would take the time to explain to the Senate why these increases were made and the circumstances surrounding the individual colleges?

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, as I stated before lunch, we endeavored to give a ten per cent increase over the amount of money they had in the last biennium. The figures upon which the Budget Office based their estimates, and which were approved, I presume by the Governor, were based on statistics they received back in October of 1958. There has been a change in the number of students, and there must be a change in the amount of money.

We have, Senator Lane, in the case of the Teachers' Colleges, a situation where the larger Teachers' Colleges with their larger enrollments—it is like a wholesale business—have an over-all gain by reason of having a larger number of students. In the smaller Teachers'

Colleges, they have certain fixed charges, and it is rather difficult for them to meet the mandated salaries, the necessary repairs and the other things incidental to what is required for maintenance and operation of the colleges. Therefore, we felt they were entitled to this same increase because of the fact they cannot make their ends meet if they do not have it.

The amendments, as placed in there, were amendments that had been worked on by the Board of Presidents of the fourteen State Teachers' Colleges. They had numerous meetings in Harrisburg I think with the Department of Public Instruction. I believe Doctor Alderfer sat in with them, or somebody over there. They had an agreement. Those whose sums are not changed here felt they could get along. The ones that are changed in here are the ones that are approved to the satisfaction of the other fourteen presidents that they could not operate successfully without this adjustment. So, it came to me in this report.

There is nothing personal in it, as someone inferred here this morning. I did not care where they were located. If they could not operate successfully, we put the amount in which we felt they needed, the total of which is around $562,000, I believe.

I am sure, Senator, if you contact any of the presidents of the colleges that have not been changed here, they will tell you they are in full accord with what is in here.

Mr. LANE. Senator Stevenson, on these amendments, concerning the amount of money contained in the amendments, did you determine that amount in your committee, or did the Teachers' Colleges or did Public Instruction?

Mr. STEVENSON. I think it was a joint effort between the department over there: I do not know just who sat in with them and the fourteen presidents. It was not done in a week's time. It was done over several month's time, and they all came up with this figure. My impression was that it was in accord with the wishes of the department.

Mr. LANE. Senator Stevenson, then may I take it that Public Instruction has approved this increase?

Mr. STEVENSON. I cannot say that authoritatively, Senator, but we have had no objection from them in any way. My impression in talking with a special committee of the presidents, who called on me just last week I believe, was that everything was all right and everybody was pleased.

Mr. LANE. As I understand it, then, the reason these amendments are in there is because some of these Teachers' Colleges do not have the enrollment of the larger ones, and, therefore, there is a fixed cost. What you are doing is supplementing their present operating budget with sufficient funds to meet current expenses. Is that correct?

Mr. STEVENSON. That is correct, Senator.

Mr. LANE. I see. I wish to advise you that I called the Teachers' College in California, and Doctor Duda, the President, is not there. However, the fiscal agent has advised me that he will send you a communication in regard to their operations, and, of course, if there are any additional moneys thrown around here, I want some for California, too.

Mr. STEVENSON. That is all right, Senator.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I wonder if I may direct my remarks to Senator Lane. I think he was asking Senator Stevenson for some information about State Teachers' Colleges.

Being a trustee of one, I know that our budget, which happens to be Indiana, is submitted to the Department of Public Instruction, and anything that is in that budget came from the Department of Public Instruction. Each State Teachers' College submits its budget to the department, and then the department either approves it or disapproves it. I think that the increases that are there—Indiana, incidentally, is not one of them—were made because when the budgets were prepared in the various schools, some errors were made and that rectified those errors.

Senator Lane, I think if you will call the department, you will find the budget of each school is first approved by the Department of Public Instruction.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I always knew Senator Pechan was fast on his feet. I knew that one time he was on the Aeronautics Commission, but this is the first time I ever knew that he was on the Board of Teachers' College. I thought I heard his name mentioned one time, but I thought the name was withdrawn. So you are on there, too, are you? You are doing all right.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, it was just a few months ago that I was approved for another six year term, and I saw Senator Lane beaming from ear to ear. I thought he was very happy to vote for my approval.

The PRESIDENT. We are glad he looked happy, anyway.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am wondering if at sometime Senator Pechan decides not to hold all of these jobs, perhaps he will let me have one, especially on the Aeronautics Commission.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I now desire to offer an amendment to House Bill No. 2326, Printer's No. 1704, and ask for its immediate consideration. After the amendment is read, I would like to make a very brief statement.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 29, line 13, by striking out "42,415,000" and inserting; "48,915,000."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, this specific amendment would return to the budget the money for building rentals in the extent of $6,500,000 which has been cut for the budget.

These building rentals are largely moneys paid to individual school districts or the authorities set up by school districts and are, once more, mandated amounts.

I want to make the record clear by stating that at the beginning of this Session, no deficiency appropriation, to my knowledge, was approved for this particular item. Therefore, two years ago the Senate approved, apparently, an adequate amount. However, that was not true at the end of the preceding biennium because, at that time, I find we had a deficiency appropriation of $5,000,000.

There is one other thing I might add. Of course, whenever the State fails to pay these authorities or school districts on time for these rentals, it does jeopardize, as you can understand, the credit standing of the school districts and the authorities.

I ask my colleagues to vote for this amendment.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HAYS and Mr. SILVERT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Barr,	Lane,	Mullin,	Sarra,
Camel,	Mahady,	Murray,	Seyler,
DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Ripp,	Silvert,

Elliott,	Kromer,	Stevenson,	Whalley,
Flack,	Madigan,	Taylor,	Wolfe,

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I offer an amendment to House Bill No. 2326, Printer's No. 1704, and ask for its immediate consideration and adoption.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 29, line 16, by striking out "41,435,561" and inserting: "42,435,561."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, this, of course, is the mandated transportation expense for transporting public school children in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I must remind the Senate that two years ago, the Senate guessed apparently to the extent of being too low by $2,650,000 for transportation for this biennium.

I ask my colleagues to vote for this amendment.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, without going over the figures that we used this morning, may I suggest that this calculation is a direct result of the revision of the department's estimates on the number of pupil units. Since there is a substantial decrease in their original estimate of pupil units, obviously there is a decrease in the need for transportation, because the pupils who are not there when they were expected to be there will not have to be taken anywhere.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I was reliably informed, I thought, that the information concerning the decreased estimate of teaching units was available to the House when they passed this legislation, and it was included in that consideration. If I have been erroneously informed, that is another question.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HAYS and Mr. SILVERT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Barr,	Lane,	Mullin,	Sarra,
Camel,	Mahady,	Murray,	Seyler,

Elliott,	Kromer,	Stevenson,	Whalley,
Flack,	Madigan,	Taylor,	Wolfe,

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I offer a further amendment to House Bill No. 2326, Printer's No. 1704, and ask for its immediate consideration and adoption.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 29, line 20, by striking out "26,000,000" and inserting: "26,432,500."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, this amendment deals with restoring the cut in the recommended appropriation by the Department of Public Instruction to carry out the provisions of the laws relating to joint, merged and union school districts.

I think the record for last January will show the estimates that we used two years ago proved to be $765,873 too small.

I ask my colleagues to vote for this amendment.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HAYS and Mr. SILVERT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Barr,	Lane,	Mullin,	Sarra,
Camel,	Mahady,	Murray,	Seyler,

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I offer an amendment to House Bill No. 2326, Printer's No. 1704, and ask for its immediate consideration and adoption.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 30, line B, by striking out "$4,755,100" and inserting: "$4,900,000."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, this amendment has to do with closed schools. I shall not go into the merits of the closed school situation, except to say that presently legislation is on the books of the State to pay for closed schools. I believe two years ago, the deficit in this department was $140,300.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HAYS and Mr. SILVERT, and were as follows, viz:

Amend Sec. 2, page 31, line 9, by striking out "2,-750,000" and inserting: "3,250,000."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, this amendment deals with the question of extension education, on which we have mandatory legislation also, and I believe the deficiency appropriation at the beginning of this Session, because of the amount two years ago, was $772,000.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HAYS and Mr. STIEFEL, and were as follows, viz:

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I desire to offer an amendment to House Bill No. 2326, Printer's No. 1704. I ask for its immediate consideration, and I then desire to speak a brief word on the amendment.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 26, line 8, by striking out "$7,-921,048" and inserting: "$8,160,863."

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, this is the item for what we might call the general administration of the Department of Public Instruction, the department that administers—

I am afraid of these numbers—perhaps $800,000,000. I do not want to give that to the newspapers, however.

I would call to the attention of the Senate the fact that the amount in this bill, without the amendment, is $7,921,048. If we deduct the special amount for the Auditor General's audit of $1,300,000, we discover that the actual amount, as I understand it, given to the department for its administration is $6,621,048, while for the last biennium, for the same reasons, the amount was $7,760,472. This would represent if I am correct in this, a decrease in the amount of money for the administration of the Department of Public Instruction.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HAYS and Mr. SILVERT, and were as follows, viz:

Wolfe,

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, we have now reached the point where I do not know how many times I have been up to bat, but Senator Berger and his crowd are pitching a perfect game up to this time.

Up until now, we have asked to add to the budget for education in Pennsylvania. This particular amendment asks that the State be spared some moneys in the matter of education.

I submit this amendment to House Bill No. 2326, Printer's No. 1704, and ask for its immediate consideration.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 29, line 9, by inserting after "open". "No part of this appropriation shall be used to pay the minimum instruction subsidy as provided in clause (4) of section 2501 of the Public School Code of 1949 to any school district other than a district of the first class or first class A which is not otherwise entitled to reimbursement on account of instruction as provided in section 2502 of said Code."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I might say, in fairness to my colleagues on both sides of the aisle, that I am offering this amendment on my own behalf.

First of all, I shall not go into a long discussion of the intricate formula by which school districts are reimbursed. We have had a couple of courses on that already this Session, and the test results have not been very good.

However, in the application of the formula to reimburse school districts, the principle or formula is a very good one, most of us believe, in that the wealthier the district, based on the real value of the taxable real estate, measured by those terms, the less State appropriation goes to the particular district. The poorer the district, as measured by the value of the taxable real estate, the greater the amount of money.

For twelve years now, there has been a gadget in this formula, a gadget which says that if you are very, very rich—I do not know how many districts there are in Pennsylvania inasmuch as I have not looked into it, but I am told between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000 in the last twelve years has gone into this category of the very rich districts of Pennsylvania. We say to them, if you are so rich that this formula gives you less than $1,000 per teaching unit, then we will, without you coming to ask us, if it should come out that you should have $200 per teaching unit, gratuitously give you $800 more. This is going to the very wealthy districts in Pennsylvania.

Over the last twelve years, it has mounted into millions of dollars. I do not know what it is now. It seems to me if we want to equalize educational opportunity and cut this budget in Pennsylvania for education and put it in better places, I would urge all of my colleagues to vote for this amendment.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Centre, Senator Hays.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Centre, Mr. Hays, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HAYS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WAGNER. What is the special reason, may I ask, for eliminating districts of the First Class or First Class A?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, Senator Wagner, it is my impression they do not fall in this $1,000 minimum.

Mr. WAGNER. Well then, why exclude them if it does not make any difference?

Mr. HAYS. I was told by the Legislative Reference Bureau that this had to be included in the amendment.

Mr. WAGNER. Thank you, Senator.

I would just say, Mr. President, that Senator Hays is right. Since the inception of this equalization formula, there has been exception made for certain districts, which were originally Philadelphia and neighboring counties and Pittsburgh, because it was felt that in the old days, the rich seemed to get richer and the poor get poorer. When we set out to equalize, it was feared there would be too much taken from the wealthier districts as compared with the previous system of reimbursement. To get their co-operation and to make it palatable to them, it was deemed to be reasonable to set that minimum which he properly describes.

As the years go by, of course, the change in costs and reimbursements kind of take up a lot of that slack. How much, I just do not know. However, I feel that probably, since it has been an historical procedure and does not worsen the situation any as the years go by, my only observation would be that if we are going to adopt the amendment, the Senators who vote "aye" had better find out, in all fairness, what it is going to do to the subsidies in their particular districts, because it will hurt many of them very, very substantially.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, the more I hear of this formula, the more I am convinced there is no formula and that the exception is to the rule.

It seems to be that we passed several bills, one where they had so much public land, and another one where we had another exception and we wanted to change the formula for a particular place. Then we find the payment for closed schools, which affects the amount that is paid to them.

I think we passed a resolution here sometime ago, saying that this whole system should be restudied. I think for that reason, we should await the results of that study, because it looks as if we are in need of a formula. I am not convinced that we have one.

I respectfully say, as much as I respect the opinion of Senator Hays, I agree with Paul Wagner that we do not know the affect upon our districts.

This is sudden. This morning I was going to introduce an amendment and I spoke about it, but because of the suddenness of it and the fact that people could not study it and see the effect upon them and their districts, I refrained from introducing it. For this reason, I will vote "no."

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I want to agree with Senator Wagner, but for another reason. If we continue in the vein that we are going, the rich will not get richer, but the rich will become poorer. That was the very reason the Tax Equalization Board was set up originally, which, incidentally, has been, for all practical purposes if we follow through on this budget, ripped out completely as one-third of its budget has been completely stricken off.

The principle that Senator Hays is trying to make, I think is a just principle and one that would certainly merit some very careful consideration because this problem is going to get out of hand.

Unfortunately, I do not agree that at every Session we should change the principle or we should change the formula to fit the particular need as each Session dictates or as the facts come out from the Tax Equalization Board. There may be a day here, I submit, when maybe some of these districts may not be as well represented as they are now, and I would hate to rely upon the pure playing of politics with this very vital area of our government.

I think we should get a formula, and if it is fair, we should stick to it no matter how the game goes. Once we lay down the ground rules, we should stick to them.

I think the principle that Senator Hays is advocating is one we should consider very carefully, because the people in all our districts will suffer from it in one way or another, either by increased taxation or fewer services, whichever the case might be.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I would like to comment very briefly on Senator Hays' amendment.

Mr. home district, Ford City, was one of the districts which was classified as a rich district. We had a lot of wealth behind us. We had two industries there, and we, of course, did not have the population.

Senator Mullin made a remark this morning about some $4,000,000 that we are paying for closed school districts. Of course, that is the law. However, that law was made so that school districts such as mine would take in the poorer districts. It was a bonus, it was bait, and Ford City fell for it. We, consequently, took in three poor school districts and have a union school district. If it had not been for that incentive that was given to us by the Commonwealth, Ford City would have minded its own business and had a school district that was out of debt, and would have probably educated their children better because they did not have the large number of pupils.

We just spent $750,000 for a cafeteria. Ford City is not big enough that every boy and girl could not go home to eat. When these children are transported into Ford City, we had to provide cafeteria facilities for them. Consequently, the majority of that money is coming out of Ford City because the little community of Ford Cliff I think had an assessed valuation of—I do not know exactly. It is some infinitesimal sum. They have a lot of children, but no property. We have to transport those children and, consequently, I do not think there is any need for Senator Hays' amendment.

I agree with the remark that Senator Mullin made this morning. It does not make good sense to pay for schools that do not exist. However, that provision was put in as a bonus, as an incentive to these richer school districts to take in some of the poorer ones and give more equal educational opportunities to a greater number of boys and girls.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I simply want to say that I, of course, plead often for more educational aid. I think here is a way in which we could save the State some money, and do it on a principle that I believe all of us subscribe to.

I shall not ask for a roll call vote.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I would just like to say that this is the final amendment in this series. I would be happy to have the Senator from Lebanon join me in sponsoring it if he would like to.

I now offer an amendment to House Bill No. 2326, Printer's No. 1704, and ask to speak briefly on it.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Page 54, line 6, by striking out "$6,000" and inserting in lieu thereof: "$1,000."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, this amendment deals with the expenditures of the Special Committee designated by this Body to investigate the Department of Public Instruction.

I tried to be faithful attendant at all of the meetings of that committee and, to my knowledge, we have only authorized the expenditure up to this time of about $500. This amendment would permit this to be doubled.

The bill, of course, is calling for a twelve fold increase in the amount of expenditures that have been authorized up to this time.

I know there are more expenses in connection with this committee, and so the amendment suggests we double the amount.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, I certainly would not want to co-sponsor such an amendment, not that I broke my leg going into base or anything like that. However as I recall, we do have additional expenses, stenographic expenses and so forth, of which Senator Hays may not be aware.

For that reason, I suggest that the amendment be voted down.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I offer for immediate consideration and adoption an amendment to House Bill No. 2326, Printer's No. 1704.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 36, line 7, by striking out "$9,512,828" and inserting: "$10,187,828."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, this amendment concerns the general expenses of the Department of Public Welfare.

As was well said at the head of an article in The Pennsylvania Federationist: "This is Economy at the Expense of Humanity." The $675,000 cut in the appropriation for general administration of the Department of Public Welfare is a most expensive kind of economy. It is a seven per cent cut, approximately, in the amount available for over-all administration of this department, and it means handicapping every single program of the department.

In the mental health program, the supervision of the multi-million dollar institutions will be impaired. The development of the mental health facilities in the community which help avoid the necessity of institutionalization will be slowed because of the slash in technical personnel. Even the inspection and supervision of private institutions for the mentally ill and mentally retarded will be hampered.

Services to the aged, particularly in the much too limited field of inspection of nursing homes, will be further reduced. There were five fires in nursing homes last year. A cut back in inspection will increase the danger of fires still further. This will affect not only indigent, aged persons, but also those who are fortunate enough to have relatives or money of their own to pay for their care. Efforts to get older people out of institutions and back to more normal home living will be slowed, and in many cases, will stop altogether.

The staff responsible for the supervision of the ten general state hospitals, for inspection of hundreds of private hospitals, and for the administration of the program which will distribute approximately $11,000,000 in Federal funds to medical facilities in Pennsylvania next year will be curtailed to the point of inadequacy.

The public assistance program involves the expenditure of well over $300,000,000 a biennium. The cut in general administrative expenses will mean less supervision and control over this expenditure.

Since the Federal Government pays about one-third of the cost of this supervision and control, each dollar cut here actually means a total reduction of about one dollar and one-half.

The cuts in the office for children and youth and the office for the blind will not only mean less supervision and control of these programs, but will even cut into the programs themselves. In these programs, actual services for these two groups of people are paid out of this appropriation.

The ever-growing problem of juvenile delinquency will continue to be more and more serious. The needs of neglected and delinquent children will be less well met. Private and local public agencies for the care of children, including not only institutional care, but foster home care, adoption and preventive services, will not receive the professional and technical help that they are entitled to from the State.

The administration of the remedial eye care program for the blind will be slowed with the result that persons whose vision could be saved will go blind. Vocational rehabilitation of persons with visual handicaps will be curtailed with the effect that instead of becoming taxpayers, many visually handicapped persons will become tax consumers.

Finally, the over-all direction and supervision of all of the programs of the department will be made less effective by a reduction in the staff of the secretary and in the business management activities of the department.

In the furtherance of this, I wish to quote a statement from the Pennsylvania Citizens Association:

"The Pennsylvania Citizens Association takes the position that increased costs, expanding population and rising incidence of juvenile delinquency, mental illness and other social programs mean that a hold the line budget represents an actual per capita reduction in services.

"It is generally acknowledged that a 1957-59 dollar will not purchase as much in 1959-61. Yet case work programs continue to go up and up, particularly in the juvenile delinquency program."

I wish to state that cutting down this program is a violation of all of the rules of humanity. I ask that this amendment be adopted, and a roll call vote taken.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, the distinguished gentleman from Philadelphia talks about cutting the budget. Actually, we are, in this one category, giving almost $3,000,000 more than we gave in the 1957-1959 biennium. During the last biennium, those figures were $6,532,447. We are giving that department for those services $9,512,000, or an increase over the last biennium of $2,980,000.

Two years ago, we went along when the two departments were joined. We were told by the previous Secretary of Welfare that if we joined the two groups, we would have a savings of X number of dollars, many dollars. The Legislature enacted that legislation with the thought in mind that we were going to save money. Now we know that we have not. We are giving almost a thirty per cent increase for those administrative costs, and I think that is sufficient.

I believe every budget that is prepared is prepared in such a way that when the heads of the departments draft them, they know that the Legislature is going to cut them. I am not talking politics. When I was here in the Legislature with Jim Duff and John Fine, when we controlled the Legislature, both sides of the House, we arbitrarily cut those budgets. I think the department heads expect the Legislature to cut them.

They should do a better job with $3,000,000 than they did two years ago. We could give them $15,000,000 and they would come in and want more and more and more. They would want more technicians. They would want to send more people to school to educate them. What happens to those people whom we educate? They stay with us for awhile. Then some other State takes them away from us, and it is costing the Pennsylvania taxpayer money.

You have money there for forestry camps. I believe in them, and I want to help them. I think anyone in this Legislature knows that my sympathies are for them. However, money was absolutely thrown down the drain, in many instances. Raccoon Park, at one time, had a staff of eighteen people who were policing six boys and girls and five of them ran away. They could not even watch them—eighteen people.

Therefore, I am asking my colleagues to vote "no" on the amendment.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, the proposed appropriation in this budget is not padded. This appropriation is for indigents of every kind, the sick and the disabled. I believe that the State slashing here goes beyond trimming the budget. This will cause serious hardship to the most distressed people of the State.

I want to point out one thing that Senator Pechan did not mention. The Auditor General comes in here for $542,450, which he did not cut in for before, and that is about the only bit of gravy that I know of in this thing.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I would just like to remind the gentleman that in the over-all picture in the Department of Public Welfare, we are giving them $44,000,000 more to do a job than they had during the last biennium; $44,000,000 more than they had to spend during the last biennium and they do not have a line budget.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Will the Senator advise the Members of this Senate if the cost of living has gone up since the last biennium, if he knows?

Mr. PECHAN. Yes, I guess it has some. My rates in my dental office have not gone up, but I think they have in all the other areas.

Mr. WEINER. Will the Senator please advise us if the overhead in operating has gone up, as far as hospital personnel and as far as manning the different divisions and sections of this department are concerned?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I think that is recognized. We are giving them more money. We did recognize—

Mr. WEINER. I do not want to be rude and interrupt you, but would you please just answer my questions, and then I will be glad to listen to anything you have to say?

Mr. PECHAN. Unless I can answer a question the way I see fit, I do not want to be interrogated.

Mr. WEINER. Are you refusing to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. No, but I refuse to be held down to your questioning. Do you want either a "yes" or "no"?

Mr. WEINER. No sir. All I want is an answer that is responsive to the question.

Mr. PECHAN. Was I evasive?

Mr. WEINER. I would not say you were evasive, but you did not answer the question.

Mr. PECHAN. I said "yes."

Mr. WEINER. All right. Now would you also tell us,

Senator, if the department had a deficiency at the end of the last biennium.

Mr. PECHAN. They did, and we took care of it.

Mr. WEINER. Did you vote for the deficiency appropriation?

Mr. PECHAN. Yes, I did.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, would you please advise the Members of the Senate if you thought the deficiency that had occurred was a proper one?

Mr. PECHAN. I do not know what is going to happen two years from now. We did not know then, and we took care of it when the proper time came. If there is a deficiency this time, we are going to take care of it unless the money is improperly spent.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, may I repeat my question, please? Would you advise me if the deficiency that you voted for and in a sense O.K.'d, did you think that was a proper deficiency which had occurred as a result of the end of the last biennium?

Mr. PECHAN. I do not want to be coached. I have a Philadelphia lawyer on the other side. Please let me alone, will you?

Mr. WEINER. Senator, if you would like to confer with counsel, I will be very happy to wait.

Mr. PECHAN. I do not want counsel, believe me. I would like to be left alone. Now will you repeat the question?

Mr. WEINER. Yes, sir. Senator do you feel that the deficiency appropriation which you voted for here, which was a result of the department not having sufficient money on which to operate during the last biennium, was a proper one and properly incurred?

Mr. PECHAN. Not entirely.

Mr. WEINER. Did you vote for the deficiency appropriation, Senator?

Mr. PECHAN. Yes, I did.

Mr. WEINER. May I take it, Senator, by your vote for this that it was your approval of the deficiency the department had incurred?

Mr. PECHAN. I wanted your Governor to start off with a clean slate. I did not want to have him carry over someone else's debts, so I voted for all of the deficiency appropriations.

Mr. WEINER. We appreciate your generosity in this regard. What we would like you to do for our Governor is avoid any further deficiencies in the coming biennium.

Do you feel that this amount of money that you are giving us, over the 1957-1959 biennium, will not result in a deficiency?

Mr. PECHAN. I feel that it should not. I think $44,000,000 is more than enough. I think the Appropriations Committee was very generous.

Mr. WEINER. You feel there will be no deficiency as a result of this cut that you have made in the budget?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I would like to tell the gentleman, there need not be any.

You know, in my home, I spend just what I make, what I budget myself. I do the same with my wife, and if she incurs any further debts, she is going to have to do a lot of explaining. I expect the same should be done here. We are spending other people's money, and we should be so guided. We should do this on a business principle, just as we do our own homes. Just because it is taxpayers' money, does not mean that we should not be guardians of it and be watchful.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman explain to us, and I am speaking about the Department of Public Welfare now, how people in need, many of whom come into a sudden need, can explain away or explain to us properly how they came to need this money and do we stand by and wait until they have made a proper explanation before we aid them, or do we just let them fall by the wayside because we are trying to operate in a businesslike manner?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, we do not want anyone to suffer. We have laws, and if these people meet these certain requirements, we take care of them. We always have and we are always going to. However, if you are going to hire a lot of people—let me give you one example.

Senator WEINER, are you still going to be the Philadelphia lawyer? Will you let me deviate just a little bit?

Mr. WEINER. Senator, if you will tell me what role you would like me to play, I would be very happy to accommodate you. If you will tell me whether you want me to be a Philadelphia lawyer or the person who answers your question or with whom you debate this, I will be very happy to play the role.

Mr. PECHAN. I just want you to listen. Now I forgot what I was going to tell you.

The PRESIDENT. Shall we be at ease?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I certainly hope the gentleman is a little bit more exact and a little more correct and accurate in the cutting of the budget and the figures he is using than he is in letting this important idea slip away from him when he is right in the midst of making a point.

Mr. PECHAN. As I said to you, Senator Weiner, these people who, because of circumstances beyond their control, find themselves—of course, we are not speaking on that amendment. What you are talking about is people who are recipients of public assistance. I think someone over on your side has another amendment, and I do not think we are talking about the same thing.

I do want to answer your question and say that I am sure that my twenty-seven colleagues over on this side feel just as strongly to take care of people in need. Whether it is going to be done by business methods or whether it is going to have to revert to a deficiency appropriation, we are going to take care of those people.

We are going to be back here, I think, in January of 1960. If we are not here in January of 1960, we will be back here in 1961, and if your housekeeping is not good enough, you are going to come over to the Republicans, just as you have in the past, and say, "We have got to have this money. We are going to have a deficiency appropriation." We will vote for it. You will get the money and there you are.

Do not forget, we are giving you $44,000,000 more than you had in 1957-1959.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I want to thank the gentleman. I am glad he got that clincher in.

Unfortunately, this announcement of public policy, as it were, that we are interested in taking care of people unable to take care of themselves is not always the answer if you do not provide the money and the wherewithal to do it.

The fact that you say you are going to vote for a deficiency, I think is not the answer either. I think you must give the department adequate money with which to handle their problems.

That is not only true with the Department of Public Assistance, but in all areas dealing with mental health and the children's programs they have. I think you just cannot pronounce that you are going to do these things, and then cut off the money and expect the Secretary to live within those bounds. We are saying to the Secretary, "We expect you to operate in a businesslike manner. We expect you to operate these programs properly. We are going to try to give you enough money to do it." Then you deliberately cut out the ground from underneath these people so they cannot do a job. There is always lurking in the back of their minds, when they start to carry out any program, the thought: "Is there enough money to finish it? Can we hire the proper personnel and will they remain if we cannot afford the amount of money they have a right to demand? Will they go to other States, after we have spent time, effort and energy to bring these people to the peak of perfection where we would like to be so they can work on these programs and projects?"

You are cutting this money away from them and you are saying to them, "We still expect you to do the same type of a job. We still expect you to operate at the same efficiency. We still expect the same amount of service." I do not think you can do that.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I would like to again remind the gentleman that he is talking about a cut. I do not see how you can call it a cut when you are raising an appropriation from $6,532,000 to $9,512,000. How do you call that a cut? That is an increase in my book, in my way of mathematics, of almost thirty-three per cent. What is he saying about a cut?

I am going to say one more thing, which is what I had in mind when I lost my thought awhile ago, regarding an expense that we have in the Department of Public Assistance, and that is case workers. In the city of Philadelphia, we have a turnover of almost fifty per cent in new case workers every year. There may be several reasons for it. It is unpleasant work. It may be that we are not getting the proper people there. It may be that they have too much work to do.

In any industry or in your own home, your maid or anyone else should not have to be replaced every two years. If my wife got a new maid every two years, I would look at her. I would think something was wrong because why should we not have someone stay over six months? That is what is happening with the case workers.

Out in the rural areas, in my county of Armstrong, we have case workers who are dedicated, who love their work. However, if you get into the city of Philadelphia and the city of Pittsburgh, and you talk to the case workers, they say, "I am afraid to go into that home. I make a call that takes two or three minutes and I take someone in with me."

I do not know what the answer is. However, this is an area. It takes time to educate those people to be case workers, and then they only stay with you six months and you rehire new people.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to correct the gentleman on two or three of the areas that he is speaking about.

First of all, the reason they lose case workers in Philadelphia and elsewhere is that they are underpaid. I think you can hardly compare the people who live in your area as having to pay the same cost of living that we pay in Philadelphia. For example, let us take your profession, Doctor Pechan. I am sure that the dentists in Philadelphia pay a higher rent for their offices in the city of Philadelphia than you do in Ford City. This is true throughout the entire State for many, many services and for many, many areas. It is true that there is a difference between cities. When these people are underpaid, they can only stay on the job so long and they go on to other work when they become a little more skillful.

Also, I think we should set the record straight on this. In the 1957-1959 biennium, we gave the department $359,-136,000. The Governor's Office recommended, after cutting the department itself through the Budget Bureau, $416, 901,000 for this biennium. Now you have reduced that down to $404,035,000. I do not see where the $44,000,-000 increase is. As a matter of fact, you decreased it by $12,866,000. How do you expect the department to operate properly when you are cutting away at it and not allowing them to do the job that you expect them to do?

I am sure that you and the other Members of this Senate, if the department did not carry out its duties properly to one of your constituents or slighted them in any way, would be the first ones in here with a resolution or at least take the floor during Petitions and Remonstrances, and properly so, raising the roof about this situation.

However, if you take away the means and the wherewithal to do it, you have no right to complain. What I do not want and what the Governor does not want, as he has stated emphatically a number of times, is any built-in deficits. That is all that is happening here. You say that you are giving them more money over two years ago, when you, yourself, admit that the cost of living has gone up and our index of the cost of living is put out by the Federal Government, which does not happen to be Democratic at this moment, has gone up. Certainly, if they are looking at it even in an impartial way, it indicates this is continuing on and will continue on, especially at a time when we know there is a strike going on in one of the prime industries in this country, the steel industry. Some of these people may find themselves on the rolls who were never on there before and may not want to be on there, but they cannot help themselves because of the economic stress they are under. I do not think that you can do this and in any way be honest in your first proposal where you said you are interested in taking care of people and looking out for them.

We cannot equate human misery in dollars and cents. You can only equate it in the hopes of trying to relieve it, and that is all that we are trying to do by giving this money. It is sort of conscience money that society gives to take care of those who are unfortunate in society. I think this is a bad way to do it, and shouting that you are giving them more money than you gave them two years ago is a very poor argument.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MULLIN and Mr. WEINER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Barr,	Lane,	Mullin,	Sarra,
Camel,	Mahady,	Murray,	Seyler,
DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Ripp,	Silvert,
Donolow,	McGinnis,	Rooney,	Stiefel,
Hays,	McMenamin,	Ruth,	Weiner,

So the question was determined in the negative.

DELEGATES TO THE PENNSYLVANIA
LIBRARY ASSOCIATION CONFERENCE
PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, during the debate on this last amendment, we have had some visitors come into the hall and I would like to introduce them to the Senate. These ladies and gentlemen are some of the more than 400 delegates to the Pennsylvania Library Association Conference, which is meeting in York on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

I would like to tell them that we are presently discussing amendments to the important appropriation bill, and we are very happy to have them here to listen to this discussion.

The PRESIDENT. Will the ladies and gentlemen of the Library Association please rise so that the Senate may welcome you?

On behalf of the Senate, I can say to you that you are very welcome today. We are glad you are here to hear the debate on the appropriation measure now before the Senate.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, the members of the Pennsylvania Library Association also are awaiting with great interest positive action on the Library Bill, House Bill No. 1789, which I believe is in the State Government Committee.

The PRESIDENT. We will proceed with the offering of amendments to House Bill No. 2326.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, at this time I would like to propose an amendment to this bill and ask for immediate consideration and adoption of the same.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 38, line 9, by striking out "$900,000" and inserting: "$933,283."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I would not have the effrontery to lecture but rather, as a new Member, I want to say what is in my heart.

The welfare of people does not deserve mealy-mouthed buffoonery nor political solidarity. We have heard twice in the last four days from the other side of the Senate and on one occasion the quotation was—I think I am correct or I will come as close as I can to it—that where people are concerned, we will not count the cost. We should not take the time to count the cost.

We heard just a few minutes ago the statement that we are as much in favor of people as you are. Let me say to you that I asked to have this amendment and the next one drawn up because they are dear to my heart. I will say that when the Evening Bulletin said that the Republican Majority in the Senate had cut, not wisely but too well, I feel I must agree with them.

Before I go into detail, I would also like to quote from the Pittsburgh Press. They are talking about the budget cuts and the other side's crowing about how much money they have saved. They should have put "saved" in quotation marks.

"So long as this trend continues, the Legislature which mandates the services should, in honesty, raise the money to pay for them. The only alternative is continuing deficits, which keeps Pennsylvania in a fiscal mess. It is about time that the Legislature puts the State's financial house in order. It can't be done by restoring to budget trickery."

I used that term earlier this morning, and someone objected to it as being partisan. Both of these declarations are nonpartisan.

The Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Selinsgrove hospitals are new. They have not enjoyed the full flower of their use to the Commonwealth until lately. In no respect can we go back to past budgets. I say to you that this was arbitrary and capricious action. They made it round figures, $900,000, straight across the board. They have reduced it—yes, I am only talking about peanuts—by $33,283, but peanuts compared to the children they care for. The good they do far outweighs the peanuts I am talking about, the $33,283.

What do these things do? Perhaps some of you do not realize that they have cut this. These centers in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Selinsgrove tend, for the people, their abnormal children. They provide that these children will have free services to determine what type of a hospital and what type of care they need. In one case alone, they placed 600 children locally with voluntary doctors and good care.

I know what this means. A United Presbyterian minister and his wife had a child and tried to keep it themselves as long as they possibly could, in fairness to the rest of their family. They wanted to keep it at home. It is centers like these that enable them to do it, to serve their own and to help their own in the heartache and the pathetic atmosphere that a child with this affliction can cast over the pale of a household. Yet you say, cut it; make it round figures, just to be arbitrary. Where is the justification? Do not say that you have increased this budget? This is a line item.

It was arbitrary and capricious action of the highest order, in the worst field, and I have never seen anything as arbitrary since I have existed.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, the gentleman from Westmoreland County twice today referred to himself as a new Senator. Perhaps it would be wise if we show him the 1957-1959 budget. We are not cutting that budget. We are, for the Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Selinsgrove

Central Diagnostic and Evaluation Centers, appropriating $900,000, which is an increase of $459,000, or double what we had last biennium.

"Do not say we are cutting the budget. We are increasing it almost one hundred per cent. In the Philadelphia area, you had $789,000. We are increasing it to $900,000, or an increase of $111,000. You go on down to line 15, and you will find that we are setting up a new one and we are giving you $800,000.

Mr. MAHADY. Senator, could we stick to the ones we are talking about?

Mr. PECHAN. You mentioned the others, so I mentioned them, too. You talked about Philadelphia and you talked about Selinsgrove. You add them all up and you will find we are giving $1,500,000 more than you spent in the last biennium. Therefore, do not talk about cuts. Let us stick to the figures. We are increasing the budget by that amount over the last biennium.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, if the honorable gentleman would have listened to me, he would have heard me say that Philadelphia was the only one in operation when the last budget was made; that none of them have had a full biennium and that Selinsgrove is not quite complete. It is not only beginning to fill up, but it is almost full. Pittsburgh is new also. You had no experience to go on in the past biennium for this, and you did have deficits for them. You have now, for the first time, three full-flowered institutions, and for these three institutions you were told how much would be required to operate them. You have been arbitrary.

Tell me then, why did you knock out $33,283? Under what logic did you arrive at it?

Mr. PECHAN. They arrived at the figure of $933,283. How did they arrive at that figure? Can you tell me?

You talk about Selinsgrove. Mr. President, I want the gentleman to know that Selinsgrove has been in operation for a long, long time. In fact, they cannot take any more cases, so they tell us. Therefore, do not say that the place is not filled up.

Mr. MAHADY. The place was not in full flower, I said. It was growing constantly during the biennium. It is a new institution.

Mr. PECHAN. Therefore, Mr. President, for the next biennium we are almost doubling the Appropriation that we had in the 1957-1959 budget.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I seem to be getting nowhere with the idea that I have been trying to put across; that where there was previously one, there are now three. The fact that you are doubling the appropriation is not the important thing. Certainly, if you were logical, you would say you would triple it. We are not asking for that. We are asking for the measly $33,283 for one of the most unfortunate parts of public welfare, the most deserving part, where we are trying to keep the unfortunate child close to his home. This is where they come in and come out. They service them.

In this, and in this only, it should appeal to heartstrings and not to, I would say talk or political action.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MAHADY and Mr. WEINER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Barr,	Lane,	Mullin,	Sarraf,
Camel,	Mahady,	Murray,	Seyler,
DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Ripp,	Silver,
Donolow,	McGinnis,	Rooney,	Stiefel,

Elliott,	Kromer,	Stevenson,	Whalley,
Flack,	Madigan,	Taylor,	Wolfe,

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, at this time I would like to offer an amendment to House Bill No. 2326, Printer's No. 1704, and ask for its immediate consideration and adoption.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendment. The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 38, line 14, by striking out "$900,000" and inserting: "$932,157."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, realizing that my pleas fall on deaf ears after hearing that last vote where there is a waiting list of 3,000 children, which is increasing by 100 every month, I will make these remarks short, for I feel that even the basic pride of humanity, the consideration of those who are unfortunate, is falling on deaf ears for political purposes.

The Eastern Mental Health Center is affected here. Again, you may call it peanuts, but the $32,157 means eight additional people who can service these mentally ill people. Now how do they service them? Again, there is the question of the home. These people who are mentally ill come into the center and are examined. Many times they can be kept at home if they can be treated at this place, the Eastern Mental Health Center.

As you know, there are plans for a Western Center which are not yet mature, but they are on the drawing board, and I hope and I pray to God that it may flower into fruition, because this is a great service, a service which determines many times to get a person into a place where he can be cured.

We have departed from the old theme where people who have mental ills are put in a bastille, closed up and forgotten for the rest of their lives. Here is a place where we say we will treat them. Even when we discharge them from the mental institutions, this is the place they come back to in order to be treated so they can stay at home and they do not have to be kept in such an environment.

I would say to you, again this is a matter of heart. You have said where people are concerned, cost should not be counted. Let us see you vote that way.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MAHADY and Mr. WEINER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Barr,	Lane,	Mullin,	Sarra,

Elliott,	Kromer,	Stevenson,	Whalley,
Flack,	Madigan,	Taylor,	Wolfe,

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I offer an amendment to House Bill No. 2326, Printer's No. 1704, and ask for its immediate consideration and adoption.

This amendment pertains to that portion of the bill which deals with the history of Pennsylvania.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 17, line 19, by striking out "$1,157,839" and inserting: "$1,249,349."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President. I happen to be one of the two members from the Senate who are serving on the Historical and Museum Commission of Pennsylvania. For this reason, I speak from knowledge and I fear the worst in what is going to happen if this cut of $91,500 is permitted to remain.

It all reminds me of the exclamation which King David made while he was hiding in a cave in the desert. He said to King Saul, "After whom are you chasing, a mosquito?" This is chasing after a mosquito.

I am surprised that a man whom I highly respect even though he is on the other side, Senator Kessler, permitted this to happen. They speak of the people in Lancaster County as people who are very frugal. It is about time someone started a case against them in the Federal Court, on behalf of the Indian on the nickel because they squeeze the nickel so much that the Indian rides on the back of the bison.

In Lancaster, there has been developed the so-called Landis Valley Farm Museum which, day in and day out, sees hundreds of thousands of people from all over the United States flocking to Lancaster County, on the outskirts of the city of Lancaster, to see a reproduction of farms and farm life in the beginning of the Nineteenth Century.

Many other places in Pennsylvania have become meccas for tourists from all over the United States. Especially now with the approach of the centennial of the Civil War, Gettysburg is going to attract millions upon millions of people, and by cutting this $91,500 from this budget, we are setting in retrogress all of the work of the Historical Commission of Pennsylvania. I cannot imagine how this can be permitted, or how the work of accumulating historical data about the arsenal of democracy during the Civil War would not be given stimulus. For this reason, I am appealing to the majority to relent and to restore the cut of $91,500.

A good friend of mine, who majored in modern economics, has been placed in the position that he is facing a very bright future. This friend of mine was even the author of a catalogue of the historical sites in Pennsylvania. He so much became imbued with that economizing spirit that he refuses to lend a hand to re-issue this catalogue. I am referring to the great Senator from Erie, Senator Blass. Here is a handiwork which has been placed throughout the United States. It is a catalogue of the historical sites in Pennsylvania, which is being asked for all over the United States and it is not available. I offered a resolution to have it re-issued, and he simply pickled it in his committee and it will never see the light of day. This is the history of Pennsylvania.

I do not think there is anything more sacred than the preservation of the glorious past of Pennsylvania and stimulating attractions for the tourists.

What is wrong with developing the Landis Valley Farm Museum in Lancaster? I think that Senator Kessler should have been the champion of it, and yet he was passive about the matter. If we lose tourists, if we lose business in Pennsylvania, it will be far in excess of the $91,000 which we are saving here.

I am appealing to the majority to make an exception today and vote for these amendments, and restore the cut of $91,500.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, who has other amendments to offer.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, for the sake of saving time, I offer three amendments to House Bill No. 2326, Printer's No. 1704, and ask for their immediate consideration and adoption.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendments. The amendments were read my the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 39, line 6, by striking out "$318,706" and inserting: "$618,706"; Amend Sec. 2, page 39, line 19, by striking out "$19,000,000" and inserting: "$19,526,883"; Amend Section 10, page 67, lines 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20, by striking out all of said lines.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, one of these amendments has to do with youth forestry camps.

Since 1956, Pennsylvania has established two youth forestry camps. The program of these camps for the personal and social adjustment of juvenile delinquent boys has been very successful. The close relationship developed between the campers and the counselors as they work with each other and live together formulates the growing-up process and achieves a greater degree of stability in the boys.

The stay of one boy is from four to eight months, with an average turnover of two and one-half the capacity of each camp each year.

The $300,000 in question would enable each of the two existing camps to be expanded to fifty beds each from the present capacity of twenty and twenty-five beds, and the establishment of a third camp of twenty-five beds. This would enable a total expansion of eighty beds within the next biennium: fifty beds for eighteen months, and thirty beds for six months. By the end of the biennium, a total of 125 boys could be accommodated in the State's forestry camps.

Everybody knows that this is a beginning and it is not exactly experimentation, because the excellent results of these camps were shown by the National Youth Administration in the camps established during the thirties, during the depression, when the boys were taken into these forestry camps.

It is not just a one-way proposition, because in these camps the boys perform work in the forests, and these hours of work are a benefit to the Commonwealth.

Camp Number One is at Raccoon State Park, where twenty-five boys are located, and camp Number Two is at Hickory Run State Park.

The man hours performed in these two camps to date are—by the way, Camp Number One has seventy-eight boys and Camp Number Two, fifty seven—25,420 days and the per capita cost was $7,800. The total man hours worked were 55,980. If this were evaluated at one dollar per hour, the benefit to the State, to the forests and the financial benefit, would be $55,980.

This program has been praised in all of the newspapers of the Commonwealth, and an attempt at this time to widen that program would be very beneficial to the Commonwealth. These camps were praised especially in an editorial in The Philadelphia Inquirer just a couple of days ago. The Inquirer stated:

"It is regrettable that the State Legislature so far has refused to up funds for the enlargement of Pennsylvania's two youth forest camps.

"The program of Governor Lawrence which calls for $618,000 for the 1959-1961 period would not only double the capacity of the present camps but provide the necessary money to build a new one.

"Certainly this is not an excessive amount to spend on facilities that have—in the two years since their creation—proved their worth in the rehabilitation of wayward youngsters.

"During the Thirties, when the Civilian Conservation Corps was in full swing, it was shown that constructive activity was beneficial to youth. It kept them off the streets, gave them something worth while to do and paid them for their work . . ."

In Philadelphia, we have a miniature conservation corps working in Fairmount Park, where we have forty or fifty boys working with counselors. The boys in that case are paid for their work, and this is shown to be reducing our juvenile delinquency problem. If you will look at the recent records in Philadelphia, you will find that the number of juvenile delinquents in Philadelphia—and I believe this is the only city in the Country—has diminished during the last few months.

This is an investment which pays for itself, and will eventually pay for itself. I hope that a different viewpoint is taken by the Majority on this cut.

Mr. President, regarding my second amendment, a $526,883 cut is proposed for the State general hospitals, which are located mostly in the anthracite mining areas, and there may be one in the bituminous area. These hospitals are very much a problem which the State inherited when the anthracite mines were going at full swing. This reduction in the appropriation for the operation and maintenance of these hospitals is certainly completely without justification. It indicates that the reduction was made without any real basis because the amount of money by which they were reduced is exactly the last six digits of the complete appropriation. They just merely lopped off the six odd digits and called it a reduction.

These hospitals were built more than fifty years ago. Their equipment, plumbing, heating, and wiring have deteriorated to the point of being dangerous to the patients in the hospital, as well as to the staff. In other cases, they are so obsolete as to be wastefully expensive to operate.

The budget for these institutions included $800,000 for essential, non-recurring repairs and maintenance. Is it the intention of this Body, or of the Senate Appropriations Committee, to say that only sixty-five per cent of this $800,000 of essential work should be done? Or should the personnel of these hospitals be cut back to the point where there would begin to be serious deficiencies in the care of the patients? There are already three of these hospitals, Coaldale, Locust Mountain and Nanticoke, with partially unused facilities, including an entire wing of the Nanticoke State Hospital, because of the lack of personnel to staff them.

I could enumerate some of the things that are needed in the other hospitals. In the Ashland State Hospital, any jolt from high winds would cause the skylights to fall out. They might fall on a patient. In the same hospitals, the chimneys are numerous and are not used. These could topple over with a jolt and cause serious injury to a patient or a visitor. The buildings date back to 1880. It would appear that some areas had never been given proper maintenance attention. Ashland State Hospital has its own water supply, without proper attention to the reservoir, and contamination of water could result. The wards are large. The call bell system does not locate a patient. A patient in serious distress could become critical while the nurse is trying to locate the patient who is ringing.

The Blossburg State Hospital is in an area where the winters are severe. It has one boiler, and while it is being cleaned or inspected, the entire institution is without heat or hot water. Imagine an emergency shut-down of the boiler in the dead of winter.

In the Coaldale State Hospital, to keep within the complement of personnel set and, at the same time, be able to give patients care, Coaldale has cut back on the number of personnel in other than direct patient care departments. In time, maintenance, office functions and so forth will suffer and patients will have to be neglected.

In the Connellsville State Hospital, the laundry equipment has never been increased since this hospital had seventy-five beds. It now has a total complement of 177 beds and with new construction, this will become 200. Washers are now being overloaded and overworked. This could result in unsatisfactory washing process and cause serious skin infections to the newborn or to any of the patients.

At the Hazleton State Hospital, the teaching programs are good. The nursing school has national accreditation. To lose this would mean girls from this area would be forced to go away from the area for training.

In the Locust Mountain State Hospital, we would not want a tank of oxygen to explode causing permanent injury or death before we could provide safe storage.

In the Nanticoke State Hospital, because beds were not available, serious accident cases and cardiac cases had to be sent to Wilkes-Barre for care.

At the Philipsburg State Hospital, plaster is falling down in some sections of the hospital, due to leakage. Better repair is necessary before the ceiling falls.

In the Scranton State Hospital, our largest hospital, all patients are admitted in the emergency room. I have seen serious accident cases wheeled into the same room where a new patient is being interviewed.

Present facilities at the Shamokin State Hospital are crowded, creating an impossible condition to administer proper care to patients. There is only one small room to care for children. Seven children in this room are very frequent, when it should accommodate only four. At times children are in the adult ward.

In the Bureau of State Hospitals, Harrisburg, additional consultants are needed to guide the ten hospitals in the development of better and modern standards of function. As mentioned before, these hospitals would not pass inspection, would not meet minimum requirements as determined by our own department for other hospitals in the State. The areas where consultants are needed are in medical records, medical-social work, laboratory and dietary. We have two hospitals without dietitians.

I mentioned this, and I mentioned it in full so that the Senators from those Districts can realize the needs in their hospitals. I hope they will stand up for them.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I want to speak on forest camps. We have not passed that, have we? Because the Senator was speaking on two subjects at the same time, I did not understand.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I feel that this cut, as far as forest camps are concerned, is rather penny-wise and pound-foolish. I recall that over the years here in this Senate, various Members have endeavored to bring about some correction in juvenile delinquency. As a matter of fact, Senator Pechan, himself, a couple of years ago succeeded in passing what I called at that time Kiddie Car Bill. We now have legislation which passed the Senate not long ago in regard to juvenile delinquency.

I do not believe that we actually fully realize the magnitude of this problem here in Pennsylvania. I believe that less money has been spent on juvenile delinquency than any other problem that we have in this State. I believe forest camps are a good thing for two reasons: Number one, it gets these delinquents out in the air. Number two, they have the opportunity to use their muscles and, in most cases, get rid of their excess energy.

Years ago, when I was a boy, we did not have to have forest camps because I was reared on a farm. I got up at 5:00 o'clock, in the morning, and I did not have much excess energy when 9:00 o'clock at night came. However, things have changed today. We have a problem that we must hit head-on. I know that the Republicans want to make a record, and they want to make a cut. They want to show the people of Pennsylvania that they are economy-minded. If they would review this chart put out by the Department of Public Welfare, they would find that in 1958, there were 16,563 children incarcerated either in detention homes or in prisons.

I might say also, Mr. President, that going over a few of them, for the information of the Membership, there were 4,210 from Allegheny County. Going down the line, there were 271 from Dauphin County, 872 from Delaware County, 327 from Lackawanna County, 140 from Lawrence County, 426 from Montgomery County and 7,285 from Philadelphia County. In my county of Washington, there were 162 and from Westmoreland County, there were 281. However, the over-all total is 16,563 children detained in institutions in Pennsylvania in 1958.

From my experience, Mr. President, I have found that when children are detained in institutions, in most cases, they associate with boys and girls that are completely bad, and one bad apple will spoil a barrel. I believe what we should do is try to segregate these children by ages, get them out in the air, keep them busy and get them out of institutions.

I believe this cut was ill-advised on the part of the Republicans. The $300,000 could probably have been cut somewhere else.

These forest camps appear to be very popular. I know Senator Pechan said they had one over at Raccoon Park where they had sixteen people taking care of six children and one ran away. That may be true, but it is awfully hard to believe. I believe that Senator Pechan received the wrong information there.

O course, remember this, too. The top hats here in Harrisburg cannot always control every individual whom they might hire. I believe even the Republicans made some mistakes on the hiring of people. Therefore, it is a human frailty, and there is not much we can do about that.

However, we should not scuttle this program because of something that might have happened at Raccoon Park. I do believe—and I am very sincere when I make this statement and it is not for political purposes—those fellows over there planned on making these cuts and then taking the bill into a Conference Committee to iron something out. We, on this side, have a responsibility. We have a responsibility as representatives of this Administration. We must point out to the Members on the other side the dangers which we feel exist. Senator Pechan, are you listening to me?

Mr. PECHAN. Very intently.

Mr. LANE. Are you going to reply?

Mr. PECHAN. I always do. You are my favorite target. I love you.

Mr. LANE. Well then, I hope you vote with me on this amendment, because this is a very good one, Doc. You seem to have an interest in it because you sponsored juvenile delinquency legislation, and you surely should go down the line with this.

I do not have too much to say, Mr. President. I will now listen to Doctor Pechan. If he wishes to interrogate me, I will say to him that if he can ask me an intelligent question, I will give him an intelligent answer, and if he asks me a simple question, I will give him a simple answer.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I am going to speak on these two amendments very briefly. We have been here a long time, and what I am going to say is just going to reiterate what I have been saying about the other amendments.

The gentlemen keep talking about cuts. We are giving them increases. In last year's budget for forest camps, an appropriation of $318,706 was made. This year we are giving an increase of $118,000. That is almost a thirty-three per cent increase.

I would like to say, Mr. President, that Senator Lane quoted me as saying one boy ran away. There were five boys that ran away, not one. I read it in the Pittsburgh Press, and we had people who substantiated that. Be that as it may, boys will run away.

I have figures here which I think come from the Department of Welfare. In May of 1957, when this program was started, in Forestry Camp Number One, there were eleven staff members for six boys, which makes an average of two staff members for one boy. Just think of it. By December of that year, there were seven staff members and twenty boys, which made an average of 3.0. In December 1958, there were nine staff members and nineteen boys, which brought down the average to 2.1. In 1959, in April, there were nine staff members and twenty-four boys, which brings it to an average of 2.7.

In Forestry Camp Number Two, in October of 1957—evidently it started a little later—there was a staff of two people with three boys, which made an average of 1.5. In December, there were seven staff members, ten boys, or an average of 1.4. By December of 1958, there were eight staff members and sixteen boys, which made an average of two boys per staff member. In April of 1959, there were eight staff members with twenty boys, which makes an average of 2.5.

Now they are beginning to learn. Perhaps by the next biennium, if someone does a good job, we will help. However, to train people to go to other States, I do not believe Pennsylvania taxpayers' money should be spent on an experiment.

Just this morning I watched Eddie Cantor on Dave Garroway's show and they were talking about juvenile delinquents. As you know, I have been very interested in the juvenile delinquency problem. I introduced a bill which was before us, Senate Bill No. 7, which is the same as House Bill No. 141. House Bill No. 141 passed this year, making parents responsible for some of the malicious crimes that these children commit.

Before I leave that subject, I want to tell you what the Bureau of Correction does in its forestry camp. They have fifty boys with just a staff of three people. If they can do it, and do a job with three staff members for fifty people, maybe when the Department of Public Welfare learns how to do it, we will go along.

There is no argument that there is a place in our government for forestry camps, just like there was for the C. C. C. camps during the depression. However, just to arbitrarily give money to set up forestry camps, and not know where we are going, I do not believe in it.

We are giving you $112,000 more than you had during the last biennium, which is an increase of thirty-three per cent.

I am going to sit down, Mr. President. What happened to the President? Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. You lost me, Senator Pechan.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I want to talk on the second amendment which the gentleman from Philadelphia offered, restoring $526,000 for State hospitals.

The PRESIDENT. I expected when I recognized you that you would speak on the other two amendments.

Mr. PECHAN. He talked on two of them. May I do so because I want to sit down then?

The President. He talked on two and you may as well talk on two.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I only talked on one amendment. I want to answer him on the first amendment.

Mr. PECHAN. I have not asked to question you, Senator Lane, but I will, if you would like to be questioned.

Mr. LANE. Anything you say. However, I still wish to interrogate Senator Pechan on the first amendment.

Mr. PECHAN. I still have the floor, do I not, Mr. President?

Mr. LANE. O.K. Does he have the floor, Mr. President? He gave it up. Why does he want to talk on the second one when I have not finished with the first one?

The PRESIDENT. I thought for the moment that he had given it up but, really, he had asked to speak on both amendments at the moment he started to talk.

Senator Mullin was given the privilege of presenting the three amendments, and then he talked on the three, seriatim.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I presented three, but I only discussed two of them.

The PRESIDENT. Well, I would not have known, Senator.

Mr. PECHAN. May I make it easy for you?

The PRESIDENT. It will be a pleasure.

Mr. PECHAN. I will accede to the gentleman. I agree to be questioned, if he wants to question me.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Lane, I believe you mentioned that you wished to reply to Senator Pechan on the amendment upon which he spoke first.

Mr. LANE. On the first amendment, and on his Fifth amendment.

The PRESIDENT. Are you going to reply to him on the second amendment? He has not explored that yet.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I did not discuss the second amendment. I just discussed the first one.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Lane, you have the floor.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, actually I am surprised at Senator Pechan. He has been around here a long time, and I have heard him talk here today about educating people and having them go out of the State. Now, Senator Pechan, you well know—and you know that you know—that we appropriate money to the medical schools of Pennsylvania, and you know that all of the doctors whom we help to educate do not stay in Pennsylvania. The same applies when we are appropriating money for Teachers' Colleges here today. You know very well that all the teachers whom we educate in Pennsylvania are not going to teach in Pennsylvania.

Then you talked about the amount of money that you have allocated to forest camps over the years. I want you to know, my dear friend, that we are planning three forest camps here in Pennsylvania.

You talked about the number of personnel that supervise the boys who are in these forest camps. You know very well—you happen to be a doctor, you are a dentist and you are pretty well educated I believe—that there are fixed costs in every institution. As a matter of fact, Senator Stevenson stood on the floor and said, in regard to fixed costs, that we must allocate additional funds to various Teachers' Colleges because they do not have the pupil population. The fixed costs are there. So whether there be one or 100, it does not make much difference as far as fixed costs are concerned, because the institution must be maintained.

You argue about one caretaker for two boys, and so forth. As a matter of fact, when the time comes that we have the population in these forest camps, the costs will not be any greater to any great amount. You know that yourself.

We had some arguments here about giving us raises. You gentlemen over there have ignored entirely the Office of Administration, you have ignored the Budget Bureau and you have ignored the Governor's Office altogether because it suits your own figures. You are not going to get away with it because the bills are going in to Conference Committees. However, just to keep the record straight, let us not talk about educating people in Pennsylvania and the amount of money that is being wasted. If we are going to stop educating people here and we are going to tie them in Pennsylvania, we had better pass some new laws. It is silly on your part. You have a very silly argument because it will not hold water, and you know it will not.

We have argued this over the years. Years ago, I think there was an amendmet sponsored here to prohibit anyone who worked for the Department of Public Welfare to leave Pennsylvania, or words to that effect. We have not come to the state where there is peonage in Pennsylvania. It is absolutely ridiculous.

Let us not have those arguments, Doctor Pechan. If you have something good to put up O.K. If not, then I do not think you should talk.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. Lane. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. Berger. Mr. President, I just want to ask one question. What is the capacity of each of the two camps that are in existence and operation?

Mr. LANE. I do not know, but I can find out very quickly.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I believe that Senator Mullin said the capacity was twenty-five. I am not interrogating him, but that is my recollection. I believe it is accurate. They intended to increase the capacity to fifty in each camp and add a third camp.

That being correct, Mr. President, according to the figures that Senator Pechan gave—and I believe they are also accurate—the greatest number of boys at any one time in forestry Camp Number One was twenty-four, and the greatest number in Camp Number Two was twenty. Consequently, Mr. President, neither of these camps has ever been filled to capacity, and the amount appropriated in this bill for forestry camps would indicate that it is amply sufficient to take care of the probable expense of these camps, even if they add a third one, for the reason that the fifty-bed figure does not seem to be realistic in view of what they have done with the twenty-five bed capacity camp.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in all fairness, we must agree that this is a new venture. In all fairness, Mr. President, we cannot compare a Department of Public Welfare rehabilitation camp to a penal institution under the Department of Public Instruction. What we are endeavoring to do in forest camps is rehabilitate these children and keep them out of penal institutions.

Over in western Pennsylvania, when we see a young boy or girl committed to an institution, we generally figure that they will serve their time there and graduate to the penitentiary. I think that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure; that the money we spend for rehabilitation of juveniles is money that is well spent because, in most cases, where a concentrated effort is made, these boys and girls are rehabilitated and they eventually become good citizens and live a happy, normal life. I do not believe that we are making a mistake by spending this money, and I will be glad to defend it anywhere.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, if we are going to be very accurate here, I think we ought to recall that in the 1955-1957 biennium, when these camps were founded and started, the money came too late to be used in that biennium. Therefore, we carried it over into the 1957-1959 biennium, but the camps were not fully opened. As in all institutions, when you open a hospital for the first time, you will find that you have to have it fully staffed. That does not mean that you are going to have a hospital full of patients either.

In this situation, you have boys who are mentally disturbed and who are emotionally disturbed, and you cannot treat them as you would people who behave normally, who may have a cut finger or a broken arm. You must also realize that these people who work in these camps can only work a forty hour week, and, therefore, you must have enough people to cover the entire situation around the clock, if necessary. Therefore, you may always find this situation, just as in hospitals they are to have two personnel for every patient in there, whether they be nurses, maintenance personnel or just plain people who run and clean the floors.

The same thing is true in these camps. Eventually, as we get more and more into this type of activity, we will find that these places will fill up and we will need more personnel to handle these emotionally disturbed young people. Therefore, I think you cannot gauge the personnel who run the center against the number of people in there.

If you prevent even one boy from killing someone, hurting someone seriously or maiming them for the rest of their life, I think the money used for these centers will be well spent, and something that we will be very proud to have done, rather than cut it back or do anything to keep one young man out of there.

I am sure that in new Jersey, in the Camden area, if they had kept this young man, Unruh, who killed all those people, contained in some area where his disturbance could have become known, it would have saved the lives of five or six people who are no longer with us, due to this young man's disturbance and his activity.

Mr. BERGER. Very briefly, Mr. President, I want to say that I was one of the strongest advocates of this program when it was proposed, and I still am. However, I am very disappointed at the number of people they have been able to take care of for the amount of money that was appropriated and that we are appropriation now. I believe the program should be developed, but I believe, also, that it might have been developed to a little greater extent than appears from the number of people who have been in this camp, a maximum of twenty-four. At one time, the population was down to six. It seems to me, Mr. President, it would be well for this program to go forward and that it can go forward on the appropriation we are providing in this bill.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I was very much interested in the discussion that has just taken place. However, I was rather shocked to learn how few children are being taken care of in these camps. I could not help but recall the wonderful job that the Kiwanis Clubs, in Blair County, are doing for dependent and neglected children. I am not a member of the Kiwanis Club, but I have helped with their train ride, "The Glory Ride," which they have about this time of year. They raise quite a little money to help with the cost of entertaining, during the summertime, the dependent and neglected children.

It does seem to me if that splendid club can do so much and if the State is going to do this—and I think everyone is in favor of it—more should be done. It is not just a matter of spending thousand of dollars. We ought to get results. We ought to have a report that there certainly are many more children taken care of than there are counselors. That is ridiculous in my mind.

Mr. LANE. I just wish to remind the gentleman and make a correction here. I have been advised by the Department of Public Welfare that in the last biennium, they took care of 135 children in these forestry camps.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, may I ask the gentleman is that cumulative?

Mr. LANE. Yes, it is.

Mr. PECHAN. It is cumulative?

Mr. LANE. Yes. One hundred thirty-five children have been taken care of, because they do not keep on particular group in these permanently, you understand.

Mr. PECHAN. That is perfectly all right. However, they have never filled a camp. They have never had more than twenty-four people, and that was in April of 1959. They had six, seven, six, eight, twenty, fourteen, twenty and twenty. I do not say there have only been twenty boys cumulative. Certainly, I am hoping that, somewhere, something has been done for $300,000 other than paying for counselors.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I think I have explained that they have taken care of 135 boys in this camp. All you have to do, Senator Pechan, is give them a chance. Give them a chance to develop this. I know they will do a good job.

Mr. MULLEN. Mr. President, at the present time, from the information I have, the two camps operating care for forty-five boys at a time. That is all the appropriation permits.

There is no question in my mind that with an additional appropriation to set them up, they can care for more boys at a time.

We are not caring for ordinary cases. These are people who would ordinarily go to institutions. The State sends 3,000 children every year to an institution. We are making a beginning and, I think, a good beginning in this direction. I think it is a problem that will continue to exist. Until we are able to abolish all slums and give a good home to all children, we will always have a delinquency problem. I think the State has made a good move, and I think they should continue to expand it as much as the Department of Public Welfare asks them to expand it.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I wish to summarize the over-all picture here, if I may.

There are forty-five beds in existence at one time. Over the biennium, they took care of 135 children. Now it is true that at times they were not filled to capacity, but the mere fact that this is in the budget cases editorials to be written. Editorials appeared in the Evening News on September 18, 1959, the Evening Bulletin on September 11, 1959 and the Philadelphia Inquirer on September 12, 1959. The judges must know of these camps. They must assign the boys to them.

The potential of delinquency cases before juvenile courts in fifty-eight counties is 29,068 children. We find that the potential, if we look at all these figures—I do not like to bore you with a lot of figures at this time of the day. However, I say to you, this will grow.

The reason you have this argument here is that they do not realize that the forty-five beds have taken care of 135 children. We want to increase those to fifty beds each, and add a third camp with twenty-five beds.

There is one thing that has not been mentioned, or if it has been, it has been slid over. These boys, at one dollar an hour, have improved State Parks to the extent of $55,980, building roads and trails, repairing tools and equipment, boundary line maintenance, dams, springs and pools, and I could go on with the things they are doing. They are not wasting their time there. They are beautifying the parks and they are working.

As they say, they agree to it in principal. However, I say to you that you cannot make a thing grow if you do not put the full force behind it. Either you are for this, or you are against it. There is no halfway. There is no compromise. Sure education has to be done. Even this debate today will help educate the judges to send these boys there.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SEYLER and Mr. WEINER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Barr,	Lane,	Mullin,	Sarra,
Camel,	Mahady,	Murray,	Seyler,
DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Ripp,	Silver,
Donolow,	McGinnis,	Rooney,	Stiefel,
Hays,	McMenamin,	Ruth,	Weiner,
Kalman,	Miller,

NAYS—28

Berger,	Fleming,	Mallery,	Van Sant,
Blass,	Harney,	Pechan,	Wade,
Chapman,	Keller,	Propert,	Wagner,
Confair,	Kessler,	Scott,	Walker,
Ehrgood,	Koprivier, Jr.	Shafer,	Watkins,
Elliott,	Kromer,	Stevenson,	Whalley,
Flack,	Madigan,	Taylor,	Wolfe,

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I offer an amendment to House Bill No. 2326, Printer's No. 1704, and ask for its immediate consideration and adoption.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendment. The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 41, line 2, by striking out "$106,-784,090" and inserting:
"$116,784,090."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, the amendments presently before the Senate would restore a cut of $10,000,000, which has been made by the Majority side to the appropriation for public assistance.

Mr. President, we have discussed in the last day and one-half a great many cuts which have been made in various parts of this appropriation bill. I think it might be interesting to speculate on what would be the reaction of an average citizen of Pennsylvania who is able to follow the discussions that we have had. He has listened to some rather interesting things.

He has heard the Majority side refuse to be interested in the proposition that law enforcement was going to suffer as a result of their cuts made for the State Police.

He has heard the Majority side refuse to be concerned about the loss of a survey of Pennsylvania resources because of a cut to the Department of Internal Affairs.

He has heard the Majority side refuse to listen to a plea for aid to the farmers, a lack of which will result because of the cuts made to the agricultural budget.

He has found them resistant to any concern for mine safety and subsidence, when the cuts in mines and mining were discussed.

He has heard a lack of interest in children's welfare and their parents and, as a matter of fact, in our national security when a discussion of the cuts made in the Department of Public Instruction's funds was before us.

Most recently, he has heard the Majority side of this Senate callous to any plea for the unfortunate people who come under the administration of the Public Welfare Department of this Commonwealth.

To "Mr. Average Citizen" who followed this debate, it might seem very peculiar that such an economy exists; that there are men on that side of the Senate and men on this side of the Senate who differ so strongly in these matters. He may feel that in view of the human misery that he sees about him and the human need, that the men who would take the position which the men on the Majority side have taken are, perhaps, monsters in human form.

I would like to assure him they are not monsters. Therefore, there remains the question, if they are not monsters, if they are husbands, fathers and representatives of their community, what is the reason then that this indifference to the requirements of the people in need—just to take the last subject we have discussed—is so apparent? I think the reason, Mr. President, is that the two sides of this Senate, perhaps, are operating with a different view in mind of what "Mr. Average Citizen" in Pennsylvania is like.

I think the stereotype which is motivating the actions of the Members on the other side, perhaps, is of a little, scrawny person who has his pocketbook clutched tightly in his hand to see that it will not be invaded, who has his other hand across his eyes so that he cannot see the people around him that are in need, that are suffering, and who, with his feet, perhaps is pushing away evidence that surrounds him which indicates that there is this human need.

On the other hand, on this side of the Senate, Mr. President, I think the Members are operating from a different picture of what "Mr. Average Citizen" in Pennsylvania is like. I think they see a rather strong and confident man in "Mr. Average Citizen"; a man who has a pocketbook, it is true, and who exhibits the usual prudence and caution that any man exhibits with regard to his personal possessions, but a man who also has a heart, a man who also has his eyes open to human need and human suffering in the lives around him, and a man who is interested in the well-being of his fellow citizens.

If the opposition Members today have that kind of a stereotype that I mentioned in the first place, of the pocketbook, with feet and legs, being the symbol of "Mr. Average Citizen" in Pennsylvania, I think they are wrong. I do not think the average Pennsylvanian is that kind of a man at all. I think in addition to that pocketbook, he also is interested in affairs of the heart. He is a human being, and he is interested in the welfare of his human kind.

On the particular cut in appropriation that we are talking about today, we are on a subject which requires us to have in mind a true picture of what "Mr. Average Citizen" in Pennsylvania wants. I believe that he is dedicated to the proposition, since the 1930's at any rate, which was established in this Commonwealth, that no person shall go needy, untended, uncared for, unclothed or unhoused in this Commonwealth, because that is why we set up public assistance; not charity, but rather a consideration by all men for those members of their kind who are less fortunate, and who are unable to meet the needs of living.

There are two specific things that I would like to bring to the attention of the Members on the other side.

In the first place, I would like to call to their attention that one issue at stake in the cut which they have made in the appropriation for public assistance is the proposed increase of two dollars per month for those members who are on public assistance who are between the ages of eighteen and sixty-five.

Just to give a little background on this matter, let me say that in 1956, the State Board of Public Assistance had some question in their mind because of information received from many parts of the Commonwealth as to whether the allotments given for needy people, who required public assistance, were adequate. At that time, the State Board saw to it that a committee was appointed. It was known as the Woodbury Committee because of the chairman of the committee. The committee was appointed for studying the situation and finding out whether the grants given by the Department of Public Assistance were, in fact, adequate to meet the needs of those people who were suffering from want, and whether they were enough not to give them a luxurious type of living, but to meet the needs that every human being has for food, clothing and shelter.

The Woodbury Committee, composed of eminent citizens of this Commonwealth, studied the question and they brought in their report. That committee found that the grants we were then giving were thirty-three and one-third per cent below a standard of decency and necessity.

Since that time, Mr. President, it has been found possible to increase the aid to old age recipients,—that would be the class over sixty-five years of age, our senior citizens—so that the funds they were given were adequate to meet the standards set by the Woodbury Committee.

To our younger citizens, the children between five and eighteen years of age, who are members of families on public assistance, we granted an increase; not the full amount that should have been given, perhaps, but it was found possible to give them an increase of two dollars per month.

This leaves one category of our citizens, namely, those between eighteen and sixty-five, a group of our citizens who are in robust mid-life, in the vigor of youth and middle age. To those citizens, we have not advanced these grants at all.

It was the proposal, if the Republican Senate had seen fit in their hearts to approve the amount asked and the amount granted by the House of Representatives, to give two dollars a month increase to these people so as to bring them somewhere near a standard which will provide for the necessities of life and decency. I regret to say that the gentlemen of the Senate on the Majority side have not seen fit to do this.

I would like to ask them today whether it is the intention, whether it is the conscious intention, of the Republican Members of this Senate to say that this two dollar increase for decency and necessity should not be given to our citizens in the category between eighteen and sixty-five. If they give an honest answer, and that is their answer, I will abide by it. However, I would like them to search their hearts to try to conjure a picture of what "Mr. Pennsylvania" is like; the Mr. Pennsylvania they represent as I represent him, too, and ask themselves whether those people back home want them to be so intent on grasping that pocketbook so that not a penny escapes and that they will forget the dictates of the heart which is within every human being.

The second point that I would like to make with the Republican Members of this Senate is the point that we have heard discussed before which occurs with regard to public assistance in perhaps a purer form, and with more acuity than it did with regard to any of the other parts of this appropriation which we discussed.

I think all of you gentlemen know, having been in the Senate in most cases much longer than I, that if you deduct money from a fund which is aimed to provide for the needs of our citizens, and if those needs have to be met, I think you realize that up to a certain limit, at least, this will be met and taken care of eventually by a deficiency appropriation. In other words, a deficit will result.

I would like to say that since 1945,—and I only have the figures with me from that year—the record shows that in every Session of the Legislature, whether it was in Republican hands or Democratic hands, the department, as a professional body, came up with an estimate of needs. I would like to say that the record shows, Mr. President,—and I have it right here before me and would be glad to read it to anyone who is interested if you do not take my word, but I give you my word—that those estimates made by the department of their need for the coming year, based on their estimate of the number of cases they would handle, was amazingly accurate. It was in some cases a bit low but, in general, it was accurate to the point of amazement when you are dealing with this large number.

I would say to you, in the first place, the department has a remarkable record for estimating accurately the need. However, what has been the situation? In a number of those biennia, Mr. President, the Legislature has not seen fit in making the appropriation to meet the need as indicated by the careful study of the department. The result, gentlemen, as shown by this record, is that the amount of money asked for by the department, based on the need they estimated, was not met by appropriation. The result has been that each time we have come up with a rather large deficit, which resulted in a deficiency appropriation.

Mr. President, I would like to ask the Republican Members of the Senate, is it your deliberate intention in this respect and in others perhaps, but in this respect specifically, to see to it that there is a deficit? Are you determined to be, at the next legislative election and the next gubernatorial election, in a position to point and say, "They had a deficit, and that is the Governor's fault?" That, apparently, has been the record before. If you are planning to do that, then I think we should establish today, for the record, that a deficit is deliberately being planned and managed right now so that it will appear to embarrass the party of the governor in the next election. However, the truth, gentlemen, if my assumption is true, is that it will have been planned and managed by the party which is in the Majority in this Senate.

I asked the question because I think we should clear this ground. If this is not true, then I would like to know the reasoning which motivates this kind of cutting. If it is true, then I think we should let the voters of Pennsylvania know that now so that a case cannot be run a year from now or three years from now based on a record which is being made today.

Mr. President, as I have indicated, I have confidence from the past record that these were careful estimates as to the number of cases and the amount of money which would be needed, but, Mr. President, when these estimates were made, we had not yet suffered the impact of the steel strike, which has subsequently struck us. That occurrence was not included in these original estimates.

Senator Stevenson made an interesting point today. He justified raising the amounts above the original estimates which were to be given to Teachers' Colleges because, he said, in the mean time they found that the enrollments had increased.

Mr. President, I would like to say to Senator Stevenson and his colleagues, the enrollments are increasing every day in public assistance, and if it is a good idea to increase appropriations because you have a demonstration that enrollments in Teachers' Colleges have increased, then, I would say, that the same reasoning would apply to the increasing enrollment on the rolls of our public assistance. There is evidence, Mr. President, that this is occurring to us right now, and will occur to us in an increasing manner as this steel strike is projected.

Let me, Mr. President, substantiate my statements as to increased enrollment by reading a letter which I have here, which was written by the Secretary of this Department, Mrs. Horting, and addressed to Mr. Giesey, the Budget Secretary. Mrs. Horting says as follows:

"The budget estimate for August 1959 was 333,000 persons at a cost of $23.03 per person in State funds. This amounts to $7,600,000.

"The actual number of persons receiving assistance in August was 365,078 and actual costs were $8,928,000.

"Thus the actual number of person receiving assistance in August was 35,078 more than the estimate, and the cost was $1,328,000 in State funds more than the estimate, or an average of $37.86 per person."

Now, Mr. President, that is the situation to date. These are not imaginings of what might happen. This is happening and has happened. Our rolls of public assistance are increasing. We are not talking about a theory. We are facing a fact.

Mrs. Horting goes on:

"If the strike ends by September 30, 1959,"—parenthetically, neither Mrs. Horting nor I nor any of you know when this strike will end, but this is a projection of present experience to try to give an estimate of what might happen in the future—"we estimate that there will be a prolonged effort through November and that there will have been 218,574 additional person months of assistance at an additional cost of $8,275,000 in State funds.

"If the strike ends by October 15 we estimate that there will be a prolonged effect through December and that there will be 321,578 additional person months of assistance at an additional cost of $12,174,000 in State funds.

"If the strike ends by October 31 we estimate that there will be a prolonged effect through January and that there will be 436,078 additional person months of assistance at an additional cost of $16,509,000 in State funds."

Mr. President, the cut in the appropriation of $10,000,000 was a cut which was based on a careful study of the probable needs of the Commonwealth for the next biennium without taking into consideration the tremendous impact of this steel strike.

If this Senate were acting rationally today, Mr. President, we would be discussing how much more we should put into this fund so that the State can meet its obligation to the needy people of the Commonwealth during the next two years, instead of talking about a $10,000,000 cut. To talk of a cut, with circumstances like this, must stagger the imagination of the average person on the street. A person who sees the need in his business for further expenditure and then ends up by proposing a cut in his expenditures would be a subject for one of our State institutions.

Apparently, what applies to a businessman does not apply to Members of this Senate. Members of this Senate walk around apparently sane, and certainly not certified by any physician, and suggest things and put things into statute which, if it were done by an ordinary person in the conduct of his own affairs in his normal business, would be grounds enough for his friends and relatives to go to a physician and have him examined and certified.

This is a serious situation and unless, as I said before, your objective is to purposely create a deficit so that you have something to talk about at the next election, this is not rational conduct and does not make sense.

In addition to the situation I have just mentioned, this strike, whenever it does end, its effect is not going to be spent, because we are going to have an aftereffect. You all know that there is a lag between the time when those steel mills will go to work and the first production of ingots start coming off and the time when they get used in production. In the meantime, even with the strike apparently over, there is going to be a definite problem for public assistance because people are not going to be able to go back to work the day the strike ends.

Our lakes have a habit of freezing, something for which

I cannot blame the gentlemen of the Senate. Even the Republicans cannot be blamed because Lake Erie freezes over. However, do you realize, gentlemen, when that lake does freeze over, the supply of iron ore is going to stop, and whenever we do go back, we are going to be able to use only the stock pile which is available and we are not going to be able to do much, even with the Senate willing, to get steel production started again on a full basis?

Therefore, I say to you, we are going to have an after-effect from this steel strike which is going to multiply the effect on public assistance.

Talking about this broadly may not, perhaps, bring this home to you. Let me give you some details on this problem. The applications, Mr. President, for public assistance since the onset of the steel strike have been rolling in, literally rolling in, as indicated by the figures I gave you in Mrs. Horting's letter. This has meant a tremendous need for activity on the part of the department. In the first place, there is the problem of extra personnel in the counties.

I might say, for any of you who would question this fact, that the county personnel are paid for out of this appropriation about which we are talking right now. There has been a tremendous need for personnel. Where are we going to be able to get the people who would be able to handle and process all of the tremendous increase in applications which have come in?

I will tell you what they did. In Allegheny County alone, they had to put on eighty case workers. You do not just go out and get eighty case workers, in addition to clerical help and all of the rest that is needed to process these applications.

The department has done the best it could. A lot of its people were entitled to vacations. The department has said to those people, "Do not take your vacations. We cannot spare you," and so those people have continued on the job.

Schoolteachers during the month of August, as you know, were on vacation. Many of those were brought in, given training courses and hired on a part-time basis so that this emergency could be met; similarly with buildings. The offices of the Department of Public Assistance in these areas were not adequate, so they used school buildings. School buildings are vacant during August. I know all of you who are interested in getting the maximum use out of a school building will be glad to know that the department commanded school buildings and put them to work. Of course, now the school term has begun, and so they have had to give that up and they have had to go and rent additional buildings.

All of this gives you an idea, perhaps, of the magnitude of the problem and the impact of the steel strike.

We have a tremendous problem in Pennsylvania and it is not limited to just a few places. I have before me here the report for the first half of September 1959, for the number of persons dependent on public assistance. I find that over the Commonwealth, at the present time, we have three and one-half per cent of our population who are receiving public assistance. In many counties, over five per cent—that is one in every twenty, gentlemen—of the people in the county are dependent on public assistance.

The following counties are those which have over five per cent of their population dependent on public assistance: Bedford, Bradford, Cambria, Clearfield, Fulton, Huntington, Schuylkill, Somerset, Washington and Wyoming. Fayette County has the record in this respect. It has been hardest hit and has eleven and four-tenths per cent.

There is no question, Mr. President, that taking together this $10,000,000 cut, the impact of the steel strike which is going to make a tremendous amount of more public assistance necessary, there will be a huge deficit. How much that deficit will be, I do not know. However, there will be one. It may be so large that it cannot be met by the ordinary procedures, that it cannot be taken care of belatedly by deficiency appropriation, and that it may make necessary a Special Session of the Legislature, in which case, I would hope that the Republican Members of this Senate would accept the full responsibility for any such results that might occur.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would like to leave two questions for the gentlemen on the other side to answer, through their chosen representative, perhaps the expert on public assistance, Senator Pechan. First of all, do the Republicans wish to be on record as intending, deliberately, to see to it that it is not possible to give the two dollars per month increase to the age group between eighteen and sixty-five? Secondly, is this a deliberate attempt to plan and manage a deficit so that it will appear at some later time as an advantage for political purposes? If that is not true, then the other question recurs; by what kind of thinking, in face of an unprecedented need for resources in this area, can you possibly advocate a $10,000,000 cut in this particular budget?

Mr. President, I would like to now register my desire for a roll call.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York, Senator Seyler.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SEYLER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. PECHAN. You are making an impassioned plea for an additional $10,000,000 which you say the Members on this side of the aisle cut out of the budget. We did not do any such thing. We raised the 1959-1961 budget over last year's budget by $3,000,000.

I would like to ask the gentleman where he was when the four per cent sales tax was brought up for enactment. If it had not been for some of the Republican Members, I wonder where this money, about which you are talking, would come from.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I was at the same place as the gentleman opposite me was at that time.

Mr. President, in answer to the first part of the gentleman's question, it is true that this would represent an increase over the previous Session. However, I would point out to the gentleman, if he will examine the record, that over the years for 1945 to 1947, he would not be too much amazed by the fact that the amount spent on public assistance has increased. He would notice that during that era this was a rather constant process. It is certainly not surprising when you find out that there is an increase in the amount of public assistance. I wonder if the gentleman is aware that there have been times in the past—I would cite, for example, the 1949-1951 Session of the Legislature—when the appropriation was $186,100,000. That was back in 1949-1951.

Mr. President, perhaps this is a little bit different from some of the matters the gentleman is used to discussing in that the amount of money needed for public assistance does not depend on a steady progression of a certain percentage additional each year, but depends rather on the need, on the number of applicants and the number of cases which are approved for public assistance. This is a matter which neither the gentleman nor I can predict from one Session to another. It is rather silly to point out that there is an increase because I can point out to him, as I have already, that there were other years when there was an even larger appropriation granted.

Mr. PECHAN. I asked you one question, Senator Seyler. I asked you where you were when the four per cent sales tax was to be voted on. You said you were at the same place that I was.

I am not asking for $10,000,000. I am trying to get it out of there. However, I introduced another bill which will bring in $22,000,000 of additional revenue, whether you use it for education or public health and welfare. I cannot get one single vote because you are afraid that politically they are going to beat you over the head. You are afraid that every time somebody takes a drink at the bar, they are going to blame it on "Davy."

You are giving us the devil over here for cutting this budget. What did you tell your Governor when he cut the requests made by these various departments? Did you people go in there? The gentleman from Westmoreland used the word "arbitrarily." I wonder if Senator Mahady asked the Governor why he arbitrarily cut the demands which many of the department heads made.

Mr. President, it is an unfortunate and sad thing that we are having a steel strike. I am hoping that it will be straightened out within the next couple of days. However, does the gentleman on the other side realize that most of those people who are on strike and are receiving assistance are workers who signed a bond. Most of that money is going to be paid back. If the steel strike lasts until October 31, it is going to cost an additional $5,000,000 more than was anticipated. If it lasts until November 15, it is going to cost $7,000,000 additional. If it lasts until November 30, it will cost $10,000,000 additional. However, most of that money will come back, because these people are workers who are going to be able to pay it back.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would like to answer a couple of points which the gentleman made.

In the first place, I heard him say that he hopes the steel strike will end. Of course, we all hope that. However, a pious hope, Mr. President, expressed at a political forum like this is not going to mean much bread and butter on the tables of the people who need it. If the gentleman would back up his rather theoretical hoping with a little voting to do something about it, I think the people who need this money will be much more appreciative.

The second point, Mr. President, is that the gentleman stated quite correctly that when people go on relief, they are not getting something for nothing. They sign a lien and agree to pay it back. However, does the gentleman imagine that they are going to be able to pay it back next week, if they borrow it this week? If they receive assistance now, they are not going to be able to pay back this money immediately. We are talking about a situation which will confront us in the next biennium. We are not talking about a couple of generations from now. We are talking about now. I am talking about a problem which is in front of us. We need the money in order for us to pay it out.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I want to draw the attention of everyone at this time to the fact that not only is this money paid back, but we have to have it to lend to the people in order to get it paid back. There is a necessity. Senator Seyler gave you the figures for August.

Let us get the real shock. I was asked whether I said anything to the Governor. I have been in the Governor's Office continuously, watching the progress on this matter. No one has been in there more than I have, watching the daily income and watching the daily outgo. I am very concerned with this budget.

On September 29, which was yesterday, there were 398,500 persons on the relief rolls, which is 40,000 more than the amount before. They are going on the rolls at the rate of 2,000 a day.

You say that you gave us a raise. We are talking about the amendment and let us stick to it. We are talking about the item on page 41, line 2. It was reduced $10,000,000. On the basis of the number of people on the relief rolls as of yesterday, 398,500, we find that we will need not only that $10,000,000, but $8,275,000 more. For Senator Pechan's information, I have kept track of it. The least we might do is give this $8,000,000.

Let me say to you that it was three men on the Republican side who introduced the bill to make it a crime to go over the budget. Yet here you are, saying, "We are creating a deficit. With the figures given to us, we will stand and vote twenty-eight votes. We know it is not enough, but this is all we will give you. We know that you will not resist the cries of one-half million people, with no hope and no chance of life."

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I believe it would be proper for me to inform the Chair, and the Members of the Senate, that the House of Representatives had hoped to receive this bill this afternoon. They sent word over that it is very difficult for them to remain there much longer.

Consequently, while we do not like to limit debate at all and do not intend to make any such motion, I do wish to bring it to the attention of the Members of the Senate and to the Chair.

RECESS

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I request a five minute recess of the Senate for the purpose of holding a Democratic Caucus, to be held in the Conference Room at the rear of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any objections? The Chair hears no objection, and declares a five minute recess of the Senate.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, recognizing the lateness of the hour in so far as the Members of the House are concerned, and recognizing that House Bill No. 2326 will probably go to a Conference Committee, and being desirous of having this matter considered and a committee appointed in order for them to work on this matter before we have concluded, I would like to now offer the remaining amendments to this bill.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Weiner, would you yield until we dispose of the present amendment before the Senate?

Mr. WEINER. I am sorry, Mr. President. I thought that was finished.

The PRESIDENT. It has not been.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SEYLER and Mr. HAYS and were as follows, viz:

Barr,	Lane,	Mullin,	Sarraf,
Camiel,	Mahady,	Murray,	Seyler,

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I offer amendments to House Bill No. 2326, Printer's No. 1704, and ask for their immediate consideration and adoption.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendments. The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 16, line 16, by striking out "15,466,263" and inserting: "16,294,638;" Amend Sec. 2, page 17, line 3, by striking out "$19,000,000" and inserting: "$19,285,000;" Amend Sec. 2, page 17, line 8, by striking out "3,114,000" and inserting: "6,414,000;" Amend Sec. 2, page 20, line 2, by striking out $8,277,719" and inserting: "$9,003,358;" Amend Sec. 2, page 20, line 11, by striking out "27,000,000" and inserting: "$30,000,000."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I just would like to make two brief statements here before we move on to the vote on these amendments.

First, I think a rather heavy cut was made in the Department of Health. Eight hundred thousand dollars was cut out of this budget. I would like the gentlemen on the other side, who made this cut or who worked on it, to advise me at which point they want the Department of Health to cut off its services. Is it in the Silicosis Control Program? Is it in the Dental Care Program for Indigent Children? Is it in the cutting out of the Insect and Rodent Control Program, so that we may be facing the same problem which is sweeping southern New Jersey at this point? Is it in the Diabetic Detention Program? Is it in the Women's Hospital in Philadelphia.

This is the problem about which I spoke very briefly yesterday concerning the Senators who come from the surrounding area, Montgomery, Chester, Bucks and Delaware. People with chronic diseases come to the Women's Hospital in Philadelphia. Fifty thousand dollars was cut out of the budget.

If they will advise us which programs they want the Department of Health to cut, if they will advise us which programs they feel are not proper or which are not being maintained, we will be very happy to accede to their wishes and will not ask for this money.

I would like to bring to the attention of all the Members the fact that there was a time when you introduced a bill to try to remove the Tax Equalization Board's final doings, as it had ascribed them for this year. You have taken this bill and put this amendment into it to do exactly what you were trying to do by this other type of legislation. Not only do I think this is an improper way of doing it,—and I think it is unconstitutional to handle it in this manner—but I think it is absolutely the wrong way to do it. If you are unhappy with the formula, I think you should change it and not use this method of doing it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WEINER and Mr. BARR, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Barr,	Lane,	Mullin,	Sarraf,
Camel,	Mahady,	Murray,	Seyler,

Elliot,	Kromer,	Stevenson,	Whalley,

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I offer an amendment to House Bill No. 2326, Printer's No. 1704, and ask for its immediate consideration and adoption.

This amendment would restore the cut in the appropriation to the Department of Revenue.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendment. The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 43, line 9, by striking out "$16,904,357" and inserting: "$18,143,857."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in view of the lateness of the hour and the fact that we have received an ear bear beating, I will have certain prepared remarks inserted in the record. Incidentally, I had an hour and a half speech planned.

The PRESIDENT. The prepared remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the record.

September 29, 1959

Mr. Chairman and Members of the Senate Democratic Caucus:

We are pleased to appear before you with reference to the proposed General Fund appropriation for the Department of Revenue for the 1959-61 biennium.

House Bill 2326 provides for an appropriation of $18,141,857 for this Department and the Senate has proposed a reduction of $1,237,000 to $16,904,857.

The favorable reception given this Department's representatives by the Senate Committee last March and April indicated that it recognized our appropriation request was both prudent and honest. In those conferences, we provided full information and pointed out that the request did not provide for the administration, enforcement and collection of any additional taxes to be enacted by the Legislature subsequent to April 14, 1959. Since that date, approximately $300,000,000 in additional taxes have been enacted into law, with no statutory appropriations.

While it is true that a substantial portion of these taxes represent two rate increases in the Sales and Use Tax, the Senate is well aware of the tens of thousands of new taxpayers directly obligated to the Commonwealth and the substantial statutory changes which make it mandatory to provide for additional operating costs, including trained enforcement personnel.

This Department is literally the Commonwealth's "cash register." For every appropriation dollar removed from our requirements, the Commonwealth must lose at least eight dollars in revenue.

In closing, permit me to inform you that the Commonwealth's revenues have regularly been overestimated since the 1951-53 biennium. It is a well known fact that the Legislature, regardless of Administration, has consistently been unwilling to appropriate sufficient moneys for this Department to enforce and collect the taxes levied.

These fallacies are again in evidence. We are, therefore, obligated to advise you that the present policy of the Senate Majority must result in another deficit at the end of this biennium.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
DEPARTMENT OF REVEUNE
HARRISBURG

Charles M. Dougherty September 24, 1959
Secretary

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The Republican-dominated Senate now proposes to reduce the House Appropriation Bill for the Department of Revenue by $1,237,000.

Secretary of Revenue, Charles M. Dougherty said "this action is indeed regrettable and, if not corrected, will materially affect this Departments' ability to collect the revenues needed to balance the 1959-61 budget.

"The Senate's course is both alarming and amazing," the Secretary continued, "in view of the favorable reception given this Department by the Senate Appropriation Committee last March and April.

"At that time, the Committee appeared to recognize that our appropriation request of $18,141,857, plus augmented funds of $521,000, was both prudent and necessary.

"In our conferences, during which full information and supporting details were submitted and accepted, we pointed out that any added taxes enacted by the Legislature would have to contain statutory provision for additional funds for their administration, enforcement and collection by this Department.

"Not only has the Senate Majority failed to recognize our minimum appropriation requirements, but it has also failed to provide any appropriation whatsoever for the collection and enforcement of over $300,000,000 in additional taxes enacted into law since April 14, 1959.

"While it is true that a substantial portion of the taxes recently levied represent rate increases in the Sales and Use Tax, the Senate is well aware of the tens of thousands of new taxpayers directly obligated to the Commonwealth and the substantial statutory changes which make provision for additional operating costs, including enforcement personnel, absolutely mandatory.

"This Department is literally the Commonwealth's 'cash register.' For every appropriation dollar removed from our requirements, the Commonwealth must lose at least eight dollars in revenue.

"By its attitude, the Senate Republican Majority continues to encourage, and must be held responsible for, increased tax evasion and the loss of substantial revenues.

"The public must be informed that the Republican members of the Senate have constantly been far more optimistic about revenue estimates than have our own budget technicians and independent researchers. At the same time, they are again unwilling to appropriate the money necessary to collect the taxes due the Commonwealth."

² Added increment based upon 1/2% increase in tax rate and additional coverage of Acts 14, 15 & 98 April 15, and June 16, 1959 for the first 3 2/3 months of the biennium.

Note: A bill (H 2315) increasing the Hotel Occupancy Tax rate has not yet been enacted. However, statistics above assume that the same rate of 4% will apply to this tax. This additional $0.6 million which will be realized from the increased rate is included in the above estimates.

Mr. ELLIOT. Mr. President, I should like to inform the Chair and my colleagues in the Senate, particularly Senator Lane, that I was going to say something about the amendment that he offered. However, I did not have mine written out and I cannot hand it in. Therefore, I am not going to say it either.

The PRESIDENT. Thank you, too, Senator Elliott. And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I have two amendments here which I would like to offer to this bill.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendments. The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Section 2, Page 32, lines 3 through 17, by striking out all of said lines; Amend Sec. 2, page 45, line 20, by striking out "$500,000" and inserting: "$726,183."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, these two amendments are in regard to the State Tax Equalization Board.

I can see what is being done on the other side. They want to change the rules in the middle of the game. They just do not like the facts of the report which was handed in this year. Therefore, they are trying to decrease the State Tax Equalization Board by thirty-one per cent. In other words, they are giving them less money than they even had in the last biennium. After all, it is a straight factual body where the money provided is for nothing but just salaries and determining the appraisals, as well as supervising outside expert real estate valuations and their appraisals.

Secondly, they have tried another little cute one on page 32 by trying to write the Berger-Wagner Bill into the appropriation bill, and I have been advised by the Attorney General's office that it has to be stricken out anyhow.

I ask for a roll call vote on these amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and Mr. WEINER, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

A constitutional majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. from the Committee on Education, reported as amended, House Bill No. 1380, entitled:

An Act declaring the policy of the Commonwealth with regard to discriminatory practices in educational institutions based upon race religion color or national origin and prohibiting such discriminatory practices.

Mr. KELLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. KELLER, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, House Bill No. 117, entitled:

An Act amending the "State Employees' Retirement Law" of June 27, 1923 (P. L. 858), defining employees of re-development authorities as State employees.

He also, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, House Bill No. 795, entitled:

An Act amending "The Administrative Code of 1929," approved April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177), providing that rules and regulations established by the Department of Forests and Waters governing State parks shall apply to the Pennsylvania State Park at Erie, Washington Crossing Park and Valley Forge Park.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. MULLIN, KALMAN and MURRAY read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1214, entitled:

An Act increasing the compensation of certain State employees.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

MINORITY REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE ALLEGHENY COUNTY SANITARY AUTHORITY, PURSUANT TO SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 27

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. President, I wish to offer the Minority Report of the Senate Committee on the Sanitary Authority of Allegheny County.

The PRESIDENT. The report will be printed in the Journal.

We dissent strongly from the findings, conclusions and recommendations of the Republican majority of this Committee. Their report finds no support in the record of the hearings held, and makes it obvious that the investigation was politically inspired and wholly uncalled for.

The Senate of Pennsylvania enjoined the Committee "to investigate the rate-making policy and the past and proposed expenditures of the Allegheny County Sanitary Authority." Despite five days of testimony during which the Authority produced numerous agreements, contracts, letters and other documents requested by the Senators and their counsel, the Committee was unable to uncover the slightest evidence of misconduct, wrongdoing or dishonesty on the part of the Authority's Board members, Executive Director or staff personnel.

The wording of the Resolution introduced by Senator Koprivier discloses the purely partisan and political nature of the inquiry. No evidence whatever was presented to support the charges made in the preamble of the Resolution that "organized groups of Allegheny County citizens have received discourteous and arrogant treatment from personnel of the Authority" and that such citizens "were given no indication for which undetermined sums of money have been or will be spent by the Authority." Also, the evidence clearly rebuts the charge that the Authority's proposed rates are unjust, unfair and excessive, and that the Authority has acted in a discriminatory manner as to its rates.

All five Senators on the Committee stated publicly that they had been greatly impressed with the high caliber of the membership of the Authority Board.

These members are professional men and business executives devoting their time, without compensation, to a great civic project. The Chairman of the Authority is Vice President and Chief Counsel of the Koppers Company. The Vice Chairman is the former Chief Engineer of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation, and now a consulting engineer. The Secretary is a member of a prominent Pittsburgh law firm. The Treasurer is President of a large advertising company. The fifth member of the Board is a practicing attorney and City Councilman of Pittsburgh. We are confident that these outstanding men have not permitted and would not condone inefficiency, waste or incompetence, and that they have unselfishly devoted their best efforts to provide the public with the finest possible management of this $100,000,000 project.

We believe firmly that it was an unwise move on the part of the Senate of Pennsylvania to subject men of such prominence and unquestioned integrity to the embarrassment and public censure implicit in Senator Koprivier's Resolution. This is not the way to encourage public-spirited citizens to sacrifice their time and lend their wisdom and experience to public affairs. We also decry the unsuccessful effort that was made by the Committee's counsel to discredit the Authority's Executive Director and Chief Engineer, John F. Laboon, and to destroy his reputation as one of the most outstanding sanitary engineers in America.

The hearing produced evidence bearing on three matters: (1) Design of the sewage treatment plant; (2) Rates, as they affect (a) the four Upper Allegheny Municipalities and (b) flat-rate water users; and (3) odorous operation of the plant. On two of these three matters the Authority, in our opinion, proved that it has acted efficiently, fairly and with the highest degree of professional and legal competence. As to the difficult and unpleasant odor problem, the Committee was assured that the Authority is continuing to do everything possible to resolve this mechanical difficulty promptly and effectively.

(1) Design of the Sewage Treatment Plant

Counsel for the Committee attempted to establish that the Authority's newly completed sewage treatment plant is of an experimental, unproved design. The attempt failed abysmally. The evidence showed that the plant was designed by one of the leading firms of consulting engineers specializing in sewage treatment plants, Metcalf and Eddy of Boston. Counsel for the Committee tried to show that the method of sludge concentration used in the Authority's plant had been adopted without proof of its feasibility because it had been developed by Mr. Laboon, the Authority's Executive Director and Chief Engineer. But Mr. Laboon disclaimed credit for inventing the process. Mr. Edwin B. Cobb, partner of Metcalf and Eddy in charge of this project, testified that concentration by flotation is not new; that application of the method to sewage treatment had been thoroughly proved by a pilot plant, and that the process was being used upon the written recommendation of Metcalf and Eddy. Metcalf and Eddy, as the consulting engineers, took full responsibility for their recommended design and were staking their excellent reputation on it.

Counsel for the Committee further attempted to show that the method of sludge concentration was the cause of the odor which had been produced by the Authority's treatment plant. This point will be treated at greater length later in the Minority Report. However, the testimony of Mr. Charles W. Gordon, Project Engineer for Combustion Engineering, Inc., leading designers and builders of incinerators, was to the effect that the method of sludge concentration had nothing whatever to do with the production of odors, as it makes no difference to the incinerators how the sludge is concentrated so long as it is of proper concentration and has adequate heat value. Mr. Gordon further testified that the Committee counsel's informant, an office employee of the Combustion Engineering Company, is not an engineer and was "daydreaming." This informant was not produced as a witness, although two of the Senators requested the Committee's counsel to call him to testify under oath. Mr. Cobb testified that the Authority's plant would certainly produce satisfactory sludge for odorless incineration.

(2) Rates—(a) The Upper Allegheny Municipalities

The evidence clearly demonstrated that the Authority's rates are proper and in accordance with agreements freely entered into by the participating municipalities. The fact that the rates payable by people living in four of the 70 municipalities are higher than those applicable in the other 66 municipalities is due to the fact that the Authority, at the request and for the benefit of the four municipalities in question, built a three and one-half mile sewer extension, including three pumping stations and a river crossing, which cost the Authority $1,000,000. This was done under the provisions of the so-called Upper Allegheny Agreement which had been duly executed by the municipalities involved and which had been fully advertised in the local newspapers. Two Councilmen of the Borough of Verona (one of the four municipalities in question) testified that the Authority had misrepresented the cost of service before the agreement was entered into by assuring them that the cost per family would be $17.60 or, at most, $20.00 per year, whereas their bills will now be considerably higher. However, the Authority introduced in evidence a letter sent to the municipal officials of the four municipalities more than a year before the Agreement was entered into. The letter clearly informed these officials that the cost of service to them would be two and one-half to three and one-half times as high as the rates payable in the 66 municipalities, because they would have to pay extra charges, over and above the regular rates, to amortize the $100,000,000 of Authority bonds which were issued to build the sewer extension that they had requested.

This arrangement was consistent with the Authority's fixed rate policy applicable equally to all 70 municipalities. The policy was that the Authority would build its main sewers along the shores of the Ohio, Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers, Chartiers Creek and Turtle Creek, and that each municipality would have to build whatever connecting sewers would be required to bring its sewage to the Authority's intercepting sewers. Thus, the testimony showed that in order to obtain service at the lower rates, several municipalities had expanded their own funds to build connecting sewers or had advanced the cost thereof to enable the Authority to build such connecting sewers for them. Ross Township had built, at its own expense, a three mile connecting sewer costing several hundred thousand dollars. The Borough of Trafford had paid the Authority $30,000 which, together with the $70,000 paid to the Authority by Westinghouse Electric Corporation, served to finance the extra cost which the Authority had expended in extending its intercepting sewer from Pitcairn to Trafford. The Borough of Monroeville had paid the Authority $15,000 for revised plans of a larger sewer in the Turtle Creek Valley and, pursuant to its agreement with the Authority, is paying over $30,000 per year to amortize the cost of $435,000 of Authority bonds issued to finance construction of the larger sewer so designed to accommodate Monroeville.

The four Upper Allegheny Municipalities agreed to pay the cost of amortizing $1,000,000 of Authority bonds. Now they would like to shift this burden to the 66 other municipalities. We agree with the Authority that this would be unfair and in violation of a formal agreement solemnly entered into.

(2) Rates—(b) Flat-rate Water Users

The evidence showed that water users in most of the Authority's service area have water meters. Sewer charges to these customers are based on the quantity of water used as shown by the meter readings.

However, there are over 20,000 unmetered water users in the City of Pittsburgh. There are about 4,000 more who live in three small municipalities which are wholly or in large measure unmetered. These people pay a flat-rate for water regardless of the amount of water used. In determining the sewer charges for flat-rate water users, the Authority charges 80% of the flat-rate water bill in Pittsburgh, and appropriate percentages of the water bills in the three other communities to yield the same average dollar amount per customer.

The Authority's witnesses explained that the reason the charge for flat-rate water users is considerably higher than for metered water users is that flat-rate water customers actually use much more water because their bill is not affected by the quantity of water used. The experience of sanitary engineers is that where water meters are installed in areas which were previously unmetered, the use of water drops by 50% to 66-2/3%, because the water user saves money by repairing water leaks and by being more careful in the use of water. Records of the City of Pittsburgh Water Department showed that the average domestic flat-rate water customer uses 160,000 gallons per year as compared with 60,000 gallons for the average metered water customer. If the Authority's sewer charge per 1,000 gallons of water for metered water users were applied to the actual quantity of water used by flat-rate water users, the bill would be even higher than 80% of the water bill. It thus appears that the Authority's flat-rate sewer charges are certainly not excessive or discriminatory. Moreover, any flat-rate water user may install a meter and thus become a metered sewage customer of the Authority. He would thus reduce not only his sewer bill but also his water bill.

(3) Odorous Operation of the Sewage Treatment Plant

A number of witnesses who live in the vicinity of the Authority's treatment plant testified that an obnoxious odor has been permeating their homes, and a petition of protest bearing 2,673 signatures was presented to the Committee. This is a serious matter, of course. The Authority is earnestly concerned, and is bending every effort to eliminate odor. No one should be subjected to offensive odor if they could have been avoided or prevented. The testimony of the experts was to the effect that every new sewage treatment plant produces odor during its early stages of operation, due to a number of causes.

The chief difficulty seems to be in the incineration of the sludge. Unless the temperatures in the furnaces are high enough to destroy sludge odor, odorous fumes are sent out through the tall chimney. These fumes are carried by the wind to nearby residential areas.

In every new plant, Messrs. Cobb and Gordon informed the Committee, the brand new equipment does not always work as it should. Operating personnel have to learn from experience how to do their jobs properly and work as a team, etc. The troubles are like those you have with the defective parts of a new car, only the problem is thousandfold that of a car due to the magnitude of the installation. Mr. Gordon admitted that his incinerators were not functioning properly, but assured the Committee that the troubles in Pittsburgh are not unusual. He said that in his 24 years' of experience with furnace installations in 43 cities, sludge odor problems were solved within a reasonable time after the plant was in operation. Steps are being taken to correct the Authority's incinerators and plant procedures, the engineers testified, and it was their opinion that operation free of sludge odor would be achieved soon.

We believe the people would have benefited much more if the engineers had been permitted to spend their full time working on the odor problem instead of requiring them to spend hours and days preparing to defend the Authority against unfounded charges before a Senate Committee.

Conclusion

As minority members of the Senate Committee, we wish to acknowledge publicly that the Allegheny County Sanitary Authority has done a remarkable job in completing a gigantic construction project of which the people should be proud.

The Authority has spent $100,000,000 of public funds without a breath of scandal. It has operated efficiently, expertly and economically, utilizing the best obtainable engineers, consultants, fiscal advisors, bond counsel, and other experts. We congratulate the Authority's upaid Board members and hard-working staff headed by Mr. La-boon.

Certainly nothing brought out during these hearings has been adverse to authorities. The Allegheny County Sanitary Authority has built a sewage system to serve 70 municipalities. Such a project could not possibly be accomplished by the municipalities acting by themselves. They had to resort to an authority to perform the over-all job. The use of authorities to build needed public projects that cannot otherwise be financed or accomplished has been vindicated by this Senate investigation.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Joseph D. Ripp, Senator, 44th District

September 30, 1959.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. KESSLER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, now that the Senate has passed the General Appropriation Bill, I desire to make a short statement.

Mr. President, Governor Lawrence says that no matter whether the Legislature cuts his budgets for certain departments or not, he is going to go ahead and spend the money anyway, and some of his assistant spenders in the departments have echoed this blatant defiance of the laws under which our Commonwealth operates.

It would be easy to draw the comparison of a spoiled child, denied by his father the money with which to purchase a bicycle which he contends he sorely needs; who cried in a tantrum that he will buy the bike anyway, and his father will have to pay the bill.

However, that would belittle, or understate, the enormity of Governor Lawrence's statement.

This is no childish tantrum. This is a cold, calculated statement. This is a powerful pitch to force more money out of the people of this State than their lawfully elected representatives want to give the Governor. It is an ominous official pronouncement by the Governor of Pennsylvania.

I hope that this is only an idle threat. I hope that Governor Lawrence does not intend to do what he ill-advisedly says.

Mr. President, there is no excuse for such a statement, and certainly not such an action. The reductions which the Appropriations Committee of this Senate has made in the Governor's Budget were made after the most patient and toilsome study. We have interviewed department heads and deputies. We have threaded our way through the tortuous maze of departmental finances. Our conclusions, I believe, are based upon advice and information equally as sound as that of the Governor.

The men who have participated in forming the mature judgment of this committee, in making its reductions in the budget, are men who have had some experience in governmental affairs. They have had appreciable experience and training in business and finance. They are not novices in dealing with the problems of people, for these men are elected in Districts, and they are in frequent and close contact with the people who live there, who use the highways, who need institutional care, who depend upon the public schools and who pay the taxes that make these State services possible.

As one Senator, Mr. President, I can testify that the people of my District are not clamoring to have the State take more of their money in taxes than is absolutely necessary to spend on required services. To put it another way, the people of Lancaster County want us to spend every cent that is prudently necessary for good roads, and schools, and institutions, and services, but not one cent more. And they are not writing or calling me to say, "Take the Governor's word, or the department head's word, for everything—damn the expense—go ahead."

They think, and I think, that we have gone too long on the theory that if the general objective is good, then expense is no proper consideration. It does not take much of a look at our State and National finances to see where that kind of thinking has led us.

Any Governor has the right to back a budget which he believes to be sound.

But, Mr. President, no Governor has the legal or moral right to defy the Legislature, nor to flout its decisions. If Governor Lawrence can spend the people's money when, where and as he pleases, in defiance of the laws passed by this Body, then he can ignore and turn aside from any other law. If he disapproves of a law which protects a citizen from arrest, would he have him arrested anyway? If he disapproves of a law which protects the people from violence and disorder, would he prevent the police from doing their duty?

Our Constitution, Mr. President, calls for a system of checks and balances. Governor Lawrence's behavior in the matter of the Legislature's action on his budget would suggest that he would ignore the Constitutional check which the Legislature properly has upon the Chief Executive.

Governor Lawrence's bad-tempered blast at Legislators is not the sort of thing one expects from the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

It is not the kind of statement that is worthy of this great Commonwealth.

Let us respect our several offices and duties. Let us promptly discharge with fidelity those obligations and adjourn this Session quickly.

Mr. President, I want to thank you for your patience. I know you have been through a rough day.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am not getting up to defend Governor Lawrence because I think he is very efficient and he will be able to do it himself.

You will notice that I address you as "Mr. President" and not "Mr. Prentis."

I back the Governor up to the nth degree in what he has said, because Senator Kessler and his cohorts on the other side cannot pass bills saying what we will give to the schools, what we will give to public assistance, et cetera, and not provide the money.

There is no question about what the Governor had to say. I will read from an editorial today in the Post-Gazette:

"The Governor has noted that these"—$58,000,000—"are precisely the areas where the bulk of the deficiencies occurred in the last biennium. Of the $141 million deficit inherited from the last biennium, $74 million was caused by deficiencies accruing, in large part, because of under-appropriations in those categories."

"Under the Constitution, the Governor can reduce certain non-mandated appropriations or cut them out altogether. And that is what he proposes to do"—maybe a few of Mr. Kessler's pet schemes—"where appropriations measures exceed a prudent and fair estimate of the revenues we will receive."

But in the areas of mandated payments—for the schools,—these are mandated—"for public assistance and for occupational disease—the Governor has no choice but to see that the money is paid out. Or, as the Governor explains it:

"It would be inaccurate to say that all the recommended reductions would result in deficiencies. If we don't have enough money for the industrial development authority, or for the juvenile delinquency program, or for marketing of agricultural products, we just can't function in these areas as we should. I believe cut-backs in these activities are a mistake . . . But they would result in reductions in services, not in creation of a deficit. The proposed expenditures for public assistance, for public schools and for occupational disease, however, spell out deficit any way you look at it."

The Governor will pay those bills whether you appropriate the money or not, and you will pay it with a deficiency appropriation in 1961.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, apparently Senator Kessler was not listening this morning when I discussed this matter at quite some length. I asked for an answer to it, which he has not given me during today. Perhaps he will answer it at some other time.

The question I put to him earlier today was whether the 1959-1961 budget cuts came out of mandated items and thus created deficiencies of $26,000,000? These are mandated items which we must pay whether they say they will give the money for them or not. The money must come from somewhere.

I would like to point out one other thing in State financing. I am sure all of you are aware of it, but maybe it has slipped away from us. When a deficiency is created, we do not go out and steal that money, or sneak it away from somebody else. We cannot say to some department, "You have got to give back some of this money," or cause them to lapse it. What we are doing then is that we are causing somebody who is entitled to some of that money, which was provided by the State for them to do a job, to stop doing it so we can take it away and use it somewhere else.

If that is clever financing or if that is good business, I fail to see it. That is the very thing to which I addressed myself this morning to clear up this miasma that we were in discussing financing. It is not that difficult to understand. All you are doing is taking money out of one pocket and putting it into another after you have spent the money out of it. When you are doing that, you are causing some area to lose as a result of it.

Therefore, this money is not something that we steal or something that we borrow, because we are only borrowing it from ourselves.

I think you should discuss with us how you cut these mandated items by $26,000,000, and where this money is going to come from to do the job.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BERGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would be inclined to make a statement on this subject relating to the fact that it is certainly only a difference of judgment and opinion as to whether or not there is a reduction in the mandated expenditures of the Commonwealth in this budget.

I think it was pointed out that the reduction in the school subsidy payments was made because of the fact that there was a reduction in the number of school units.

However, Mr. President, in the interest of time, since we want to get these bills over to the House. I think we should resume consideration of the appropriation bills.

HOUSE BILL No. 1746 CALLED UP

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I now call up, out of order, from page 2 of today's Third Reading Calendar, House Bill No. 1746, Printer's No. 1705.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1746, entitled.

An Act making an appropriation to the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I would like to offer an amendment to this bill.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendment. The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 1, page 1, lines 2 and 3 by striking out "EIGHT MILLION FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS ($8,500,000)" and inserting: "ten million dollars ($10,000,000)."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I rise to oppose the amendments, as offered by Senator McMenamin.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President—

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I believe you offered me the floor when I arose to object to the amendments. I also desire to speak, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Suppose you proceed now, Senator Scott, unless you wish Senator McMenamin to speak first.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I feel that I can stand here this afternoon and state without any fear of contradiction, whatsoever, that it has been proven in the past that I have given more than lip service and that I have more than a passing interest in the Industrial Development Program of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I am certain that the record will bear that out.

Mr. President, I have more than a passing interest in our Industrial Redevelopment Program because I come from the anthracite coal mining area, where we feel that this program will do a great deal of good. I know that the record will show that long before the legislation was introduced, which set up the present Pennsylvania Industrial Authority, I, as a Member of this Body, along with other Members, in particular, the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane, gave a great deal of thought to what could be done to stimulate industrial activity in our Commonwealth. The record will show that Senator Lane and I introduced a number of pieces of legislation. Although they may have been crude in nature, they formed the basis for the setting up of our present Pennsylvania Industrial Redevelopment Authority.

After those pieces of legislation had been introduced and had been given a great deal of consideration and a great deal of thought, the then Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania turned over the job to the Secretary of Commerce to develop a piece of legislation which would be adequate. That piece of legislation was introduced. I am happy to say that I was one of the sponsors of that piece of legislation. It is now the legislation which has put into existence our Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority.

Mr. President, I want to say that it comes very easy for me to stand here this afternoon and compliment Secretary William Davlin and the members of the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority for the very fine job which they have done and are doing towards bringing new industry into our Commonwealth. I want to say that it comes just as easy for me to stand here this afternoon and object to the amendments which were offered by the gentleman from Lackawanna. I am confident in my mind that the eight and one-half million dollars which is appropriated to this Authority, under the present bill which we are considering, will give to that organization sufficient funds with which to operate during the present biennium.

Just what amount of money is necessary to operate this Authority during this present biennium? How much money do they adequately need to do the job? Unfortunately, because of the short existence of the Industrial Development Authority, it is very difficult to project what they might need in the way of expenditures in the future because of their past performance. I am firmly convinced in my mind that about all you can make, in projecting the amount of money which is needed, is an educated guess. You know, we do have certain criteria and certain background experience of the short period of time that this Authority has been in operation. I think, therefore, that we can gain some information from that.

In that connection, Mr. President, and not to slight Senator McMenamin, but because Senator Lane and I have worked so long and hard with this type of a program, I wonder if I might at this time interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LANE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SCOTT. Senator Lane, during the 1955-1957 biennium, which was the biennium in which this Authority was formed, what appropriation was made by the General Assembly to the Authority for the biennium?

Mr. LANE. Frankly, Senator Scott, I forget. I think it was $5,000,000.

Mr. SCOTT. That is correct. It was $5,000,000.

Then you are willing to admit that the present appropriation of eight and one-half million dollars, in the bill which we are considering right now, is three and one-half million dollars more than was given during the 1955-1957 biennium.

Mr. LANE. That is correct.

Mr. SCOTT. Senator Lane, during the 1957-1959 biennium, do you recall what appropriation was made by the General Assembly to the Industrial Development Authority?

Mr. LANE. I believe it was $5,200,000.

Mr. SCOTT. That is correct. It was $5,200,000.

Of course, following the same line of reasoning, you are willing to admit, I assume, that the appropriation being given by this measure is $3,300,000 more than was given during the past biennium. Is that correct?

Mr. LANE. Yes, however, may I say further that I believe that $5,200,000 was not quite sufficient to operate with because there seemed to be an overlapping.

Mr. SCOTT. That is a misstatement, Senator Lane. Actually, what happened was we did not appropriate enough money during the 1957-1959 biennium. We had to appropriate a deficiency appropriation, which made the entire appropriation $5,200,000. Will you accept that?

Mr. LANE. Yes.

Mr. SCOTT. Senator Lane, are you familiar with the fact that during this present biennium, the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority will receive, in the way of interest and in the way of income as repayment on the loans which they have already made, the amount of one and one-half million dollars? If you would take that one and one-half million dollars and add it to the $8,500,000, which we are appropriating in this bill, you would give the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority $10,000,000 to expend the present biennium. Is that correct?

Mr. LANE. That is correct.

Mr. SCOTT. Thank you very much.

Mr. LANE. May I elaborate though? May I make a statement now?

Mr. SCOTT. I have not concluded my remarks. However, you may make a statement if you so desire, if it is on the things which I questioned you on.

Mr. LANE. My remarks will not be exactly on the questions. I will wait until you finish your remarks.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I know a great deal of stress is going to be laid on average monthly commitments which have been made by the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority since the time when it came into existence. I, too, would like to elaborate on those monthly commitments.

First of all, let me point out that if we take the entire amount of money which will be appropriated by this bill, and add to it the income of one and one-half million dollars which will come into the Authority during this biennium, you will have $10,000,000. If we were to subtract from that amount of money all of the commitments which have been made by the Authority for industry to come into Pennsylvania and all of the pledges which have been made by the Authority, awaiting the arrival of funds, we would still have left at this time, after we have cleaned the slate, a fund of $8,353,000. In other words, we would have that amount of money to take us through the next twenty months, or to the end of this biennium. If you will divide that amount of money by the twenty months, you will discover that you have a figure of $417,650 a month to spend.

What has been the experience of monthly commitments? Let us take the last month, the period of time from August 21, 1959, until today. In that period of time, there has been one lone commitment made. That commitment was for the amount of $69,750. During the past month, the average has been $69,750. I ask you to compare that with the $417,650, which is provided for in this particular bill as monthly commitments. On monthly commitments, let us take the last two months, the period from July 31, 1959, until today, which is a little more than two months. In that period of time, I discovered that the average commitments made amount to $236,916. I ask you to compare that with the permitted commitments under the present bill of $417,650.

At this point, Mr. President, I might inject this situation. There has been a great deal said on the floor of the Senate today and last night about the effect of the steel strike and that we were not appropriating enough money to this particular agency and this particular bureau because of the effect of the steel strike. I do not know the answer, Mr. President, but I am just wondering whether the steel strike, itself, is not having an affect on the industrial development in Pennsylvania today. Perhaps that is the reason why the monthly average for the last two months is such a low figure. The average monthly commitments for the last twelve months is $389,000. The average commitments since the program got into operation, thirty-nine months ago, is $332,000.

However, what I am attempting to point out, Mr. President, is simply that the average monthly commitments, which the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority can make in the next twenty months, to the end of the biennium, exceed by a great amount the average monthly commitment of the past month. They exceed by a great amount the average monthly commitment of the past two months. They exceed the average monthly commitments of the past twelve months and they exceed the average monthly commitments of the past thirty-nine months, since the program has been in effect.

I am firmly of the opinion, Mr. President, that the $10,000,000 which the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority will have to spend during the next twenty months, to the end of the biennium, most certainly will be adequate.

Mr. President, I now desire to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LANE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SCOTT. Senator Lane, I presume you know that at the time when the Secretary of Commerce, Mr. Davlin, made his original request to the Governor, he asked for something substantial over the $10,000,000.

Mr. LANE. That is correct.

Mr. SCOTT. Senator Lane, let us suppose that I am wrong. Let us suppose that we would today adopt the $10,000,000 and in February of 1961, when this Legislature is back in Session, the Secretary of Commerce would come to the Legislature and say, "The $10,000,000 which you appropriated, and which the Governor asked for, is not enough money. I have run out of funds. I have an industry that is willing to come into Pennsylvania. They need the funds within the next month. Will you pass for me a deficiency appropriation sufficient to take care of that?" Would there be any hesitancy on your part, Senator Lane, whatsoever, about passing or voting for such a measure?

Mr. LANE. I would be glad to vote for it. However, what would happen if there would be a large industry come into Pennsylvania and be out of funds and we would not be in Session?

Mr. SCOTT. Are you asking that question in the way of interrogation?

Mr. LANE. I was just answering your question by asking one.

Mr. SCOTT. There would, however, be no hesitancy on your part about voting for a deficiency appropriation. Is that correct? As a matter of fact, you did that this spring when the Industrial Development Authority ran out of funds and a deficiency appropriation was adopted so that an industry might be brought into Pennsylvania.

If we were to adopt today, Senator Lane, the bill in its present form, which calls for eight and one-half million dollars and that amount of money ran out in February of 1961, and the same situation occurred, would there be any objection on your part to voting for a deficiency appropriation?

Mr. LANE. Absolutely not.

Mr. SCOTT. Even though you might be able to stand at the microphone and say, "I told you so," would you still vote for the deficiency appropriation?

Mr. LANE. I certainly would. I also would probably say, "I told you so."

Mr. SCOTT. I doubt very much whether there is a man in this Senate Chamber who would not feel exactly the same as you do, Senator Lane, and most certainly would vote for a deficiency appropriation under those circumstances.

I am confident in my mind, Mr. President, that the $10,000,000 which the Authority will have to spend during this present biennium most certainly will be sufficient to take it to the end of the biennium. However, if that situation does not occur and if the Authority should run out of funds while the Legislature is in Session, during the early period of 1961, most certainly we can at that time pass a deficiency appropriation.

As a matter of fact, Mr. President, I am going to take a very peculiar approach to this situation. I hope that in 1961 the Secretary of Commerce, Mr. Davlin, will come before this Legislature and say that we do need a deficiency appropriation. I hope he will say that we were wrong in our figure of eight and one-half million dollars and that even the Governor was wrong in his figure of $10,000,000, and that we have some industry coming in. This would most certainly be concrete proof. It would be proof that we are getting new industry into Pennsylvania. However, Mr. President, this is hope; this is sentiment. When you are appropriating taxpayers' money, you cannot appropriate that money on hope, on wishful thinking or on sentiment. You must appropriate that money on hard, cold facts. I am convinced in my mind that the facts in this case most certainly show that the eight and one-half million dollars will be sufficient for this appropriation.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, everything Senator Scott has said is correct. I have worked with the gentleman on a number of projects, including Social Security, one of the tough ones, and industrial development. I have a wholesome respect for his ability as a Member of this Senate. However, I believe there are a few things which Senator Scott has forgotten.

Senator Scott talked about voting for a deficiency appropriation at the beginning of the next biennium. I would be glad to vote for a deficiency appropriation. I would be more than happy to. However, suppose we could not find any lapse. Suppose we could not find the money to provide for the deficiency appropriation.

There is another angle which I think we should review. Most of us agree that the revolving fund is a good project. Most of us agree that it has helped business in Pennsylvania. This Industrial Development Program is in its infancy. So far, we have been quite successful. I think we must use cold logic in our approach to appropriations. I say to the gentleman that there would be nothing wrong in increasing this appropriation to the amount requested by the Governor. In doing so, we would not be absolutely sure, but we would be on safer ground so that in the event there is expansion and requests for additional loans in Pennsylvania, we would have the funds to do the job. I believe that is the main thing.

I know that Senator Scott is very sincere in his approach to this problem. I know that he has a concern regarding the coal mining counties, such as I have. We want to make sure that we bring industry into Pennsylvania in order to put our people to work.

Incidentally, Mr. President, the money we put up for this revolving fund is money that we lend. We are not spending the money. We are lending the money to people to go out and build these buildings. In doing so, we receive interest on our investment. We are a lending institution, Mr. President, within the confines of State Government. This money is not going down the drain because we always have security. We know the money is going to be paid back.

Therefore, Mr. President, in view of those circumstances, I feel that we should be as sure as we possibly can that we will have the money to do the job. Suppose some large industry came in here and demanded an appropriation or requested a sum of $5,000,000 or $6,000,000, and we were in the position where we did not have the money. I think all of us would be kicking ourselves all over the lot because we had lost a large industrial plant in Pennsylvania, which all of us know is needed.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I can subscribe to everything that Senator Scott has said before me, except to the conclusion that he reached. I am at a loss to understand, having such a thorough command of the facts involved, how he comes to the conclusion that he reached, that eight and one-half million dollars is sufficient for this fund.

I know that he, like Senator Lane and myself, was a sponsor of this original legislation in 1955. I cannot think of anybody who worked harder on it than Senator Scott, as he said, and Senator Lane. I also recall that my good friend and distinguished colleague from Blair County,

Senator Mallery, was very much concerned with this then new idea for Pennsylvania of an Authority being set up to lend money to attract new industries into depressed areas. A good many of us have worked on it, have kept a very attentive eye on it since and have striven constantly to improve its operation.

This being football season, I cannot help but analogize that perhaps Senator Scott reminds me a little bit of a football team that does very well in the middle of the field, but does not get the ball over the goal line. I think we Democrats want to get the ball over the goal line. The goal line in this case is to provide jobs for Pennsylvanians in Pennsylvania. We want to score that touchdown. We do not want our people leaving Pennsylvania for jobs in Delaware, New Jersey, Connecticut and other States.

Just analyzing the conclusion that Senator Scott reached, that eight and one-half million dollars is sufficient money and not the $10,000,000, as requested by the Governor and Secretary Davlin, it seems to me that he made three points. One of them was that the amount can be reduced to $8,500,000 because there is $1,500,000 coming in, or will come in, in the form of interest payments on previous loans. It seems to me that this just penalizes the fund, on this philosophy, for its financial soundness. Those of us who originally sponsored this idea always felt, from the beginning, that this Authority plan was financially sound. The fact that so much money is going to come in in two years, I think proves this point. However, the Republican Party is saying that we will deduct from any future appropriation the amount coming in from loans in the past, in the form of interest. Project that into the future in the next Session, and more money will come in because more money has been loaned and higher interest will be paid and the appropriation will be reduced further. If this type of thinking prevails, you are going to reach the point where the fund will be static and it will have to live solely on its interest payments.

This does not provide for increased expansion. This, it seems to me, is a standstill sort of program.

The second point which he made was that this is a relatively new proposition and no one can project with any degree of accuracy how much money might be needed in the future. With this, we can agree. However, let us again review the figures he gave.

The figures in both of the past bienniums proved to be inadequate. The funds were exhausted before the bienniums ended. I recall the debate on this very matter two years ago and, it seems to me, at that time I got out at midnight. We were then up against a cut from $5,000,000 down to $3,500,000 by the Republican Senate Caucus. We eventually did get that fund restored to $5.2 million before the Session ended. However, the argument given at that time was that three and one-half million dollars was all that had been spent in the biennium before that, the 1955-1957 biennium. We tried to point out then that the reason for that was because that was the Session of seventeen months duration, which so many of us can remember. We pointed out that this program did not become initiated until well after the program got started. To say that only three and one-half million dollars was spent in an entire two years was an inaccurate picture because the figures then showed that, at the rate the Authority was appropriating money in the closing months of 1957, they would need $5.2 million for the present biennium. That is the argument we made then. It has been proven that it was accurate because we had to come in and request more money this spring, after the funds were exhausted. We are now saying, again, that for the next biennium, we are going to need $10,000,000.

After all, who knows? Certainly it is an informed guess, as so much in life is. However, who is better able to say than Secretary Davlin and his associates and aides in the Department of Commerce who have worked with, breathed life into it, and made a great thing of this Industrial Authority idea which is now the envy of every other State, and many of them have copied it.

If you go to a doctor and pay him money for a visit and he gives you pills to take, you might as well take the pills. There is no sense in paying a doctor bill if you do not follow his advice. In this case, the doctor is Secretary Davlin. It is his considered judgement that $10,000,000 is what is going to be needed. He backs that up with the figures quoted by Senator Scott and you will have to analyze them. They show that in the past nine months of the biennium, we were making commitments for loans greatly in excess of $417,000 a month, which is all you are going to have with the present appropriation. There is a reason for that again, as there was two years ago; the reason being that the program was late starting in the long Session.

The reason why there is an acceleration in the last nine months of the past biennium is very simple. The year of 1958 was a year of recession, generally, in America and, particularly, in Pennsylvania. Industry was just not committing large sums of money to capital expansion in that year. However, after the recession ended, in the following nine months, the rate of commitment by the department for funds for this purpose was approximately $475,000 a month, to the point where, before the biennium ended, they had used up all their funds.

As Senator Lane so well put it, Mr. President, certainly we will all vote for a deficiency appropriation in February of 1961. However, suppose Pennsylvania loses a big factory in August of 1960 because we are not in Session.

That gets me to the third point which I think Senator Scott made. He said the way to handle any such problem was to come in with a deficiency appropriation bill. It seems to me that this type of thinking runs counter to the thoughts expressed about an hour ago by the distinguished gentleman from Lancaster, Senator Kessler. He said that a Governor who says he is going to go ahead and spend money that he does not have is a spoiled child.

Certainly, Secretary Davlin had to slow down since the new biennium started in June, because I think he wanted to live within the law. He could not make commitments. Last month, he only committed $69,000 to a new fund, a promise to some industry that when we get this appropriation bill through the Legislature, we will give it that much money. If people all over America know that Pennsylvania's loan fund is broke, they are not going to be as interested in coming in here. Certainly, Secretary Davlin cannot go out and offer any kind of assurance, if he does not know how much money he is going to have. Therefore, of course, in July and August of this year, the rate of commitments to make loans slowed down until once the bill gets through the Legislature.

Therefore, Mr. President, there is a reason for these things. Because of the experience we have had, since this is the third biennium that we have had this problem, we are in a better position to judge now how much will be needed than we were two or four years ago. Those who are best qualified to know, the department itself, feels that $10,000,000 is the minimum necessary amount to carry on this program during the next two years.

Mr. President, I would urge the Members to support this amendment to restore this appropriation to the point that it was when it came over here from the Democratic House. I am sure that the Senators on both sides of the aisle are interested and, particularly, those from the so-called depressed areas, as Senator Scott, Senator Flack and Senator Wagner must be.

I have several telegrams from all kinds of groups, particularly from business groups which are not members of my Party. I will not belabor you with reading them all. However, with the permission of the Chair, I would like to insert them as a part of the record. Two of them were sent by Mr. Roy Stauffer, President of the Lackawanna Industrial Fund Enterprises, and an automobile dealer in Lackawanna and Luzerne Counties. There is another one from William J. Raeder, President of the Scranton-Lackawanna Industrial Building Company.

I think it is safe to say that this Industrial Authority idea came out of the Scranton Story. I do not think anybody has any greater pride of authorship or in belonging to this Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority than the people of Lackawanna County and the city of Scranton, particularly the Chamber of Commerce and the many civic organizations that did so much to attract new industries into Scranton and who inspired, if you please, this thought of setting up a State-wide Industrial Development Authority to help communities to help themselves.

Our people are not asking for a handout. I have never heard of any loan going bad in this program yet. They are only asking for some help in order to help themselves when a project gets too big for a local community to take on.

In the past few years, all of us have seen in National papers the New York newspapers, the Wall Street Journal, large advertisements inviting industry to come to Pennsylvania and see about the 100 per cent financing plan. They have urged businesses to locate in Pennsylvania. This has done us a great deal of good. However, what are we doing now when they come and find out that we cannot give them 100 per cent financing? In fact, we cannot give them a penny because the money is all gone. The Legislature did not give us enough money. Instead of being the envy of every State, this will give Pennsylvania a black eye. I am not sure but that we might not be guilty of some false advertising in that respect.

I would urge you, as the Democratic Members want you to vote, to vote for a forward, go-ahead program. We are not a standstill Party. We want to go ahead and create jobs for Pennsylvanians in Pennsylvania. We urge, therefore, that you vote for this amendment.

The PRESIDENT. The telegrams, as requested by the gentleman from Lackawanna, Senator McMenamin, will be spread upon the record.

"1959 Sept. 17, P.M. 3:03

"Senator Hugh J. McMenamin.

"Senate Ofc. Bldg., Harrisburg, Penna.

"Information carried in today's Harrisburg Patriot that a Republican Caucus is considering a proposal to cut the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority appropriation from ten million to six million dollars during the present biennium is most disturbing to citizens of Lackawanna County who have been combating a serious unemployment problem for more than a decade.

"We know you are fully aware of the tremendous value of PIDA assistance in our own Industrial Development Program, and those of other sections of the Commonwealth. Reduction in PIDA funds at this time would, therefore, come as a great blow to our continued rapid progress. Your aid is urgently requested in calling on your fellow Legislators to join you in a concerted effort to assure PIDA of its full appropriation and thus stand solidly behind the thousands of unemployed who depend upon our joint efforts to provide them with the jobs they need and want.

"Wm. J. Raeder, President, Scranton-Lackawanna Industrial Bldg. Co."

"1959 Sept 17, P.M. 2:06

"Senator Hugh J. McMenamin

"Senate Ofc. Bldg., Harrisburg, Penna.

"Report that today's Harrisburg Patriot is carrying a story that Republican Caucus is considering a proposal to cut Governor Lawrence's request for PIDA funds from ten million to six million dollars during the present biennium is causing grave concern in this area.

"PIDA assistance to community Industrial Development operations is essential to continuance of a program which has already brought thousands of new jobs to Lackawanna County alone. We feel it is imperative that you act at once to call the attention of your fellow Legislators to the serious impact an appropriations cut would have on the process of industrial development in Pennsylvania and urge that they work with you to insure that PIDA will receive its full request.

"Roy Stauffer, President, Lackawanna Industrial Fund Enterprises."

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I appreciate my good friend and colleague, Senator McMenamin, referring to my interest in industrial development. I introduced a bill, before the present law became effective, for the same purpose. I think the present law is an excellent one.

In my Senatorial District of Blair County and Huntingdon County, we are tremendously interested in bringing new industry into our district. The fact is that in Blair County, a campaign to raise $2,000,000 is underway. A goodly part of that sum has already been raised.

I just want to remind Senator Lane, who, like myself, become forgetful at times, that he introduced two or three bills which I voted for and which, I believe, he believes will aid in this program of obtaining money for bringing industries into the Commonwealth. I believe he is hopeful that these bills will be effective, as I do also. I just wondered whether Senator Lane had forgotten about those two or three bills which he introduced and which we passed.

Mr. MURRAY, Mr. President, I rise as a representative of Luzerne County, which has probably received more State-aid than any other county in Pennsylvania. I plead for the addition of these additional funds for this reason. On Friday of this week, October 2, we are dedicating a new plant in Luzerne County; namely, the

R. C. A. Corporation. The Commonwealth is supplying $600,000. I believe the requests for loans are getting larger. The local effort is $2,000,000, which will supply 3,000 jobs in Luzerne County.

Mr. President, I consider this the most important piece of legislation affecting the people of not only Luzerne County, but, in fact, the people of the Commonwealth.

The PIDA is the most important contribution that the Legislature has made to the welfare of the people of Pennsylvania during the past decade. It is, indeed, a monument to this Senate and I would not want to think that this monument to good legislation had feet of clay. This is bread and butter legislation. We have given bread to those who needed it. I will go further by saying that PIDA has been the very life blood of some of our people.

Nearly every plant which has been brought into this Commonwealth during the past few years has been brought here through the effective cooperation of our communities and State Government. The PIDA is the greatest example of cooperation between the individual, the community and State Government. It is so great, in fact, that it has been called the best example of its kind in this Nation.

Are we to cast this recognition aside? Are we to become hypocrites who stand smiling with company officials at the opening of new plants, and have our pictures in the daily press as representatives of this Senate, which helped make those local dreams come true? Then, are we to do a complete turnabout after the publicity has been good for us, and deny our communities employment after we have been elected for our previous efforts? Are we to take back the bread we gave to people who needed it?

I, for one, do not want to go home and tell my people that there was one Member of this Body who did not believe that the great legislation of 1955 was not again great and helpful legislation in 1959.

In Luzerne County, we have truly benefited by PIDA. The largest pencil plant in the world, Eberhard-Faber, is one of the PIDA efforts on behalf of Luzerne County. This Friday, as I said before, ground-breaking for R.C.A.'s new plant will take place, again the result of the efforts of our people, our community and PIDA.

Then, you would say, "Why do you need more if you have been so greatly benefited already?" Why? Because there are 24,000 unemployed in Luzerne County. There are 17,000 on relief. Despite the fact that PIDA has brought inestimable relief to our county, these people are shamed by their lack of employment and by their need for public assistance. It is easy to say, "We have a few plants, so let us be satisfied." However, Mr. President, while there is a single individual who needs and wants work in Luzerne County, I will be for such a measure as the PIDA and the funds it requests.

I do not mind telling you of the greatness of Luzerne County, but I am not a hypocrite who eliminates the shame which we feel by one circumstance of our payroll structure. The largest industry in the county is still coal; the second largest industry is textiles. However, gentlemen, I am not pleased to say that the third largest payroll in Luzerne County is unemployment compensation and public assistance. Provide our people with the plants and the work, and our shame will be lessened as our people become productive and not in need of such assistance.

Mr. President, because we believe heartily in such self-assistance, and have done so, we feel that we are worthy to ask for needed State-aid and, when humane legislation is passed in Washington, similar Federal-aid.

Mr. President, I ask the Members of the Senate not to destroy what they have so well built and which is a credit to this Legislature, but to continue that work in adding to the funds which PIDA should and must receive for the betterment of all citizens of this Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I ask the Members on both sides of the aisle to support this amendment.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I want to point out to the Members of the Senate that Senate Bill No. 1093, which was passed by this Senate on September 10, was sponsored by Senator Lane, Senator Murray, Senator Kalman, Senator Camiel, Senator McMenamin, Senator Scott, Senator Watkins, Senator Pechan and Senator Whalley. This bill provides for the incorporation of Regional Business Development Credit Corporations. I believe it sets up eight distinct regions in which this corporation may operate. It is supplemented by Senate Bill No. 1094, which permits insurance companies to invest in shares of business development credit corporations. It is also supplemented by Senate Bill No. 1095, which permits banks to invest in shares of business development credit corporations. It is also supplemented by Senate Bill No. 1096, which permits building and loan companies to invest in shares of business development credit corporations.

It has not been a week since a delegation came down here from Luzerne County. They asked whether it would not be possible for private initiative in this field. I said, "Gentlemen, we have a bill which has passed the Senate and which will supplement the work of the Industrial Development Fund." This bill is in the Rules Committee of the House. I think it is an excellent companion to the PIDA Fund. We certainly can do something under this bill, during the next few years, which will supplement the work that Secretary Davlin is going.

I simply wanted to call this to the attention of the Senate and I hope, in some way, that the Members on the other side will get the Rules Committee in the House to pass this bill. I think there is real merit in it. I think Senator Lane is the gentleman who started this. I think it should be pushed through to completion.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I agree with Senator Stevenson. As a matter of fact, I checked on the bill today in order to see whether we could get it out of the Rules Committee and get it passed.

Mr. President, I have often felt that we, more or less, have had a one-legged approach to industrial development in Pennsylvania. I am a firm believer in the revolving fund and think it is doing a decent job. I hope to enlist the aid of private enterprise in industrial development corporations. Therefore, I am very happy that Senator Stevenson endorses the bill and I hope the House passes it. Nevertheless, I do not believe this legislation can take the place of the revolving fund. In my opinion, Mr. President, the revolving fund should have sufficient funds. If we do have a lapse, it is better to have a lapse in this fund than to have a deficiency and lose some large industry.

Before I sit down, Mr. President, I might say that quite a long time ago, when Senator Scott, Senator McMenamin and I were talking about this legislation, I had written to New Zealand. As a matter of fact, that is where we got the idea. Quite a number of the Members of the Senate, including Senator Kessler, at that time, told us that we were crazy. As a matter of fact, I thought we were too but we were fortunate enough to get the bill passed. Senator Mallery was also one of the co-sponsors of the revolving fund legislation. He got on it too. We are very happy that we have gotten as far as we have and we are happy that it is successful. Let us implement it. Let us give it the money to do the job. We have nothing to lose and everything to gain.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, Senator Scott made the very able and persuasive type of argument that we have come to expect from Senator Scott, no matter what sort of question he discusses. The mere fact that he had a bad case, as a good attorney, did not bother him.

However, Mr. President, I was most interested in the conclusion of his remarks, in which he made what I consider to be a very persuasive plea for deficit financing as the regular fiscal method of the Commonwealth. As I understood him, he said that it does not matter if we underestimate or if we run short because we can always cure it by a deficiency appropriation.

Mr. President, I view this part of Senator Scott's speech with alarm and hope it is not the announced policy of the Republican Party that deficit financing, from now on, shall be the approved fiscal procedure of the Commonwealth.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, in answer to Senator Seyler, may I merely state that there are some people who might say that we need $10,000,000 for this program for this biennium. There are some who might say that we need $15,000,000. There are some who might say that we need $20,000,000, and so on. It is very difficult to determine exactly what is going to be needed.

I say that regardless of how much we appropriate for this program for this biennium, in this particular instance, I hope that we do come in and have to pass a deficiency appropriation because it means progress. In this particular situation, it means progress for Pennsylvania, whether we appropriate $10,000,000 or $8,500,000.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and Mr. HAYS, and were as follows, viz:

A constitutional majority of all the Senators having voted "aye", the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 309 CALLED UP

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I call up, from page 1 of today's Calendar, the Conference Committee Report on Senate Bill No. 309, Printer's No. 1496.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 309

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the report of Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 309, entitled:

An Act relating to officers and employes of the General Assembly fixing the number qualifications compensation mileage and duties of the officers and employes of the Senate and of the House of Representatives providing for their election or appointment term of office or of service removal and manner of filling vacancies fixing the salary of the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau providing for compilation of lists of employes.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

SENATE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 309

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 309.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Proper,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE BILL No. 1748 CALLED UP

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I call up, out of order, from page 3 of today's Third Reading Calendar, House Bill No. 1748, Printer's No. 1706.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1748, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Commerce for housing and redevelopment assistance.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, at this time I desire to offer amendments, and move their adoption.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendments.
The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, lines 1 and 2, by striking out "THREE MILLION DOLLARS ($3,000,000)" and inserting: "ten million dollars ($10,000,000)"; Amend Sec. 1, page 2, lines 3 to 6, by striking out "NOT MORE THAN TEN PER CENT" in line 3, all of lines 4 to 6.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I am not going to talk too long on urban redevelopment. However, I believe that the Members of the Senate should fully realize just what this means to Pennsylvania and, incidentally, Dauphin County. If my memory serves me correctly, several Sessions ago, legislation was passed—I believe it was House Bill No. 806— which provided that in urban redevelopment, on a per capita basis, the Commonwealth would contribute ten cents per head, in order to implement redevelopment here in Pennsylvania.

As most of you probably know, too, in order to bring about a redevelopment project, first, you must have a Redevelopment Authority. A Redevelopment Authority is set up under the Secretary of the Commonwealth, I believe, with the approval of the Department of Commerce.

This Authority must have permission from the political subdivisions to act on their behalf. Generally speaking, it is county government or a large city. Once it is in power to act, it receives this per capita money in order to implement the operations of redevelopment.

Mr. President, before any funds are spent from the Federal and State appropriations, every political subdivision must file what is called a master plan. A master plan is a plan in which licensed engineers set up a plan showing a certain section of a city or borough that needs demolition and redevelopment, and they go ahead along that line. This master plan must be approved by the Federal Government.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania puts up one dollar the political subdivision puts up one dollar and the Federal Government matches that with two dollars. I know, for a fact, that right now we have in Pennsylvania quite a number of master plans, already approved and awaiting funds from the Commonwealth.

As a matter of fact, not long ago, I received a call from the people in the borough of Brownsville. Brownsville is not in my Senatorial District, but, incidentally, is my old home town. They told me they have already set up $100,000, under urban redevelopment. They have the money to do the job. They are waiting for the Commonwealth to give them the money and, of course, they have a commitment on the Federal money.

The point I want to make is this. If you people persist in cutting this to $3,000,000 you are going to curtail or postpone urban redevelopment in many political subdivisions in Pennsylvania. This is something which is absolutely essential.

I read in the newspaper not too long ago where, I believe, you have a project here in Dauphin County. I know they have several in Pittsburgh. They have two in Washington County that I know of. They have one in Fayette County, and they probably have many throughout the Commonwealth. This money has come in. You cannot have a master plan for nothing. As a matter of fact, it takes engineers to do the job and, as most of you know, they are professional people. They have a fee and these fees must be paid to take care of this matter. Therefore, it seems to me that we are losing a lot of money by cutting this program and this budget to $3,000,000. I have requested that it be restored. If the Commonwealth puts up $10,000,000, the local political subdivisions put up $10,000,000 and the Federal Government puts up $20,000,000, we will have $40,000,000 in redevelopment completed, or started anyway, in Pennsylvania within the next biennium.

That is my argument. I am finished, Mr. President. I now yield to Senator Rooney.

Mr. ROONEY. Mr. President, I have been here for the past nine hours, listening to some very influential Senators speak on the various amendments and the various bills that have confronted us today. I have listened to slashes in every department in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. All of these slashes have been done by the GOP, the Party of the "Grand Old Pruners."

They have taken $58,000,000 from the mouths and lives of every person in every nook and corner of this Commonwealth. However, the urban redevelopment slum clearance bill could not be more important than any bill that we have discussed in the 143rd General Assembly.

Mr. President, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania stands to lose, by this bill, $135,000,000 worth of Federal matching funds. The President pro tempore of this great Senate, in his own District, stands to lose $400,000 on urban redevelopment. There are several other Republican Senators whose Districts stand to lose over $5,000,000 on Federal matching funds. Seven million dollars seems like an awful price to pay for $135,000,000 worth of Federal matching funds.

Right now, Mr. President, there are twenty-two communities in this great Commonwealth which can participate in $47,000,000, of earmarked Federal funds. These funds can be paid within the next two years. In my own District, the city of Bethlehem stands to lose $1,000,000. The great city of Philadelphia will lose $13,500,000 in Federal funds. The city of Pittsburgh, that great industrial city which has done so much during recent years in redevelopment, stands to lose $6,000,000 in Federal matching funds.

Mr. President, if the Republican Party has given serious consideration to any bill during this Session, I sincerely hope they will reconsider their objection to the urban redevelopment bill.

Mr. President, I urge my fellow Senators, on this side of the aisle, to support this bill. I hope the Senators on the other side of the aisle, whose Districts are subject to almost a $6,000,000 Federal appropriation, will also reconsider it.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, I believe that Pennsylvania is one of the very, very few States in the United States which is making contributions to communities for suburban or urban renewal. Most of the funds are raised in the local communities. It is very difficult for me, as a representative, which I think we all are, of the citizens of Pennsylvania, to levy a tax on many of the rural people in order to rebuild the cities, when many of the cities can contribute those funds themselves.

Mr. ROONEY. Mr. President, if Senator Kessler considers himself a rural Senator, I would like to tell the rural Senators in this Commonwealth that they stand to receive $24,000,000 in earmarked funds. The city of Pittsburgh does not receive the dollar-for-dollar matching which the rural communities do in Pennsylvania. Right now, I am talking about the city of Pittsburgh. It only receives sixty-three cents, per dollar on what it puts up. The city of Philadelphia only receives twenty-five cents for every dollar that they put up. However, in Senator Kessler's District, for every dollar that his District puts up, the Federal Government matches it by four dollars and the State Government matches it by one dollar.

If there is a realistic bill, this is it. This is a fine bill. If we can build school systems throughout Pennsylvania and if we can give tax equalization grants to local communities, I cannot see why we cannot, in this day and age, practically rebuild Pennsylvania and rebuild the rural communities just as much as we are going to rebuild the cities.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, just for the record, I have opposed urban renewal in our local community. We are a well-to-do community. There is no reason why we should tax the farmers in Armstrong County, Bradford County or York County for renewal in Lancaster City.

Mr. ROONEY. Mr. President, I remember, not too many days ago, when Senator Kessler stood before that same microphone and talked about tax equalization for school districts. He recognized what some of the big cities have done for Pennsylvania. He also recognized some of the distraught conditions in the rural communities.

I say the same thing, Mr. President. Just because Senator Kessler has a rich community, I think he has a selfish interest. There are forty-nine other Senators in this Chamber, and I think we should be considered for a greater Pennsylvania and not just one District. I am not only interested in the city of Bethlehem and Northampton County, but I am interested in a greater Pennsylvania.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LANE and Mr. BARR, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Barr,	Lane,	Mullin,	Sarraf,
Camel,	Mahady,	Murray,	Seyler,
DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Ripp,	Silvert,
Donolow,	McGinnis,	Rooney,	Stiefel,
Hays,	McMenamin,	Ruth,	Weiner,

Ehrgood,	Koprivier, Jr.,	Shafer,	Watkins,
Elliott,	Kromer,	Stevenson,	Whalley,
Flack,	Madigan,	Taylor,	Wolfe,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I just want to inform the gentleman who has two sides to him, the gentleman from Lancaster, that last week it was very fine that the people in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia paid for educating those in the various counties about which he talked. He prides himself on being such a stand-up Republican and, therefore, I presume that he stands up then for the Republican Governor of New York, who, I understand, is one of their Presidential hopefuls. I also presume that he stands up for the New York Republican House and Senate, which provided $25,000,000 for this same thing this year.

When the roll is called, we would like to have a slow roll call in order for us to show our protest to this vicious piece of legislation.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—28

Berger,	Fleming,	Mallery,	Van Sant,
Blass,	Harney,	Pechan,	Wade,
Chapman,	Keller,	Probert,	Wagner,

A constitutional majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the Members on this side of the Senate are well aware of the fact that these three appropriation bills will go to a Conference Committee. The reason for our voting "no" on House Bill No. 1748 and voting "aye" on House Bill No. 1746, is that we could not very well vote "no" on House Bill No. 1746 because some of the departments, we felt, were treated in a fair manner and other departments were treated very unfairly. We voted for the general appropriation bill, House Bill No. 2326, in order to pass it.

We felt that House Bill No. 1746, which deals with the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority, was of such prominent importance to the Commonwealth, and of such prominent importance to the industries with which we are now negotiating, that in order not to weaken the hand of this Authority and to continue to keep Pennsylvania in a position where it is competitive with other States, as far as industry is concerned, we felt we wanted to vote for that as well, in order to strengthen the hand of these people who are involved in these negotiations.

On House Bill No. 1748, which dealt with housing and redevelopment assistance, we felt that it was bad and poorly handled. In a sense, I do not think the people who live in Pennsylvania and who deal with this problem were even taken into consideration. It seems to me that, again, the large cities are being singled out for discriminatory action. The discrimination went so far that we certainly could not be a party to this.

Realizing full well that this bill will also go to a Conference Committee, I wanted to make the record clear so that our people here will be noted on the record as to why they voted as they did on this measure.

HOUSE BILL No. 1968 CALLED UP

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I call up, out of order, from page 20 of today's Second Reading Calendar, House Bill No. 1968, Printer's No. 1613.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

SENATE BILL No. 835, RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. RIPP. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Bill No. 835, Printer's No. 1368 which was recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 835

Mr. RIPP. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 835, entitled:

An Act providing for the annual registration of organized camps for children, youth and adults, defining the duties of the Department of State of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and prescribing penalties.

passed finally on September 9, 1959.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. RIPP. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RIPP. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. RIPP. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RIPP. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, page 1, line 2 of the title, by striking out "State" and inserting: "Health"; Amend Section 2, page 2, line 9, by striking out "State" and inserting: "Health"; Amend Section 2, page 2, line 16, by striking out "for the use of the Department of State"; Amend Section 3, page 2, line 17, by striking out "State" and inserting: "Health"; Amend Section 3, page 2, line 18, by striking out "State" and inserting: "Health"; Amend Section 4, page 3, line 17, by striking out "State" and inserting: "Health."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE CHAIR

The PRESIDENT. I have been advised by my Administrative Assistant that the radio is advising every person who has to drive to be most careful. Those who do not absolutely have to drive should not drive at all. They are expecting ten inches of rain, with considerable winds. The wind, I understand, has started and the ten inches of rain will be between now and midnight.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, the wind started a long time ago. However, I would like to state that we who are interested in highway safety—

The PRESIDENT. I was speaking of the external wind and not the internal wind.

Mr. EHRGOOD. We, who are interested in highway safety, will always drive safely, as you know.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. T. H. W. JONES. RESOLUTION No. 118.

In the House of Representatives, September 29, 1959.

New and revolutionary discoveries in the field of medicine have provided a great variety of effective drugs for the prevention and treatment of disease. It is imperative that these new drugs be available to the greatest number of persons needing them at the lowest possible price. No secret is made of the fact that in many cases consumers must buy drugs from a pharmacist at a cost of almost twice the price charged other persons such as physicians. This lower price to physicians may have some basis in fact but the discrepancy in the prices charged different persons for the same drug is an indication that the consumer is not receiving the drugs he needs at the lowest possible price; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to investigate the price of drugs charged by the drug companies and the price charged by pharmacists to determine whether or not the consumer is paying the lowest possible price for necessary drugs; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. SHERMAN, STONE, AUKER and FINEMAN.
RESOLUTION No. 119.

In the House of Representatives, September 29, 1959.

Whereas, There are many laws on the books of the Commonwealth relating to escheat, and

Whereas, Many of these laws overlap and conflict in their application, and

Whereas, House Bill 1417 was introduced to consolidate, amend and revise the escheat laws of the Commonwealth, and

Whereas, The sub-committee which was appointed by the Committee on Judiciary spent long hours trying to work out a workable escheat law, and

Whereas, Public hearings were held and briefs filed on the problem, yet because of the complexity of the situation and the lack of time, the sub-committee was unable to solve the problems; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a study of the laws relating to escheat; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission avail themselves of the notes of the hearings which were held as well as the briefs which were filed; and be it further

Resolved, That if they so desire they may request information from any of the members of the sub-committee, and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a report of its findings to the General Assembly as soon as possible, but no later than the next session, together with appropriate legislation to carry its findings into effect.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to request a period of recess.

I would request the Democratic Members of the House to bring their House calendars with them, and that we go to the new House caucus room immediately for a Democratic caucus to mark the third reading and final passage calendars as well as concurrence, nonconcurrence and conference committee reports.

I ask that following the caucus there be a half-hour period for luncheon. It is now 11:00 o'clock and we estimate that we can be back here on the dot at 1:00 o'clock and move with third reading.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, we will also have a Republican caucus immediately upon calling of the recess and ask that the members bring their calendars with them.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. REIDENBACH from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as amended House Bill No. 2386, entitled:

Mr. COMER asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Highways to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. HAMILTON asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Insurance to meet during the session of the House.

SENATE MESSAGE

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, September 29, 1959.

Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring), That when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene Tuesday, October 13, 1959, at two o'clock p.m., E.S.T., unless sooner recalled by the President pro Tempore; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene Tuesday, October 13, 1959, at three-thirty o'clock p.m., E.S.T., unless sooner recalled by the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, September 28, 1959.

Resolved (if the Senate concur) that House Bill No. 1572, Printer's No. 1299, entitled "An act amending the act of July 28, 1953 (P. L. 723) entitled 'An act relating to counties of the second class amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto' further regulating reinstatement and requirements for credit for previous service and the retirement allowances of certain reemployed persons," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1851, entitled:

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code" approved April 29, 1959 (Act No. 32) changing the provisions relating to the limitations on size of certain vehicles.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Dennison, regarding House Bill 1851, Printer's No. 1751?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Dennison, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENNISON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Dennison, inform the House if the amendments inserted in House Bills 1851 and—if we may have the permission, Mr. Speaker,—1852 comply with the Federal law dealing with regulations of states so that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania would not be in jeopardy of losing any Federal money now authorized to this Commonwealth for highway projects and construction?

Mr. DENNISON. These amendments do bring the bill in line with the Federal Act; in fact, that was the purpose of the amendments inserted yesterday.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman inform the House also, then, that the two bills do not in any way violate the 1947 Federal Act as amended, so that the width of vehicles and equipment in any way would jeopardize the agreement dealing with Federal funds. Is that correct?

Mr. DENNISON. On the advice of the Attorney General's Department, the amendments prepared yesterday and inserted yesterday did comply with it, and in no way jeopardize the contribution of Federal aid to public roads.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman very kindly.

With that assurance that House Bills 1851 and 1852, on page 13, now meet the requirements of the Federal regulations, the Bureau of Public Roads, I ask that the Members do support these two bills.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. HELM. Every now and then we have a tense moment in this House. There is a flare-up of tempers and everyone gets a little bit hot around the collar. I think sometimes it is a good idea to bring something light into the operation of the House, and something that we can be a little cheery about.

Today happens to be the birthday of a very, very loyal employe of this House; a man who has served this House with a great deal of loyalty for 30 years. Today is his eightieth birthday and I think we ought to sing Happy Birthday to Frank Lillie, sitting up there.

The Members joined Mr. Dengler in singing Happy Birthday.

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, today also happens to be the birthday of one of our distinguished Members from the great county of Westmoreland. Today is the birthday of Barnet Sakulsky of Westmoreland County. So what do you say, a happy birthday to Barney.

The Members joined Mr. Dengler in singing Happy Birthday.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the youthful Member.

Mr. SAKULSKY. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I want to thank all the Members of the House. I feel something like Jack Benny felt when he was 38. This is my 38th birthday—from today on. Thank you.

Mr. FRANK. I rise to make a statement, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lehigh asks unanimous consent of the House to make a statement. The Chair hears no objection?

Mr. FRANK. Mozeltov, Barney.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 3 Printer's No. 1709, be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 3, entitled:

An Act providing for and regulating horse racing, other than harness racing with pari-mutuel wagering on the results thereof creating the State Horse Racing Commission as a departmental administrative commission within the Department of Agriculture and defining its powers and duties providing for the establishment and operation of horse racing plants subject to local option imposing taxes on revenues of such plants disposing of all moneys received by the commission and all moneys collected from the taxes authorizing penalties and making appropriations.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JIM. Mr. Speaker, I ask permission of the House to make a little bit of a personal statement and talk on the bill that has been taken from the table.

Personally, I have sat in my seat, No. 30, from the first day of the Session until today and I do not know if I missed one or two minutes. And the second position, so far I should be recorded as voting on all the issues brought before the House.

We have taken a bill from the table for the House to consider. I am asking no one either to vote for the bill or to be against the bill but I must make a statement at this time of my position on this bill. Don't be excited; I am not going to take everything out of this folder. I have taken some letters out of it that I have answered.

On April 1st I made up a form letter that answered all the letters from my district, that is the first district of Westmoreland County, on this bill, namely, House Bill No. 3.

My first form letter is dated April 1st—if you will bear with me, like I said I have sat in my seat and listened to debate and one thing and another and it has been very valuable to me sometimes in making my decisions. But today I am asking no one to make a decision on the proposed legislation taken from the table, excepting my personal feelings. Here is a copy of a form letter that I sent out April 1st. It starts out:

"In my many years of service in the House of Representatives I am always glad to know the views of my constituents. Under date of March 11, 1959 I received a letter from the late co-council of churches relative to a resolution opposing certain proposed legislation in our Commonwealth. As a man from an outstanding Christian family from Latrobe, I will vote against any House bills or Senate bills presented in the House for our consideration pertaining to horse racing with legal wagering within our state.

I have always prayed for the right guidance in my duties and services to the people in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

With kindest regards, I am

Sincerely yours"

I am only going to mention some of the letters that I received from the churches of my district because I am vitally interested in the churches regardless of their religion.

The first one I have here is from the Latrobe Ministerial Association, Latrobe, Pennsylvania, dated March 11, 1959. I will not read the letter and it is opposing any betting. In another letter under date of March 30th, Latrobe Sunday School Activities—it is signed by many people of Latrobe. A letter from First Evangelical and Reformed Church, Latrobe, Pennsylvania, March 31st. Latrobe United Presbyterian Church, Latrobe, dated March 19th. The United Church of Christ, Latrobe, Pennsylvania. Latrobe Methodist Church, Latrobe, Pennsylvania. The Methodist parsonage, Latrobe, Pennsylvania. Derry Ministerial Association, Derry, Pennsylvania. St. James Evangelical Lutheran Church, Youngstown, Pennsylvania; United Presbyterian Church, Newport, Pennsylvania; and one letter was sent to me by air mail from a young man that I know in the service.

I have many other letters—I did not know that this bill was coming up—at my home. I just gave you the major letters that I received from churches of my district opposing betting.

Then I have a letter of congratulations. St. James Evangelical Lutheran Church of Youngstown, Pennsylvania; "Thank you kindly," and so forth.

Today I will make my decision and nobody knows how I am going to vote until my name is called.

Mr. WILLARD. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Dr. Maxwell?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Dr. Maxwell, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAXWELL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILLARD. Mr. Speaker, under House Bill No. 3, Printer's No. 212, which was introduced in April, I just wonder whether that was a general referendum by the electorate of the state. Was it not, Mr. Maxwell?

Mr. MAXWELL. You mean before the present bill was amended?

Mr. WILLARD. The first bill, yes, sir.

Mr. MAXWELL. Yes, Mr. Speaker, it was.

Mr. WILLARD. Mr. Speaker, does this bill do the same thing?

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, this bill is not a general referendum. This bill is a local option, which means it will be voted on at a special election when no candidates would be running at that time.

Mr. WILLARD. Well, Mr. Speaker, this bill provides for four plants or tracks in the state, is that right?

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, it does.

Mr. WILLARD. In other words, then there will be four locations in this state or four counties would have the option of voting to secure a plant in their own county?

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, the way the gentleman is putting the question the answer is not quite correct. All the counties would have an opportunity, if they so desired, to vote on this. Only four that passed on a local option or a local special election would have the track, that is correct.

Mr. WILLARD. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, one brief remark, if I may be permitted. I believe the electorate of this whole Commonwealth should have the privilege of voting on a bill so important to the people of this state. So therefore I am asking the Members on both sides of the House to defeat this House Bill No. 3.

Mr. HEAVEY. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. All I have to say about horse racing is, the fellows who bet on the horses usually wind up with holes in their shoes.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2373, entitled:

An Act amending "The Administrative Code of 1929" approved April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) making the Capitol Police force an independent administrative agency.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMENDED

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Rules.
The motion was agreed to.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection
House Bill No. 2374, Printer's No. 1716 and
House Bill No. 2376, Printer's No. 1699.
were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bills Nos. 2396 and 2399 on page 18 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2396, entitled:

An Act amending the "Public Bathing Law" approved June 23, 1931 (P. L. 899) setting forth requirements for accident prevention and life-saving equipment and personnel at public bathing places.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DEVLIN asked unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 4.1), page 2, line 11, by striking out "painted."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2399, entitled:

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code" approved April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58) increasing penalties for throwing materials from vehicles or tractors.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DEVLIN asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 1, last two lines of Title, by striking out "increasing" and inserting: "changing."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1025), page 2, line 6, by inserting brackets before and after "rubbish."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1025), page 2, line 6, by inserting brackets before and after "or cardboard."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1025), page 2, line 9, by inserting brackets before and after "rubbish."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1025), page 2, line 15, by inserting brackets before and after "rubbish."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1025), page 2, line 15, by inserting brackets before and after "or cardboard."

Amend Bill, page 3, by inserting between lines 12 and 13:

Section 2. The act is amended by adding, after section 1025, a new section to read:

Section 1025.1. Throwing Rubbish, Cardboard or Paper from Vehicle or Tractor. No person shall throw or permit to be thrown from a vehicle or tractor any rubbish, cardboard or paper.

In any prosecution under this section, the throwing of rubbish, cardboard or paper from a vehicle or tractor shall be prime facie evidence they were thrown or permitted to be thrown from the vehicle or tractor by the operator or custodian.

If, at any hearing or proceeding, the operator or custodian shall testify under oath or affirmation that he did not throw rubbish, cardboard or paper from the vehicle or tractor and shall submit himself to an examination as to who did the throwing and reveal the name of such person, if known to him, or if the information is made in a court other than that of his own residence, shall forward to the magistrate an affidavit setting forth these facts, then the prima facie evidence arising as above set forth shall be overcome and removed and the burden of proof shifted.

Penalty. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall, upon summary conviction before a magistrate, be sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) and costs of prosecution, and in default of the payment thereof, shall undergo imprisonment for not more than ten (10) days.

Limitation. The provisions of this section are subject to the limitation of actions as set forth in section 1201 of this act.

Amend Sec. 2, page 3, line 13, by striking out "2" and inserting: "3."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILLS CALLED UP OUT OF ORDER

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up bills out of order.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 390, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (Act No. 32) entitled "The Vehicle Code" permitting motor vehicles used in delivering United States mail to be equipped with certain warning lights and signs.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 810, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 15, 1933 (P. L. 624) entitled as amended "Banking Code" further providing for the lending of money by banks and bank and trust companies.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, I hate to get up all the time on bills that affect borrowing money. I am afraid the Members are going to think I am an expert on borrowing. This very well may be. However, I think, in all fairness, the Membership should have some information about this particular bill that they may not perhaps already have.

This bill purports to legalize what some banks in our Commonwealth have already been doing without any color of protection by our laws, or without legislative sanction. It sets up a so-called revolving credit account whereby you can establish a credit account with a bank then go out and write checks. When the checks come in the banks will honor them, up to the limit of the amount that they have agreed to let you write checks against.

This may or may not be legal, but I would like to call the attention of the Members of the House particularly to page 4 of the bill where it provides for the interest to be paid on these loans. The interest rate on these loans is 12 percent, 1 percent a month on the balance. As we all know, on a month's loan from a bank, the legal interest rate, the maximum rate that can be charged is 6 percent.

We are setting up another special exception here, permitting banking institutions to lend money at 12 percent. I would like to introduce another note, perhaps a larger policy factor in regard to this bill. I think it cannot have escaped the attention of the House, that nearly all the banking bills we have had to consider this term deal with consumer-type loans. Why is this? I think there is a very obvious reason for it. This is the type of loan on which banks make the most money. I think it is equally obvious that at this point in our economy we have never had so much outstanding consumer credit as we do right now and, at the same time, there has never been a greater need in the area of home-building and business expansion. In other words, you have only so big a pie to cut up so far as funds to be loaned are concerned. Obviously, it is to the interest of the bank to channel this money, this pie that can be loaned out into the channels, cut it up into pieces, where it will bring them the greatest rate of return. So, if we are lending more money on consumer credit of this sort, then by the same token we have that much less money to put into our home building, our mortgages, and helping to finance our businesses. I think everyone is aware of the really desperate need for credit in these areas, yet every bill that we have passed makes it more attractive for banks to lend on consumer financing the less money there is to go around for business expansion and for our homes.

Finally I would like to point out that this bill does the exact opposite to that which we had hoped to achieve by many of our banking institutions and that is the production of thrift in the people of our Commonwealth. If there was ever a bill which encourages people to go out and borrow money when perhaps they least can afford it, is this bill here. You establish your line of credit, you don't even have to sign a note, just enter into a contract, then what do you do? You write checks. There is not only interest at 12 percent on this balance, but may I point out, you also get charged ten cents for each check you write. This is very expensive money for our people. I think this bill should be voted down by the Members of this House.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I, too, rise in opposition to this bill, and instead of belaboring the House with a long dissertation that I would make up as I go along, I would like to read a letter from the Department of Banking in Ohio. In Ohio apparently this same type of project was instituted by the banks and the banks in that State sent an inquiry to the Department of Banking to see if such would be permissible in their State, and this is what the Department of Banking in Ohio said to the banks.

For the past 90 days this office has had under consideration plans purported to be new ideas in credit extension and additional banking services. The conclusion of this office is that they are just warmed-over ideas camouflaged to circumvent the laws and decisions of the courts that were enacted and rendered as a result of the unsafe and unsound practices of the Roaring Twenties. These plans and ideas have been given new names, but a rose is just as sweet by any other name. For example, the revolving credit plan is basically nothing more than an extension of credit by overdrafts. Overdrafts have been declared illegal by the courts and practices of permitting overdrafts have been consistently criticized by both state and national supervisory authorities.

Revolving credit is a banker's jargon for a perpetual loan. The practice of permitting perpetual loans by demand notes and notes without a definite repayment program and which will not clear within a reasonable period of time is not considered to be in keeping with sound credit policies. Revolving credit plans are deemed to be in this same category.

These innovations in banking are not considered to be in the best interest of the public for various reasons, the principal one being the cost of the plan to the customer is tainted with usury.

In considering these various plans, bankers have argued that they need to take their services to the people; also the large eastern banks have placed such plans in operation and they just have to be good. That rings a familiar bell! It will be remembered that a similar song was sung in the Roaring Twenties.

This office agrees that banks should improve their services but it should not be done by adopting unsafe and unsound loaning policies and practices.

I believe that these reasons are germane to this bill and I believe it would be a dangerous thing to permit such type of credit in our Commonwealth. I would therefore especially urge Members on both sides to vote this bill down.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this bill. I do not see anything wrong with it. In fact, I think it has certain definite advantages.

If you analyze the bill carefully you immediately realize that this is not a discounted loan. You are not charged interest on what you do not borrow. That is a great advantage to a borrower. In other words, if you go into a small loan company and you make a loan, you are immediately charged interest on that money. This is a little different. This gives you a line of credit just as it does some big business enterprise. However, if you do not use the money, you do not pay interest. They do not discount the interest in advance. This permits a small borrower to actually save money when he has to borrow because he can now go to a bank under this plan and borrow money at a cheaper rate of interest than he can under the small loans act. I say that this bill has much merit and that the Members on both sides of the aisle should vote in favor of it.

Mr. SCHAAF. Two or three weeks ago in Erie I had occasion to talk to an officer of one of the banks there and I am at the present time at a little bit of a loss to understand by virtue of what authority they are doing it, but, nevertheless, they have inaugurated this type of plan.

In discussing the plan and the mechanism of it, the thought occurred to me, and I think it is the same one mentioned by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gelfand, of the situation, are you actually promoting overdrafts? His explanation was this, and I simply pass it on to the membership of the House, that these are not in fact overdrafts because the initiation of the plan requires some type of conference between the, we will call him the borrower for lack of a better term, and the bank which results in the execution of a contract.

Certainly any bank has a responsibility not only to its depositors, but to its shareholders, which would require that bank, before it initiates or gives anything which smacks of being a loan, to satisfy itself that the borrower is in fact a good risk. Where you have an overdraft you do not have this situation because you have usually one or more officers of the bank making an evaluation of whether or not so and so is a good risk for the purpose of honoring his checks. Here you have a previous control, a previous check on that situation. I do not think there is anything offensive about this policy as to the wisdom, as to the prudence, from a banking standpoint, nor certainly from the interest rates charged.

I think this is desirable legislation. I think it meets a need and I think, too, that too often we think of banks being cold institutions. After all, they are businesses which deal in a given commodity, their particular commodity being money. Therefore I would suggest to the Members that they support this legislation.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this bill. Despite the arguments that were made pro and con, I have not heard any reason economically why we should support a bill like this. It seemed to me that if the present laws with respect to the lending of money are hurting the banks we ought to learn about that, and if the people are having difficulty borrowing money from banks under the present loan laws, I think we ought to do something about that. But nothing has been said.

I just read over the bill, and the primary reason I am against this is because it is fundamentally unfair. It is a bill that is in favor of a financial institution as opposed to an individual. My reason for saying that is this: In the bill it provides that an additional charge may be made to include reasonable attorney's fees to collect the delinquency. Now as a practicing attorney, and I am sure all of the attorneys have had this experience, I have had people come to me to collect small loans for them, individual people, not financial institutions. Out of the money recovered they have to deduct the fees that we charge. We cannot under the law require the person who owes the money to pay for counsel fees. Yet, here we are asking support for a bill that would permit a financial institution, with all of the resources and finances at its command, to charge the borrower a reasonable attorney's fee for collecting the money. I think that is unsound, and it is unfair to the small businesses and to the people who have to employ attorneys to collect money. I think that if we ought to change the law in that respect we ought to permit as cost in any assumption case reasonable attorney's fees. I know that we today have installment notes with provisions in them for attorney's fees, but I submit that we should not extend this bill to allow the banks to collect reasonable attorney's fees.

I ask that we vote against the bill.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I ask permission to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCormack. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman whether or not he has had, in his capacity as an attorney, any experience in collecting, what he called, an installment note?

Mr. McCormack. Very little.

Mr. SCHAAF. Is the gentleman informed as to whether or not the collection fees or the attorney fees provided for in such a note can be collected in all events or only in certain events?

Mr. McCormack. It depends entirely upon the terms of the contract, naturally.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, then I would ask the gentleman whether or not the collection fees or the attorney fees can be included as a portion of the money payable on the note in the event that forcible collection of the note is not sought through recourse to the courts?

Mr. McCormack. I have tried to distinguish between the two situations where you have an installment note, the form note. There is usually a provision in there with respect to attorney fees, but I am talking about the average normal situation where a person owes another person money and there is no written contract. There is no way that you can collect reasonable attorney fees.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman agree that in the judgment notes, as they are called, used throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that there is a precedent for the use of the same sort of device that is provided for by this note?

Mr. McCormack. If the gentleman had listened to what I said he would have heard me say that.

Mr. SCHAAF. Well, I take it, then, sir, you do agree.

Mr. McCormack. I will repeat it again. I said in the form notes that we have in use in this Commonwealth there is a provision for attorney fees.

Mr. SCHAAF. For the benefit of the other Members of the House then, Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask whether or not the gentleman is of the opinion that the borrower, under the provisions of this bill, would be required to pay attorney fees in the ordinary course of business; in other words, assuming he made such payments as are required by the contract with the bank.

Mr. McCormack. If this bill is passed, and revolving credit is established by virtue of this Senate bill, the banks will be able to include in their contract a provision for reasonable attorney fees.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman does not answer my question. I asked whether or not the borrower would have to pay the attorney fees in the ordinary course of repaying the loan.

Mr. McCormack. There is no attorney involved where they pay the loan; only when there is a delinquency.

Mr. SCHAAF. So that I clearly understand the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, then the attorney fees are paid only in the event of a default or a delinquency in the terms of the contract?

Mr. McCormack. Oh, there is no question about that.

Mr. SCHAAF. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. McCormack. May I ask the gentleman a question? Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Schaaf?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Schaaf, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHAAF. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCormack. I will ask the gentleman a hypothetical question. If I lend you one hundred dollars without any contract other than a verbal contract, and you fail to pay it, can I, when I bring suit against you, include reasonable attorney fees as part of the cost?

Mr. SCHAAF. You may not.

Mr. McCormack. That is all.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman from Philadelphia has obscured something here which should be explained for the benefit of the membership of the House.

There is no difference in commercial practice in what is provided for by this bill, and what is traditional in Pennsylvania for the collection of promissory notes, the so-called judgment notes. They have traditionally provided for the imposition of attorney fees at such time as the note is presented for forceable collection, and I see no difference, no distinction in this situation which you have here provided in this bill.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I have listened carefully to the previous speakers, and of course must disagree with them.

I have had considerable experience with reference to notes, both for the party collecting same and for the party trying to prevent collection. Let us see what this bill actually provides.

First of all, it provides one percent per month interest. It appears that the banks are getting more and more from the standpoint of loan companies, the small loan companies. But one thing our previous speakers have failed to mention, under no circumstances can any small loan company put in its notes in any manner, shape or form a provision to collect any attorney fees. It is prohibited under the law. Under the guise, one way or another, no loan company can collect any attorney fees. The banks here, in this bill, have provided for reasonable attorney fees, and do they say when they collect on the note? No, they say to secure it. The mere placing of the note on record for the purpose of security would cause the party to be entitled to reasonable attorney fees. Furthermore, if it provides for insurance, the borrower has to pay, not the bank. If it provides for any other necessary amount to reimburse any public official—it does not specify to whom—for putting the note on record, all of these things are added to the cost to the borrower. I say the interest and penalty are certainly prohibitive, and I think we should vote against the bill at this time.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House, a former Member, "Doc" Waterhouse. We will ask "Doc" Waterhouse to tell us how to rope calves and how his crops are coming.

The Chair would like to present the former Secretary of the House to the Members. Will the former Secretary come up and say a word or two?

Mr. W. W. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, it is certainly a pleasure to be here and to have a chance to say hello to all of you. Needless to say, I miss being around and I miss the advice that I used to get from the wisdom of the Speaker. He is quite an authority on farming himself. But certainly I don't believe he is much better at roping Whitefaces than I am, and that's not good.

I have been doing quite a little bit of farm work, Mr. Speaker, and that accounts for my having this crew cut and also the tan. I am still out of jail—I understand I have had a little publicity—and of course, there is only half of it told. They didn't say that I put the money in the account out of any pocket and I wouldn't expect them to say that but that's all right.

I understand that you have had a very lengthy Session, Mr. Speaker, and could you give me any idea as to how much longer you are going to be here, or are you going to try make that 17 months one look like a short one?

The SPEAKER. We propose and some powerful people in other places dispose.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Thanks a lot. It's really a pleasure to be here and I am really sorry I can't be around to kind of heckle people.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 915, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) entitled "The Administrative Code of 1929" regulating the expenditure of funds appropriated to the Department of Military Affairs for assistance to needy veterans or their widows, infant children or dependents.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 661.

An Act amending the act of July 15, 1897 (P. L. 292) entitled "An act to provide revenue by taxation" increasing the rate of tax on shares of capital stock of banks and savings institutions for a limited time.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 1, line 3, by inserting after the word "institutions" the words "for a limited time"; Section 1, page 2, line 5, by striking out after the word "of" the word "(March)" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "April"; page 3, line 5, by striking out after the word "calendar" the word "year" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "years"; line 6, by striking out after the word "and" the word "thereafter" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred sixty"; line 8, by inserting after the word "thereof" the words as follows: "and for the calendar year ending December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred sixty-one and thereafter at the rate of four mills upon each dollar of the actual value thereof."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I merely wish to call the attention of the Members on this side of the House that this is a bill relating to the tax on bank shares, and the amendments, as I understand it, make it a temporary instead of a permanent tax.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

(2) Sections 2406 2409 and 2410 of the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) known as "The Administrative Code of 1929" are repealed in so far as they are inconsistent herewith

(3) All other acts or parts of acts are repealed in so far as they are inconsistent herewith

Section 62 This act shall take effect immediately

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, we are now waiting very anxiously for the results of a momentous struggle between the two Parties of this state as to our budgetary needs. We all recognize that both sides are sincerely trying to resolve that problem of money.

Today, in the other House, we have partisan arguments but in connection with Senate Bill No. 309, the approval of this feather-bedded legislation seems to have bi-partisan support. I have been assured by the ever vigilant and sincere Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, Dean Polen, that the cost of Senate Bill 309 to the taxpayers of this Commonwealth will be approximately one-half million dollars. We think and we repeat what we stated before, when we are struggling with the problems of public instruction, with the problems of mental welfare, and with the problems of public assistance, we could postpone the passage of this bill.

Therefore, we ask you in a bi-partisan attitude of sympathy for the taxpayer to vote against Senate Bill 309.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to find out just what changes were made by the Conference Committee. In looking over the bill I have been unable to ascertain what the changes, if any, were. Is there anyone here who can tell me?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, there is a distinct differential between Senate Bill No. 309, Printer's No. 991 as it originally passed the House, and the Committee of Conference Report on Senate Bill 309, Printer's No. 1496.

The Committee worked hard and diligently on this matter and we find, of course, that we eliminated some of the jobs that temporarily we know the House can do without, but there is an addition from the operation of the present law. We have authority for 183 employees in the House of Representatives.

Mr. McCORMACK. What page is that, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. PETROSKY. That is not on any page, That is the authorization under present law, 147 per diem employees and 37 salaried employees, making a total of 183. By Conference Report on Senate Bill 309 there would be an additional 22 employees in the House of Representatives and, of course, these are not all under the Chief Clerk. They are employees that were placed on the staffs of the various offices of the House, both in the Majority and the Minority in order to facilitate the business of those offices.

Mr. McCORMACK. Is there any truth to the statement that was made by a Member that the secretary to the Chief Clerk was cut in her salary?

Mr. PETROSKY. Is the gentleman referring to Senate Bill 309, Printer's No. 991, and the current Conference Report?

Mr. McCORMACK. Yes, sir.

Mr. PETROSKY. That is correct.

Mr. McCORMACK. And to what was that reduced?

Mr. PETROSKY. From $6,500 to $6,000.

Mr. McCORMACK. What page is that on?

Mr. PETROSKY. That is on page 19, Mr. Speaker, line 16, section 23, subsection 2.

Mr. McCORMACK. From $6,500 to $6,000?

Mr. PETROSKY. That is correct.

Mr. McCORMACK. Was there any change made in the compensation of the Speaker of House and the President of the Senate pro tempore?

Mr. PETROSKY. There was none made between Printer's No. 991 and the Conference Committee report, Printer's No. 1496.

Mr. McCORMACK. Is there an increase in compensation as a result of this Conference Committee Report for the leader of the Senate and the Speaker of the House?

Mr. PETROSKY. Not for the present serving officers. For the next elected officers, that is correct.

Mr. McCORMACK. I refer you to page 14, section 13, line 5, would you refer to that?

Mr. PETROSKY. Yes.

Mr. McCORMACK. The President pro tempore of the Senate elected for the Session of 1959, in addition to his salary as a Member of the General Assembly, shall receive $1,000 for each regular session; is that the present law?

Mr. PETROSKY. That is. That is the present law, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Then on line 9, "Thereafter the President pro tempore of Senate in addition to his salary as a member of the General Assembly shall receive nine thousand dollars for each regular session and one thousand dollars for each special or extraordinary session." Is that the present law?

Mr. PETROSKY. No sir, that is the same as was present in the passage of Senate Bill 309, Printer's No. 991, here in the House of Representatives. There has been no change there and this applies, of course, to the next regular session of the General Assembly.

Mr. McCORMACK. It applies to this one too, does it not?

Mr. PETROSKY. It does not.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to state that under this law, neither the President pro tempore of the Senate nor the present Speaker of the House receives any increase in salary or in any other emolument.

Mr. McCORMACK. Very well.

Mr. PETROSKY. I thought I made that clear. Maybe people do not want to understand me, I do not know.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, you are a little difficult to understand.

Mr. PETROSKY. Well, evidently it is the lawyer in you that confuses me.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like at this time to raise the question that this bill is unconstitutional in that it contravenes Article 2, Section 8, of the Constitution with respect to the salary and compensation of Members of the General Assembly, and I ask a ruling from the Speaker on that.

The SPEAKER. As the gentleman from Philadelphia well knows from his diligent study of the Rules, the Speaker is not permitted to rule on a Constitutional question.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well then, Mr. Speaker, I would like to raise the question and have it decided by the House, that this bill is unconstitutional because it violates that Section of the Constitution.

POINT OF ORDER

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz, rise?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. The gentleman raises the question of constitutionality. I do not believe he can raise the constitutionality as to a vote on a Conference Committee Report. We are not voting on the measure itself at the present time. We are voting only on the Report of the Committee, and I do not think there is any constitutional question involved as to whether or not we favor or disfavor the Conference Committee's Report.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would rule and, because of the precedence created by the rulings, it is incumbent upon the Chair to be courageous.

Any Member who proceeds in proper fashion can raise a question as to constitutionality of any pending measure before the House. There is no such question before the House at the present time.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I rise for the purpose of requesting the gentleman from Westmoreland and to inquire whether he will consent to be interrogated?

Mr. PETROSKY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia yield?

Mr. McCORMACK. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, what are the total number of employes of the House of Representatives under the present law today?

Mr. PETROSKY. 183, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. What will be the total number of employes, under Conference bill relating to Senate Bill 309, for the House of Representatives?

Mr. PETROSKY. 205, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. What are the total number of employes of the Senate today?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I do not have a complete breakdown of the total number of employes in the Senate.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. What is the total number of employes contemplated under Senate Bill 309?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, there has been an addition of several employes in the Senate version of 309. I have not had sufficient time to strike totals; however, if the gentleman has them from the bill that is before us, I will accept his figures.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. No, Mr. Speaker, I am trying to get some information. The reason I am trying to get information is because I have been assured by the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations that the additional cost of this bill is approximately a half million dollars. I want to know how many additional employes are provided for, additional employes.

Mr. PETROSKY. Additional employes in the Senate was 17.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. And for the House, 22?

Mr. PETROSKY. Twenty-two, plus one that would be selected jointly by the House and the Senate which would be a printing clerk to serve the Members of the House and the Senate.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Did the Conference Committee discuss the total additional cost to the Commonwealth of Senate Bill 309, as now presented to us?

Mr. PETROSKY. Yes. We have compiled the figures and again I want to say to the gentleman that these figures—incidentally, the gentleman knows that I received a copy of the bill this morning—the cost to the Commonwealth for the current biennium, and, incidentally, I want to say this, that it provided if the people vote the annual sessions in, this is the total cost including the possibility of having a session next year. The cost would be $197,592 for the House, and $115,653 for the Senate.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. In other words, Mr. Speaker, your calculation is that the additional cost is approximately $325,000?

Mr. PETROSKY. Yes, approximately that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Thank you. That is all.

The SPEAKER. The Chair was about to recognize the gentleman from Cambria who has been standing for some time. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia yield?

Mr. McCORMACK. Would the gentleman care to wait until after I do it or would you like me to yield now. I would be glad to yield, sir.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. McCORMACK. I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is, the bill is unconstitutional in that it violates Article II, Section 8, of the Pennsylvania Constitution. That article specifically reads as follows:

The Members of the General Assembly shall receive such salary and mileage for regular and special sessions as shall be fixed by law, and no other compensation whatever whether for service upon committee or otherwise.

That is sufficient of that Section for my purposes. I say that it is unconstitutional because the language of this bill clearly says, and I quote from page 14, Section 13, line 5, "The President Pro Tempore of the Senate elected for the Session of 1959 in addition to his salary shall receive" a certain amount of money. Now, "in addition to his salary" clearly implies that he is receiving something other than his salary, and inasmuch as the language of the Constitution is quite specific, I say that this directly contravenes that Article and Section, and I therefore ask the House to declare this bill in its present language unconstitutional.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia raises the point of order that Senate Bill 309 violates Article II, Section 8, of the Constitution.

Mr. McCORMACK. I would like to move, if a motion is necessary, that the House decide that issue, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The procedure when a question of constitutionality is raised is necessarily referred to the House.

The House can either decide the question before it by a voice vote or it can decide it by a roll call vote, and a majority determines the issue, provided there is a quorum in the Hall of the House.

On the question,

Will the House sustain the Constitutional point of order?

Will the gentleman from Westmoreland yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz?

Mr. PETROSKY. I so yield, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, am I in order at this time to speak on the motion?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman certainly is. The issue can be referred to the House directly for consideration without debate, or any Member of the House is privileged to debate the issue.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I believe the gentleman from Philadelphia is referring to Section 13, page 14, of the bill. The way I read that section and as I understand from previous debate, this section will not increase the salary or emoluments of office of either the present Speaker of the House or the present President pro tem of the Senate. There is a word in this section on line 9, the word is "thereafter." I believe it is eminently clear, if you read this section, that the "thereafter" refers to coming sessions of this Legislature. It is very, very clear. The Speaker and the President pro tem receive exactly in 1959 what they are entitled to receive by law currently. It will be for succeeding sessions that this additional sum will be paid if this law is passed as the Conference Committee has reported today.

The SPEAKER. That is the understanding of the Chair, who would be the beneficiary of legislation relating to the salary paid the Chair. The Chair desires to refer the point of order to the House. The Chair assures the gentleman that we have been advised from all possible sources that both the Chair here in the House and the President pro tempore of the Senate refused to sanction any proposal that would increase their compensation.

Mr. PETROSKY. I believe the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, will take my word for it when I say to him that it is the wording in the present law under which we are operating, and there are no additional emoluments contained in this legislation. Therefore, there is no violation of the Constitution, and I would like if the gentleman could see his way clear to withdraw a vote on the question.

Mr. McCORMACK. Apparently, I am not using the right language, because I am not getting across to at least two Members.

My point is not that the salary is being increased for the present officers of the House and Senate. That is not my point. The bill is clear, and I am referring to line 9, "thereafter the President pro tempore in addition to his salary as a Member shall receive $9,000." Now, if it is in addition to his salary, it is something other than a salary. I do not know if it is a bonus. I just do not know how to classify it, but it is something in addition to his salary.

The SPEAKER. Might the Chair observe that this House could legislate concerning future salaries, but it cannot raise the present salaries.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill 309, Printer's No. 1496, the Conference Committee Report, is also being readied to be considered in the Senate.

The position of Senator Robert Fleming is in writing, that there is no violation of any constitutional requirements in the changes of this bill and I would like to bring to the attention of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, and to the Members of this House, that the present Speaker and President pro tempore are now authorized by law to receive $1,000 in addition to their salaries as Representative and Senator. That is the law now. That is the same thing that is in this bill.

I want to correct one statement. If the people of Pennsylvania would vote for a session, an annual session, the present Speaker of this House, and the President pro tempore of the Senate would not in any way be eligible for any money other than now allowed by law, $1,000, but in the next annual session, when this House would re-elect or elect a new Speaker, or re-elect or elect a new President pro tempore of the Senate, and this were law, they would then receive not $1,000, but $9,000 in addition to the salary. This is in no violation of any Constitution, no violation of any law which now exists, and it is as clear as the daylight is today.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Majority Leader?

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I certainly shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Is there anything in the Pennsylvania Constitution that gives the Speaker of the House or the Senate President pro tempore the right to receive salary or compensation other than mileage in addition to his salary as a Member?

Mr. McCANN. It is there, right in the words that you read, as allowed by law; clear as a bell, no question about it, and that is exactly what this is, law. If you will read it again, you will find it there.

Mr. McCORMACK. I still do not understand your statement inasmuch as this bill clearly says that in addition to his salary he shall receive the following money. You know today, in addition to our salary, we receive compensation. Is it not a fact that this is similar, if not identical, to that which gives us in addition to our salary, compensation for expenses?

Mr. McCANN. No, it is not. There is not any Member of this House, except the Speaker of this House, who is authorized by law to receive anything in addition to his salary. That is now the law, and he received $1,000. The same law is written clearly applying to the President pro tempore of the Senate. No other Member of this House, Floor Leaders, Whips, Caucus Chairmen, Secretaries, Committee Chairmen, or any other Member of this House receive any other salary authorized by law, only compensation for expenses.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman say in effect that the present provision of the law as spelled out on page 14, line 5 to 8, is constitutional?

Mr. McCANN. I am saying that. It is constitutional and the Department of Justice has so written it to Senator Robert Fleming. I am sorry I did not get a copy of the letter to bring up here, but I certainly can get it.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, would you hold this bill over until you can get it?

Mr. McCANN. I will not hold it over for that purpose. It is as clear as a bell and everyone knows that this is now law, I am not sure for how many years, but at least for twenty.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman further?

The SPEAKER. If he will consent to be interrogated further.

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Is this bill so urgent that it has to be passed today?

Mr. McCANN. Of course, Mr. Speaker, we are debating on the constitutional question which the gentleman from Philadelphia raised, but if this is beside the question, I would just like to have a few moments of this House, if I may.

The SPEAKER. The Majority Leader desires to address the House. Will the House give its unanimous consent? The Chair hears no objection.

Will the gentleman from Philadelphia yield to the Majority Leader?

Mr. McCORMACK. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. I think it is fair to say that every one in this House knows that not a single Member of this House receives anything under this bill.

I think it is fair at this time to speak for the employees of this House. I think a great number of you people have been in my own office, that to which my party elected me as a floor leader. I think you know the girls who work in my office personally, and know the hours they work. Do you know how many hours they work and how many days they work? Do you know what they get paid? Suppose I were to tell you they work on Saturday, and they do. One even comes in on Sunday, because we work every Sunday night from seven to midnight or 1 A. M. Now what does this bill do for anybody but these employees? This was first agreed to back in April. Then May, then June, then July, August, September, and now we are hoping for October, because these few employees who are per diem employees of this House would receive a small benefit for the short remaining period of time, because they are all dismissed from this House following the end of the Session.

I can only plead the urgency this way. Those people who work for me in my office, I am ashamed to say to you the hours they work and the amount of money they work for. I pay my own secretary at home the equivalent or more than what the Commonwealth pays my Administrative Assistant on the house she works. If you think that is what you are doing for someone, then, my friends, you need to think again that these are human beings too who have loyalty to that which they serve. I work these girls, not that I am proud of it, because I have to on the schedule we maintain, and I know that I have worked these girls as high as 70 and 80 hours a week. There are other people who are Representatives now in this House who have served in that capacity and can speak of the work there. The typists who transcribe diligently the hundreds of discs that I dictate as I travel to and from the Capitol here and they send all the memos to you Members, both Republican and Democrat, to try to keep track of this legislation so that we at least make some sense in what we do.

I am absolutely lost without that help. They are the ones who do it. I only issue the orders and try to tell them what to do. For those I ask this salary increase and I urge it. The urgency is here today, has been for a long time and it certainly should have been done a good many months ago. I would be ashamed if it does not pass today and go to the Governor's desk so that it could be signed and at least give them a break for part of the time.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I rise to continue the debate, Mr. Speaker, on the question of constitutionality and to make a very short comment which may reveal to the gentleman from Philadelphia something he wishes to consider in connection with the debate.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is in order. It is a question of whether the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, still has the floor or not.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I still have the floor but I have to depend on him to get me to Harrisburg, so I yield.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Well, Mr. Speaker, I am sorry he made that statement because I do not like to bring to the gentleman's attention the fact that he has been wrong on previous occasions.

What I would like to bring to his attention is the heading in the Constitution which precedes Section 8 which says, "Compensation not to be increased during term." I think that is the only thing that Section 8 applies to and if the gentleman will consider it in that way he will realize that his inquiry about the constitutionality is completely out of order.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia on that one point?

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman from Philadelphia will permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. The gentleman is not saying to the House that this caption, the title, is part of the Constitution or can be used in the Constitution?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I am saying that.

Mr. McCORMACK. Do you have any authority for that?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Do you have any authority to the contrary?

Mr. McCORMACK. I believe there is plenty of authority, and I can produce it, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair, sooner or later, will have to rule that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, is resorting to dilatory tactics. The Chair has been very patient, very considerate, and if the gentleman from Philadelphia would say what he has to say and then insist on a roll call, the matter will be referred to the House.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as the gentleman from Greene, the Majority Leader, has made a statement with respect to the merits of this bill and not with respect to the constitutionality, I ask the Chair for the right to make a reply so that I can walk around here and not have certain people who are paid a living wage hold me in contempt and disrespect.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman roll it up in a single statement?

Mr. McCORMACK. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I believe that I can make a sob sister's speech here better or as good at least as any other Member.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. BRETH. I have been a Member of this House for a long time, 14 years. I have seen confused situations but never one like this and always there is one way out. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question on the point of constitutionality.

The SPEAKER. Is the motion for the previous question seconded?

The Chair does not see a sufficient number to validate the motion.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I briefly want to say that I am in favor of increases for per diem employes. I know there are a heck of a lot of employes who would benefit by this bill who are most deserving of a salary or per diem increase. I know too that this bill goes a lot further than that. I think that it would be fairer to them if we gave them a bill and voted solely for per diem increases so that we could have a clear cut discision as to who deserves the increase, but the leaders saw fit to include all in Senate 309 that in spite of the unpopularity of getting up here and arguing against them I felt it was my duty to do so.

To get back to the constitutionality of the bill, I think we have heard both sides and I feel that my point is valid, but I shall be glad to see the opinion that Senator Fleming has and I will be glad to revise my thinking after looking at that. As I said before, I would like the bill held up until I see that opinion. I think there is no reason why it should not be held up at least for a half an hour or as long as it takes to get the letter.

Mr. A. M. LEE. Mr. Speaker, on the point of constitutionality, I hope that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, and the other Members will follow me on the Constitution and on the bill. I hope in my own way I may be able to clear up some of the confusion here.

Article 2, Section 8, says "the Members of the General Assembly shall receive such salary and mileage for regular and special sessions as generally fixed by law." Now it does not say that all the Members have to receive the same salary. It only says that the Members shall receive such salary and mileage as fixed by law.

Turning to the Conference Committee Report on Senate

Bill 309, page 14, section 13, the gentleman from Philadelphia raises a question because the language of the Conference Committee Report says "thereafter the President pro tempore of Senate in addition to his salary as a member of the General Assembly shall receive nine thousand dollars ($9000)". He raises the point that the $9000 is not salary. I say that it is salary because the bill does not say it is not salary; it says, he shall receive $9000 in addition to his salary as a Member. His salary as a Member is fixed by law and I therefore say, Mr. Speaker, that the constitutional question is not properly raised. I feel that present provisions in this bill are completely constitutional in their present form and I ask all the Members on the question of constitutionality to vote in favor of the bill being constitutional.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman insist upon a roll call?

Mr. McCORMACK. A division of Voice Vote.

On the question recurring,

Will the House sustain the constitutional point of order?

A division was had, less than the majority of the members having voted in the affirmative the question was determined in the negative and the point of order was not sustained.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I think if I had sat here and listened a little while longer, probably somebody would have said all the things I wanted to say.

However, there are some things I think might still be said. At the outset I state that it is quite alarming and interesting to me to find that so much concern arises today over the Conference Committee since there was very said about it when the bill originally came up.

I want to say in answer to the wonderful plea that has been made here for the employes or the people around here who do the work, as brought out so nicely by Mr. McCann, that he voiced very nicely my opinion as I have expressed it on other occasions. As to my willingness to vote for an increase for those people who do the work, it might concern you that what was not brought out very well was why you tie that in with some other salaries that are not justified. There was not anything in that plea made for the other people. There does not seem to be a question of those on the top getting a large amount, but it has to be tied together with some other bill to get people paid for what they earn.

There are several things I have been concerned with. I want to read to you something I hope you all have read, but I find that some people did not read it—this yellow piece of paper that you found in your mail box or on your desk. I want to read just part of it:

"There is a simple formula which even the amateur in the economic field can use—taxes must be paid out of income and income is measured by actual and potential production.

When taxes do not march in step with income based upon production, they inevitably become a capital levy.

Now that is a statement I agree with wholeheartedly, and that is my thinking along the line of this particular type of legislation, not only, if this passed, this one, but some other similar ones. I wonder when the Members of this Legislature are going to think and act along that line. I am concerned about this. I want to see the people get paid who are working but I do not like the kind of flowers that are being handed out by some of this legislation.

Just one other thing, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Petrosky in his talk said they had worked very hard on this bill. I want to read to you a little statement in the newspaper, and see how that compares with that statement. I read from the Evening News:

Rep. Blaine C. Hocker, Oberlin Republican, illustrated with a finger-snap how he and two Democratic members of a conference committee suddenly reached a compromise—on Hocker's terms—which comes up for ratification in the House and Senate today.

"It happened just like that," Hocker told a reporter. Petrosky (Rep. Anthony J., Westmoreland County Democrat), came over to me and asked, "Are you ready to go?"

I said 'yes, on my understanding,' and that was it. There were no meetings leading up to it. Stank (Rep. John F., Northumberland County Democrat, the third House conferee) gave in later.

Now that sounds like hard work on a bill, does it not?

I am concerned about this type of legislation. I am concerned about the people who work for a living, and that is why I call to your attention that I think you are very late in getting concerned about the needs in this bill. It went over very nicely, and now it comes up at a time like this when you really want to discuss the workings of the Conference Committee, which are simple, as the newspaper shows you.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I think I owe an answer to Mr. Farabaugh.

I cannot help what is printed in the newspaper. I want to say this to Mr. Farabaugh; I want to get it straight in his mind. That only had reference to what happened yesterday. I want to say to you, Mr. Farabaugh, that we put in many, many hours; we had many, many arguments; we had many, many discussions about this matter, and I wish the paper would print that. We spent hour after hour on this bill, not only among ourselves but in conjunction with the Governor's office and other people who were interested. I cannot help what you just read in the paper, Mr. Farabaugh.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, just a brief statement about the Conference Report that is now before you for action.

On June 22 in this House Senate Bill 309, Printer's No. 991, was passed by a vote of 140 to 54. Through a desire of the membership of the House and the Senate to throw this into conference, notwithstanding what appears in the paper, recognize, if you will, the report shows that the entirety of the operation of this bill was pared down to the absolute minimum, and we have effected, from the previous passage of the bill, a lesser amount for the operations of this House in the neighborhood of $165,000.

I ask the membership of the House to adopt the Conference Report.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2376, entitled:

An Act amending the act of September 3, 1955 (Appropriation Acts page 18) entitled "An act providing for reconstruction and repair of roads streets highways and bridges damaged or destroyed by the hurricane flood or high water of August 1955 * * *" extending the provisions of the act to political subdivisions for damages caused by later disasters making them eligible for moneys out of said appropriations and extending the time that appropriations are available.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2377, entitled:

An Act amending the "Liquor Code" approved April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) further regulating the issuance of new hotel restaurant and club liquor licenses.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 2377 is a piece of legislation that is needed for the Luzerne County Airport installation.

If you will recall, back a few weeks ago this House and the Senate passed a piece of legislation permitting the newly constructed airport facilities to have a liquor license. That was enacted into law. The dedication of this multi-million-dollar program is scheduled for October 18, and under the existing liquor laws, licenses can only be issued each six months, which is required at the present time.

This piece of legislation, if you will read at carefully, in the new material states that nothing herein contained shall prohibit the Board from issuing a new license for the balance of any unexpired term in any license district to any applicant in such district who shall have become eligible to hold such license as a result of Legislative enactment. We enacted the law that provided for this and now this piece of legislation needs to be signed by October 18 for this dedication at this particular installation in Luzerne County. I believe the airport has an official name and I ask that all the Members support this legislation for Luzerne, Lackawanna County Airport facilities.

Mr. Speaker, the explanation will very clearly indicate that this pertains to this particular case and no other cases.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RESOLUTION

Mr. SHERMAN offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 1002.

An Act amending the act of June 22, 1931 (P. L. 594) entitled "Rural State Highway Law" deleting a route in Hanover Township Lehigh County.

SENATE BILL No. 1065.

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor and the Executive Director of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission to sell and convey real property situate in the Township of East Saint Clair Bedford County.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HELM asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I rise for two purposes.

First, I have just been informed that between now and the time we come back in to Session the Jewish people of our Commonwealth celebrate their New Year. I think that we should wish to the Jewish Members of this House a very, very Happy Jewish New Year.

Secondly, Mr. Speaker, there was an event that occurred in this Commonwealth last Friday that to a Member of this House has become rather commonplace, but I believe it is worthy of some recognition. The wife of the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Seltzer gave birth to a new baby daughter last Friday.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Seltzer.

Mr. SELTZER. On behalf of the new born baby, my wife, and myself, I thank you. My only comment is, Mr. Speaker, that when you can lay the keel and launch the ship during the same session we have been here too long. Let's go home.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

L. 1053) excluding buses owned by, or under contract with, school districts, private or parochial schools for the transportation of school children and chaperons from the definition of common carrier by motor vehicle and contract by motor vehicle in certain cases.

The PRESIDENT. The report will lie over for printing under the rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. PECHAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, last week, when we passed the Pennsylvania Poem, Senator Seyler asked some questions. At this time, I would like to read from a letter which I received from the author of that poem, Mr. Gerall G. Dovenspike, of Clarion. I am going to read a part of this letter, out of context, as follows:

"I received a fine letter from Senator Berger notifying me of the action." Of course, that action was taken here on the floor. "Today I received a clipping from the Allentown paper, sent to me by my good friend, Gene McDonald, of the Pottsville Chamber of Commerce, titled 'Culture vs. Common Sense,' in which Senator Seyler was asking you questions concerning two phrases in the poem. The first 'Cavalcades of effigies' which I am sure you answered correctly when you said quote, 'He doesn't understand culture.' Here is the meaning it implies in the poem. Cavalcades literally means a procession of persons on horseback but may mean a group of people passing as through the years from the very beginning of our State to the present time and the future. Effigies refers to images, breaking down a poetic license phrase to prose we may explain that a great group or imaginary people, yet real, lift the bars or open the gates disclosing the pioneers who settled our great State."

Senator Seyler said he did not understand the phrase, "A thousand cities made from one." Mr. Dovenspike, in his letter, explains as follows:

"The phrase 'A thousand cities made from one' simply means growth from the time of Wm. Penn. I sure would liked to have heard the discussion."

The PRESIDENT. Is that the end of your speech?

Mr. PECHAN. That is the end of my speech. However, if Senator Seyler gets up now, I will go back into the Greek alphabet, so help me, St. John.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Seyler, I would say that that was a possible threat.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, what order of business are we under?

The PRESIDENT. This was under Reports From Committees.

The gentleman had completed a report From the Rules Committee and then asked for unanimous consent to read a short statement.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would ask for unanimous consent to answer the gentleman. However, I would first yield, under that privilege, to my colleague, Senator Hays, who I believe has a remark to make before I enter the discussion.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HAYS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I desire to read a paragraph or two from my morning mail on the topic in question.

I received a letter from the Pennsylvania Poetry Society, with offices at 264 Walton Street, Lemoyne, Pennsylvania. There are some personal paragraphs which I will not bore you with, but the pertinent paragraphs read as follows:

"The article about the State Poem in last week's E-News therefore interested me very much. I thought your remarks most sensible and pertinent as quoted in the paper.

"As I am now president of the Pennsylvania Poetry Society, which meets twice annually in Harrisburg, with an active crew of working poets holding a monthly workshop here, may I suggest we would be happy to help assemble a board of review. Was this poem the result of a state-wide competition?

"Mr. Dovenspike is a member of our organization, and undoubtedly he would be the first to agree that such a decision should be made after fair and broad appraisal, with opportunities for others to compete.

"With best wishes"

The letter is signed by Cecilia Parsons Miller who, obviously, is the President of the Pennsylvania Poetry Society.

I would like that in the record, please, Mr. President.

INTERROGATION

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Centre, Senator Hays.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Centre, Mr. Hays, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HAYS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman which organization he referred to, poultry or poetry, when he was reading. I really did not understand him clearly over the microphone.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I regret that my enunciation was so poorly done, but the Poultry Association comes next week. This week, we are devoting ourselves to poetry—p-o-e-t-r-y. I regret that this was not clear in the gentleman's mind.

Mr. BERGER. However, there is a dual membership, I imagine.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SEYLER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I, too, have received a lot of mail on this issue. It seemed to elicit more interest and more comment than many of the issues which one might consider more important to the Commonwealth.

Unfortunately, not knowing that Senator Pechan was going to bring his references in this morning, I did not bring my references. However, I would like to tell him that I received communications from a number of people, including teachers of English in both the secondary and post-secondary level, and these people expressed approval of the position I took at that time. They had comments of their own to make about the poem in question and the lines which I questioned.

I would say that one ingenious suggestion as to an interpretation of the line about "cavalcades of effigies," which is different from Mr. Dovenspike's, was that it possibly referred—speaking about "cavalcades of effigies"—to "The Hollow Men," written by T. S. Eliot. Anyone acquainted with Mr. Eliot's poem will realize that Mr. Eliot was discussing, in talking about the hollow men, the decadence of modern man and his hollowness, his emptiness of spirit. I think Mr. Dovenspike might be a rather sly individual. After hearing debates such as we had yesterday, and similar ones in the past, I would not be surprised that he may be ironically referring to some of the gentlemen in the Senate, when he wrote the line referring to "cavalcades of effigies." Effigies are, of course, dummies or statues and could quite well fit into this category.

I would like the gentlemen of the Senate to picture the students in the schools of Pennsylvania, having to learn this poem and having to try to understand this poem. If we need such devious explanations as were offered this morning by the gentleman who spoke, it seems to me we are imposing a hardship on the students of Pennsylvania.

I am glad to learn that Mr. Dovenspike is a card-carrying member, in good standing, of some poetry outfit. This gives him a status which I did not realize he had. I do not know whether they have ethics, like the doctors and lawyers, about not advertising and not going in for self-promotion or not. However, since there is such an organization, if they have a code of ethics, I think perhaps they should consider the propriety of one of their poets in promoting his poetry to the extent which Mr. Dovenspike seems to be doing.

As I stated before, I yield to Senator Pechan as a critic of poetry. The gentleman demonstrated, in his answers last week, in giving us the Greek alphabet, that he is a learned man. Anyone who can recite the Greek alphabet undoubtedly is on a level here that is definitely cultured. If the gentleman says I am not cultured, I have no defense against his accusation. However, I do say that I stand for common sense in this matter. If we have to have a Pennsylvania Poem, I would like to have one that can be readily understood, one that teachers can explain to students, one that students can understand and one which will not add another burden upon the now intolerable burden of the poor schoolboy who is trying to learn all the things he needs to outfit him for life.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I would just like to say one thing to Senator Seyler.

If I said that Senator Seyler had no culture, believe me, I was in error. I just said that he did not appreciate good culture. I did not say he was not cultured. I look to him with a great deal of respect. However, last week, I did make the statement that I was happy that his students were not here to see him because I did not feel that he appreciated the culture, as was expressed in that poem.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WAGNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I cannot let this opportunity go by to bring out the cultural side of Schuylkill County. Schuylkill County has been discussed in this Senate regarding coal, distressed economy, schools and sundry matters.

However, Mr. President, I have before me a gem of literature which I think is certainly deserving of being printed, at least, in the Legislative Journal.

We have in Schuylkill County a venerable gentleman by the name of Walter S. Farquhar. Primarily, he is a sports writer and a columnist for the Pottsville Republican. This morning, in mail, I received a letter, referring to the proposed State poem, enclosing a clipping from a column written by Walter S. Farquhar last week. Mr. Farquhar goes on to tell how he has traveled about the American West. He relates how thrilled he was at the hustling metropolis of Chicago, with its lake front skyline, which the Queen of England so admired on her recent visit. He saw the booming city of Denver and other growing communities. He gazed at mighty Pike's Peak, visited the Garden of the Gods and drank mineral water at Manitou Springs. However, he said that the finest sight which he saw in all his travels was the beautiful, soft green hills of Pennsylvania on the homeward trip.

He also wrote in his column the following:

"Transcontinental travelers cannot escape it.
As they traverse the flat midlands of the United States, the contrast is striking when the gentle hills of Pennsylvania come in view. It brings a thrill which cannot be forgotten."

He said he has tried to express it in the following lines, in a poem which he heads, "Penn's Woods":

"There's a land which is verdant and fragrant,
Where the rivers are sparkling and clear
And the brooks gleam in gold, white and silver,
With evergreen borders, all year.

"In the old Appalachian Highlands,
Where hemlock and pine trees abound
And the foothills are clustered in laurel
And bright rhododendron is found.

"Let me live in the land of the Lehigh,
Where the farmlands are fertile and green
And the blossoms of flowering fruit trees
Are mingled with dogwood's white sheen.

"I'll abide by the side of the Schuylkill,
At the foot of conglomerate heights,
Where the air bears the scent of the woodlands
And fragrant arbutus delights.

"All's serene in the gentle, green mountains
And the lakes where the pond lily grows:
I'll be true to the blue Susquehanna
And the dales where the Delaware flows.

"Take me back to my own Pennsylvania:
To the sweet-scented land of my birth;
To the beautiful, wonderful woodlands:
The softest and fairest on earth."

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SEYLER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would like to state that I understand that poem. While I am not sure that I would vote for it as the official Pennsylvania Poem, it is a poem which seems to me to reflect the spirit of Pennsylvania and is understandable.

I would also like to say, for the record, that I just had the privilege of listening to a poem by a Member of this Senate, Senator Blass. In my opinion, the quality of Senator Blass's poem was of a superior nature. I can understand it. Therefore, I would like to say to Senator Pechan that I am not totally beyond redemption in the matter of understanding culture, and that I can understand some poetry. At least, one Member of this Senate, in my opinion, is a possible candidate, if we have a State-wide competition, along with Senator Wagner's friend, as possibly being the Poet Laureate of Pennsylvania.

The PRESIDENT. Since the blue Susquehanna was mentioned, I will recognize the President pro tempore.

MOTION TO STRIKE FROM THE RECORD

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, if I am in order, I would like to make a motion that these remarks of "Gracie's"—I thought Hurricane Gracie was over last night—be stricken from the record.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. It has been moved and seconded that the cultured and uncultured remarks in the Senate this morning, on the subject of poetry, be stricken from the record.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, will this mean that I will have to give this poem again two weeks from now?

The PRESIDENT. I would expect so, Senator Wagner. I would vote against the motion if I were you.

Mr. WAGNER. Seriously, Mr. President, I would very much like this to be in the Journal. I think I am in better voice this morning than I will be at any time from now until Christmas, and I would like this matter to be over and done with.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I will accept an amendment that this be the only thing to appear in the Journal on this subject.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, Senator Taylor said he would accept an amendment to his motion so that the part pertaining to the Schuylkill County poem, and its context, may be included in the record. I would ask for this exception and that this be considered as an amendment to his motion.

The PRESIDENT. Does Senator Van Sant second that motion?

Mr. VAN SANT. Yes, Mr. President. Lehigh was mentioned in the poem.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, although we are striking from the record, I want to thank the Senators this morning for their discourse because I was enlightened. I found out that "Cavalcade of effigies" is a "Cavalcade of dummies," and that the interpretation officially now is that those are the eleven men who have no culture, including myself who voted against adoption of the poem.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, from my observation here today, it seems that we have a mutual admiration socitey. I agree that Senator Pechan has a problem with his enunciation, in addition to Senator Hays. As a matter of fact, when he was reading Mr. Dovenspike's letter over there, I understood him to say "Cavalcade of elephants."

In my discussion with him, I said, "You know, Senator Pechan, you better do something about your enunciation." He said, "Well, Bill, the trouble is that my plates are going to pieces and I am going to have to find a good dentist to replace them."

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, this may be omitted from the record before I start, but I want to say that I resent that last remark because my dentures are very firm and I owe them all to Senator Pechan.

SENATE

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1959

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. MAX BURTON CONLEY, Pastor of Appleby Manor Memorial Presbyterian Church, Ford City offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Our Father Who art in heaven and on earth, bestow upon these Thy servants gathered here, at the beginning of this day, that grace which shall keep us in the fellowship of Thy good pleasure. Grant unto each one of us that heavenly guidance and control in all our labors, pleasures and trials, which shall maintain our hearts in peace with one another and with Thee. Graciously help and prosper us in the doing of our various duties with a willing and cheerful mind, and defend us all by Thy almighty power, both from inward evil and from outward harm, so that when the day is ended, it may not leave us in sorrow, strife or shame, but in true unity and thankful rest.

Give to each of us Thy mind and Thy spirit. Make us instruments of Thy peace. Where there is hatred, let us sow love; where there is injury, pardon; where there is discord, union; where there is doubt, faith; where there is despair, hope; where there is darkness, light; and where there is sadness, joy.

May we not so much seek to be consoled as to console; to be understood, as to understand; to be loved, as to love; for it is in giving that we receive, it is in pardoning that we are pardoned, and it is in dying that we are born to the fullness of life.

May the glory of God shine in us as he has brought life and light alive in us. Sharpen our intellect, enlarge our vision, and deepen our conviction, for Thine is the Kingdom and the Power and the Glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk preceded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BERGER and Mr.

PECHAN, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (William Z. Scott) in the Chair.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. SILVERT (By request) read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1218, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 14, 1949 (P. L. 1342), entitled "Dry Cleaning and Dyeing Law," changing requirements for dry cleaning and dyeing rooms, buildings and plants.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. EHRGOOD read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1219, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58), entitled "The Vehicle Code," changing the provisions relating to the report of nonpayment of judgments.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. VAN SANT read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1220, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor, to sell and convey 7,715 square feet of land situate in East Allen Township, Northampton County.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. PECHAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, during the past recess of the Senate, a very dear friend of mine lost his life as the result of a runaway truck. This is not the first time this has occurred in my county. I introduced legislation exactly like that which I am about to introduce four years ago and two years ago. However, for some reason, it did not receive favorable action in committee.

This young man who was killed was one of our outstanding citizens. He was not only a success in business, but he was civic-minded and quite an athlete. The day before he was killed, he had taken his wife to the airport in Pittsburgh in order for her to fly to a hospital in Boston. Their child, who attends school, had no one to take care of her because the mother was in the hospital. Therefore, he went to meet her. On his way up a hill in West Kittanning, this runaway truck came down and ran into three automobiles. My friend was the unfortunate one inasmuch as the truck ran him over the bank and he was dead within a couple of hours.

Mr. President, I think something has to be done. This is not a problem which just arose because this young man had been a close friend of mine. Five years ago, Governor Leader was in Kittanning to make a political speech. He just missed this particular area by fifteen minutes, or he could have been a victim of a truck that came down off one of our hills approaching Kittanning. Therefore, I feel very strongly about this and I would suggest to my distinguished leader that when he gets this bill, he look it over very closely and report it out. I think this is much needed legislation.

This bill, Mr. President, provides for an auxiliary brake. If the one airbrake goes haywire, there would be another one there to take its place.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. PECHAN read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1221, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58), entitled "The Vehicle Code," requiring certain vehicles and combinations of vehicles equipped with air brakes to be equipped with emergency brakes.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. WAGNER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1222, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 22, 1931 (P. L. 594), entitled "Rural State Highway Law," adding a new route in Schuylkill County.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

REQUESTING THE ATTORNEY GENERAL TO RENDER AN OPINION AS TO THE LEGALITY OF CERTAIN INSTITUTIONS WHO ARE MEMBERS OF THE WEST PHILADELPHIA CORPORATION TO RECEIVE AID UNDER THE GENERAL STATE AUTHORITY ACT

Mr. McCREESH offered the following resolution (Serial No. 73), which was read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, October 13, 1959.

Whereas, A corporation known as "The West Philadelphia Corporation," chartered in March, 1959, and incorporated July 9, 1959, is composed of various educational and charitable institutions, namely, The Presbyterian Hospital, Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science, The University of Pennsylvania, Drexel Institute of Technology and the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy; and

Whereas, One of the main purposes for which The West Philadelphia Corporation is formed is to acquire, improve and sell real estate which will empower it to develop and engage in industrial and commercial enterprises and thus enable it to enter into competition with private business enterprises; and

Whereas, The members of this corporation are institutions receiving financial aid from the State and are also entitled to General State Authority aid; and

Whereas, The General State Authority Act of 1949, as amended May 28, 1956 (P. L. 1761), provides as follows: " * * * * *; Provided, however, That the purpose and intent of this act being to benefit the people of the Commonwealth by, among other things, increasing their commerce and prosperity, and not to unnecessarily burden or interfere with existing business by the establishment of competitive enterprises, none of the powers granted hereby (other than for the construction, improvement and maintenance of bridges) shall be exercised in the construction, improvement, maintenance, extension or operation of any project or projects which, in whole or in part, shall duplicate or compete with existing enterprises serving substantially the same purposes, * * *," therefore be it

Resolved, That the Attorney General shall render an opinion so as to advise the Legislature as to the legality of these institutions as members of the West Philadelphia Corporation to receive aid under the General State Authority Act.

CONDOLENCE OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO THE FAMILY OF THE LATE BERT BELL

Messrs. BARR, DONOLOW, SARRAF, TAYLOR and BERGER offered the following resolution (Serial No. 74), which was read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, October 13, 1959.

On Sunday, October 11, 1959, Bert Bell, the Commissioner of the National Football League, died while in attendance at a professional football game, a sport which owes much if its present popularity and success to the efforts of this man.

When Bell took over at "czar" in 1946, the National Football League was a mass of confusion and riddled with debt, and professional football was ridiculed as little more than a carnival with three or four featured players and a cast of lesser performers.

Under his rules and efforts, however, the league became well organized and prospered beyond the wildest dreams of the men who made Bell their boss, and professional football was elevated to the position of a major and popular sport.

The personable Commissioner, one of the best liked men on the American sports scene, was confronted with many crises during his regime which threatened to destroy the game he loved so well, but his understanding of the problems peculiar to his sport enabled him to overcome these problems and save the professional football game from oblivion.

It was Bell who introduced the player-draft system to pro-football, a system which provides for the equalization of teams and which is described as the saviour of the game.

Mr. Bell, a member of a prominent Pennsylvania family, was educated in Philadelphia, and was a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, where he captained the football team. He entered the National Football League in 1933 as part owner of the Frankford Yellowjackets, and in 1940 he bought a half interest in the Philadelphia Eagles.

At the time of his death, Mr. Bell resided at 323 Haverford Avenue, Narberth, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the members of this Senate pay tribute to Bert Bell who brought distinction and honor not only upon himself as a great leader in the sports world but also upon the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as one of its leading citizens; and, be it further

Resolved, That the members of this Senate extend their deepest sympathies to his loved ones upon their recent loss and bereavement; and, be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to his wife, Frances Upton Bell, his two sons, George Upton Bell and John Bert Bell, Jr., and his daughter, Jane Bell.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committee at this time.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 2, page 6, line 19, by inserting after "immediately": "and the provisions thereof shall be retroactive to October 1, 1959. "Any recorder of deeds who has heretofore collected a fee for an exemplification of a military or naval discharge or certificate of service obtained for the purpose of securing benefits under "Korean Conflict Veterans' Compensation Act" shall return the same to the person who made payment thereof."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce bills at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. HAYS and SEYLER read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1223, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "Public School Code of 1949," providing that certain assistant county superintendents may be appointed to serve two or more counties jointly.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1224, entitled:

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

CALENDAR

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 915, Printer's No. 1493, on concurrence in House amendments, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 2237

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the report of Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 2237, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872), entitled "The Penal Code" clarifying and revising the provisions relating to obscene literature and objects and increasing the penalty for violating the provisions.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

SENATE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CON- FERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 2237

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 2237.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, before we vote, I would like to say that I am going to vote "no" on this bill. I am in great sympathy with the purpose of the bill, but I feel that making this a felony rather than a misdemeanor, and the setting of the penalty at two years or $2,000, is excessive.

For that reason, Mr. President, in spite of my agreement that the legislation is necessary—particularly the latter part of the bill which brings this in line with the court decision and makes this once again operative—I am compelled to vote "no" on the bill. I agreed with the form in which the bill passed this Senate. I cannot agree with the form in which it came from the House and which has been adopted in this Conference Report.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

FINAL PASSAGE CALENDAR

REVENUE BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 660, Printer's No. 1569, on final passage, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 995, as follows:

An Act conferring the right on the Commissioner of the Pennsylvania State Police to enter into contracts for the sale of stories about the Pennsylvania State Police and limiting the use of the moneys received from such contracts.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe when this bill was previously before us, I advised the Senate that the Commissioner of the State Police objected to this bill. He had a number of objections. I think, however, the one which he was mainly concerned with was that he would have to open his files and he was not prepared to do so at this time.

I also feel that this bill should have an amendment inserted into it; namely, that the money definitely go into the State Police Pension Fund. I do see in the bill that there is a provision made for some of this being done. However, I understand that this is not too clear. My understanding of that may not be absolutely correct. I did want to advise the Senate that the Commissioner of the State Police has expressed himself as being against this particular legislation.

I, therefore, bring that to the attention of the Members of the Senate and ask that they vote "no" on his legislation.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 977, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177), entitled "The Administrative Code of 1929" authorizing Boards of Trustees of State Teachers Colleges to enter in contracts for supplies and maintenance of buildings in certain cases.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, this bill which is before us today is one that has I think on its face, not many problems. However, if you look into this problem a little closer, I think it has some serious implications.

This bill would allow a Board of Trustees of a State Teachers' College to purchase supplies, furniture, furnishings or equipment of any kind where the contract for such purchase is $500 or less. This, in itself, is not a serious problem when we look at it. However, suppose this board makes six, seven or eight purchases of that type? You then would have a very tidy sum involved, and one which, I think, sort of abrogates the basic rule in the purchasing of supplies. The basic rule is that when you make mass purchases by a group for an entire series of offices, you save money generally, and the savings redounds to the entire Commonwealth.

When the Department of Property and Supplies purchases for eight or nine State Teachers' Colleges—and I believe I am correct in assuming that desks and chairs do not change for different activities, if we are talking about the general furnishings that befit offices or these areas—I think we would actually save money by mass purchases rather than through purchases made separately and apart by these units.

It might very well be that there is some red tape involved in this type of activity, but I think the savings that are incurred overshadow the amount of red tape that would be necessarily involved.

One other aspect of this bill which I think we cannot overlook is that when a State Teachers' College is going to make any kind of repairs, alterations or even do any construction, where the contract price is $12,000 or less, they do not have to come under the supervision of the Department of Property and Supplies. I think you are opening a gate which is going to be difficult to close once it is opened, by allowing all of these units to again go back to the separate, independent operation which generally militates against having better things done for less money. We are dealing here with public funds, and in that area we ought to be doubly careful. If it means double checking on this type of activity and if it takes a little bit longer to get done, I think we should look into that area rather than to go out of it and later on find that we made a gross error.

I, therefore, ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this legislation.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, this bill seems to be consistent with the other actions which we have taken in the Senate this year permitting boards, councils and school boards to purchase supplies without advertising or going through the Department of Property and Supplies, up to a limited amount.

I think it is well understood that the Board of Trustees and other administrative boards, on the ground, can usually do somewhat better than if they have to go through the delay and the expense of advertising for this particular type of purchase.

I do not see any great harm in it. I realize that a problem can become involved. If there should be, I am sure that the Legislature will be prepared to deal with it when it arises.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to point out that we have done this only in matters that have dealt with counties and county money. These people are elected officials, and if they do wrong or do not handle the people's funds right, they can be voted out of office or recalled.

I think we have a little different problem here with the Board of Trustees. These are appointed by the Governor. They serve only at his pleasure and while they are behaving in office, so that we, as a body, do not have any way of recalling them, nor does the public have any way of recalling them. I have yet to come upon a Board of Trustees that does not want the best things in life for its schools, and goes all out to get them.

This problem of a contract involving $12,000 now and another contract of $12,000 later, when multiplied, comes to a tidy sum of money. I, myself, am a little reluctant to relinquish the control that a central system offers in purchases and supervision. I think it bodes ill to turn this over to individuals who may or may not have the experience of the trained people in the department.

I am not seeking to see that the department has any more power than it now has. However, I think they have done well with what they have now, so why take it from them?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, my only comment on that is that I have found, and I believe it to be true, that Boards of Trustees are usually made up of pretty capably and interested people, who are usually alumni of the institution which they serve. They are quite meticulous in taking care of the business that is entrusted, and I am sure that under this bill there would be very little danger—no danger practically—of any misconduct or misapplication of the powers given to them.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I dislike to disagree with the Minority Leader. However, at this Session of the Legislature, we have authorized Authorities to purchase material and supplies without advertising, up to a limit of $1,000. We have permitted townships and school boards to do the same thing. Teachers' Colleges, in my opinion, are institutions in localities which probably service four, five or six counties and, generally speaking, the members of the Boards of these Teachers' Colleges are outstanding individuals. They are confirmed by the Senate of Pennsylvania and their commission reads that they shall serve so long as they shall behave themselves well.

I cannot see too much wrong with this bill, because I believe what you are trying to do here is to bring about a little efficiency, locally, because there are bottlenecks. When you work through the Capitol Dome in Harrisburg, as far as Teachers' Colleges and small institutions are concerned, there is always a lot of red tape. It seems this would expedite things. I am not too much afraid of this. I think it is all right.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, as the Minority Leader has pointed out, there is one significant difference between extending this privilege to these Boards, as compared to extending it to counties, townships, et cetera, and that is the fact that you have elected officials in those. Another significant difference is the fact that in those cases, the townships, boroughs, et cetera, are spending money which is raised locally by these same municipal officials; whereas, in this case, this is entirely money which is voted from State funds. I think this is a significant difference.

In addition to this, Mr. President, I would like to interrogate, for my own information, the Majority Leader.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Potter, Mr. BERGER, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, first of all, I would like to ask the gentleman whether other institutions, which are operated by boards appointed by the Governor,—for example, institutions such as hospitals, et cetera—have this privilege extended to them in order for them, as boards, to purchase without the supervision of the Department of Property and Supplies.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would not attempt to answer that question categorically because I could not give a full answer from my own knowledge. I will say, however, that I would see no reason why the Boards of Trustees of State Hospitals should not have the right to purchase, in minor amounts, things that might be urgently and promptly needed.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I thank the gentleman for his answer. I would certainly say that if we are going to extend this privilege to the Boards of State Teachers' Colleges, certainly we should extend the same privilege to every board under the laws of the Commonwealth which operates an institution or a program.

This would mean that we would have a highly decentralized type of spending. I think everyone agrees to the advantages of mass buying, to the savings that could be made in that manner, and to the controls, in addition to that, which are exerted when you have centralized buying or centralized purchasing. If the gentleman's argument is good, then every single one of our boards, whether they operate institutions or programs for the Commonwealth, should have this same privilege. This seems to me to be moving to a chaotic condition.

I would like to ask the gentleman from Potter, Senator Berger, another question, Mr. President.

Mr. President, I would like to now ask the gentleman what the origin is of this bill. Was the bill requested by a particular Board of Trustees of a State Teachers' College?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, in order to answer that question, I would have to refer to the sponsor of the bill who is in the Senate Chamber. I have had no request, myself, from any particular Board of Trustees. However, in further answering the gentleman's question, I reiterate that I do not apprehend any great danger in this bill.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, if I may make a brief statement, I think it may clarify the situation.

The State Teachers' Colleges have grown tremendously in the past several years. The delay in clearing any work which has to be done, even though it may be of an emergency nature, through the Department of Property and Supplies is taking so much time that some of the Presidents of the State Teachers' Colleges suggested—and I think they are in agreement with this—that they should be allowed to contract for some roof repairs, certain painting and things like that, without going through the routine and the red tape which is involved in getting approval through the Department of Property and Supplies.

That is the sole purpose of this bill, Mr. President. I do not believe it will cause any harm because if they should overstep their bounds, I think we would know it in a relatively short time and could take corrective steps in the next Session of the General Assembly.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I thank the gentleman for his answer. Again, I say that my principal objection to this is that it would result in a decentralization of purchasing which, I think, would be undesirable from the point of view of economy for this Commonwealth. It would result in a chaotic situation, whereby we would lack the controls necessary for the efficient carrying on of the business of the Commonwealth and the expenditure of its funds.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would just like to point out to some of the gentlemen who have spoken that it is true that the people they put on these Boards are outstanding members of their communities. Most of them are pillars of their communities. However, unfortunately, these people do not personally supervise every little detail, even though they take an interest in the schools themselves. They delegate that to someone. How do we control these people to whom they delegate? Suppose you have somebody who is not of the same frame of mind as the people who laid down the policy? Suppose the people carrying out the details do cut or turn a corner here or there. How do we get to them? How does this Body control them? What reason do we have to take it away from a system which is operating well and place it in an area which is unknown and unchartered? Why should we have to travel in those waters when we are already in a channel that seems to be working quite well and which seems to be very navigable?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in Senate Bill No. 977, Printer's No. 1149, on page 4, lines 5, 6 and 7, it specifically states that any construction or alterations may be generally supervised by the Department of Property and Supplies.

I wish to repeat, Mr. President, that in this Senate during this Session of the Legislature, we passed legislation permitting appointed Authority Members to spend up to $1,000. I have had no requests from any Boards of Teachers' College, but I have had a request from the superintendent of a Teachers' College in regard to this legislation. There has been a delay at times when there was an emergency, such as a wind storm or that sort of thing, where the roof might have been partially blown off they were in a position where something had to be done very quickly. Unless they have the facilities to do this, it will mean a terrible loss to Pennsylvania.

Incidentally, all the money which is received by the State Teachers' Colleges is not from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. They also receive tuitions which help defray the over-all operation of a teachers' College.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1032, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 27, 1947 (P. L. 1046), entitled "State Tax Equalization Board Law" requiring the board to consult with the Joint State Government Commission regarding certain contemplated certifications and imposing certain duties upon the Joint State Government Commission.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I think the sponsors of this bill should have changed the title. The title of this bill should have read: "The Abolition of the State Tax Equalization Board and everything seemed to be going along fine until the umpire called the wrong play. Now we are going to have the Joint State Government Commission superimpose itself over and above the State Tax Equalization Board. If you want to do that, I think you should introduce a bill to do away with the Tax Equalization Board and save ourselves all this time, effort and energy.

The amendments made to the bill would have the Joint State Government Commission to evaluate the work of the Tax Equalization Board and report its findings to the General Assembly. I do not think that was ever contemplated when the Tax Equalization Board was put into existence. Perhaps the money which we are putting out for the Tax Equalization Board should be abolished completely and put back into the budget. This seems to have been the general tenor of some of the cuts which were made in the original bill. This would follow in its wake, and we would have the Joint State Government Commission and no Tax Equalization Board, whatsoever.

If the Joint State Government Commission's purpose, as stated in the original Act, is to aid the General Assembly and to be a fact-finding body, I think it should not superimpose itself over and above this other board. If we do that, then anytime we become unhappy about the way a board is operating or conducting itself, we will only have to get the Joint State Government Commission to take over and remove the board. I do not think that is what is contemplated. I think this certainly runs counter to any of those ideas of the Legislature, and I surely think that this is not the vehicle to do away with the Tax Equalization Board. This is merely a veiled attempt to try to cut the heart out of the operation of that board.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, while I enjoyed the remarks made by the gentleman, I would have been more enlightened had he confined himself to the language of the bill.

There is nothing that I can read in this bill which imposes anything upon the Tax Equalization Board except the duty to inform the Joint State Government Commission when there is a contemplated change in the market value certifications of the previous years by five per cent or more, exclusive of changes attributable to new construction.

The amendment does not say anything about imposing any change on the Board. It simply says that the Commission shall evaluate the effect of the annual certifications upon the differently circumstanced school districts and report its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly. As far as I can see, it does not interfere at all with the work of the Tax Equalization Board. However, it might result in some of the work being brought to the attention of the General Assembly, prior to any radical changes being made by the board.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I disagree with the Majority Leader. I think the purpose of this legislation, actually is to circumvent the work of the Tax Equalization Board by permitting this evaluation. This probably might be proper in the minds of some people. However, it seems to me that this Board has served a very useful purpose over the years. It is indicative to me that something is going on because they are cutting its budget to the point where it cannot operate. It seems that the Majority Party here is determined to probably liquidate the Tax Equalization Board.

The Joint State Government Commission is a fact-finding body and sometimes it does a good job and sometimes it does not, in my opinion. I do not feel that it has the special qualifications to evaluate the operations of the Tax Equalization Board and report here to the General Assembly, unless we add an additional unit in that department, made up of experts in that particular field. As of right now, I do not feel they are qualified to do this work. Even if they do evaluate the operations of the Board, it is not going to carry any weight. It is going to mean duplicate reports and it is going to mean more expense. I do not, therefore, think it is at all necessary. I believe we should defeat this bill here today and let the Tax Equalization Board do the job it is trying to do. In my opinion, they are doing a pretty decent job with the facilities they have.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to point out to the Majority Leader that suppose the Joint State Government Commission does evaluate this report made by the Tax Equalization Board and it does report to the General Assembly, and suppose the Tax Equalization Board disagrees with the Joint State Government Commission, then what do we do? Do we sit here as a body of judges and decide who is right and who is wrong? Is that our activity? It is within the purview of our minds here that the Joint State Government Commission sit as a super body on the boards and decide what they report and make a report based on the differences they might find?

I think it would serve our purpose better if we would say to the Tax Equalization Board, "You send us your figures when they differ and tell us why they differ. You carry out the prescribed duties as we have given them to you." I think this would be better than saying to the Tax Equalization Board that we are going to ignore what it has done and have the Joint State Government Commission look into this matter and advise us. I do not think we should say that if we like the advice given to us by the Joint State Government Commission, we will take that, and if we do not like it, we will do something else. I do not think it is our job to sit here as judges. I think these are fact-finding bodies which present the facts to us in order for us to operate on these facts. Otherwise, we are going to sit here and fight with the fact-finding bodies in order to find out what the facts are.

Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this bill because I think it is confusing, and I think it does not carry out the purpose which was originally intended by the Legislature.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1187, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Trustees of the George Jr. Republic Association, Grove City, Pennsylvania for construction of new buildings and repairs to and remodeling of existing buildings at the George Jr. Republic School in Mercer County, Pennsylvania.

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, this is very meritorious legislation. I know that the George Jr. Republic School needs this $50,000 for capital improvements.

I intend to vote for this legislation, too, and I expect some co-operation on the other side when it comes to paying the bill, the $50,000.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1472, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with approval of the Governor to grant an easement over certain land situate in the City of Philadelphia County of Philadelphia.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 4, by striking out "the" and inserting: "such"; Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 4, by striking out "of one dollar" and inserting: "as may be agreed upon by the parties."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 2, ninth to twelfth lines of Title, by striking out "the" in ninth line, all of tenth and eleventh lines and "Mount Alto and" in twelfth line of Title; Amend Sec. 3, page 9, lines 13 to 19; page 10, lines 1 to 3 by striking out all of said lines; Amend Sec. 4, page 10, lines 7 to 18 by striking out all of said lines; Amend Sec. 5, page 10, line 19 by striking out "5" and inserting: "4".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Weiner.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEINER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman whether the amendments, as offered, would have the effect of removing the amendments which were inserted in the bill here a couple of weeks ago.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, in answer to the gentleman's question, this would restore the bill to the way it was when it came to us from the House.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I request my colleagues to vote "no" on these amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe it would not take a great deal of genius to read this bill and to realize that the amendments placed in it have subverted, to some extent, the very purpose that the department is anxious to carry out in this measure. This is an Administration measure and it is desired in order to get on with the problem, which is a serious one. It is one which affects people unfortunate enough to have a child in their family who has not progressed to the point where he is able to take care of himself and has become what is known as a "crib" case.

This is a serious matter, and I do not want to delay this bill. Knowing full well that this matter will be taken up by a Conference Committee, I am going to ask my colleagues to vote "aye" on this measure so that we can hasten the day when we can handle this problem and work on it.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I do not intend to enter into any debate on this bill. However, I do want to point out that it was thoroughly debated in this Senate and the effect of the bill, as presently written, would appear to increase the number of available beds for the so-called crib cases, rather than defeat any purpose that the Public Welfare Department might have in mind.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, it is not my purpose to go into a great deal of detail. However, I fail to see that result from the amendments as they exist in this present bill, because this would allow for the continuation of the facilities at Mont Alto. It would also prevent any new tubercular patients being admitted. By the same token, you are also transferring this to the Department of Public Welfare from the Department of Health.

When you have a facility that you are going to use for one purpose, and you do not make it available for that purpose, I cannot see how you create more beds. What you are doing is creating less room or less area for anyone to move into it. If someone can explain that to me, I will be very happy to change my view and acknowledge that I have made an error.

Mr. ELLIOT. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this discussion either.

Several weeks ago when this bill was first on the calendar, Senator Weiner asked why I requested the bill to go over in its order. I told him at the time that I hoped within twenty-four hours to amend the bill in such a fashion that it would be self-explanatory concerning why I had asked for the bill to go over. The next day, that particular amendment was offered.

I know that Senator Weiner, like many of us, has many obligations, many commitments, and on that particular day he could not be here when I did offer the amendment and the amendment was agreed to.

The amendment which I offered, Mr. President, and it is the only one on which I am speaking now, would transfer the Pennhurst State Annex from the Department of Health to the Department of Public Welfare. I should like to call to Senator Weiner's attention that the 415 mentally retarded cases which are now at Pennhurst State Annex would remain there—By this transfer, Mr. President, if the Miner State Hospital at Hamburg were transferred, too, from the Department of Health to the Department of Public Welfare, and the increase from 600 to 1,000 beds were allowed, the net gain would be 1,000 beds. If the 415 mentally retarded were moved from the Pennhurst State Annex to the Miner State Hospital at Hamburg, the net gain would be 585 beds.

Of course, this is a matter of people who are mentally ill or very, very unfortunate, but, at the same time, this one particular amendment, Mr. President, is a matter of arithmetic. It is providing for a net increase of 1,000 beds for the mentally retarded. I understand there are some 2,000 to 3,000 of these unfortunate people on the waiting list at the present time, as opposed to an increase of 585 beds.

I hope, Mr. President, that this might answer the question in Senator Weiner's mind, at least in so far as this one amendment is concerned.

Mr. ROONEY. Mr. President, we recently completed an investigation of the Department of Public Welfare. We went into this problem very thoroughly. I discussed the problem with the Secretary of Public Welfare and I discussed the problem with the Secretary of Health. This is the only practical means to a possible solution of the number of retarded children who are waiting today to get into State hospitals.

Today, in Pennsylvania, we have 11,000 retarded children. There is a waiting list of 3,000, and it is growing at a rapid rate of 100 every month.

They want to set up a hospital at Hamburg which can accommodate 1,000 bed patients of mentally retarded, and give them all of the accommodations and services which they need.

The way the bill is going to be passed in this Senate probably, you will have mentally retarded patients in the Pennhurst Annex, you will have the TB patients at Mont Alto, and you will have the intermingling of TB patients with the retarded children at Hamburg. I do not think that is any kind of a solution to the problem that is confronting us today.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, because this is such an important matter, I would like to read a short memorandum that I have received from the Department of Public Welfare. I do not believe I have read this to you before. "Crib Cases on the Waiting List" is the subject. I will not read all of the memorandum.

"We tabulated the number of retarded persons on the list for admission to a State institution from both the hard and soft coal counties. As you will see, of about 3,000 children on the list, 1,379 come from the coal counties alone. Of these 1,379, 677 are crib cases who are particularly hard to care for at home as they grow older physically and, therefore, larger and heavier.

"The transfer to this Department of the Hamburg Hospital would give us space for about 600 more crib cases. We cannot say that all of these admissions would come from the coal counties because we give priority to the hardship cases: the presence of small children in the family, the strength of the mother and the difficulty in handling the retarded child. We do assume, however, that some of those who would be admitted to Hamburg would come from the coal counties."

Then there is a tabulation of the number of people waiting to get in, and the number who are crib cases compared to the others.

Of the seventy-two, for example, in Washington County who are waiting to enter, thirty-nine are crib cases and thirty-three are ambulatory. In Blair County, of the sixty-three who are waiting to enter, thirty-nine are crib cases and twenty-four are ambulatory, and on and so forth. I will not take time to read all of the figures.

I think anything that we do to impede the use of these institutions or the space they have available for this type of tragedy, we are just creating for ourselves further problems that we will have to deal with at some later date.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, there is no question about it. We are all endeavoring to arrive at the best solution or, at least, an alleviation of a very, very serious and very harrowing problem.

I know that our intentions are all in that direction, and, therefore, I would suggest that we pass this bill and have it ironed out just as speedily as possible.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I would like to call your attention to this condition. Under this bill, you are transferring the Hamburg Hospital from the Department of Health to the Department of Public Welfare. In the same bill, you are leaving part of the tuberculosis patients at Hamburg, and I do not believe the Department of Public Welfare is equipped to take care of them. You are taking them out of the Department of Health and putting them under the Department of Public Welfare. They are not equipped to take care of tuberculosis patients. That is the thing I am objecting to.

Mr. ELLIOTT. Mr. President, these amendments were discussed rather thoroughly a week or ten days ago, and the one amendment to which I am addressing myself, and the one amendment alone, is an amendment which would increase the beds and the space for the mentally retarded. It would increase the beds by 415, roughly, which are already in use at the Pennhurst State Annex.

I would be glad, if Senator Weiner would like to have me do so, to read to him the letters which I read on that day, which are a matter of record, from the Franklin County Medical Society, the Chambersburg Hospital staff and some of the employees of the Pennhurst State Annex, pointing out the meaningfulness and the importance of this particular operation since it was established by agreement between the two departments two years ago.

As far as this one particular amendment is concerned, as I recall, after the discussion, the amendment was agreed on unanimously. I assumed, therefore, that this was a matter of agreement among all of us because all of us, as Senator Berger so aptly pointed out a minute ago, are interested in one and the same thing, and that is to provide as many beds as possible to care for these people who are literally waiting to get into those beds which we can provide for them.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, does it not seem a little strange that in a State where we have sixty-seven counties and one county objects, we then arrive at a situation that is sort of an impasse when we should be dealing with this entire problem and trying to solve it? If the Franklin County Medical Association has some problem about this, why do they not take it up with the department? What may have been true two years ago is not true today. If they are relying on an agreement they made two years ago, that is the situation which existed then and it is not the one that exists at this moment.

This seems to be just peculiar to this particular area. Perhaps they do have a problem, and I am sympathetic to that problem. However, I think it behooves all of us as members of the board of directors of this large corporation to deal with the problem as it affects the majority of the people, and to worry about their problem and not some particular little group that may have some sort of feeling about this thing. I do not say that their feeling is wrong. I do not even say that what they are trying to do is wrong. However, I think when you disregard what the majority of the people are trying to do—we are trying to help the group which needs the help most, and who are unable to help themselves—you are disregarding the entire welfare of the community, that community being this State.

Mr. ELLIOTT. Mr. President, if one of the officers of that board had been present at the directors' meeting, ten days or two weeks ago, he would have heard that this is not a particular problem of a locality. This is simply a desire of people who are interested—certainly, I would not say that they are any more interested, but I can say, without argument, they are as interested in the over-all problem as anyone else—to maintain not a project in which they have a personal relationship, but maintain 415 beds and provide 1,000 extra. It is just a question of providing, Mr. President, extra beds. As I said, I do not like to get it down to arithmetic, but the idea is to expand, as I understand it, the Miner State Hospital, at Hamburg, from a 600-bed capacity hospital to a 1,000-bed capacity hospital. If you move 415 from one place to another and subtract that from 1,000, you have a net gain of 585. If you leave the 415 and have the 1,000, you have a net gain of 1,000.

I think, perhaps, it is my fault for not making this as clear as I should, but it is a question of everybody trying to do I think the same thing, and that is to provide beds for these people who really need them.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, in my opinion, Senator Elliott is talking double talk. It is a very high grade of double talk, but it is still double talk. He knows that no additional facilities are going to be provided and, therefore, the total amount of bed space is limited.

If you turn over the whole institution at Hamburg to the retarded children, and if you also keep the present group of retarded children at Mont Alto, then it is obvious that you must find something to do with the patients who are now at Hamburg. The gentleman did not mention that. In other words, if you put them at Mont Alto, it is obvious you are going to have that many less beds at Mont Alto for the mentally retarded. You cannot possibly do what Senator Elliott said you are going to do, unless you throw the people who are now in the Hamburg Hospital out in the street.

However, the serious thing about what Senator Elliott proposes to do, I think, is that you are going to end up with two institutions, neither of which is going to be as effective in carrying out their purpose. You are going to have two institutions, both with divided purposes and both operating two different types of treatment. The net result will be poorer treatment, poorer care, in my opinion, for these retarded children and for these afflicted miners. That, I think, is the serious part of this proposal. However, I am going to vote for the bill in order to move it to a Conference Committee so we can get somewhere. I am perfectly content to do that.

Mr. ELLIOTT. Mr. President, I think the last remark made by the good Senator from York is probably as reasonable and plausible as any of us, including myself, have made, and that is to vote for the bill, get it moving and get it going where we can get a really and truly satisfactory and honest solution to the problem.

I would like simply to say just two things, Mr. President. First, with regard to the tubercular patients, if one were to take a census—I do not have the figures and information available which I had two weeks ago, when we discussed this bill and the amendment passed—I think one would find that there are now something in the neighborhood of 150 or 200 tubercular patients at Miner State Hospital, some having already been transferred to the Samuel G. Dixon Hospital, some having been transferred to other sanatoria, and that the sanatoria are still not operating at ninety, ninety-three or ninety-five per cent capacity. It is the hope that these people, who would have to be moved, could be moved into those beds which are available in the State Tuberculosis Hospitals.

Secondly, Mr. President, the reason why I mentioned on this floor again the references from the Medical Association and the hospital staff was, as I said two weeks ago, because I am not a person, as a layman, to make any medical or professional judgment on the type of work which is being done at Pennhurst State Annex. For the last two years, there have been two separate operations on the hill in Mont Alto, Pennsylvania; namely, one has been a tubercular one and one has been a mental health one. It was the Medical Association—and not "Doug" Elliott—and the Chambersburg Hospital staff, consisting of professional people, who said this was one of the finest operations for the care of the mentally retarded in the State of Pennsylvania. That was my purpose for mentioning that. It is not that they had such a strong personal interest in it and did not want to let it go, but simply that this was a professional judgment of the kind of operation which is at Pennhurst Annex and which has been going on for two years, in the same place, with one a tuberculosis care center and the other a mentally retarded care center.

Perhaps, now I can join with my good friend from York, Senator Seyler, and say that possibly we can vote on the bill and vote favorably because we are all interested in the same problem.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I just hope that the gentlemen who occasionally come in here to observe us were listening when Senator Elliott was speaking. They will realize that he is just not an ordinary Senator because he knows the plural of the word "sanatorium," which is "sanatoria." I think we should pass this bill and get it to a Conference Committee.

"Section 1303-B. Manner and Time of Applying for Absentee Ballot.—(a) Except as hereinafter provided, any elector desiring an official absentee ballot for the reason that he expects to be unavoidably absent from the county of his voting residence on the day of election because of duties, occupation or business shall apply therefor in person to the chief clerk of the county board of elections, and he shall then and there complete an original and a duplicate of Part 1 of the form prescribed by section 1302-B and deliver both copies of the form to the chief clerk. Any application for an official absentee ballot, assigning such reason and not delivered to the chief clerk as aforesaid, shall be void.

"(b) Any elector desiring an official absentee ballot for the reason that he expects to be unable to attend his proper polling place on the day of election because of illness or physical disability shall signify that desire to the chief clerk of the county board of elections in writing, signed by the elector, and delivered to the chief clerk by any means. Upon receipt of such writing the chief clerk shall mail to the elector, at the address stated in such writing, two copies of the form prescribed by section 1302-B. The elector shall complete an original and a duplicate of Part 1 of such form, and deliver both copies of the form to the chief clerk by any means.

"(c) Any elector desiring an official absentee ballot for the reason that he expects to be unavoidably absent from the county of his voting residence on the day of election because of duties, occupation or business and who is or expects to be so unavoidably absent during the thirty days preceding the day of the election in which the ballot is cast shall signify that desire to the chief clerk of the county board of elections in writing, signed by the elector and delivered to the chief clerk by any means. Upon receipt of such writing the chief clerk shall mail to the elector, at the address stated in the writing, two copies of the form prescribed by section 1302-B. The elector shall complete an original and duplicate of Part 1 of such form and deliver both copies to the chief clerk by any means.

"(d) Every application for an official absentee ballot, comprising the original and duplicate completed Part 1 on the form aforesaid, shall be delivered to the chief clerk no earlier than the thirtieth day and no later than the seventh day preceding the day of the election in which the ballot is to be cast. All applications received at other times shall be void.

"Section 1304-B. Issuance of Official Absentee Ballots, Envelopes, and Certificate.—Upon delivery to him of an application for an official absentee ballot as prescribed by section 1303-B, the chief clerk of the county board of elections shall compare the signature and voting residence of the applicant upon such application with the signature and voting residence of applicant in the permanent registration records of the board of registration commissioners; and if he is satisfied that applicant is entitled to vote as stated in the application and has no reason to believe to the contrary, he shall enter in ink on the appropriate district register, in the place provided to signify the applicant's having voted at the election, the letter "A"; and he shall sign Part 2 on both the original and duplicate of the application, and he shall hand or mail to the applicant the following:

"(a) One official absentee ballot, which shall be in the same form as regular and official ballots except that it shall be printed upon blue paper and shall have printed on the back thereof, in addition to any other matter now required by law, the words "Official Absentee Ballot."

"(b) A gummed envelope approximating the size known commercially as number six and three-quarters with the words "Official Absentee Ballot" printed upon it, and nothing else. Such envelope is hereafter referred to as the first envelope.

"(c) The original of the form prescribed by section 1302-B, Parts 1 and 2 of which shall have been completed as aforesaid.

"(d) A gummed envelope approximating the size known commercially as number ten, on which there shall be printed as addressee the name and post office address of the county board of elections, and in the upper left corner the words "Absentee Voter." Such envelope is hereafter referred to as the second envelope.

"Section 1305-B. Balloting and Mailing.—The elector to whom an official absentee ballot shall have been issued may cast the ballot in the following manner and not otherwise:

"(a) He shall, in secret, mark the ballot with blue, black or blue black ink in fountain pen or ball point pen or indelible pencil.

"(b) He shall place the marked ballot in the first envelope described in subsection (b) of section 1304-B, and seal the envelope.

"(c) He shall complete Part 3 of the form described in subsection (c) of section 1304-B, and have his signature witnessed by a subscribing witness as that part requires.

"(d) He shall place both the form and the sealed first envelope containing the marked ballot in the second envelope described in subsection (d) of section 1304-B.

"(e) He shall seal the second envelope, affix the necessary first class mail postage thereto, except in cases where postage is not required, and mail it in sufficient time that the day of the postmark thereon shall not be later than the day of the election in which the ballot is to be cast.

"Section 1306-B. Absentee Voter's List.—Not less than five days preceding the election, the chief clerk shall prepare from the duplicates of completed Parts 1 and 2 of the forms retain by him a list for each election district showing the names and post office addresses of all voting residents thereof to whom official absentee ballots shall have been issued. Each such list shall be prepared in duplicate, shall be headed "Persons in (give identity of election district) to whom absentee ballots have issued for the election of (date of election)" and shall be signed by him. Not less than four days preceding the election he shall post the original of each such list in a conspicuous place in the office of the county election board and see that it is kept so posted until the close of the polls on election day. He shall cause the duplicate of each such list to be delivered to the judge of election in the election district, in the same manner and at the same time as are provided in this act for the delivery of other election supplies; and it shall be the duty of such judge of election to post such duplicate list in a conspicuous place within the polling place of his district and see that it is kept so posted throughout the time that the polls are open.

"Section 1307-B. Canvassing of Ballot.—The county board of elections upon receipt of a sealed second envelope shall keep it safely and shall deliver it, unopened, to the return board when it convenes to canvass the vote according to law. The return board shall reject, and mark "Rejected," without opening, any such envelope bearing no postmark or bearing a postmark later than the day of the election. After opening the remaining such envelopes, it shall reject and mark "Rejected" the contents of any such envelope if (a) it contains either more or less than the contents prescribed by subsection (d) of section 1305-B; or the form referred to in subsection (c) of section 1305-B shall not be complete and regular on its face; or (c) the signature of the applicant in Part 1 of such form does not correspond with the signature of the elector in Part 3 thereof. If the return board shall be satisfied that the contents meet the requirements prescribed therefor, it shall announce the name of the voter of the absentee ballot and shall give any person present an opportunity to challenge the same in like manner and for the same causes as the elector could have been challenged had he presented himself in his own district to cast his ballot. If there are no challenges, the form and the first envelope bearing the printed words "Official Absentee Ballot" shall be separated and such envelope together with all similar envelopes so separated shall be put into one depository at one time and said depository well shaken and the envelopes containing the ballots mixed before any ballot is taken therefrom. The return board shall then break the seals of such envelopes and record the ballots in the same manner as the election officer records votes and in so canvassing said votes the return board shall count the votes of all absentee electors taken as herein provided and add the same to the total result of the election in the county, district, precinct, or ward accordingly as designated on each ballot.

"Section 1308-B. Ballots to be Public Records.—The ballots after being opened and duly counted by the return board, together with completed forms received therewith are hereby designated and declared to be public records and shall be safely kept in the custody of the county board of elections for the period of two years and in case of a contested election the same may be opened and counted as in other cases."

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and Everliving God, we are aware of Thy providential care over the life of each one of us, and we come to Thee in this hour in thanksgiving for the great heritage which is ours from the past. Help us to never forget the sweat and toil expended by our forefathers to make this nation great, and especially for the wise counsel and foundation stones which have made Penn's Woods the Keystone State. O God, we pray that, as Thou dost lay heavily the responsibility for administering the affairs of this Commonwealth upon the shoulders of these Representatives, Thou wilt also grant them Thy power and guidance to spend themselves in Thy great service. In Jesus' precious name. Amen.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 298, entitled:

An Act to select and adopt the Beagle as the State dog of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JIM. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 298, on which we are about to vote, is one of the shortest bills, I believe, that has been presented in this House during this Session. There are just three lines in connection with the Bill.

Section 1. The Beagle is hereby selected and adopted as the State dog in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

With that in mind, it is a bill that will cost the state no money; it is not going to hurt anybody; it is going to make 900,000 hunters very happy if the Beagle is adopted as the state dog. All we have to do if this bill is enacted into law is insert the dog in this little Pennsylvania pamphlet.

In regard to the Beagle, I got in touch with the Joint State Government Commission and here is what they tell me about the Beagle:

As per your request of September 30, 1959, be advised as follows:

"1. The American Kennel Club advises us that, as of August 30, 1959, there were 4,460,625 dogs registered; of this number, 2,322 were Great Danes and 680,434 were Beagles. Numerically, the Beagle ranked first and the Great Dane twenty-ninth.

2. A sample check of license required by Pennsylvania for dogs six months of age or older showed that currently there are approximately 74 Beagles for every Great Dane licensed.

Another reason I am for this dog becoming the state dog is the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen, 894 clubs in 61 counties, with 163,000 members, are in favor of this bill. The state federation position favors the Beagle being the state dog. With that, I ask the Members of the House to vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 478 on page 8 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 478, entitled:

An Act selecting designating and adopting the Great Dane as the official dog of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I voted against the Beagle bill, and I intend to vote against this bill. If I were inclined to pick any dog as the state dog—if such a thing would be possible and practical, which it is not—I certainly would have voted for the Beagle.

I think it is one of the most ridiculous, most asinine things in the world that such bills ever came out of Committee to take up the time of this House voting on such trash legislation. It is just not worth while.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, every person is entitled to his opinion. The people who have worked for many years dealing with the adopting of the Great Dane as the official dog of the Commonwealth, I believe have been sincere people.

I am not here pleading the cause of this piece of legislation, but someone chastising because in his opinion such legislation in trash only reflects the opinion of that particular individual. I think we owe due respect to those people who year after year, Session after Session, came here and talked to you individually about this particular piece of legislation.

You may vote "No" or you may vote "Yes," but I think it helps resolve a situation. I think it is beneath the dignity of this House to engage in any barking or tantrums of any type on this legislation.

I ask that this legislation be voted on. Those who favor it vote for it, and those who oppose it vote in the negative.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. I would just like to make one comment for thought, since the bill has already passed.

Just the other day we had the distinct honor of having the Governor of this Commonwealth sign into law a bill making the White-tailed Deer the official state animal. Now the one question I would like to have answered: What is the difference between an animal and a dog?

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 355, entitled:

An Act amending "The Second Class Township Code" approved May 1, 1933 (P. L. 103) changing the amount of dues which may be paid by the township to the State Association of Township Supervisors.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GAILLEY. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry to be tardy in arising, but I just wanted to say a few words about this bill on the calendar before us.

I would just like to point out to the Members that there is no limitation whatsoever in this bill as to what dues might be decided upon by the local convention that the local townships might have to pay to their state association if they wanted to belong.

I suggest, Mr. Speaker, that many of these townships are working on a very close budget. They should have control themselves of what dues should be paid, and I think they look to us up here to protect them. I think it would be a very serious mistake for the House to pass this legislation, and I ask Members on both sides of the House to oppose it.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1152, Printer's No. 1584

House Bill No. 1161, Printer's No. 1375 and

House Bill No. 1316, Printer's No. 1739

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1342, entitled:

An Act amending the "Liquor Code" approved April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) excepting certain clubs from the quota limitations.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MCINROY. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, this bill has been up on a good many occasions on this House floor and has been defeated.

There is a serious question as to the constitutionality of this bill. It exempts a certain group of clubs, the service or the veterans' clubs, from the provisions of the Liquor Control Act as to quota. It has been found through past experience that the quota is the best method of handling liquor licenses in the state of Pennsylvania, and because of the question of its constitutionality and because of the question of opening the quota, I request that the Members of the House vote down this bill. It is not that we are not sympathetic to the veterans and to the veterans' organizations, but if we open the quota in this we will be asked to open it in many other instances. I see no particular reason at this time to pass this bill.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, at the end of World War II, some eight million veterans were discharged from active service. Prior to that time we had very few servicemen forming our service organizations in this country. However, since World War II and even since the Korean War, a great many veterans' organizations have come into existence representing the younger servicemen who were discharged after those two great conflicts.

I am sure, if we are realistic we will recognize that to exist a club must have some type of income, some type of recreation for its members. I am not strictly a wet voter, on some issues I vote wet, on some I vote dry, but on this particular issue I urge the Members to vote on behalf of these organizations which have come into existence since the end of these two wars.

Under the existing quota system, the newly formed veterans' organizations have no opportunity to secure liquor licenses. We all know that in our municipalities, the Moose, the Eagles, the Elks and every other club has its license. Their members enjoy the recreational facilities provided by those licenses. However, the newly formed veterans' organizations cannot acquire them under the existing quota laws.

As far as the Constitution is concerned, I submit to the Members that every question we pass upon here could be a question of constitutionality. We might run into that very same question with the fact that we have club licenses, that we have motel licenses, that we have beer licenses, that we have liquor licenses. We have them in different categories. This is merely creating an additional category under the quota system and exempting them from that system so that our veterans' organizations that have been newly formed may enjoy the same privileges as the other existing clubs now have.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1997, entitled:

An Act amending "The Pennsylvania Occupational Disease Act," approved June 21, 1939 (P. L. 566), including certain diseases of fire-fighters within the meaning of the term occupational disease.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would request that one of the sponsors of the bill give us a brief explanation of this bill, please.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Dauphine, Mr. Bowman, has asked for an explanation of the bill by one of the sponsors. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Capano.

Mr. CAPANO. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire from the gentleman, what was his question?

Mr. BOWMAN. I merely requested, Mr. Speaker, a brief explanation of the purpose and content of the bill.

Mr. CAPANO. The purpose of the bill, I believe, is exactly as it is stated in the bill itself, that is, to include into the occupational diseases as compensable diseases, the heart and lungs resulting in either temporary or permanent disability, so as to include men who are engaged in fire fighting, who may become subject to some over-exertion in time of stress or when fighting fires inhale smoke and fumes. I understand these men are more subject than any other group to contacting lung and respiratory conditions and also more subject to heart conditions. So, they would like to have themselves included under the Act as compensable.

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate Mr. Capano.

Is the language found in this bill the same as the language contained in the Act of 1935 which provides that city policemen and firemen suffering certain disabilities on duty can continue to receive their pay?

Mr. CAPANO. That I could not answer. I am not familiar with the Act of 1935.

Mr. BOWMAN. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I have not had an opportunity to study this bill and I would have liked to have had an answer to this particular question.

There is an Act known as the Act of 1935 which provides with respect to policemen and firemen that during the periods they suffer certain types of disabilities they shall continue to receive their pay and shall be also entitled to recompense from the city or municipality for any and all medical and hospital bills incurred incident to such disability. I am not here in opposition to this bill. I merely asked the question whether this bill covers the same subject-matter which is presently covered by the Act of 1935, and until that question is answered I do not feel that I can intelligently vote upon this bill.

Mr. CAPANO. Mr. Speaker, while I said I was not familiar with the Act of 1935, I do recall some phase of that Act. I thought that was only providing for compensation, or rather, the wages that were earned during the specific time, and this, of course, is for permanent relief, where a person becomes totally disabled, and covers a period that extends beyond that limited time as it is covered by the Act of 1935. Nevertheless, you could not receive both. If he is receiving his salary or his regular wage he could not receive compensation, unemployment or occupational disease compensation.

Mr. BOWMAN. The gentleman is correct to the extent that if a city or municipal fireman or policeman is receiving compensation under the existing Workmens' Compensation or Occupational Disease Law, the city is entitled to a refund or a subrogation, as we say in the law, of that amount of money. In other words the individual policeman or fireman cannot collect twice. I am quite aware of that provision.

I am also aware of the provision that the relief afforded by the Act of 1935 is designated as temporary. However, it lasts as long as there is this disability but does not include permanent disability. I am aware of that.

The question, precisely that I am interested in, however, is whether it covers precisely the same disability in this bill as under the Act of 1935, and that is the question I would like to have answered for the simple reason that the city of Harrisburg under the Act of 1935, has had some question as to whether it is also covered by the Occupational Disease Law.

Mr. CAPANO. Mr. Speaker, if the request of the gentleman is that he would like to have the bill go over so that he could inquire further into it, I have no objection to having the bill put on the postponed calendar, if the gentleman would make the motion.

Mr. BOWMAN. I thank the gentleman and it will only take me one day's time to check this.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS CALLED UP OUT OF ORDER

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up bills out of order.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2209, entitled:

An Act providing for the adjudication of contract claims against the Commonwealth with the establishment of a Board to hear such claims providing for appeals to the Supreme Court providing for salaries of the members of the Board the procedure to be followed and further providing that the Commonwealth consents to be sued upon contract claims and making an appropriation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TOMPKINS asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 103, page 4, line 15, by striking out "AN EMPLOYEE" and inserting: the appointee.

Amend Sec. 701, page 16, line 7, by inserting after "act": including payment of the salary of the executive secretary.

Amend Bill, page 16, by inserting after line 11: Section 702. So much of the appropriation made to the Department of the Auditor General for the administration of the Board of Arbitration of Claims as may be expended as of the effective date of this act shall lapse.

Section 703. This act shall take effect immediately.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TOMPKINS asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 1, third line of Title, by inserting after "Court": prescribing powers and duties of the Board.

Amend Title, page 1, fourth line of Title, by striking out "of the Board" and inserting: thereof.

Amend Sec. 201, page 7, line 2, by inserting after "pensation": or any claim under the Pennsylvania Occupational Disease Act.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. TOMPKINS asked unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 401, page 13, line 14, by striking out "Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County" and inserting: court of common pleas of the county in which the claimant resides or in which he has his principal place of business.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, these amendments, the bill as drafted provides that appeals from this board of contract claims shall be taken to the Commonwealth Courts of Dauphin County. These amendments take that jurisdiction away from Dauphin County and place it in the courts where the case arose or where the principal place of business of the party might be.

The purpose of this amendment—I have no objection and I am not trying to belittle the Commonwealth's court in Harrisburg or in Dauphin County—but so often and too often people are unable to travel to Harrisburg to defend themselves and get their right justice because of the expense involved. If this is placed back into the hands of the county courts instead of on appeals in Dauphin County courts, we believe people will have better protection in their rights before the courts on the expense angle and they can better afford then to defend themselves.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the third set of amendments offered by the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins.

In the proposed legislation, House Bill 2209, the appeals would be taken to the court of common pleas of Dauphin County, or commonly known as the Commonwealth court, which means that all appeals would be heard here in the Commonwealth court instead of being heard in each of the respective counties.

Mr. Speaker, I ask that we oppose these amendments offered by the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, pertaining to the court procedure.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

A division was called for, seventy-eight Members having voted in the affirmative and eighty-five in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2299, entitled:

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code" approved April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58) further regulating restrictions as to speed.

On the question,

An Act amending the act of August 10, 1951 (P. L. 1163) entitled as amended "Orphans' Court Act of 1951" divesting the Orphans' Court of Philadelphia of jurisdiction over birth records and related matters and conferring such jurisdiction on the Municipal Court of Philadelphia if the person is a resident of Philadelphia.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. FINEMAN asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 301), page 2, line 13, by striking out "issues" and inserting: "issues."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 301), page 2, line 15, by striking out "person" and inserting: "resident of Philadelphia."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 301), page 3, line 3 and 4, by striking out "if the person is a resident of Philadelphia,"

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 301), page 3, line 5, by inserting after "court": "by a resident of Philadelphia."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 301), page 3, line 7, by inserting after "proceeding": "the petition."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 301), page 3, line 8, by striking out "if the person is a resident of Philadelphia."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bell. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. BELL. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. BELL. Are we at this time voting to take the bill and the proposed amendments off the table so that there will be debate as to whether the bill be amended or not?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. That is correct.

Mr. CLARKE. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as several weeks have passed since this bill was last discussed with the proposed amendments, I would request that Mr. Schaaf, I believe it was, who proposed these amendments, explain them to us once again.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I do not intend to debate these amendments at any great length, but if the Members of the House will recall, these amendments were what I termed and what I still believe are essentially compromise amendments.

The bill as it was re-reported from the Appropriations Committee in its present Printers No. 1593, I believe it is, contains amendments, the net effect of which I believe is to create a separate enclave in the area of the Delaware River.

As one of the Members of the Committee which originally worked very hard and very strenuously on this particular bill, we can appreciate the position of the counties in that area, but nevertheless we strongly feel that the effect of these amendments is to destroy the overall good effect and general application of the bill. Consequently these amendments were offered with two things in mind. No. 1, to restore the bill to a workable condition, and No. 2, to nevertheless grant some concession to the people in that area. I think that is sufficient explanation.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose these amendments. I am not going into the matter which was very thoroughly covered in what I believe was an hour and a half's debate on September 15, but I do desire to cover certain items which have taken place since that time.

I have in my hands the resolution of the Navigation Commission for the Delaware River which is an agency of the Department of Forests and Waters. This resolution strongly urges that this House pass the bill in the form in which it came out of the Appropriations Committee, pass the bill without these amendments which have been submitted on the floor.

These are not compromise amendments. These are amendments to insert the Fish Commission into the navigable portion of the Delaware River, and I wish to say this, on the Delaware River, on the navigable portion, we already have a number of agencies, the Coast Guard, the Engineers' Department of the United States Army, we have the Navigation Commission, and this will bring us a fourth agency.

Since then I have looked up where the boundary line runs up and down the Delaware River. That boundary was set in the 1700's and runs like a snake from side to side, including some islands in Pennsylvania and some in New Jersey. Under a pre-constitutional agreement the Navigation Commission has full jurisdiction over this river all the way over to the Jersey shore, including New Jersey's waters.

The second thing which I would like to bring out, I have in my possession the September issue of the Pennsylvania Angler. This is a publication of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, the Commission that is trying to get a foothold on the navigable portion of the Delaware River, and it reads: "Enforcement pays off." This article is found on page 3. I am not going to read it at length. We have been here a long time today, but this article states that the Fish Commission in the Conneaut Lake area when it went in and enforced the existing law, the accidents which formerly took place on Conneaut Lake were cut down. In other words, if you recall, in interrogation on this floor I tried to pin down my opponent into admitting that the Fish Commission right now has full power over the safety factors with respect to motor boats on the inland waters and the lakes of this state. I did not get the admission, but I went to the law books and I find that the Act of 1931 as amended in 1933, gave the Fish Commission full regulatory powers over safety with respect to motor boats on the inland waters and the lakes.

On the floor on that date I said that the Fish Commission's experience record in administering this law has been very poor; I think I used a more forceful adjective, and I say it again. We in the Delaware Valley are content with the Navigation Commission exercising its right of control over motor boating on the navigable portions of the Delaware River, and we do not want the Fish Commission there.

Therefore, ladies and gentlemen of the House, without taking any more of your time, I urge that everyone here vote against these amendments.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, these amendments, as has been stated, were debated at length in this House on September 15. At that time there was considerable comment about who owned yachts and who did not; about the constitutionality of the bill without the amendments.

These points I am not going to debate. In the first place, I am not a lawyer and even they never seem to agree in this House, and in the second place, my comments are these. I live on tidewater in the Delaware River. I do not own a boat of any kind, not even one of those boats propelled by oars. I do have a marina in my own borough operated by the Recreation Board. I know that harbor masters have been up and down Darby Creek, and sportsmen say the regulations there are good, even covered by some borough ordinances. The people on the tidewater portion of the Delaware River adjacent to where I live do not want and do not need any fish wardens. In the first place, we have no fish; in the second place, our boating is well regulated.

I think we can save the Commonwealth a few positions, a few jobs, and, from what I have been hearing around this House today, there is not too much money around to pay the bills we have already contracted. All we ask in tidewater on the Delaware River is to be let alone and for that reason, and I see no reason for these amendments, I ask the ladies and gentlemen of this House to vote them down.

Mr. DOUGHERTY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose these amendments on just plain common sense. Before the Revolutionary War and ever since, the Coast Guard and Navigation Commission have controlled the waters of the Delaware and its tributaries. To place it in the hands of the Fish Commission that knows none of its problems would just be unthinkable.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

A division was called for, more than a majority of the Members having voted in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

The first section was read and agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Messrs. WILLARD and DOWN offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 2, page 18, line 2, by striking out "2" and inserting: 12.

Amend Sec. 2, page 18, line 5, by striking out "in" and inserting: In.

Amend Sec. 2, page 18, line 5, by striking out "a person" and inserting: two persons.

Amend Sec. 2, page 18, lines 7 and 8, by striking out "unless there is an adequate rear vision" in line 7, and all of line 8.

They were agreed to.

The third to fourteenth sections were separately read and agreed to.

The fifteenth section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Messrs. WILLARD and DOWN offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 15, page 20, line 16, by striking out "Owner's" and inserting: Operator's.

It was agreed to.

The sixteenth to twenty-sixth sections inclusive and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Mr. R. P. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, October 13, 1959.

On Sunday, October 11, 1959, Bert Bell the Commissioner of the National Football League died while in attendance at a professional football game, a sport which owes much of its present popularity and success to the efforts of this man.

When Bell took over as czar in 1946, the N.F.L. was a mass of confusion and riddled with debt and professional football was ridiculed as little more than a carnival with three or four featured players and a cast of lesser performers.

Under his rule and efforts, however, the league became well organized and prospered beyond the wildest dreams of the men who made Bell their boss; and professional football was elevated to the position of a major and popular sport.

The personable Commissioner, one of the best liked men on the American sports scene, was confronted with many crises during his regime which threatened to destroy the game he loved so well, but his understanding of the problems peculiar to his sport enabled him to overcome these problems and save the professional football game from oblivion.

It was Bell who introduced the player draft system to pro football, a system which provides for the equalization of teams and which is described as the savior of the game.

Mr. Bell, a member of a prominent Pennsylvania family, was educated in Philadelphia and was a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania where he captained the football team. He entered the N.F.L. in 1933 as part owner of the Frankford Yellowjackets and in 1940 he bought a half interest in the Philadelphia Eagles.

At the time of his death Mr. Bell resided at 323 Haverford Avenue, Narberth, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of this House of Representatives pay tribute to Bert Bell who brought distinction and honor not only upon himself as a great leader in the sports world but also upon the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as one of its leading citizens, and be it further

Resolved, That the members of this House of Representatives extend their deepest sympathies to his loved ones upon their recent loss and bereavement, and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to his wife Frances Upton Bell, his two sons George Upton Bell and John Bert Bell, Jr. and his daughter Jane Bell.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. YETTER from the Committee on Highways, reported as amended, House Bill No. 2403, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 27, 1957 (P. L. 203) entitled "An act authorizing the Department of Highways, with the approval of the Governor, to erect and maintain a high level bridge over the Allegheny River, in Freeport, Armstrong County, * * *" changing the location at which the bridge is to be erected.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair is informed that today is the birthday of one of our Members, the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Odorisio.

The Chair recognizes Dr. Dengler.

Mr. DENGLER. It gives me great pleasure from time to time to lead this House in the singing of Happy Birthday, but today is an unusual day because the birthday happens to be that of my side-kick from Delaware County. Rocco is a singer of note; he sings Italian songs beautifully, he is a linguist and he is a gentleman of the old school. Let's all sing Happy Birthday, dear Rocco.

The Members joined in singing "Happy Birthday."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman.

Mr. ODORISIO: Mr. Speaker, with each birthday comes the bitter and the sweet; the bitter in the knowledge that you are growing older; the sweet the joy in the knowledge of the new friends that you have made during the past year. I can sincerely say that I have made many here during this term.

Thank you for your good wishes.

Mr. DENGLER. Mrs. Odorisio is here and I think we ought to have her rise for a bow. Will you please recognize her for a bow?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the lady please rise in her place?

The Chair welcomes the lady to the Hall of the House.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE INSISTS ON AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments, non-concurred in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 2100, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 6, 1956 (P. L. 1228) entitled as amended "Selective Sales and Use Tax Act" defining or re-defining certain words terms or phrases imposing tax on soft drinks at the retail level providing for alternate imposition of tax in certain cases changing procedures relative to tax refunds or credits conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons soliciting orders by means of catalogues or other advertising changing certain provisions relating to returns assessments and basis of such assessments imposing liabilities and duties on certain sellers transferors auctioneers and certain purchasers involved in bulk sales or auction sales transactions clarifying provisions relating to liens and the priority and effect thereof providing for suits by the Commonwealth for collection of tax granting tax suit comity to certain foreign states in certain cases regulating service of notice or process authorizing abatement of additions or penalties under certain circumstances changing the department's authority regarding enforcement of rules and regulations.

By Mr. DOWN.

RESOLUTION (Not Printed)

In the House of Representatives, October 13, 1959.

The inclusion of an essay contest in the Columbus Day celebrations in Pennsylvania has done much to allow and promote expressions by young citizens of pride in and patriotism for this glorious country.

The winning of an engraved certificate of merit by Miss Marina Lebrere of St. Michael School, Greenville, Pennsylvania, in the Columbus Day essay contest is a matter of great pride to her friends and to all residents of her community. In her essay she expressed the sentiments and attitudes of a truly fine American; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby extends its congratulations to Miss Lebrere on the recognition accorded her on her fine essay; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Miss Marina Lebrere, Conneaut Lake Road, Greenville, Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1959.

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p.m., Easter Standard Time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (William Z. Scott) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. MAX BURTON CONLEY, Pastor of Appleby Manor Memorial Presbyterian Church, Ford City, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Our Father, Lord of heaven and of earth, we acknowledge that Thou dost govern in the affairs of men. If a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without Thy notice, how can we think Thou art indifferent to what we say and do here? If Thou dost number the hairs of our head, how can we think that Thou would think any act or thought we may harbor in our minds is insignificant or unnoticed? If Thou didst create the world for the good of all men, how can we be hardened to each others needs?

If this day Thou dost want us to do or not to do any particular thing, we pray that Thou wilt make it plain to us, for Thou knowest how blind we can be and how stubborn in our own intentions. If there be any here sulking as children will, deal with and enlighten him. If there be any here out for revenge against another, make him know, "Vengeance is mine, I will repay," saith the Lord. If there be any here sick of body and troubled in mind, heal the body, quiet the mind, for we cannot work to our best while the body cries out for attention.

Give us courage, faith and the quiet mind. Give life to our good intentions, least they be stillborn. Bless us in all that is right, and correct us in all that is wrong. Knowing Thee, we know that this is not asking too much, only that which Thy goodness would have for Thy children. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDING OFFICER. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BERGER and Mr. FLEMING, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

OFFICERS AND MEMBERS OF THE PENNSYLVANIA
EQUAL RIGHTS COUNCIL PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, it gives me great pleasure to present to the Senate of Pennsylvania over 500 citizens of this Commonwealth who have come from every part of the State to voice their interest in the Fair Housing Bill. These people are members of the Pennsylvania Equal Rights Council. They are here with many of their officers who, at this time, I would like to introduce. They consist of the following people:

The Chairman of the Council, Walter Gay, Esquire, who heads the National Association For the Advancement of Colored People; the Executive Vice-Chairman, Francis C. Shane, Committee on Civil Rights of the United Steelworkers of America; the Secretary, Fred Grossman, Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, from Philadelphia; and the Treasurer, Robert K. Greenfield, Esquire, Jewish Community Relations Council of Philadelphia.

Mr. President, these people would like to be recognized, in their presence here, as being here for a worthy cause which I think all of us agree to.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair, on behalf of the Members of the Senate of Pennsylvania, would like to extend a welcome to the Officers and Members of the Pennsylvania Equal Rights Council who have come here today. We most certainly hope that your visit to our State Capitol will be a most enjoyable one.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, if I may, I would like to add that these people would have a very pleasant visit, and probably a happier one, if they could get what they came for; namely, the passage of the Fair Housing Bill, House Bill No. 322.

A goodly number of these people reside in my district and have been after this matter for years. This is not the first time they have been here. They are not particularly happy with the way the bill has been amended, having reached this Body. However, I think they, at least, would like to have the matter considered in order for it to receive a fair run for its money, win draw or lose.

I think I express the sentiment of the group when I say that if we had this bill on the Calendar, almost everybody would vote for it and it would become law. We feel that it is needed, not so much because we want to enforce this thing, but I think, as an expression of public policy, it is how we, as human beings, feel we should live with each other in this Commonwealth.

NOMINATION BY THE GOVERNOR

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations:

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY ALTERNATIVE MEASURES OF THE LOCAL ABILITY TO FINANCE PUBLIC EDUCATION

Messrs. STEVENSON, WHALLEY, WAGNER and WALKER offered the following resolution (Serial No. 75), which was read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, October 14, 1959.

Whereas, The equitable distribution of public school costs between State and local governments and among differently circumstanced direct and indirect beneficiaries of public education is of vital concern to the General Assembly; and

Whereas, The portion of public school costs borne by the State government of the Commonwealth has increased continuously over the past few decades and is now significantly above the portion borne by all State governments combined, and by the State governments of surrounding States; and

Whereas, The need for a comprehensive re-examination of the ability of local school districts to finance public education and of the ways to reliably measure that ability is imperative; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study alternative measures of the local ability to finance public education and evaluate the effects consequent upon the use of alternative measures upon the division of public school costs between the State government and school districts and among different groups of taxpayers.

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON FINANCE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 1590

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President. I present to the Chair two discharge resolutions, and ask that they both be read as they refer to the same matter.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Clerk will read the resolution.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the Senate, October 14, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 1590, Printer's No. 1319 entitled "An act imposing a permanent and a temporary State tax on fuels used within the Commonwealth in internal combustion engines for the generation of power to propel motor vehicles using the public highways; imposing a permanent tax on the fuels used in aircraft or aircraft engines; providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof; requiring dealer-users to secure licenses and to file bonds as a guarantee of payment of taxes, penalties, interest, fines, uncollectible check fees and Attorney General's fees, to file reports and to compile and retain certain records; requiring registration of carriers for hire; imposing duties on such persons; requiring persons selling or delivering fuels to licensed dealer-users to furnish information; imposing certain costs on counties; conferring powers and imposing duties on State officers and departments; providing for refunds of taxes, penalties and interest illegally or erroneously collected from licensees; and providing penalties" having been referred to the Committee on Finance on August 19, 1959 and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to request that the Clerk read the other resolution, so that I may speak on both of them at the same time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Clerk will read the second resolution as introduced by Senator Weiner.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON FINANCE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL
No.1593

In the Senate, October 14, 1959

Resolved, That House Bill 1593, Printer's No. 1320, entitled "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are practically and commercially suitable for use in internal combustion engines for the generation of power providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporate surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records imposing duties on retail dealers, common carriers, county commissioners and such distributors; providing for rewards; imposing certain costs on counties, conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments; providing for refunds; imposing penalties and making an appropriation," having been referred to the committee on Finance on August 19, 1959 and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The question before the Senate is on the adoption of the first resolution offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Weiner, which is to discharge the Committee on Finance from further consideration of House Bill No. 1590.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the reason for offering these discharge resolutions at this time is based on the fact that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania needs this money and needs it badly. I doubt whether there is a gentleman sitting here today who, in his own area, does not need roads built, whether they be of the primary type or of the secondary type. I doubt whether there is anyone here who does not need some type of building in his area to bring in either business or, at least, to bring in the tourist trade.

For example, Mr. President, let us take the areas of Somerset and Cambria Counties, both of which are represented by gentlemen sitting on the other side of the aisle. Route No. 219, in that area, needs this type of work. There is no way for this work to be done unless money is raised to do it. The one-cent tax, represented by these two House Bills, is of such a nature that it actually brings money to the Commonwealth. Suppose I were to tell you that for every dollar which we put up, the Federal Government will return to us three dollars. That seems like a fairly decent return on your money.

Under this bill, if passed, the one-cent tax would raise $64,000,000. We have, in Pennsylvania, a situation which is a little bit different, but actually the same as the Federal Government has. We have the President of the United States being of one political faith and the Federal Congress being of another political faith. The President suggested this one-cent tax on gasoline in order to continue the highway building program. This was enacted by the Democratic National Legislature because they felt the need to continue the program. Unfortunately, our highway system is not the type which can be built within a week or ten days. There is a long planning stage which is needed. There are extensive plans, diagrams, excavations and testings which have to be done before the final program can be evolved. When that is done, the necessary bids have to be taken, money arranged the necessary equipment brought in to do the job.

Every penny that we spend on highway returns to us many times over. One thing about the tax is that it is an equitable tax in the sense that the people who use the highways pay the tax. It is not those who have nothing to do with or nothing to gain by it who have to bear or share this burden. It is the persons who receive the benefit who actually bear the burden in this problem. This is a capital improvement. It is like building a building. It is the type of an investment that keeps returning because of the money which you expend. The money, in regard to this investment, continues to come back to us again and again. It is the type of thing which, if you were to build a high structure and you immediately saw the benefit of it, the benefit would redound to the entire State and to the entire tax picture.

I believe all of you who have been down in the Philadelphia area and in the area of Montgomery County, which is represented by one of the Senators here who also happens to be sitting on the other side of the aisle, can tell us very accurately that the large industrial park areas, now located and opening up in the Valley Forge, King of Prussia and Fort Washington Park areas, did not happen by themselves. They came about because of the expressways that were built. In a sense, Philadelphia almost built a road out of town in order to have this highway development and also, in a sense, to bring industry to Montgomery County. All this redounds in taxables available to the county. All of this redounds, in a sense, that we have a better highway system throughout Pennsylvania.

I think it behooves us to give this matter some careful consideration. I think we should not be moved along here by partisan consideration, alone. I know there are gentlemen in this General Assembly and people who visit here who are very much against this program, who cannot see the wisdom of it and who, in a few years from now, will go around moaning and wringing their hands because we do not have a proper highway system, and we could get better industry and we could get more tourists into Pennsylvania if we had a better road set-up. However, now is the time to do it and not after our roads have fallen into disrepair.

Let me point out one other thing to you which I think is of great importance. There is included in the budget an item which provides $124,000,000 for new construction where needed, in the way of highways, which consists of approximately 230 miles of new highways, the widening and resurfacing of about 700 miles of highways, the resurfacing of an additional 1,240 miles of secondary roads and the reconstruction of some 300 weight-restricted and obsolete bridges, which are now down in this Commonwealth. If we do not get the money from the Federal Government to help us with our primary program, some of this is going to have to go by the wayside because the Commonwealth, itself, is going to have to continue on with the primary system. This will mean about a sixty per cent cutback. This will happen throughout the entire Commonwealth. I assure you gentlemen that it will be in your counties, as well as mine, where these cutbacks will take place. It will only be because we did not see the wisdom of enacting this type of legislation which is absolutely necessary.

Our Federal highway system, which is across the entire Nation, and which every State has participated in, pays for fifty per cent of the roads that are built in this Commonwealth. I cannot see how you can throw this money away or disregard it completely at a time when road building is going on in very other State in the Union.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman yield for a minute, please? There is absolutely too much noise and too much milling around in the Senate Chamber. The gentleman is certainly entitled to be heard.

You may continue, Senator Weiner.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the long range effect of the lack of taking part in this program—I think one of the Senators sitting on the other side campaigned very extensively on the Pennsylvania Shortway or the Keystone Shortway, as it was called during the campaign—will be that the Keystone Shortway will never be a reality unless we get the money to do the job and do it properly.

In Senator Blass's area, Erie County, there is a short route which is needed very badly since the St. Lawrence Seaway is open. In order to keep Erie a first class port and in order for it to receive the tonnage to which it is entitled, you will have to have this road which will run from the Erie Port down to this area to connect with the other roads in the Commonwealth. If the gentleman from Erie feels this is not necessary, I would like for him to advise me that such is the case. If it is necessary, I think there is a part in the budget where we are laying the fundamental groundwork for that. Perhaps we can do away with that money and use it someplace else.

This is also true for every county that we can think of. They all need additional funds and they need this road work. If we do not provide the money with which to do it, I think you gentlemen will have no one to blame except yourselves.

The House has passed this measure over to you. It has been lying in committee for quite some time. I think that we, as a Body of the whole, should act on this measure. We should do it today, before it is too late for us to gain any funds at all. These Federal funds are available to all the States. If we do not take our fair share, somebody will take more than their share and will also take ours with it.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I do not have any statistics or information supplied to me by the Department of Highways, which, of course, is the department of State Government very much interested in the imposition of an additional one-cent tax on motor fuel.

One of these resolutions refers, I believe, to the gasoline tax, and the other probably to diesel fuel. However, Mr. President, the fallacy in all of the arguments used to promote the passage of the additional one-cent gasoline tax appears to me to be the exposition that this can all be done at once; that if we do not get this money immediately, all of this work will not be done.

Mr. President, I do not believe that is correct. Pennsylvania has never, to my knowledge, and I believe I am speaking correctly, failed to match the Federal funds which are provided for Federal-aided highways.

I am informed, through reading the newspapers and other releases, that the money from the Federal Government on this interstate program is being slowed down, and it is being paid out in a more deliberate manner than was originally contemplated.

Furthermore, Mr. President, that is a three dollar to one dollar proposition. Every dollar of State money produces three dollars of Federal money. In my opinion, Mr. President, it is fallacious to argue that the State of Pennsylvania is not able to put up one dollar out of existing taxes in order to obtain three dollars.

On the other hand, Mr. President, we are given the argument that if we do not get this money, the State-supported highways, those completely supported by the State, will suffer. Mr. President, I do not accept that. The amount of money needed to match the Federal allocation for the State highways will be provided, and the amount of money necessary to maintain our existing roads can be provided out of existing revenues as has been demonstrated by various releases by the interested parties, not, however, the Highways Department.

Let me point out, Mr. President, that some of these highways referred to, such as Route 219, are not in the Federal interstate system. I believe there was a resolution or a bill introduced into this Body, asking that Route 219 be placed upon the interstate system. It is not on it. However, I believe that it is on the Federal primary system, which is the place where we have always matched State money with Federal money in order to improve our highways.

Mr. President, I see no reason why, under the existing revenues, the program in Pennsylvania cannot proceed in an orderly fashion. It is not a crash program, Mr. President. I question very much the ability of the department to put on the planning board and to produce plans sufficient to use up more money than will be produced under existing revenues.

Furthermore, Mr. President, we have lately approved in this Body, and sent to the House for concurrence, additional revenue-raising measures in the form of increased operators' license fees. We have stated, although I believe it was also stated by the Administration to the contrary, that the five dollars additional in registration fees would be an acceptable revenue-raising measure. My recollection is that when that was proposed in the House, there was a statement made by the Administration that this additional money was not needed, and that $30,000,000 had been found in the highways fund which rendered it unnecessary to produce that extra five dollars on vehicle registrations.

Consequently, Mr. President, I am not at this time convinced that the additional one-cent gasoline tax is necessary for the proper conduct of the road program in Pennsylvania. Therefore, Mr. President, I request my colleagues to vote "no" on the resolutions.

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, I think Senator Weiner said a few minutes ago that President Eisenhower asked for a one-cent additional gas tax, and that the Congress has given it to him. I think, if he will check the records, he will find that President Eisenhower asked for a one and one-half cent per gallon increase, and the Congress has seen fit to give one-cent. On the basis of that, the Pennsylvania Department of Highways has been advised that they will receive many, many millions of dollars less than what they had expected.

I think you will find that Governor Lawrence's Tax Advisory Committee advocated a one-cent per gallon gas tax increase in Pennsylvania, and I believe the receipts from it would have amounted to $60,000,000 for the biennium. The committee also advised an additional fee of five dollars per license plate, which would have given $35,000,000, plus $2,000,000 in additional automobiles per biennium, or $37,000,000. They also advocated an increase in driver license fees of from one dollar to three dollars, which would have given an extra $22,000,000.

The one-cent per gallon gas tax in Pennsylvania would have meant that gasoline users would have been paying a fifty per cent sales tax on the basis of approximately twenty-two cents for gasoline, and, of course, the additional in Federal and State tax. I think, for that reason, that many people feel that the one-cent increase should not be enacted. However, the driver license fees have been increased by a House Bill, as I remember, from one dollar to two dollars, which would give an $11,000,000 increase. I think that bill now has been amended in the Senate from two to two and one-half dollars, which will give another $5,500,000 or a $16,500,000 increase.

Governor Lawrence made the statement sometime ago that the five dollars extra on license plates would not be needed, because he expected to get the one cent on gasoline and the increase on drivers' licenses.

I really believe that if the one cent gas tax is not enacted, and of the five dollars per plate is, that $37,000,000, plus the $16,500,000 from the increase on drivers' licenses or $53,500,000, will be sufficient. I have it on good authority that members of the Highways Department have agreed that if this five dollars per plate and the additional one dollar and a half on drivers' licenses is enacted, they will be satisfied, especially with the limited amount that they will now get from the Federal government.

Senator Weiner also mentioned Route 219. As you know, today there are approximately between 1,400 and 1,500 miles on the interstate system in Pennsylvania. The Turnpike Commission, comprising between 400 and 500 miles, is counted in that mileage. However, the Federal government does not intend to pay for the same. It has been suggested to Mr. Martin that arrangements be made with Washington to remove the Turnpike mileage from the total interstate mileage, making it possible to put other highways on the interstate system.

When you live in our section of Pennsylvania, and you want to drive north, it is necessary to drive west approximately 100 miles to Route 219. Since the new St. Lawrence Seaway is in effect, it would be a great boon to our section of Pennsylvania if a road running parallel to 219 would be put on the interstate system. I think it would do as much for that particular section of Pennsylvania as the original Turnpike has done also.

Therefore, I hope that we get these facts and figures correct.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I do not suppose anything I might say here is going to change one vote. However, we must remember this: Number one, the Federal Government did enact into law an increase of one-cent in the Federal gas tax.

Number two, we must remember, also, that every operator of a motor vehicle in Pennsylvania is paying that gas tax. What are we going to receive in return?

We have talked here on the floor of this Senate many, many times about vehicular travel, highway safety and traffic problems. I am not speaking only of the interstate system. I am also speaking of the A. B. C. system here in Pennsylvania; that is, the urban and rural roads throughout the State of Pennsylvania. For example, we in western Pennsylvania are waiting patiently for the reconstruction of highways in our particular area. We are hoping that they are going to improve Route 88 from Pittsburgh to the West Virginia line. We are hoping also for improvement of the old National Highway, U. S. 40, from Uniontown through to Wheeling, West Virginia.

I believe that what we should do here today is bring this bill out on the floor, and let us discuss it in detail. Let us get the executives of the Department of Highways over here and let us have a clear understanding as to what is actually needed.

Pennsylvania has always been more or less one or two steps behind. Let us look at the State of California, with the advantages they have because they take advantage of every dollar of Federal money that is available. If we do not take this Federal money and utilize it in Pennsylvania for our huge highway system, we are missing the boat. In this day and age, most of us agree, there are more automobiles than there are highways. I believe that the time is going to come when we are going to have to take a realistic point of view when it comes to the construction of highways.

I agree that possibly there might be some misunderstanding here, but I do not believe that we should let these bills lie in committee. Let us bring them out on the floor. Let us bring over the executives from the Department of Highways, and sit down with the Chairman and the Members of the Committee on Highways, in order to work out all of these details and make sure that we get every dollar that is coming to Pennsylvania from the Federal Government.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the Minority Floor Leader referred to Senator Whalley and myself as being from the Route 219 area, and that is correct.

I believe Senator Berger and Senator Whalley have adequately answered the question. However, I want to make it crystal clear. In so far as Cambria County is concerned, I am for whatever it takes to build roads. If we can get sufficient funds without the one-cent gasoline tax, that is one thing. If we must have the one-cent gas tax, I am prepared to vote for it.

However, I am not prepared to duplicate the revenues needlessly, and pile tax upon tax on our already heavily burdened taxpayers in Cambria County, as is true in all of the other counties in Pennsylvania.

This matter certainly is going to be brought out, and it is certainly going to be discussed. I have every faith in the world in our Highways Secretary Mr. Martin. I think he is trying to do a good job, and I, as one Senator, certainly want to go along and help him in every way that I can. However, I am not one of those to put taxes upon taxes when they are not needed. We have to carefully evaluate this matter, and when we do, we will see that the Highways Department is given all of the money they need to do the job that they are able to do.

This may not be much of an explanation, but I do want to make my position clear on the record.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Senator Walker.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. Weiner. Mr. President, if I were to advise the gentleman from Cambria that the gentleman in whom he just expressed confidence, the Secretary of Highways, Mr. Martin, had advised me of the need for this tax—and I believe there was a letter sent just today to Senator Kessler, who may not have had an opportunity to read it or discuss it with the Caucus—would he express this confidence in the Secretary by voting for this one-cent tax that is needed to build these highways?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to talk with Mr. Martin, and ask him if he is fully aware of the revenues that are presently in the mill which should—perhaps they will not, but I want him to tell me they will not—finance the highway program. I do not propose to vote on any bill until I have had a chance to digest it and to consider it from all angles. I believe one of the jobs that we Senators have is to protect the taxpayers in our Commonwealth, and not to build up exorbitant revenues. I am not saying this would happen.

However, I am going to talk with Mr. Martin. I hope we can get him over here to sit down and discuss these possible sources of revenue.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman please advise us whether in the event the Secretary advises him that he needs this money, would he vote for these bills?

Mr. WALKER. I would like to repeat that I want to talk with him. I want to see if he understands the revenue-raising measures that are currently in the mill. Then I will be in a position to answer your question.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman advise us what bills are in the mill now to provide this revenue if we do not get the one-cent tax?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I cannot give you the numbers of the bills. However, Senator Whalley has outlined them. There is a bill presently to increase the driver's license fee to two years for five dollars. There is presently a bill in the mill to increase the automobile license tag. I do not know the numbers of these bills.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman advise us how much these bills will produce in revenue, if he knows?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I think Senator Whalley gave the figure. It was $58,000,000.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman advise us further whether if these bills do not pass or do not have the opportunity to pass, would he still vote for the one-cent gas tax?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I said before, and I repeat now, that I am dedicated to the road program in Pennsylvania, and I believe that we will have ample funds to build all of the roads that we are able to build.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I want to thank the gentleman. I have heard this old refrain a number of times, but I am afraid it has not answered the question. The question, I think, that recurs before us here is: Are we going to provide enough money to build the roads that this State needs or are we not, and are we dedicated to a policy of not doing what has to be done generally, or shall we continue to hit the same person over and over again for tax money?

I believe that the gentleman will learn, if he talks to the Secretary and obtains information from him as I have, that about one-third of the amount of money that is needed to do this job would be paid by people who do not live in this State, but just happen to travel through here, most of whom would not object to paying this extra one-penny tax.

I also ask, Mr. President, that we might be at ease for just a moment, please.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease)

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, Senator Lane made the statement that we need plenty of revenue in Pennsylvania to make sure that we get all of the Federal money. I think Senator Lane will agree that Pennsylvania has never lost any Federal money. I believe that we were to get a total of $332,000,000 in the next biennium or $165,000,000 a year, which would have taken $16,500,000 to match on a ninety-ten basis. If they check the records, they will find there is $14,000,000, additional, remaining in the Northeast Flood Control Fund of a couple of years ago, which will also be available. Adding the $37,500,000, plus $16,000,000, plus $14,000,000, you have $67,500,000.

I want the Senate to know that I am very, very much in favor of good roads. I have a lot of confidence in the Secretary of Highways, Mr. Martin. I hope that he does set up a sixty-seven county road building program so that the entire Commonwealth can benefit. Many, many times, in travels over the Country, you find that large cities do not build or spend two, three and four hundred million dollars in building highways into a city and then the same amount of money, getting the same amount of traffic back out. For instance, in the city of Philadelphia, it would be very, very easy, in my opinion, to build a half-moon highway around the city, consisting of four lanes, six lanes or eight lanes, at a cost of thirty, forty or fifty million dollars, rather than spending a quarter of a billion dollars to put a highway in and another quarter of a billion dollars to get the same amount of traffic out.

As Senator Walker said, however, I would like to see the record and the figures. I am reasonably sure that the money is available. Secretary Martin said that it takes a lot of time to prepare, to plan and to design, and he can only spend a certain amount of time and money in the next two years.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I will be very brief and to the point.

Mr. President, we must remember that the proposal to increase the fees for license plates and operators' licenses will tax every citizen in Pennsylvania, while, if we increase the gasoline tax, approximately one-third of this tax would be paid by out-of-State residents.

Mr. CONFAIR. Mr. President, the gentleman from Philadelphia mentioned the Keystone Shortway in which, naturally, I am interested. I, too, probably am interested in highways as much as anybody in this Senate and I know we need money. I will definitely be in favor of the plan of raising the fee for drivers' licenses to five dollars for two years and, also, raising the fee for license plates to fifteen dollars. I will vote for those measures.

As to the present resolution, Mr. President, it is not a question of whether we vote for the gasoline tax. It is a question of whether we will vote to discharge the committee. Under those circumstances, I, naturally, will vote against the discharge resolution.

Under the plan of increasing the fees for drivers' licenses and license plates, we will take in approximately $52,000,000. With the one-cent gas tax, we will bring in $60,000,000, but then we will have to pay twenty per cent back to the counties. This will net us approximately $48,000,000. Under the other plan,—the Department needs money and I know it—they will have about $4,000,000 more to spend for highways. I think that is the thing in which we are interested.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I want to supplement what Senator Berger and Senator Whalley so aptly said; that there are sufficient funds and money to construct the highways proposed under the Federal Aid System, as well as the highways under the State program. By the adoption of the bills which increase operators' fees and license fees, I feel there will be sufficient money to carry this program into effect.

Let me say to the boys on the other side of the fence that if this road from north to south had been constructed during the Administration when we authorized it, under the Republican Administration of Governor Fine, this road would have been constructed long ago. It was not due to any fault or neglect on the part of the Republican Members of this Senate that this road has not been completed. It was authorized three or four years ago and delayed by the Administration of Governor Leader and continually delayed by the Administration of Governor Lawrence.

There are sufficient funds provided under the Acts of Assembly which we passed in connection with operators' fees and drivers' licenses. This road can be completed without imposing any additional tax burden upon the people of Pennsylvania, for we have reached the saturation point on taxes.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, when the Majority Leader mentioned the license fee as a revenue-raising measure, he brought to my mind the idea that maybe we had something here which we were doing and which should not be done.

There are a series of cases that say that license fees shall not be used as revenue-raising measures, and that they should not be used as a tax. Not only is this true in Pennsylvania, but the Supreme Court of the United States has said that this cannot be done. When you start raising this to use it primarily as a tax and not as a regulatory measure, we are in deep water.

For that reason, Mr. President, I will support the resolution. Also, for the additional reason that Senator Lane has well expressed; the idea that if we can lighten the load upon our peoples, we should pass the one-cent tax because a great portion of it is paid by out-of-State people who use our roads. In other words, you pay for the road as you use it.

Another thing I wish to bring to your attention is that I am from a rural county and we do not get these roads that they get ninety per cent from. Our merchants are interested in one thing. They want to get the people in from the farms to their stores and back again. For this reason, we need a large portion of funds for the county, which the county gives to the townships for their use.

We are a backward State. After all, if you take the number of automobiles there are and multiply them by their length and bring them all out on the road at one time, see how much space you will have left. We build four-lane highways today which, from the day they are built, are inadequate. We are not being foresighted; we are being shortsighted.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe we are missing the entire point of this discussion. I cannot understand why we would deliberately throw away money which is available to us. It seems to me that three dollars for the price of one dollar, which we put up as a State, is certainly a bargain rate at this date or any other date that I can think of.

I was interested in the remarks made by Senator Confair regarding the Keystone Shortway. He said he would vote for any measure which would put this into being, as long as it is a measure he wants. Whether it is possible to receive this or not has no bearing on the discussion, whatsoever, as long as they are the measures about which he is talking.

I cannot also understand the wisdom whereby one-third of the people who would not be Pennsylvanians, but who would pay the tax and bear the load, are being left out when there is an opportunity to have them do so. I do not think all of us believe that every measure of taxation which we introduce or work on should fall heavily upon the residents of this Commonwealth, when there is an opportunity to collect it from those people who have the benefit of using our highways, but bear none of the burden of building them or keeping them up.

The money about which Senator Whalley spoke, the $14,000,000 of flood money, is a non-recurring item. We will not have it again. In a sense, this is a windfall. We will have to look for that money the next time around.

When we talk about $150,000,000 a year in Pennsylvania for road building, road maintenance and road care, Pennsylvania history has not equalled this spending minimum, nor has it even come close to it. I think we are not only acting shortsightedly, but I think it is not very wise of us in the action we are taking here today.

I urge all the Members, Mr. President, to vote for this discharge resolution. I also want to urge the Members to speak to the Secretary of Highways. As members of this large corporation and as the board of directors, I think it behooves you to do that in order to get the information as I have it. I think your attitude would then be different. Your minds would not then be closed to this one opportunity to obtain $64,000,000 which will be available to us from the Federal matching program, in order to gain the program which we so badly need for Pennsylvania in each and every county.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I think it proper at this time to point out to the Members of the Senate and to call the attention of the Chair to the rules and decisions regarding action upon discharge resolutions. They provide that the merits of the bill, to which the discharge resolution is addressed, may not be debated upon action on the resolution. I think what I am about to say may be considered as germane to the subject matter, which is the resolution.

Mr. President, I join with all of the Members of the Senate, I am sure, in the high regard that we have for the abilities of the present Secretary of Highways. I reiterate what I have told him and told others, and which is acquiesced in by the Chairman of the Finance Committee who has charge of this bill, that we expect to sit down and discuss this matter with the Secretary prior to action upon that bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The position of the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger, is absolutely correct on the debating of the merits of a measure under a discharge resolution. However, the Chair has seen fit to allow considerable latitude at this particular time.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. As the Chair previously stated, the resolution to be presently voted upon is the first one introduced by Senator Weiner, to discharge the Committee on Finance from further consideration of House Bill No. 1590, Printer's No. 1319.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, I would inquire of the Chair as to whether or not a vote of "aye" or "nay" on a discharge resolution constitutes a vote on the bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The vote which the Members give on this resolution will be a vote to discharge the Committee on Finance from consideration of the bill.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, as a point of information, would you not assume it to be correct that if an individual votes against this discharge resolution, it is indicative that he is not in favor of increasing the gas tax by one-cent?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. In answer to the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane, the Chair cannot adopt that assumption at all.

Mr. LANE. Thank you.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SEYLER and Mr. HAYS, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—20

Camel,	Mahady,	Mullin,	Sarra,
DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Murray,	Seyler,
Donolow,	McGinnis,	Ripp,	Silvert,
Hays,	McMenamin,	Rooney,	Stiefel,

Ehrgood,	Koprivier, Jr.,	Taylor,	Wolfe,
Elliott,	Kromer,	Van Sant,	Scott,
			Presiding Officer

So the question was determined in the negative.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The next resolution to be considered is the second one introduced by Senator Weiner, to discharge the Committee on Finance from further consideration of House Bill No. 1593, Printer's No. 1320.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I request a roll call.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SEYLER and Mr. SILVERT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—20

Camel,	Mahady,	Mullin,	Sarra,
DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Murray,	Seyler,
Donolow,	McGinnis,	Ripp,	Silvert,

Elliott,	Madigan,	Wagner,	Presiding Officer
Flack,	Mallery,	Walker,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to say, for the record, that my colleagues from Philadelphia and I have voted with great reluctance for this measure, due to the fact that we are anxious to conclude this Session, and to move on. Realizing that this bill will go to a Conference Committee, we are anxious to move this measure into that area so that it can be worked on.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

REVENUE BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1112, Printer's No. 1427, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 752, Printer's No. 433, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 786, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) entitled "The Administrative Code of 1929" providing the ratio of supervisors to teachers when the salaries of supervisors are included in budgets subject to approval by the Department of Public Instruction.

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I intend to vote "no" on this bill, because I do not believe the State should tell local districts what use they can make of money raised locally and administered by locally elected boards. As a matter of fact, the ratios mentioned in this bill are very unrealistic ones. I do not think there is any school district, within my knowledge,—I do not know the details of all of the school districts in the State, but I have some knowledge of a good many—which anywhere approaches these limits. However, I object to the limits being stated by the State, because I believe this is a matter for local jurisdiction.

As you know, Mr. President, we reimburse local districts on the basis of the number of pupils. The number of teachers, the number of supervisors and the number of administrators have no effect whatever upon the amount of money furnished by the State. I believe that it is the right of any local district, if their elected officials so choose, to spend the moneys that they raise locally for those purposes they find important. I do not think the State should put limitations on how they expend the money which they raise.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—39

Berger,	Harney,	McMenamin,	Van Sant,
Blass,	Keller,	Pechan,	Wade,
Camiel,	Kessler,	Propert,	Wagner,
Chapman,	Koprivier, Jr.,	Ruth,	Walker,

NAYS—7

Donolow,	McGinnis,	Murray,	Seyler,
Hays,	Mullin,	Ripp,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on third reading, go over in their order:

Senate Bill No. 853, Printer's No. 1464;

Senate Bill No. 899, Printer's No. 1055; and

Senate Bill No. 1036, Printer's No. 1340.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1059, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 21, 1939 (P. L. 566), entitled "The Pennsylvania Occupational Disease Act," increasing the rate of compensation changing subrogation rights and further regulating reports examinations and testimony of physicians.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Bill, page 18, by inserting after line 3: "Section 6. This act shall take effect January 1, 1960."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1059, Printer's No. 1506, on third reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1115, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 22, 1933 (P. L. 912), entitled "Bakery Law," changing certain definitions conferring additional powers and duties on the Department of Agriculture and further regulating the sale and importation of bakery products.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 1, last line of Title, by inserting after

"tions": "exempting cities of the first class from the provisions of the act"; Amend Bill, page 6, line 20, and page 7, line 1, by inserting between said lines: "Section 3. The act is amended by adding, after section 5, a new section to read: "Section 5.1. Applicability of Act. This act shall not apply to cities of the first class."; Amend Sec. 3, page 7, line 1, by striking out "3" and inserting: "4"; Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 5), page 6, lines 16 to 20, by striking out all of said lines and inserting: "(b) The provisions of this act and the regulations made thereunder shall not be taken nor deemed to repeal existing municipal ordinances nor to prevent municipalities or counties which have established or joined in establishing county departments of health from enacting and enforcing new ordinances or regulations for the further protection of the public health: Provided, That this act shall be considered as establishing uniform requirements and regulations and that nothing herein contained shall be deemed to prevent municipalities or counties which have established or joined in establishing county departments of health from ordaining and enforcing such additional requirements in excess of the requirements and regulations hereunder as may be deemed necessary from time to time for the preservation of public health and to require applications from and to issue permits to such persons as may be defined by local ordinances or regulations."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would request my colleagues to vote "no" on the amendments offered for the reason that they will establish a dual inspection system. This bill provides for inspection and approval by the Department of Agriculture only.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, these amendments that we have put in would remove the Pittsburgh area and the Philadelphia area from this legislation, the reason being that we have a much superior inspection system existing at this moment in both areas than this bill can provide. I am sure there are other local areas, of which I am not aware at the moment, that probably have as good and if not a better inspection system than is provided in this bill. That is the reason why I ask that this be re-instated so that we do not have duality of inspection and annoyance of the people who happen to be in this business.

I ask my colleagues to vote "aye" on these amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, with these amendments excluded by the vote here,—and we do not have the votes to put over amendments—this is a rather interesting Session. I guess the "dirty milk bill" ought to have a "dirty bread bill" follow it. On the basis of dirty milk and dirty bread, I ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this legislation.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—35

Berger,	Keller,	Miller,	Van Sant,
Blass,	Kessler,	Pechan,	Wade,
Chapman,	Koprivier, Jr.,	Probert,	Wagner,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1136, Printer's No. 1373, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE INSISTS UPON ITS NON-CONCURRENCE IN AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL No. 2100 AND APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House insists on its non-concurrence in Senate amendments to House Bill No. 2100, entitled:

An Act amending the "Selective Sales and Use Tax Act," approved March 6, 1956 (P. L. 1228), changing certain provisions relating to returns, assessments and basis of such assessments; imposing liabilities and duties on vendors and certain purchasers involved in bulk sales transactions; * * * and has appointed Messrs. POLEN, McCANN and A. M. LEE as a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (if the Senate shall appoint such committee) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

SENATE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS NON- CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE TO HOUSE BILL No. 2100 AND APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do insist upon its amendments to House Bill No. 2100, and that a Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate be appointed.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair announces, on behalf of the President pro tempore, the appointment of Messrs. KESSLER, CONFAIR and WEINER as a Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate to confer with a similar committee of the House (already appointed) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to House Bill No. 2100.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, today, the Senators and a number of the Senate employees had the opportunity of again becoming acquainted with the greatest county in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that of Lehigh,—the most diversified county of the sixty-seven—for today each of the Senators and many of the visitors received an apple from the Trexler Orchards, which is in the heart of Lehigh County. These are just not ordinary apples. These are the same apples that have been winning prizes at the Farm Show for many years. Just two years ago, from the very same trees, came the grand champion apple of the State of Pennsylvania.

I would like to publicly express my sincere gratitude to Mr. John Linde and the personnel of the Trexler Orchards, in Lehigh County at Schnecksville, for their generosity in supplying us with our apple for today.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I think the Chair should take this opportunity to thank the gentleman from Lehigh, Senator Van Sant, for his generosity.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I want to first of all admit that Lehigh County is the third best county in the State, but that is not what I came here to speak about. We do appreciate the apples.

On January 2, 1959, I received a copy of a 131 page report entitled, "Higher Education in Pennsylvania—Analysis of Problems with Proposals," and on that day heard the chairman of the panel that prepared the report, a distinguished Pennsylvania educator, Chancellor Edward H. Litchfield of the University of Pittsburgh, give to the task force of the Joint State Government Commission the highlights of this same report. During the past two weeks, a statement concerning this report has been released to the press by Doctor Litchfield. The reason or reasons for its release by the Chairman of the Panel instead of by the Joint State Government Commission releasing it is not entirely clear to me, but that is not the phase of the situation that I want to comment on today.

I feel very humble in my analysis of the Litchfield report, for I realize that my words are those of a small town, small time schoolteacher against a giant of a scholar with tremendous resources behind him and within him. However, these suggestions were made directly to Doctor Litchfield soon after I received the January 2nd report, and so what I am about to say now is in no way new to him.

The study contains much data, valuable to any person or group or State agency that wishes to work on the problem of higher education, a problem that in my opinion has been too long neglected and is still neglected in the Commonwealth. The phase of the report dealing with the analysis of the problem takes on masterpiece proportions, is highly commendable and deserves high praise. The amazing phase of the report to me is the fact that given the data on which to base a proposal, in my opinion, the proposed solution fails to use such data, and even goes counter to it.

In the summer of 1958, I attended a conference at Williamsport, called by Doctor Litchfield, attended by many other Senators, and you probably attended similar conferences in other parts of the State. I was much impressed with the data presented by him and his colleagues on their recent trip to Russia, particularly in the field of higher education. Here are some data given at that time:

"Americans are ready to tax themselves to meet the Soviet Union's massive preparation of weapons, to catch up with her in exploration of outer space, and to compete economically for the good will of neutral or uncommitted countries.

"Yet there is a strange unawareness among Americans that the Soviets are deliberately developing a vast system of higher education as a means for world domination. In our race to match Soviet hardware, are we overlooking the need to win the race to match brainpower?

"Basing our comments on a study which two of our group helped to make on a trip to the Soviet Union earlier this year, we are only too aware that unless America puts the same kind of support behind education as do the Soviet, we may win the hardware race only to fail in the long race for world leadership.

"In the field of higher education, which is the ultimate producer of scientific and intellectual leadership, the Soviet Union is investing a far larger proportion of its national resources than is America. By way of illustration:

"In nine years, more than $200,000,000 has been invested in construction of buildings for the University of Moscow alone and construction is still proceeding.

"Basic faculty salaries are among the highest professional salaries in the nation and the teacher's prestige is high.

"The Leningrad Library, which is not the largest in Russia, has 1,000,000 more volumes than the libraries of the University of Pennsylvania, University of Pittsburgh, Temple University, and Pennsylvania State University combined."

Other facts coming from the Williamsport meeting, and also carried in the report entitled "Higher Education in Pennsylvania," are these:

In the percentage of total State expenditures devoted to higher education, Pennsylvania ranks thirty-ninth among the forty-eight States. In terms of expenditures for higher education per capita of population, it ranks forty-fourth, and in relationship to individual incomes, it ranks forty-fifth.

Now with that kind of a backdrop, we next look to the projection of the panel to the higher education needs in Pennsylvania in 1970, and their proposal for meeting these needs. Here, it seems to me, is a most amazing reversal of form. Here is the proposal according to the data of the panel: In 1958, the State provided twenty per cent of the cost of higher education in Pennsylvania, and the student contributed thirty-four per cent. You must keep those numbers in mind for the student contributes or supports himself in college at the present time in Pennsylvania one and seven-tenths times the amount provided by the State.

Now with the knowledge that the State now ranks thirty-ninth, forty-fourth and forty-fifth in some of these important categories, indicating the wealth of the Commonwealth, it was shocking, surprising and distasteful to me to find that the panel proposes in 1970 that the State's share of higher education support shall be reduced from twenty per cent to eighteen per cent, while now with only one-half of the eligible students in college admitted by Doctor Litchfield, the student's share is increased from the thirty-four per cent figure in 1958 to a forty-nine per cent figure in 1970. The relationship changes from one to one and seven-tenths to one to two and seven-tenths. This seems like a very strange manner in which to recommend that the United States keep up in its educational race with the USSR.

I deeply regret this proposal, for if it should be carried out, it would seem to me that the great dream of America for a higher education for every boy with brainpower, regardless of the economic status of his parents, fades. This proposal, if carried out, is a shattering blow to the dream of the poor boy with demonstrated talent in the mining towns, on the marginal farm hillsides and in the less favored economic areas in many of our cities.

I doubt if the United States is strong enough to discard this precious resource and talent in a manner that this proposal would do.

In 1965 and 1970, let us have the college and university classrooms and laboratories occupied by those youths whose chief inheritance is brainpower, rather than by those whose chief inheritances are gilt-edged bonds and hardtops from indulgent fathers. Increasing college costs one and one-half times to the student is a poor way, in my humble opinion, to prepare America for existence on this earth in 1970.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BERGER, from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1121, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1333), entitled "Pennsylvania Election Code," further regulating the composition of the return board.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, October 14, 1959.

The House met at 11:00 a. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

Heavenly Father, quicken our pace that the race we run may bring the greatest good to the greatest number, lengthen our stride that the things we do may ever be a challenge to others seeking to match or imitate us, and enliven us with Thy thruth so that through patient continuance in well doing we may eventually obtain the goal by confronting others with Thy way of life. This we ask in the name and for the sake of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, to Whom be the honor and the glory. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, October 13, 1959 will be postponed until printed.

The Chair hears none.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has some bills to sign, and is asking the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Polaski, to preside.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WORLEY. I rise to a question of personal privilege.
The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. WORLEY. On page 3380 of the September 2, 1959, issue of the Pennsylvania Legislative Journal, the name of William P. Cairo is not spelled correctly. The copy of the letter I read and submitted for the record on September 2, 1959, contains the correct spelling of William P. Cairo's name. I request that the Pennsylvania Legislative Journal of September 2, 1959, be corrected so as to spell the name of William P. Cairo correctly.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. STECKEL. I rise to a question of personal privilege.
The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. STECKEL. Mr. Speaker, there has been distributed among the House Members a product of a County which I will not mention, and there has even been literature placed in our mail boxes.

Today, however, there will be distributed to you through the good offices of the Chief Clerk an agricultural product from the County of Lehigh; apples in commemoration of National Apple Week.

The only reason for my standing to make this statement is, do not be confused with other claims, no other apple can make this statement, whether it be from those other counties that are always presenting peaches and apples, you know, I will not mention them. These are, in spite of the advertising you find in your mail boxes, please be assured that these apples that you are about to receive are the products of Lehigh County.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair on behalf of the House, thanks the gentleman.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to outline the schedule of the House for today.

It is our intention to move on to the third reading calendar and act on some bills until approximately 1:30, Daylight Saving Time. At that time we well ask for a recess for lunch and for caucuses of the respective parties in their caucus rooms. Following the return from the caucus we expect to work until approximately 7:00 o'clock this evening cleaning up the calendar, or no later than 7:30, Daylight Saving Time.

BILLS CALLED UP OUT OF ORDER

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up bills out of order.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2380, entitled:

An Act amending "The Game Law" approved June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1225) authorizing the game commission to authorize hunting or trapping by certain persons upon good cause shown.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRETH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in saying that this bill is an amendment to the Game Law and that the amendment purports to mitigate the penalty for the first offense where a person is convicted of killing a deer during any deer season unlawfully?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, the question is not clear to me.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, under the present law, if under certain specific instances a deer is killed, not in accordance with the Game Law, there is a certain penalty involved. Is that correct?

Mr. BRETH. It depends upon the conditions, Mr. Speaker. You can kill a deer by hitting it with a car, there would be no penalty.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well Mr. Speaker, I do not want to read Section 731, penalties, sub-paragraph 2, but that section of the Game Law provides, except as otherwise herein provided for hunting, or chasing, or catching, or taking, or killing, or wounding, or receiving, or delivering, or transporting, or shipping, or using, or concealing, or assisting to conceal, or having in possession, or attempting to hunt for, catch, and so forth, for a violation of a provision of this particular Article, the bill further sets out that for each deer the penalty shall be $100 during any deer season.

Mr. BRETH. Is the gentleman sure it says $100 in any deer season?

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, this,—

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I am afraid the gentleman is a little confused or else he has not read the law.

Mr. McCORMACK. I am not a little confused, I have before me House Bill 2380 referring specifically to the penalty section, line 19 of page 2.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I will be glad to tell the House, in common, understandable, everyday terms what this bill does.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman just answer my question, if it is not clear I would be glad to attempt to clarify it. Would the gentleman refer to line 19, on page 2 of House Bill 2380?

Mr. BRETH. Yes, go ahead.

Mr. McCORMACK. Would you read that particular sentence and provide the punctuation that is not in the bill?

Mr. BRETH. No. but I will explain what it does. I cannot provide punctuation because that is somebody else's business, not mine.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, so that it is understood, I would like the gentleman to tell me whether or not—

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman a question, if he will consent.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman consent to be interrogated?

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is an expert on Game Law and I am not. I merely want to get some information and I want him to answer my question, at the end of which I will be glad to be interrogated by him. I want him to read that section beginning on line 19, so that it makes grammatical sense.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, as I said, I will be very happy to tell the gentleman what this bill does, and line 19 says, "If Each deer one hundred dollars during any deer season at any other time for the first offense one hundred dollars and the person convicted shall be denied the right to hunt or trap anywhere in this Commonwealth with or without a license for a period of three years," now I can go on, but I cannot punctuate that.

Mr. McCORMACK. Very well. Now, that penalty goes into effect when?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I will explain this bill the way the sportsmen and the hunters understand it and the way the Game Commission enforces it. I am no lawyer and I will not be trapped into getting—

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth.

Mr. BRETH. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I believe I personally understand the gentleman's purpose in interrogating me on this bill. Therefore, to remove it from that field of controversy I wish to yield to the other sponsor of the bill, the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, who is thoroughly familiar with the bill and very highly qualified to answer the gentleman's question.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, yield to the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I will not yield to him. I want to ask a question.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, agree to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. On line 19 of page 2 of the bill, when does that penalty set forth therein attach to a person?

Mr. TOMPKINS. What was that? I did not get the last part of that, Mr. McCormack, I am sorry.

Mr. McCORMACK. When does this penalty attach to a person?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That penalty attaches upon conviction.

Mr. McCORMACK. For what offense?

Mr. TOMPKINS. For the killing of a deer.

Mr. McCORMACK. For what?

Mr. TOMPKINS. For the killing of a deer.

Mr. McCORMACK. For killing a deer, how?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Illegally.

Mr. McCORMACK. Illegally. That section provides for the first offense there shall be a penalty of $100, and also the person convicted to be denied the right to hunt or trap anywhere in the Commonwealth with or without a license for a period of three years, is that correct?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is right.

Mr. McCORMACK. Now on line 4, page 3 of the bill there is an amendment that provides "for the second and each subsequent offense two hundred dollars and the person convicted shall be denied the right to hunt or trap anywhere in this Commonwealth with or without a license for a period of three years," is that correct?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is correct.

Mr. McCORMACK. Now, if there is a first offense would the language after the upper case amendment beginning on line 4 on page 3 "except that after the convicted person has been denied the right to hunt or trap anywhere in this Commonwealth for a period of one year the Commission upon good cause shown may grant the right to hunt or trap anywhere in this Commonwealth to the person convicted." Would that language apply both where a person is convicted for the first offense of killing a deer illegally?

Mr. TOMPKINS. It does, yes sir.

Mr. McCORMACK. Can the gentleman explain to me why that language does not begin on line 4 of page 3, rather than after the "subsequent offense"?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Here is what you have in connection with matters of this kind. Many people are convicted of killing deer. There is a mandatory three year suspension of their license upon conviction, at the present time. In many instances it is found that after the end of a year there is no justification for continuing that suspension, therefore—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

Mr. McCORMACK. I do not want to interrupt the gentleman, but I do not think he understands what I am trying to find out. It says that after the first offense, a person shall be deprived of the right to hunt for a period of three years, and it does not spell out, right at that point, that the person shall be given the right on good cause shown, after his privileges have been suspended for one year. It only spells that out after the section on subsequent offenses, and therefore I am questioning the language of the amendment. Does the gentleman understand my point?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I do not see anything in the bill stating anything about subsequent offenses. Where is there any language referring to second or subsequent offenses?

Mr. McCORMACK. On page 3, line 4, "and for the second and each subsequent offenses," do you have that?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Are you speaking on House Bill 2380 Printer's No. 1746?

Mr. McCORMACK. No, Mr. Speaker, Printer's No. 1762.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I do not have that. I have the wrong Printer's Number in my file.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I was going to inquire if the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, would permit me to make a suggestion that would clarify the problem that he is raising and remove the necessity for this debate.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman?

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, I—

Mr. FINEMAN. Well, if he is perturbed by it, I will withdraw my request.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman, has withdrawn his request.

Mr. McCORMACK. Am I correct, Mr. Speaker, in saying that the correct Printer's Number is 1762.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is correct, Printer's No. 1762.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I have that Printer's Number before me now, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman was referring to the wrong printer's number.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I am sorry.

Mr. McCORMACK. Now, does the gentleman see line 4?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Yes.

Mr. McCORMACK. My question is, Mr. Speaker, that if the exception that is spelled out after the "the second and each subsequent offense" is applicable to a first offense, why is not that language put in on line 4 before the "second and each subsequent offense"? I am questioning the technical language of the bill, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. The technical language of the bill, the exception would refer not only to the second and subsequent offense, but also the first offense as well.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, will the gentleman admit that it is not clear that this particular exception applies in the case of a first offense, under the language as written in this amendment?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I cannot interpret that into the bill, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, Mr. Speaker, it is quite apparent to me that the way the bill reads now the provision with respect to the exceptions does not apply where a person is convicted for the first offense, and the reason I say that it does not is that it clearly reads "for the first offense $100 and the person convicted shall be denied the right to hunt or trap anywhere in this Commonwealth with or without a license for a period of three years." Now, and "for the second and each subsequent offense two hundred dollars and the person convicted shall be denied the right to hunt or trap anywhere in this Commonwealth with or without a license for a period of three years"—

Mr. TOMPKINS. Period.

Mr. McCORMACK. Period. "Except that after the convicted person has been denied the right to hunt or trap" and so forth. Now, is the gentleman saying that applies to both?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I would so interpret it, yes.

Mr. McCORMACK. Very well.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is the gentleman through interrogating the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins?

Mr. McCORMACK. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, this amendment provides that the Commission can, upon good cause shown after one year, reinstate the privileges of a person convicted for killing a deer illegally, is that correct?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair believes that is correct.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, agree to be further interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Was the answer "Yes"?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Will the gentleman repeat the question? I thought he had finished with the interrogation.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman repeat the question?

Mr. TOMPKINS. We ought to get the gentleman out hunting and trapping a little bit, then he would have a little better knowledge of what this is all about. Proceed.

Mr. McCORMACK. The reason for this exception, Mr. Speaker, is it not, the fact that in some cases where a person's privilege to hunt has been suspended for a period of three years as a result of a conviction that it would work an unnecessary hardship in one case where mitigating circumstances might give the Commission the opportunity of restoring the privilege after he had been suspended for a year. Is that right?

Mr. TOMPKINS. The purpose is to give the Commission the discretion to restore it after the end of one year if the proper circumstances justify it.

Mr. McCORMACK. So as to have a little flexibility?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is right.

Mr. McCORMACK. Now, would the gentleman agree, Mr. Speaker, that it is wise to not only give the Game Commission this right where a person is convicted under a first offense and also where he is convicted of subsequent offenses? Does the gentleman feel that it is still wise to give them that right?

Mr. TOMPKINS. There is no question about its being a wise thing to do, and as I interpret the bill that would give it to them. But if there is any doubt in the gentleman's mind being one of those legislators who want good clean, understandable legislation, I am perfectly willing to clarify it so that there will be no question about it.

Mr. McCORMACK. The gentleman does not have to hedge, Mr. Speaker. I just want to get a good bill. Now let me ask the gentleman this—

Mr. TOMPKINS. I am not hedging; I am just answering your questions.

Mr. McCORMACK. Is it your statement that you would be willing to place this on the postponed calendar?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. McCORMACK. Is the gentleman inferring that he might be willing to place this on the final passage postponed calendar?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I am suggesting that if there is any question as to the clarity of the language or the purpose of this bill, I as one legislator do not want to pass ambiguous legislation.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, then I want to clear up one other point. We have the situation where a person has killed a deer illegally and the Commission can restore his license. I refer you to title 3 of this bill where a person who kills a bear illegally has his license suspended for a period of five years, but that person under this amendment would not have any privileges or the Game Commission could not restore his license at the end of one year's suspension, is that correct?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is right.

Mr. McCORMACK. That is a five-year suspension, is it not, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. TOMPKINS. It is a greater offense, too, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. In what respect is it greater?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Because of the fewer number of the bear and the conservation policy involved in trying to conserve your bear population.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, it is still a violation of the law and there is no provision in the law to provide an exception where mitigating circumstances would necessitate a person being given a break, is there?

Mr. TOMPKINS. You have the same variations in the discretion of the courts on various grades of offenses in the criminal code as well.

Mr. McCORMACK. Is it not a fact, Mr. Speaker, that if this bill is passed giving the Game Commission the right to restore privileges prior to the three year period, there is an opportunity to fix cases so to speak, not only in a case where a person through a technical mistake has killed a deer illegally, but also where there has been a flagrant violation and subsequent violations, and is it not a fact that this is giving the Commission an opportunity to, shall I say, fix a case?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that question merits the dignity of an answer. I think the gentleman is impugning the integrity of the Game Commission.

Mr. McCORMACK. Well, Mr. Speaker, facts are facts, and I am referring to the opportunity which such a bill would provide. Whether or not the Game Commission would do it, I am not questioning. I am merely saying that this would give them an opportunity where the person has not been convicted once, but on subsequent occasions, more than once. I am suggesting to provide an exception in a case where a person is convicted for the first time might be all right, but where you have subsequent conviction, does the gentleman still think it is wise for the Game Commission to be given that Authority?

Mr. TOMPKINS. The Game Commission is part of the executive branch of this government, the same as numerous other boards and commissions on this Hill, to whom we grant discretionary powers and I am not going to stand here and say that the Game Commission is subject to political pressures, corrupt voters, or anything else, more than any other board or commission on this Hill.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman say that the Game Commission has discretionary power?

Mr. TOMPKINS. In a great many matters, yes sir.

Mr. McCORMACK. Does it have the discretionary power in this instance?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Not at the present time, no sir. That is what we are trying to do, grant them discretionary power.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I have studied this bill very carefully, and I do not very often agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, but I am forced to do so in this case.

Here is a bill that penalizes a man for a first offense for $100 and suspension for three years for killing deer illegally, and that is right and it is good. However, I can see where possibly for a first offense there might be some mitigating circumstance and I could go along with a bill that might give the Game Commission discretionary power to restore that man's license upon showing that there were mitigating circumstances for that first offense, but when any man goes out and does the same thing for the second and third time, then I do not think there should be any discretionary power given to any Board to restore that man's license. If we are going to adopt these laws to prevent these kinds of abuses, then let us keep them firm enough, and make them harsh enough that they will act as a deterrent to those people who do it. I am against this bill unless the language of the bill is changed to read accordingly.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McCANN. There was I believe a three-way debate here and an argument. I would like to ask Mr. Breth if he concurs.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I will be glad to concur and have the bill placed on the postponed calendar.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

A division was called for, more than a majority of the Members having voted in the affirmative the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 380

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which Senate Bill No. 380, Printer's No. 1459, entitled:

"An Act amending the act of May 15, 1933 (P. L. 624), entitled as amended 'Banking Code,' further regulating the making of installment loans," was defeated on final passage Tuesday, September 29, 1959, be reconsidered.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walsh, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz, vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to request that all Democratic Members bring with them their House calendars to the caucus. I request a recess of this House for one hour and thirty minutes; thirty minutes for lunch and then a caucus of one hour.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the Republican party would like to do likewise, thirty minutes for lunch and a one-hour caucus.

We would appreciate it if the Majority Leader would announce the schedule for the balance of the week.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the schedule for the week will be tomorrow, Thursday, beginning at 10:00 a. m. The bills we are moving up from second reading, plus the amended bills today, will be voted on tomorrow. We are moving right along to clean up the calendar. Then the House will convene on Monday.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the Chair will declare a recess until 3:30 p. m. DST.

The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1822, Printer's No. 1134, together with communication from the Governor be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No 1822 FROM GOVERNOR.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, September 11, 1959.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Concurrent Resolution recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 1822, Printer's No. 1134, for the purpose of amendment.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. MIHM. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Greene, Mr. McCANN vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Mihm vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. MIHM. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McCANN asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Section 1 (Section 4), page 3, line 9, by inserting after "action" "under the direction of such person as the Governor may designate acting for the Council."

Amend Section 2 (Section 4), page 3, line 10, by inserting after "any" "unusual."

Amend Section 2 (Section 4), page 3, line 11, by striking out "in peacetime."

Amend Section 2 (Section 4), page 3, line 11, by striking out "or."

Amend Section 2 (Section 4), page 3, line 11, by inserting after "from" "or incidental to atomic energy operations" or the transportation handling use storage or disposal of radioactive objects or materials."

Amend Section 2 (Section 4), page 3, lines 12 to 18, by striking out all of said lines.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. PRICE asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. McCANN.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2380, entitled:

An Act amending "The Game Law" approved June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1225), authorizing the game commission to authorize hunting or trapping by certain persons upon good cause shown.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire of the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth, what the purpose is in taking the bill from final passage postponed calendar at this time?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the gentleman desire to interrogate the gentleman from Clearfield?

Mr. AUKER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRETH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, before the motion is put, I would like to ask the gentleman why he is taking the bill off the final passage postponed calendar at this time?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of corrective amendments.

Mr. AUKER. Are those amendments to be offered this afternoon?

Mr. BRETH. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, may I further inquire of the gentleman whether or not there will be a chance, then, to offer other amendments which we have not prepared as yet, but which I know are being prepared to the bill? Can we have the action postponed until those amendments can be prepared and offered??

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, the bill will be prepared as amended for tomorrow. He can offer the amendments tomorrow.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I do not know what the conversation was between the two parties, but the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth, came to me after our debate this morning and suggested the amendments he was going to put in. The amendments he offered are clarifying amendments which will remove any ambiguities that were raised in the debate this morning. I do not know whether the gentleman from Blair has additional amendments that he wants to offer or not.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry, I guess I will have to ask a few more questions.

May I inquire of the gentleman from Clearfield what his amendments do at this time? Or, should I wait until the amendments are drawn?

Mr. BRETH. I will explain them when I offer them.

Mr. AUKER. It will probably save some time later on, Mr. Speaker, if I ask him now. Do the amendments proposed to be offered pertain only to that part of the bill which refers to the penalty for the first offense?

Mr. BRETH. These amendments, Mr. Speaker, will give the Game Commission the discretionary power without a shadow of a doubt in each offense.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BRETH asked unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 731), page 3, line 8, by striking out "except that after" and inserting "When."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order Senate Bill No. 648 on page 3 of today's calendar, bills on second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 648, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article three section four of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania changing the procedure on the passage of bills.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. LOPRESTI offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 4), page 2, line 3, by inserting after "be" "printed and shall be."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 4), page 2, line 4, by inserting after "All" "bills including bills with."

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendments?
They were agreed to.
The section was agreed to as amended.
The title was read and agreed to.
And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended.
Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2346, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 1, 1937 (P. L. 2460) entitled as amended "An act creating a joint legislative commission to be known as the Joint State Government Commission * * * authorizing the caucus chairmen of each house to appoint substitutes in their stead as members of the executive committee.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. House Bill No. 2346, Printer's No. 1775, is an amendment to the Joint Legislative Commission, known as the Joint State Government Commission, in which the officers of each of the Houses may temporarily appoint a substitute for each of the people who serve on the executive commission.

This type of legislation certainly is needed. There are many times when commission meetings are held by this very change in the proposed amendment to the Joint State Government Commission executive body. For example, I, as a member of that commission, could temporarily appoint someone to serve in my capacity at one meeting in which a quorum or a particular subject may come up. The bill has been amended to cover all the positions of the executive committee to cover both the House and Senate, and to appoint only a substitute on a temporary basis.

Mr. Speaker, I ask that the Members support this legislation for it would certainly be helpful in the operation of the Commission.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2399, entitled:

An Act amending "The Vehicle Code" approved April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58) increasing penalties for throwing materials from vehicles or tractors.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the sponsors of this bill. I suggest the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. O'Neil, since I previously told him I would ask to interrogate him.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Clearfield, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. O'NEIL. Mr. Speaker, although the prime sponsors of this bill are in close proximity to the gentleman, in the interest of a cleaner and more beautiful Pennsylvania, I will attempt to answer.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, the first section of this bill deals with an amendment which makes it a crime to throw garbage and so forth from a vehicle, and I wonder if the gentleman would state whether this would not cover such things as an apple core or a banana peel or something like that?

Mr. O'NEIL. I would believe that garbage in a large or small quantity would be considered garbage.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Now, as I understand it, Mr. Speaker, the present law makes it a summary offense with a $25 fine to throw such articles from a vehicle?

Mr. O'NEIL. I believe that is correct.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. And this bill, as I understand it, would raise from $25 to $500, including the right to put a person in jail for six months and make it a misdemeanor, is that correct?

Mr. O'NEIL. That is correct.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. And then, Mr. Speaker, the second section of the bill which covers throwing rubbish, cardboard or paper still apparently retains the $25 fine, is that right?

Mr. O'NEIL. According to the amendments which was put into the bill, that is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Will the gentleman state whether this bill with the $500 fine would cover a case where someone took a truckload of trash or garbage and backed off the road and dumped it on adjacent property to the highway?

Mr. O'NEIL. I would think it would, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Is not the bill limited to cases where material such as that is thrown from a vehicle, as the bill itself states on page 2.

Mr. O'NEIL. The word used is "throw," I will admit.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Is the purpose of the bill to prevent, or, rather to put a severe penalty on where a person does back a vehicle off the road and dump a large pile of material?

Mr. O'NEIL. I would say that is one of the purposes, as well as to prevent the indiscriminate throwing of articles, garbage, paper, nails, bottles and so forth from moving vehicles, as well as one which has been pulled off, as you are implying, has parked and then dumped the garbage.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I think all of us in the House are opposed to litterbugs, and the bill that was passed recently passed rather overwhelmingly, as I recall it, but it seems to me to make it a misdemeanor with a fine of $500 and perhaps six months in prison at the discretion of the judge, for throwing such things as an apple core or a banana peel, is going a little too far. I think even maybe $100 would be sufficient and would be a great deterrent, but I think $500 will merely result in a case where nobody is going to presecute these offenses.

Furthermore, I think having two separate categories is going to be very confusing to the people enforcing this law. For one thing, it will void a great many signs that have already been purchased by municipalities throughout the Commonwealth, covering the old bill, and new signs will have to be bought, which may not be too expensive, but is something that we should consider. You are going to have two different categories, and I think it will be very confusing. I feel that the penalty is entirely too severe.

I think also that the purpose of the bill, as Mr. O'Neil admitted, is not being met, that is, to prohibit dumping on property adjacent to the highways. I think this bill should be amended to take care of those corrections and in its present form I think it should be voted down.

Mr. GRAMLICH. Mr. Speaker, I have heard the remarks by my colleague, Mr. O'Neil, and also the objections to this bill by Mr. Lippincott.

I think every Member here realizes that we have a law on the books at this time that calls for a $50 fine that covers the meat of the present bill. However, that has not been adequate. I could call to the attention of the Members here many violations of this and not one has been apprehended.

I want to read into the record an opinion as quoted in the Oil City Derrick of October 1. It is entitled, "Curbing The Litterbug," and I believe this editorial will cover many things that many Members have not thought about, and that is money. I quote the following:

Two bills introduced in the Pennsylvania General Assembly by Representative Harry S. Gramlich of Venango County are designed materially to strengthen and improve the state laws against litterbugging.

One of the bills would increase the penalty for the dumping of garbage, bottles, cans and other rubbish along the highways to a maximum fine of $500 or 90 days in jail, or both. The penalty now is a fine of $25 or up to 10 days in jail.

The other measure sets up provisions for the placing and maintenance of receptacles along the state highways for use by motorists.

The need for strong measures to cope with the all-too-common practice of litterbugging is clear. Not only does the practice despoil the scenic beauty of the countryside, but it's a costly proposition from the taxpayer's point of view.

The cost of cleaning up road side rubbish and trash in the country as a whole is estimated at upward of $35,000,000 annually. The big outlay is in addition to in-city expenses to collect litter dropped on streets and curbs.

Don't forget, this is your money that is being poured out as the result of a dispicable practice for which there is absolutely no excuse. Everything that can possibly be done to stop the litterbug and save the taxpayers this bill of expense should be done.

It seems to us that the measures proposed by Mr. Gramlich constitute a forward step in the drive against litterbugging and merit approval.

That is the end of this clipping.

I also have another one here that just says, "Congratulations," from a gentleman.

I also have a letter here, ladies and gentlemen, from a Doctor, a very fine gentleman from my colleague's county, Doctor Bovard, from Tionesta. It runs:

Honorable Mr. Gramlich.

Dear Brother:

(I do not know, but maybe you can guess why it is brother!)

I certainly highly commend your bill concerning "litterbugs."

I have to stitch up many a foot which has come into contact with a broken beer bottle. I have had in prospect a 'Lions Club' campaign along this line.

With high respect for your bill,

Fraternally,
F. J. Bovard

Now, ladies and gentlemen, maybe this bill is not worded exactly properly, maybe it is not, but I do believe that there is no one in this House who would not go along with the thinking that is behind both this bill and the one that passed here a week or ten days ago. Therefore, I ask everyone to vote for the bill as it now stands.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I am in sympathy with the purposes of this bill. I do not think anyone in the House appreciates litterbugging, but by the same token I oppose this proposed bill for the reason that we make a misdemeanor out of an offense that could be very easily, is presently, and with a greater fine, could be handled as a summary offense.

For the life of me I cannot see any good reason to have a bill of indictment by a grand jury and a trial by a court of record in an offense of this kind. Our courts are busy as it is and, not to make a pun, but we are just, by a bill of this kind, loading up our courts of record with a lot of trash.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. McCANN.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1997, entitled:

An Act amending "The Pennsylvania Occupational Disease Act" approved June 21, 1939 (P. L. 566) including certain diseases of fire-fighters within the meaning of the term occupational disease.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, in reviewing this bill in the light of the existing provisions of the Act of 1935, I find that the provisions are somewhat broader in scope than the provisions of the Act of 1935. The Act of 1935 covers diseases of the heart and lungs caused by extreme over-exertion in times of stress or danger, or exposure to heat, smoke fumes or gases, where as this bill broadens that somewhat to include diseases of the heart and lungs involving such over-exposure.

In the law there is a vast distinction between diseases caused by something and diseases involving something. In my opinion, it is too bad that the sponsors of this bill chose to make it broader than the provisions of the Act of 1935. I believe it will lead to confusion. It will provide coverage for men under one act when they are not so covered under the other act.

For that reason, I personally must oppose the bill. I merely wanted to call this to the attention of the Members when they are themselves deciding how they will vote on this bill.

Mr. CAPANO. Mr. Speaker, yesterday the question was raised regarding difference in the coverage between the Act of 1935 and the proposed amendment to the Occupational Disease Act.

Under the Act of 1935, which is only a provisional coverage wherein the employe who becomes incapacitated as a result of a heart condition or a respiratory condition, only receives his salary for a short period, during the period that he is totally incapacitated. But that is only for a brief duration, whereas this attempts to put it under the Occupational Disease Act, and give the entire protection under it. Under the Occupational Disease Act not only is the protection afforded to the employe, that is the fireman or the policeman, but also to his dependents and his widow, and especially in event of death they will be protected by receiving compensation.

I do not think any municipality will be hurt in any degree because they will be relieved from paying the salary, and the injured employe or disabled employe will receive the $37.50 weekly benefit under the Occupational Disease Act.

I believe it is a good bill because it affords the proper protection for these people who risk their lives and their health for the protection and the welfare of the people. I ask support on both sides.

Mr. CURWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I, too, rise in favor of this bill. This only takes in less than 6,000 firemen, and I think the firemen are very important men in our lives, in the towns and villages we come from. It does not amount to much. The cases would be very small, and most of our other outfits are under the same protection.

I, too, would like to have the Members of the House go along and vote for the bill.

Shall the bill pass finally?

An Act amending the "Transfer Inheritance Tax Law" approved June 20, 1919 (P. L. 521) providing that the amount retained by registers of wills in certain counties for acting as agents of the Commonwealth shall be paid over for the use of the counties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Rules for the purpose of further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this motion.

My colleague from Bucks County, Mr. Gallagher, and I have very recently given this bill considerable new study. Unfortunately I was not recognized before the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky.

What I would like to offer, if he would be kind enough to withdraw his motion, would be a set of amendments which I think would restore the confidence of the membership of this House in this bill and in the effect it attempts to attain.

If the gentleman from Westmoreland is not willing to withdraw his motion, then I would ask each Member in this House who has any regard, and I know they do have regard, for the manner in which the taxpayer's money is spent, to oppose the motion to recommit this bill. I say, and I feel very strongly on it, Mr. Speaker, that in view of the lateness of the hour—the Session is already in the middle of October—in all probability the bill cannot see the light of day. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, because of the importance of the bill I ask the membership of this House to oppose the motion.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe it is primarily a matter of affording a fellow Member on the floor the courtesy of the offering of the amendments inasmuch as the amendments could be offered in the Committee which had charge of the bill.

I want to say, Mr. Speaker, that I recognize I am unable to discuss the merits or the faults of the bill that is before us because the motion to recommit has been made, however, I do contend, and I submit to the membership of the House, that today's process of collecting the taxes of the state by the local Register of wills and recorder of deeds has been a satisfactory arrangement, and they have done a splendid job. I ask the Members of the House to support my motion to recommit.

Mr. SCHAFF. Mr. Speaker, I hesitate to discuss the merits of this bill, and if Mr. Petrosky desires to discuss the merits of this bill, then I suggest he withdraws his motion to recommit. If he is not willing to do that, then I suggest that the membership of this House give him the opportunity to discuss the merits of this bill by defeating the motion to recommit.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. SCHAFF and GALLAGHER and were as follows:

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 2388, Printer's No. 1776 was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2389, entitled:

An Act amending the "Policemen's Relief and Pension Fund Law" approved May 22, 1935 (P. L. 233) authorizing payments to beneficiaries of the fund while employed in the service of certain governments and validating and confirming such payments previously made.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, with the permission of the House, I would like to have my remarks apply to House Bills 2389, 2390 and 2391 because the principles involved are identical.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection the gentleman will proceed. The Chair hears none.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, these bills are of particular importance to the citizens and taxpayers of the city of Pittsburgh and Allegheny County. They have no application to any other group.

The bill 2389 proposes that the pension rights of policemen shall not be suspended if they get another governmental job. Bill 2390 says that the pension rights of firemen shall not be suspended if they get another governmental job. Bill 2391 applies to the entire field of the city of Pittsburgh so that any person who is an employe and gets a pension, his rights will not be suspended if he gets another job.

I say that, originally, even though the contention may be that pensions are the deferred payments that the employes of the city of Pittsburgh, firemen, policemen and general employes agree to when they enter into a solemn contract with the taxpayers of the city of Pittsburgh that they would get their pensions subject to the conditions that they would never have the right to remain on the public payroll. Therefore, I say that these pensions are for the deserving and needy and not for the greedy.

Let me pinpoint for you the background for the passage of this legislation. In the depression days of the 30's, when this legislation was passed for firemen and policemen, we had a situation in the county of Allegheny under which men were offering and collecting two pensions and were also on the county payroll. This turned out to be a public disgrace. As a result, in 1937, legislation was enacted whereby no employe of the county could collect his pension and remain on the public payroll. Now, if we pass this particular legislation for the benefit of these employes and for the detriment of the taxpayers, we will be faced in the next Session with a bill to repeal the Act of 1937 insofar as it affects county employes. What would the net result be? The net result will be that the political fatcats in Allegheny County and the city of Pittsburgh will transfer their allegiance from Pittsburgh's payroll to the county payroll, and from the county payroll to the city payroll. It will mean that they will be able to have their pensions and draw city and county salaries. We state that this is unfair, and we call to your particular attention that under the Railroad Retirement Act, if a man takes a pension he does not have the right to work in the railroad business, and under the United Mine Workers' Pension Fund, if a miner gets a pension, he has no right to work in the coal mines.

It may be stated by the proponents of this bill that inadvertently I voted for House Bill 1808, which relieves firemen in cities of the third class from the prohibition that they can collect their pensions and remain on the public payroll. House Bill 1808 was passed primarily because the firemen in these cities could not even collect their pension if they were on a private payroll, and there is a distinction in that respect. In these days of automation, when there is a desire to see that everybody gets a fair break and has a chance to get employment, public or otherwise, I think it is very serious on the part of employes to try to collect their pension and go over to another governmental body and deprive some worthwhile citizen, who does not have a pension, of the right to have a public job. Employment is important both in public and private life.

I also call to your attention that if we pass this particular legislation, in the years to come, we will be faced by a bugaboo which will be a very serious detriment to the taxpayers. I have always favored the passage of a universal pension bill so that if a man works for the city, county or state he tack on that pension and get increments in other features. I feel that if we pass this bill you will never have a universal pension for employes throughout the state of Pennsylvania, just like the school teachers have.

I want to tell my friends in the city of Pittsburgh on the payroll, both the firemen and the policemen and the general employes, that have fought for the legitimate rights of these individuals insofar as legitimate pensions are concerned when they are right. This time I say they are wrong, and I ask Members in both sides to be non-partisan and protect the taxpayer against a vicious raid.

Mr. DEVLIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise, likewise with my colleague Mr. Goldstein, to speak on his remarks pertaining to this and the ensuing two bills; 2389, 2390 and 2391.

I would like to ask the Members on both sides of the House not to treat the employe, municipal, police and firemen of the second class cities any differently than they did with the third class cities. I have here our Journal for the date of June 17, and we in this House passed House Bill 1808, which accomplished the same purpose in relation to third class cities as this and the ensuing two bills do for the second class city of Pittsburgh. I point out to the Members on both sides that we passed it by a vote of 190 to 1. I see no reason for treating the second class city of Pittsburgh as any less meriting our consideration here.

I think if the Members of the House will contemplate for a moment and realize that members of other agencies, for example, the State Police and for example this body, that have received and earned pensions seek other municipal employment and obtain it, they are not precluded from receiving their benefits. I want the Members to realize that we have a deadline cut-off date here insofar as the fire-fighters are concerned of January 1, 1934; as far as the police are concerned of January 1, 1937; and if you happen to have been employed prior to that date you can take your pension and obtain and get other municipal employment other than the agency from which you receive the pension. I point out that this bill continues that same thing. They naturally could not collect the pension and be employed by the same municipality, but we contend that they should be permitted to collect the pension if they get employment by another municipality.

We have publications put out by the state associations of these groups listing where other employment is available in other municipalities for men of their training and background. However, our men from Pittsburgh are precluded from making application for any of these other available places of employment by virtue of this existing law which we are trying to change.

I think, Members of the House, that this is good legislation; we should give it to our fire-fighters, our policemen and our municipal employes, and I ask you all to vote in the affirmative on this and the ensuing two bills.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Devlin, consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DEVLIN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that the Acts of 1933 and 1935 applying to policemen and firemen were enacted because of the fact that the public was outraged in witnessing that people were getting two pensions at one time under the then existing laws?

Mr. DEVLIN. If any colleague will forgive me, I was not in touch with the legislative intent at the time, 1933 and 1935. I do not know if that was the motivation behind the bills.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it not fact that House Bill 1808, relating to third class cities, concerning which remarks were made, related to a prohibition on not only private but public employment too?

Mr. DEVLIN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1808 authorized pension payments to retired members of fire departments regardless of their employment.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. But prior to the passage of the Act, if a fireman in a third class city obtained private employment, he would be prohibited from getting his pension, as distinguished from the Act we have now which relates only to public employment. Is that not a fact?

Mr. DEVLIN. There is a slight difference because under the prior law, prior to 1808, the amount he received from his subsequent job and his pension together could not exceed the old pay rate that he had received.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that if these bills are enacted, it will be possible for an employe in Allegheny County to qualify for two pensions?

Mr. DEVLIN. If this bill passes, will be possible for a member of the Pittsburgh Police Department to take other employment, to take employment, for example with the township of Mt. Lebanon or the borough of Wilkesburg and still collect his pension from the city of Pittsburgh, as well as his salary from his new employer.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Would he not also qualify for a pension?

Mr. DEVLIN. If he would put in the necessary time in the new municipality; if he could put in 20 or the required number of years, 20 or 25, in his new municipal employment, he would then qualify for that.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, the Act of 1935 prohibits the collection of a pension by county employes. Do you not visualize subsequent legislation to make it possible for these county employes to collect their pensions and work in the city of Pittsburgh?

Mr. DEVLIN. It is not inconceivable.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The purpose of this interrogation was to pinpoint my argument that if you pass this legislation you will see a transfer of county employes to city jobs and city employes to county jobs, and those people who benefit will not be the rank and file but those with political influence. This is not a bill for the average man, this is a bill for political fat-cats.

Mr. DEVLIN. Mr. Speaker, I do not think it is particularly germane, but I know that under the county retirement code you are not permitted to collect two pensions. I do not know if the city retirement fund permits it, but I am advised that it does not. So it would not be a question of collecting two pensions, if that is disturbing Mr. Goldstein.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FILO. I would like the gentleman to qualify the statement he made that county employes could get jobs with the city. Is it not true that a county employe, to get a job, must reside within the city limits?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, it is possible that if some of your friends are county employes and they retire and do not qualify by moving into the city, and if they are very, very well thought of politically, city council can waive the residence requirement. So that if you have any problem about any of your men qualifying, do not worry.

Mr. FILO. Is this true, Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman will agree that a man has to live in the city of Pittsburgh to qualify for a county job?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I want to make one brief remark. I say this is a matter of principle because it was injected into the argument and stated that Members of the Legislature collect pensions and perhaps may be able to collect that pension and go into another governmental job. It is my opinion that legislation should be passed to prohibit this because I say you should not collect your pension and also be on the government payroll. I would favor legislation to prohibit such a thing in connection with Members of the House and the Senate.

On the question, recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. What is the purpose of the resolution as far as salary schedules are concerned? Are they predated?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Would the gentleman desire to interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Polaski?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Will the Majority Leader consent to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, under this particular resolution are salary schedules predated?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, under this resolution no salary schedules are predated. This is the resolution which is submitted every Session of the General Assembly by the Slate Committee in compliance with the assignment of positions by title. It does not have to do with salary; for example, whatever the salary is, that is what it is by law, and it is not predated. May I bring to your attention that Senate Bill 309 became an Act on Friday, October 2, and nothing is predated before that date.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Thank you.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Mrs. ANDERSON, Mrs. F. R. JONES, Mrs. MARKLEY, Mrs. B. Z. MILLER, Mrs. KOOKER, Mrs. PASHLEY, Mrs. MUNLEY, Mrs. DONAHUE, Mrs. KERNAGHAN and Mrs. REIBMAN offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, October 14, 1959.

On Wednesday, October 14, 1959, when the Governor and Mrs. Lawrence officially designate them as such, eight prominent Pennsylvania women will be recipients of an award as a result of their being chosen as the 1959 "Distinguished Daughters of Pennsylvania."

We, the members of the House of Representatives, should be proud of these ladies for they have brought honor upon themselves as well as our State, but we must be especially proud of one of them because she is a member of this distinguished body.

The lady from Philadelphia, and the ever popular majority whip Mary A. Varallo was one of the four who was chosen from the Philadelphia area. Mary, who in private life is Mrs. Alfred Varallo of 1418 Point Breeze Avenue, is dean of the women members of this House. She was first elected in 1944 and time and time again she has been reelected which shows that the people of her district also feel that she is a distinguished daughter of Pennsylvania.

The idea of selecting Distinguished Daughters originated in 1949 during Pennsylvania Week celebrations and a candidate is judged for her personal worth or accomplishment which will benefit mankind and bring honor to her home community or State. Most certainly Mary A. Varallo's accomplishments will bring honor to her home, community and our state in that she was the author and sponsor of Pennsylvania's first law granting equal rights to women as well as many other laws and resolutions designated to make our State a better place in which to live.

In the past other awards have been granted Mrs. Varallo. For her untiring zeal in working in their orphanage, the Missionary Sisters of the Sacred Heart gave her their award in 1955. In 1958 the Republic of Italy awarded her its "Star of Solidarity" for her deeds in cementing relations between Italy and the United States. She has also received awards from the Afro-Methodist-Episcopal Church, the Southwest Business Men's Improvement Association and the Negro Women of Philadelphia County.

A person could go on endlessly praising the achievements of Mary Varallo, but all of us here, both Republican and Democrat know of the splendid job she has done for her party and for the House of Representatives as a whole. She richly deserves the honors which have been bestowed upon her and by designating her as one of the Distinguished Daughters of Pennsylvania, the judges have made a selection that we are sure will be concurred in by millions of Pennsylvanians. The distinguished Congressman, William J. Green, Jr. has many many times praised Mrs. Varallo for the work she has done for her party and we are sure that if he were here today, he would join with us in presenting this resolution.

We, the members of the House of Representatives, would like to take this opportunity to offer our sincere congratulations to Mrs. Varallo upon her selection for this high honor, therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives congratulate the lady from Philadelphia upon her being designated as one of the "Distinguished Daughters of Pennsylvania" for 1959, and be it further

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. DAVIS. Concurrent RESOLUTION No. 121

In the House of Representatives, October 14, 1959.

The year 1960 will be the 225th Anniversary of the arrival of the first Moravian Colony in America. In February, 1735, a group of Moravians under the leadership of August Gottlieb Spangenberg sailed for Georgia. They reached Savannah in April, 1735.

Moreover, the year 1960 is also the 225th Anniversary of the departure of David Zeisberger for America, where he was to spend a lifetime of devoted missionary work among the Indians—especially in Pennsylvania. Zeisberger and his wife Rosina, sailed from England in November 1735, with the second colony of Moravians. They were under the leadership of David Nitschmann, later consecrated the first Bishop of the Renewed Moravian Church.

It was this Nitschmann, "the carpenter," who designed and erected the first buildings in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, and so established the style of architecture which marks the older part of that historic city.

A further point of significance is the fact that the party of which David Zeisberger was a member had much to do with the development of the great Methodist movement. On the ship was John Wesley, who was much to do with the development of the great Methodist the years he kept in touch with his good shipboard friends who were destined to leave so strong and lofty an imprint upon the moral and religious traditions of Pennsylvania.

Clearly the year 1960 in the Moravian tradition, including Zeisberger's dangerous mission to the savage Indians of northwestern Pennsylvania which stemmed from the 1735 ocean voyage, is a year of inspirational significance to all Pennsylvanians; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the General Assembly hereby requests that the Pennsylvania Museum and Historical Commission, happily in possession of so many documents of early Moravian historical lore, determine an historical site and/or enshrined relics carrying a suitable commemorative significance related to the 225th Anniversary of the coming of the first Moravian group and of David Zeisberger; and be it further

Resolved, That the Pennsylvania Museum and Historical Commission be further requested to recommend to the 1961 Session of the General Assembly the establishment of a 225th Anniversary commemorative site and/or enshrined relics together with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1959.

The Senate met at 10:00 o'clock a. m. Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. MAX BURTON CONLEY, Pastor of Appleby Manor Memorial Presbyterian Church, Ford City, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

O Lord, our God, before Whom all pretenses fall away, Who knowest our secret thoughts and our hidden fears, bless us this day with Thy spirit and help us to discharge our duties faithfully and well. Let us not forget why we are here, and those who have made sacrifices of their lives that we might have a representative form of government.

While the voices of pressure groups ring in our ears, may it not drown out the voices who, of the past, said to us: "Give me liberty or give me death." "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal." God, grant the we shall never forget the foundation of equality, freedom and charity upon which this great Republic rests.

We pray for the President of the United States and those who advise him, those who sit in halls of legislation across the land the judges of the land and all those in authority, that it may please Thee so to rule their hearts that they may rightly use the trust committed to them for the good of all people.

Rise up among us, we pray, fearless men who know that only in doing Thy will can we find our peace. So make it plain to us this day and give us the courage to do it, in the Name of the Almighty, world without end. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BERGER and Mr. BLASS, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. WEINER (By request) read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1227, entitled:

An Act amending the Act of August 10, 1951 (P. L. 1182), entitled "Chiropractic Registration Act of 1951," permitting students in their final semester of chiropractic college to be admitted to the standard examination.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

He also (By request) read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1228, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 2, 1956 (P. L. 1206), entitled "Chiropody Act of 1956," changing the definition of the term chiropody and the term chiropodist.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON FINANCE FROM

FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 656

Mr. LANE offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, October 15, 1959.

RESOLVED, That House Bill No. 656, Printer's No. 418, entitled "An act reenacting and amending the act of June 22, 1935 (P. L. 414), entitled, as amended, 'An act to provide revenue for State purposes; imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property; providing for the assessment, collection and lien of the same and the distribution of the proceeds thereof; imposing duties on executors, administrators, registers of wills, recorders of deeds, prothonotaries and court clerks and on persons, copartnerships, associations, banks, national banks, trust companies and other corporations receiving deposits of money and on certain corporations and limited partnerships; conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments; imposing penalties and making an appropriation,' by reenacting and clarifying the State personal property tax, increasing the rate thereof and of the corporate loans tax, granted certain additional exemptions and credits and providing for the valuation of stock in certain investment companies," having been referred to the Committee on Finance on June 30, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Lane, are you seeking the immediate adoption of this resolution?

Mr. LANE. Yes, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I certainly have objection to the immediate adoption of the resolution. However, this resolution, as I understand it, must be acted upon immediately.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, my reasoning in offering this resolution today is in view of the circumstances surrounding our budgetary problems. This legislation has been in the Finance Committee for quite some time. It has not moved. I feel that there is a definite need for this tax bill being reported to the floor and acted upon.

At a recent meeting which was held, covering the budgetary problems in Pennsylvania, I found that we have a little bit more than $1,000,000 to go on. With $1,000,000, we are not going to do much as far as increasing the subsidies for our various school districts. I figure, with the Republican story of an additional $28,000,000, which they claim they have given to the Department of Public Instruction and the $55,000,000 contained in this bill, that we will be able to do something for public education here in Pennsylvania.

We have taxed the poor people of this Commonwealth with a four per cent sales tax. There is no reason in the world why we should not tax stocks and bonds. It is only fair and equitable that we should spread this load. It seems to me that we should have a vote today on whether or not this bill is going to be reported from committee. That vote would be indicative to me and, I believe, to the public of Pennsylvania that if they vote in the negative, then the Republicans position is, "Soak the poor and let us take care of the rich."

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, this, of course, is not the first word and possibly not the last that will be heard upon this subject. The gentleman's remarks would indicate that it all depends upon which end of the field glasses you put your eyes, whether you get the small picture or the large picture, when it refers to the amount of money which is rattling around in the various departments and in the appropriations bill.

However, Mr. President, as we have stated here before, and I reiterate, most of the opposition I have received regarding this bill comes not from the people whom you would classify as wealthy people, but from small people who have accumulated a competence and are receiving their income from it. Consequently, Mr. President, I request my colleagues to vote "no" upon this resolution.

Mr. DONLOW. Mr. President, I should like to add my voice in favor of this resolution, in view of the fact that we, from Philadelphia, feel that it is of great importance that we secure an appropriation for our school district. This is one way in which we could bring to an end the bickering and the back and forth struggle which is going on over in the House in passing a decent subsidy bill whereby the school district of Philadelphia will receive its just share. By passing this bill containing the stocks and bonds tax, which will raise some $55,000,000, plus the other $28,000,000 which we can get out of the budget, I feel that this will bring to an end the ills and certainly will permit us to get home before the Christmas holidays.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I think one of the strongest points in favor of the stocks and bonds tax is the fact that I think everyone is aware of the educational problem that we are having in this Commonwealth. I would like to say to the gentlemen on the other side, who are interested in this matter, that if they do not want to enact the tax as it stands now, with the $55,000,000 yield which it would bring into Pennsylvania, and earmark that strictly for educational purposes, and they feel that $30,000,000 is sufficient—I have heard that expressed by one of the gentlemen over in the House, and I believe I read in the newspaper that one of the gentlemen over there feels that this is what is needed for education—then let them reduce this measure to the point where it will yield the $30,000,000 and earmark that for educational purposes or for education.

I think all of us are aware—especially this week, which is Schoolmen's Week—of the plight in which the school-teachers find themselves. I think there is not a gentleman sitting here today who, in his county, is not having difficulty in getting qualified school teachers to teach and take part in the community activity of educating the young. It is only money which is keeping many of the communities from obtaining the finest kind of school teachers and school personnel they can get.

We find that many of the young people who come to Pennsylvania from other States, to be educated as school teachers, immediately leave this area and go somewhere else. In the Philadelphia school area, I can say—and I think the gentleman from Montgomery will agree with me—that the best paid teachers in the Commonwealth are in Montgomery County. Many of our teachers have crossed the Philadelphia line into areas such as Abington, where they receive more money and have a better retirement system, thereby leaving our community without the adequate kind of people whom they need.

I am sure that all of us are aware of the fact that the more problems a child has, the better teacher he should have. Children who are gifted and able merely need slight guidance and not the type of help that good school teachers and good personnel, necessary in the public school system, can provide. These people are like all of us. The economic problem is an acute one with them and it usually follows along that line.

We have the vehicle here with which to do the job. We are asking, and imploring, that we have another look at this problem, and that we do not close our eyes to the possibilities which exist here. Therefore, when we leave here, we will not be able to say, "Why did we not do this? Why did we take this action? Why is it that our school system is suffering?" The money is here and the programs are available to us. All we have to do is take action.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I heard the argument this past week in regard to the revenues which we have available in order to finance government. I believe we had a return of about $2,700,000 to the General Appropriations Bill. We had about $300,000 restored to PIDA. I do not believe we had anything returned for redevelopment.

However, Mr. President, the $55,000,000, which they claim this bill will produce, is absolutely essential at this particular time for the following reason. First and foremost, we have House Bill No. 1108, which is the school subsidy bill. I believe that every school teacher in Pennsylvania and every school board in Pennsylvania is looking to this Legislature for some financial assistance. It also seems to me, Mr. President, that we should assume our responsibilities and do the best we can for public education.

It was in very poor taste that the Republican Majority in this Senate advocated and passed a four per cent sales tax. Incidentally, while I am on that subject, one of the feature writers for the Pittsburgh Press said that the Republicans were so anxious for that four per cent tax that they could almost taste it. They were afraid it was not going to pass. Therefore, since they passed that and since they received many communications from the poor people in regard to that legislation, it is only fair and just that they consider this resolution, pass this resolution and bring this bill to the floor.

I own stocks and bonds and I am willing to pay my particular share if it is going to help public education. I believe that every thinking citizen feels that they should assume their proportionate share of financing government. In this entire Session, there has been a hodgepodge of taxes. First they yelled about the Hood-Kennedy Report. They said that is what they wanted and that is what must be passed, and they were going to adopt it. However, they did not go far enough, Mr. President, to recognize the need for additional legislation to bring about additional revenue. For that reason, they have killed this bill and held it in committee.

As a matter of fact, a number of leaders on the Republican side have said that this bill will never come out of committee and, if it does, it will be over their dead bodies, or words to that effect. It seems to me that if they are sincere in helping finance government, they will report this bill. However, I do not think they are. I think they are running for Governor. They began during this Session to run for Governor. I do not think they are sincere, but I do think we should have a vote in order to see how they stand.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, the brief remarks I am about to make are necessarily a repetition, but I do want to state my position on this resolution.

We have a distressed school situation in Philadelphia. We must raise an additional $13,000,000 annually on top of a budget of $93,000,000 that we have presently. We see no way, no measures, tax measures, that can supply this money. We are hoping that House Bill No. 2354 will be enacted into law. It would help a great many districts in the State of Pennsylvania, including Philadelphia.

There is no bill in the House or Senate that can meet the needs of the additional money needed for education, other than this bill which imposes a tax on stocks and bonds. As Senator Lane said, I own some stocks, too. I want to take the same position, as to myself, personally, as is taken in the many hundreds of letters which I received from my District. These letters say, "Give us the money we need for the schools. We are willing to pay the additional taxes necessary."

Mr. President, I say that, personally, I am willing to pay the additional taxes necessary to meet the needs of our schools.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, this attack, I suppose, is aimed at me as Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and I feel called upon to explain why I have not brought House Bill No. 656 up for consideration.

This is known as a tax on intangible personal property. It is really a tax on stocks, bonds, mortgages and other evidences of indebtedness, based on the face value and not on any income that might be derived from such holdings. Actually, the tax, as proposed, will bring a total of about a twenty-five per cent tax on the income that is derived from such holdings. It comes on top of a four mill tax that is imposed by most counties, and the bill contains some tempting exemptions for residents of our two largest cities. Pittsburgh, which already imposes a ten mill tax through their various taxing agencies, would not pay any of this personal property tax for State purposes. Philadelphia, and its various taxing bodies, imposes an eight mill personal property tax, so that the people in Philadelphia would be expected to contribute only two per cent additional tax on their holdings to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

It seems if we are going to impose taxes for State purposes, they should be imposed equally on all of the residents of the Commonwealth.

I am not concerned with the exemptions at this time, but what does concern me is the Governor's evident misconception of where the impact of this tax will be felt most painfully. Quite possibly, his acquaintanceship with the wealthier elements of the community has led him to believe that it is they and only they who are the owners of shares of stocks, bonds and mortgages. These people, the Governor probably feels, as do the men on the other side, are well able to pay, so let them pay. However, I wonder if we are all aware that hundreds of thousands of Pennsylvania's working men and women own shares of stock in the companies they work for, and often in other companies besides.

Are we to forget that these people, from their savings, have purchased shares of stocks and bonds over the years in the hope of assuring themselves of income when they retire or are forced out of employment? Many men and many widows in Pennsylvania are living on savings such as that which were earned by the wage earners in their family.

I expected this issue to come up before the Senate sooner or later, and I have been collecting some data that I would just like to put into the record.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company had these stock facts prior to the three-to-one split up:

There are 70,000,000 shares in the company, and there are 1,650,000 shareowners. The share distribution is on this basis: Fifty per cent of the shareholders own one to fifteen shares; fourteen per cent, sixteen to twenty-five shares; twenty-seven per cent, twenty-six to ninety-nine shares; and nine per cent, 100 shares and over. No individual holds as much as one-thirtieth of one per cent. Most of the new owners start by purchasing ten shares or less of stock. The number of owners in American Telephone and Telegraph has increased 137 per cent since 1945.

I just made a few notes from an article, "Small Stockholders in U. S. Industry," appearing in a magazine of September 1959.

Roger M. Blough, President of the U. S. Steel Corporation, says:

"The owners of our business outnumber the employees by a considerable margin; and no one of them holds as much as three-tenths of one per cent of the outstanding stock."

General Electric Company has 376,000 stockholders. One in ten families owns stock. In 1956, there were 8,630,000 stockholders.

I would like to read two brief paragraphs from a bank paper of October 1, 1959:

"In this decade, marked by fast growth in the number of middle-income families, the number of shareholders in U. S. corporations has more than doubled. Just from 1952 to 1959, the number has increased from 6.5 million to 12.5 million.

"About 75 per cent of the current owners of U. S. corporations have annual incomes under $10,000. Nearly 50 per cent are in the $5,000 to $10,000 income range."

It seems to me, when we are imposing a tax of this sort, too many of us assume that it is going to be paid by the wealthy people. However, it is the poor people today who are also investing in securities in order to provide for their old age.

As a concluding statement, I would like to read another comment. This is from Time Magazine of July 20, 1959:

"The village president of suburban Glenview, Ill., met with his board of trustees last week and took a 'malicious pleasure in hacking and slashing,' as he later confessed. What he hacked and slashed was spending items in the village's new budget, such as the library's request for $91,000 (cut by nearly one-third) and the building commissioner's request for a $2,500 car (cut to $1,800). Explained President Jack Mabley, who makes his living as a Chicago Daily News columnist: 'There's a feeling of frustration and desperation among the taxpayers I meet, and this is one small way of doing something about it.'"

The article continues:

"When Massachusetts' Democratic Governor Foster Furcolo requested a chance to speak to General Electric workers at Lynn last month in defense of his embattled proposal to boost the state sales tax, they deluged him with 200 unfriendly questions, such as: 'When are you going to forget your giveaway programs?' 'Why don't you do something to stop the disgraceful, wasteful spending of the taxpayers' dollars?"

I think, Mr. President, all through the Country, not only in Pennsylvania or Massachusetts but all over the United States, there is a growing push on the part of the people to reduce taxes, and not to increase them any more. Certainly we do not want to impose a tax that is going to discourage people to look out for themselves by saving and accumulating money so that they will not have to depend on the State for aid.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe that a famous gentleman from this Country, who was not a member of the Democratic Party, once said that the purpose of government is to do for people those things which they cannot do for themselves. That was Abraham Lincoln, who was a very famous Republican, and who, I think, is held up by the Republicans as being one of their great standard-bearers and one of the people who best represents their philosophy.

In line with that thinking, helping people who are unfortunate, helping schools, helping education and doing the things for people which need to be done in the welfare and social areas, I think this is not needless spending, nor is it needless throwing away of money. We, in this State, are trying to find avenues of raising revenue so that we can keep the people, who teach our children, not only happy but at least in a position where they can vie with other people who are brought into industry, and perhaps enjoy a little better pursuit in the way of economics, at least in a competitive position.

In Philadelphia, we are already paying the personal property tax for our schools, so that we are not getting away with something or trying to evade our responsibility. We already pay a personal property tax. I might also add that if the assessments in some of the rural areas were up to the same level as they are in Philadelphia, perhaps the return to the communities would be a lot higher and their millage would not be as high.

When we talk about a stocks and bonds tax, we have heard here before about the poorer people being taxed. I do not think that is borne out by the facts. I think the best return—and most stockbrokers will bear this out—you can receive from a stock investment or a bond investment is four per cent. If you will stop and think for a moment about the amount of return that you have to get in order to be able to live on four per cent, and you consider the initial investment that has to go into that, you will see that we are not talking about poor people as such.

It is true that the corporations themselves have been fostering it—if you pick up the Wall Street Journal, it is in there every day—and asking people who have limited means to buy stocks and bonds. I think that is done more in the area of public relations, rather than in the area of having these people as truly investors. I think those of you who are familiar with corporations realize that there are different grades and different classes of stock. There may be a Class A Stock, which is in control of the company. There may be a Class B for those people they want to take into it. There may be a Class C, Class D and so on down the line, in order to have the public become interested in the corporation, for the very purpose of preventing certain things that are necessary in government from happening to these corporations.

American Telephone and Telegraph Company, I think, is a very good example, and I am glad Senator Kessler picked it. It is a company that has grown so large that it is a massive giant, and I think one of these days the Government may have to even deal with it. It is a company which, during the height of the depression, never missed paying a dividend, and paid a rather substantial dividend. The company has grown so rich and so heavy is their profit that they had to split their stock three-for-one.

These are all profit schemes. They are all schemes that are set up in order to evade further taxation, and this tax would not fall on those people if the bill remains the way it was when it came from the House. I have not seen it since that time. However, as it came from the House, this tax would only fall upon those corporations that are known as foreign corporations which have stock and do not pay taxes in the State of Pennsylvania to begin with.

A man who can also invest money in mortgages is certainly not a poor individual and is certainly not a person whom we have to support or who is looking to the public to support him. What is he actually being taxed on? He would be taxed on the profit that he would be making from the mortgage that he has given, or the money that he has loaned.

Money is a commodity, like any other commodity. It is kept by the banks as inventory, much the same as a storekeeper keeps cans of food on his shelves. What is wrong with taxing a storekeeper for certain amounts of money that he has or certain amounts of money that he gains from his inventory, or to tax a bank or to tax anybody else who owns stock from which they gain money?

We are not talking about the little person who gets perhaps $400 a year or $500 a year as a return on a stock investment, or bond investment, he has made. If this person can afford to keep his money in that vein, I do not think it is asking too much that he give up some of it to educate the people in this State. I am all for earmarking this tax for the very purpose of education.

I think when you take all these things into consideration, and merely hold up Pittsburgh and Philadelphia as being the ones that are escaping by this tax, it is not a fair incident, because these people have been paying this tax and paying it for a number of years for the purpose of supporting education in their communities. All you are doing is equalizing or leveling this tax throughout the entire State for that very same purpose.

I say to you that if you do not want to enact the $55,000,000, let us reduce it to a point where we can earmark for education perhaps the $27,000,000. Cut it in half, and let us specifically mark it for educational purposes because, as you well know, there is no money in the budget at this moment for that type of activity.

I think to take the attitude that this is taxing poor people is certainly throwing us off the track and laying down a smoke screen where it does not exist.

We can earmark this money for education and enact this tax. There is not one tax that is popular. There is no tax that you could ever bring out that everyone would favor 100 per cent or want to vote for and be happy about it. This is a vehicle that has passed the House, it is over here now, and we are asking for further tax money for this purpose. This is the way to do it.

I urge you with all the sincerity at my command, with all of the Democratic Members behind me, to at least bring this tax before us, let us have a look-see at it on the Calendar and let us take some pertinent action on it. Perhaps it might need some amending, but we cannot do that unless the measure is before us. I am only asking you to bring it before us so that we might have an opportunity to act upon it.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I realize this is my third time up. I am only going to say a few words and sit down.

Mr. President, all of us are out of order. I am going to say it before Senator Berger says it because we are debating the bill and not the resolution. We have gotten away with that so far and, therefore, I am going to keep still on that point.

However, Mr. President, I would like to have the vote and then let us debate the bill in detail. Probably then we can answer Senator Kessler in detail in regard to the position that he takes that there is some sort of a conspiracy to eliminate Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. I think we can go into that in detail, in the event that the bill comes out on the floor, which I doubt.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I suppose I am walking on sort of a tight rope in speaking on this motion, but I will do my best.

The PRESIDENT. Frankly, to speak on the motion would be perfectly in order. The problem that I have had is that of speaking on the bill.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, it is sort of a tight rope act, I am afraid to talk on the motion, but I will try to keep it within bounds.

It seems to me this Senate, before we adjourn, has three alternatives on this matter of more assistance for public education. We can give no additional assistance for public education; we can feign to give assistance to public education by passing bills and doing deficit financing. I notice that a distinguished Member of the House is now suggesting that this might be done in a deficit manner by borrowing from the Retirement Fund or from the Motor Fund. This, it would seem to me, would be just an evasion of the issue. Thirdly, we can do it through this stocks and bonds tax.

If we vote down this motion today, it seems to me that we are eliminating the third alternative. This will allow us only two alternatives; namely, either no additional support for public education or do it by a deficit financing method. It seems to me, in fairness to the school directors, the school children, the school teachers and the entire citizenry of Pennsylvania, that a matter of such importance should be brought from the confines of the committee and placed before the entire Senate of Pennsylvania in order for each Senator to be recorded on this very important issue.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, are we about to take a roll call on the resolution?

The PRESIDENT. We have had no request for a roll call.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I second the request for a roll call.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, this may begin to sound like a broken record, but I asked yesterday, concerning another resolution, and I ask again today and I intend to keep asking of the Chair whether a vote on a discharge resolution constitutes a vote for or against the bill.

The PRESIDENT. It does not.

Mr. WEINER. Is that a ruling of the Chair?

The PRESIDENT. That is a ruling of the Chair.

REQUEST TO APPEAL RULING OF THE CHAIR

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to appeal that ruling.

The PRESIDENT. You may do so.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, this resolution is for the discharge of the committee which is studying the piece of legislation that is in front of it. If this legislation is not brought before us, how can anyone say he is for or against it unless there is the opportunity to do so?

The PRESIDENT. I would agree with you on that point.

Mr. WEINER. The only thing the resolution asks for is that this matter be brought before us and that the committee be discharged from further consideration. I think a vote against the resolution is a vote against the measure, itself. I cannot understand how the Chair would indicate that this is a matter which is being resolved here in that you vote one way on one piece of legislation which deals with the same thing, and you vote another way on the other. It certainly is inconsistent.

I did not broach this matter yesterday because we had gotten into many other phases of it and I did not want to prolong it then. However, it seems to me that this is a non sequitor if I ever heard one. In other words, if you are against bringing this matter before you, in order to do anything about it, then how could you be for it?

The PRESIDENT. The question before the Senate is on an appeal from the ruling of the Chair that a vote for or against the discharge of a committee is not a vote for or against the bill. A vote to sustain the Chair's ruling is an "aye" vote. A vote to reverse the Chair's ruling is a "no" vote.

I am sorry. We will probably have to call the roll on this question.

The Clerk will call the roll.

On the question,

Will the Senate sustain the ruling of the Chair.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, what is the question on which I am voting?

The PRESIDENT. I do not know how I could put it more plainly. Do you want the reporter to read my words back to you?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, has a motion been made to sustain the ruling or is—

The PRESIDENT. There has been an appeal from the ruling of the President. The Chair ruled that a vote on the resolution to discharge this bill from committee is not a vote for or against the bill, itself.

I admit that the Chair permitted the Senators to speak at length on the merits of the bill, itself, which I should not have done. However, the Senators seemed to feel they wanted to talk on the merits of the bill. I do not think, however, that my ruling is improper in the least.

There has been an appeal and I am saying that anyone who votes "aye" will vote to sustain the Chair's ruling. Those who vote "no" will vote to reverse the Chair's ruling.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, can the Presiding Officer make such a ruling to interpret a vote made on this floor?

The PRESIDENT. I would know of no authority. If the Senator has any authority against my so ruling, I shall be glad to listen to it.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, you did not answer the point of information I just raised. Do I understand that the Presiding Officer says that in his capacity as Presiding Officer he can interpret my vote?

The PRESIDENT. There is no interpretation of a vote here, Mr. Donolow, and you know that as well as I.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, are you not interpreting a vote when a Member of this Senate asks you whether he is voting for or against the bill on a discharge resolution? Are you not interpreting the significance of his vote when he asks you that question? Does not his vote speak for itself without your interpretation? Can you go beyond my "aye" vote or my "no" vote in order to determine to what depth it goes, whether it goes to the resolution or whether it goes to the very heart of the bill itself? Are you not then making a legal interpretation which is beyond your power as Presiding Officer?

The PRESIDENT. You are free to argue that.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I am asking this as a question.

The PRESIDENT. You are free to argue that point on the question as to whether or not the Chair's ruling will be sustained or reversed. I am perfectly happy to give you the floor for that purpose. Any decision that is final in this regard must be given by the Senate itself.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, may I rephrase the question this way?

The PRESIDENT. What question, sir?

Mr. LANE. The question in regard to whether or not a gentleman voting against a discharge resolution is actually voting against the bill. I believe that is the question before us, and then an appeal was made. The Chair has now taken the position that although the gentleman may vote against the resolution, it does not indicate that they would vote against the legislation. Is that correct?

Mr. President, taking the same set of circumstances, is it indicative to you that if a Member of this Senate would stand on the floor and oppose the passage of this resolution, would you not assume that he intended to oppose the passage of the legislation? I am asking for your opinion.

The PRESIDENT. That is a matter which is within the Member's own conscience. I cannot read a man's mind. I have no opinion, whatsoever, on that point, sir.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, you must—

The PRESIDENT. It is very possible that a Member could feel that the committee needed additional time to study a particular bill and would, therefore, vote "no" against discharging it. However, I would not know of any way in which I would know why he was voting. I have just been told by Senator Donolow that it is not my prerogative to interpret the vote of any Senator and I agree wholeheartedly with him.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, would you assume that the committee would need additional time when it has had the bill since June 1? I think we are walking on thin ice when any Member of this Senate would take the position that they needed additional time.

The PRESIDENT. I think this matter is all a matter of thin ice, Senator Lane.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, may we be at ease for a moment in order to have a side bar conference?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.
(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, it may be that we misunderstood the Chair's ruling.

The PRESIDENT. Might I state to you that I was ruling on two individual questions? I am simply ruling that these are separate questions to be voted upon separately.

Mr. WEINER. Then your ruling is that the vote on the matter before the Senate now is merely a vote on the resolution. Is that the Chair's ruling?

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

REQUEST TO APPEAL RULING OF THE CHAIR WITHDRAWN

Mr. WEINER. If that is the Chair's ruling, I will withdraw my appeal.

The PRESIDENT. A roll call having been requested, the Clerk will call the roll.

The question is on the motion to discharge the Committee on Finance from further study of House Bill No. 656, Printer's No. 418.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this, but I would just like to have a clarification of your ruling on my original question, before we have the roll call.

The PRESIDENT. I do not know what clarification I can give you, Senator Van Sant, other than what I have given you. In my opinion, you are voting on the question as to whether or not to discharge the committee from further consideration of this bill. The vote is on that resolution.

Mr. VAN SANT. I thank the Chair.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. I think we can call the roll on this, Senator. I am afraid any further discussion at this point would only confuse the issue.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to discuss this further with Senator Van Sant. I would like to ask him, in the event this resolution prevails, would he vote for the bill?

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, I am a member of the Finance Committee and a Member of this Senate. The bill is not before the committee and has not been before the committee for a vote. It is not before the Senate at this time for a vote. For that reason, I decline to answer the gentleman.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, it is indicative to me that the gentleman does not want to vote for the bill. That is the story.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LANE and Mr. WEINER, and were as follows, viz:

The PRESIDENT. They may be stricken.

PUPILS FROM NITSCHMANN JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL,
BETHLEHEM, LEHIGH COUNTY,
PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, on the brighter side, we are pleased to have with us today some visitors whom I would like to introduce at this time because they want to go elsewhere.

From the Land of the Golden Touch, Lehigh County, here in Pennsylvania, in the city of Bethlehem, we are happy to welcome a group of my young constituents who are ninth grade students from the Nitschmann Junior High School, and are accompanied today by Harold F. Shunk, Camille Weidner, Mrs. Pavalko, Mrs. Walters, Mr. Masteller and Mr. Saunders. These are ninth grade civics students, with whom I have visited in past years at the Nitschmann Junior High School, and they are a wonderful group that is interested in State Government. I hope they saw demonstrated here today the type of action and the type of representation that all of the Senators of Pennsylvania give all of their constituents.

Several of the group come from neighboring Northampton County, and they are equally the guests of my distinguished colleague, the Honorable Fred B. Rooney.

The PRESIDENT. Will the group rise, please?

We are, indeed, very happy to have you here with us in the Senate today.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FLEMING, from the Committee on Executive Nominations, reported with a favorable recommendation the following nominations, made by His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth:

MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA PSYCHIATRIC INSTITUTE

October 13, 1959.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following for reappointment as members of the Board of Trustees of Eastern Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute, until May 13, 1961, and until their successors shall have been appointed and qualified:

William A. Sodeman, Dean, Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, Philadelphia County.
Charles S. Cameron, Dean, Hahnemann Medical College, Philadelphia, Philadelphia County.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. FLEMING asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nominations read by the Clerk.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

A motion was made by Mr. FLEMING and Mr. BLASS, That the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the nominations reported at today's Session.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. FLEMING and Mr. BLASS, That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—49

Berger,	Kalman,	Miller,	Silvert,
Blass,	Keller,	Mullin,	Stevenson,

NAYS—0

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye", the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

EXECUTIVE SESSION ARISES

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2218, entitled:

An Act appropriating all revenues exceeding a stated amount over the aggregate amount appropriated by the General Assembly for all purposes for the reduction of the bonded indebtedness of the Commonwealth.

And said bill having been read at length the third time.
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 1, by inserting after "bien-nium": "and executive authorization made according to law."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, this amendment, as offered, restores some language to the bill which had been deleted at least once, restored at least once and deleted again. Therefore, Mr. President, I would request my colleagues to vote "no" on the amendment.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the purpose of amending this bill back to its original form, as it came from the House, is that this bill is merely an expression of or policy by the government whereby $5,000,000 in excess of revenues received by the Commonwealth will be used to pay off bonded indebtedness.

What has been removed is the "executive authorization made according to law." These words were stricken out and the hands of the Governor are tied so that he cannot use this money.

If I were to be assured by this Body, and assured in writing, that we could be completely dependent that there would be no crisis, or that there would not be any kind of a problem arise or any other kind of difficulties that are envisioned by our Constitution so that the Executive hands are kept untied, I would say that I would be in favor of this bill the way it is today. However, as long as no one can guarantee that type of a situation, I cannot see how we can tie the hands of the Executive in this manner.

It is for that reason that I am asking my colleagues to vote for this amendment so that we can restore this language in here to the way the bill read when it came from the House.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SEYLER and Mr. MAHADY, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—21

Camel,	Lane,	Miller,	Ruth,
DiSilvestro,	Mahady,	Mullin,	Sarraf,

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

Gracious Father, Whose eternal Spirit ever watches over and guides each one of us throughout life, we turn to Thee in this morning hour keenly aware of the blessings which have been ours and the thankful spirit they have engendered within us. We humbly pray that Thou wilt enable us to show our gratitude by the very deeds we bring to maturity; we hope that we may ever look to Thee from whence cometh our help and our strength; and we trust that the lives we live may continually point the way for others to find Thy way and the blessed peace which Thou hast to give: through Jesus Christ, Thy Dear Son our Lord. Amen.

RECESS

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, we would like to have a 45 minute recess to caucus on concurrences on third reading bills.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection. The Chair recognizes the Majority Leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the Democratic Members of the House will not caucus at this time. We have 40 bills cleared and agreed to from yesterday that we would like to act on, and only those bills in that list, plus House Bill 2170, the air pollution bill, the General State Authority increased borrowing power bill, House Bill 2386, and the concurrences and non-concurrences that were acted on yesterday. So the Democratic Members of the House will not caucus. We will return at whatever time we agree to.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Make it 11:30, Mr. Speaker. Will the Republican Members bring their calendars with them, please?

RECESS

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair declares a recess of forty-five minutes.

The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

SENATE MESSAGE

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 2394 on page 13 of today's calendar, bills on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2394, entitled:

An Act amending the "Public School Code of 1949" approved March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) changing the provisions relating to the reading of the Bible in public schools.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 2394, Printer's No. 1722, is a change in the Public School Code of 1949, dealing with the section relating to reading of the Bible.

The old law provided that the Bible was to be read in the schools of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and any teacher who failed to do this could be dismissed. This is our answer to the situation in which we believe we stand, committed to those who desire to have the Bible read but feel that no teacher should be dismissed under the provisions of the Act. We feel this has a place in our public school system, for those who desire to have the Bible read. We believe this legislation should stand its course of tests, that it may have an opportunity to present our views and the views of the people we represent that the reading of the Bible to those who desire to have that is certainly a part of the American way of life.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 139, Printer's No. 1503 and

Senate Bill No. 145, Printer's No. 154

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 184, entitled:

An Act amending the title and act of June 25, 1937 (P. L. 2123), entitled "An act to define and restrict the obligation of persons engaged or connected with or employed by certain newspapers or press associations in testifying as to the source of information procured or obtained by such persons" extending the provisions of the act to include certain persons connected with radio and television stations.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I briefly want to state my objections to this bill and to request the Members of the House to vote against it.

I see no valid reason for extending to television and radio the privilege they are seeking via the terms of this bill. I think we are all familiar with the fact that there is an area of privileged communication that we do extend to a lawyer in connection with his relationship with his client, to a doctor in connection with his relationship with his patient and perhaps a priest in connection with his relationship with his parishoner, but the theory behind the field of privileged communication certainly does not encompass what is intended to be done by the provisions of this bill.

When a person relays or conveys a confidential communication to his lawyer or to his priest, he may do it for a number of reasons. He may do it to seek some surcease from the difficulties or the problems that are plaguing him, and a confession will make him feel better about the subject he is confessing about. At any rate, no matter what the reason is, he knows that when he conveys this information to his lawyer, to his doctor, or to his priest, it does not go beyond the ears and the mouth of the person to whom he is conveying it. In this particular situation we are giving a radio or TV station the right to refuse to disclose the source of information and are giving them the right to disseminate the information no matter how careless they may be in checking out the validity and the authority of the information that has been given to them.

Now, if, in fact, a person's reputation is damaged; if, in fact, a cloud is put over the life of a person by some reckless source that has given this information to be disseminated to a radio or TV station, then I cannot see any valid reason for protecting that source. It is not sufficient justification to say that the radio or TV station itself may be sued, because once again the source may disclose it to somebody else. The person whose reputation is being harassed and damaged should have the right to go after the person who is providing the false information that is being disseminated. So, I ask the Members of this House to vote down this bill.

Mr. STECKEL. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. FINEMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STECKEL. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman tell me whether or not the gentlemen of the Press now presently enjoy this very same privilege?

Mr. FINEMAN. They do.

Mr. STECKEL. That is all.

Mr. FINEMAN. But this is not dealing with the Press, I might add in further response. This is dealing with TV and radio.

Mr. STECKEL. I thank the gentleman.

This bill was promoted for the purpose of putting the news commentators and the news dispersal mediums of television and radio on the same plane as that of the printed newspaper.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I beg to differ with the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman.

This bill, as the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Steckel, states, extends to the new commentators of TV and radio stations the same privileges enjoyed by newspaper reporters.

On one occasion I saw a newspaper reporter, when someone tried to interrogate him as to the source of his information, stand up to the interrogator, who was a man of high office, and say "I have the right to protect the sources of my information."

When a man's reputation is damaged by TV, radio, or newspaper, and he can prove it is damaged, he can get a very good recovery at law. You do not read much about it in the newspapers because the newspapers will not publish too much on the libel suit settlements. But there is a recourse. On the other hand, we have a privilege of the American people; the right of the people to know what is going on. If we do not give to the television and radio the privileges enjoyed by the newspapers, we are going to cut down on news. Therefore, I urge everybody to vote for this bill.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman says that anyone whose reputation has been damaged has a remedy, he has redress by law. I am just wondering, and I am suggesting to his thinking, how fully does it repair a person's damaged reputation for him to go to court and get a dollar and cents verdict? Does that clear his reputation? Does that restore him to the status quo he enjoyed before this slanderous comment was placed on the airways? Of course it does not. It may for the time being ease the hurt, but it certainly does not do the man the full justice he is entitled to. It does not restore the reputation that has been damaged, because once slanderous information has been given out over the airways there will be people who will choose to think what the man has been accused of—the information in the form of an accusation is, in truth, fact.

If TV and radio know they have to disclose the source of information that is given to them, perhaps they may not be so quick to want to volunteer this information over the airways. It is for this reason that I ask the Members of the House to vote down this bill.

Mr. STECKEL. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. FINEMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STECKEL. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman justify the distinction between the Press and the radio which he has been pushing in seeking the defeat of this bill?

Mr. FINEMAN. Well, I do not seek to ask the Members of this House to vote yes or no on this bill based upon whether or not the Press now does not have the privilege. I have before me only this bill, and I do not intend to debate the propriety of the Press' present privilege, but I say to you, based on what is in this bill alone, it is bad.

Mr. STECKEL. I thank the gentleman.

If the ban which presently exists on divulging the information that comes to the hands of newspaper reporters is good, then the ban should be equally available to those news media, radio and television. If the ban is not good, then it should be taken away from the newspapers.

Since we already have and are acquainted with the fact that newspapers are provided with this protection, I can see no reason why the other news dispersing media should not be provided the same protection.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the last gentleman's statement; he does not see a reason for differentiating between newspapers, perhaps, and television on the other hand. I think we all read the newspapers, and we have been reading them avidly the last couple of weeks about these quiz programs. It seems to me somewhere along the line there is going to be some impact with this legislation on the testimony that is being presented down in Washington.

I for one would not like to give a method to the television stations, studios, producers, employees and so forth to hide any information of any kind in connection with these quiz programs. I think on this basis alone, until the atmosphere is cleared, until we know who was doing what, who was bilking whom, we certainly should not pass any legislation like this that gives immunity to television stations.

Mr. GAILEY. Mr. Speaker, I am very glad the gentleman raised the question of whether or not there is a distinction between radio, TV and the Press. I think there is a distinction. I think there is a very pointed, a very strong, distinction. I will tell you what it is.

A newspaper man, when he submits his story and when he sends this story to the public, sets it forth in writing.

It is there for everyone to see. It is there tomorrow, it is there next week, it is there ten years from now. That story can be checked and can be analyzed.

I suggest, however, to the Members of the House that the words of the news commentator are ephemeral. They are here today; they are gone tomorrow. I know, of course, that most of the network programs are monitored and that they are taped usually both for television and radio. This is not true—I repeat—this is not true of most small broadcasting systems in our smaller cities and communities. In other words, those words that are spoken today can never be repeated again except by those who heard them. Any lawyer will tell you and I think anybody in this House knows that if you get ten people who heard the same conversation or the same comment, you will probably get ten different versions of what happened. I tell you there is a difference. There is a big difference. For that reason, as well as for the reasons expressed by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman and Mr. Schwartz, I think this bill should be defeated.

Mr. TOMPkins. Mr. Speaker, I want to try to clarify one point that has been raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Schwartz, in connection with these TV quiz programs. There is a great difference between the cheating and fraud which took place by the participants of the quiz programs and the furnishing of information for a news broadcast. This bill does not cover the cheating and fraud that takes place in such things as your quiz programs; this is to protect the news broadcaster from having to divulge the sources of his information.

While I am on my feet, I want to confirm what the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bell, said because I happen to have been a witness to an attempt to harass a newspaperman to disclose the source of his information and he stood firm on his immunity, and it later turned out that his information in the paper was true.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from York, Mr. Gailey, I suggest that he check the federal laws which require that all matters spoken over a radio station must be recorded and that they must be kept for a designated number of years so anybody injured may sue upon a basis of the recording.

Mr. GAILEY. Only with regard to that which the gentleman from Allegheny just stated, Mr. Speaker, we have a basic point of difference here. I do not think that which he says is so. I think he is mistaken.

Mr. BELL. Just a minute, to bring us back to the bill, in the bill I think there is a clear choice here. Whether you want news on the air given by commentators who are able to obtain news because people will tell them news which they would not tell them if they knew that the sources would be disclosed. Now that is presently enjoyed by the newspaperman, and I would say this, and I am probably talking to the Capitol correspondents, maybe a lot of their stories would not reach them if they could be forced to divulge the sources.

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 187, entitled:

An Act providing for the service of process in civil suits on nonresident operators or nonresident owners or a resident who becomes a nonresident and conceals his whereabouts of vessels operated in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and making the operation of such vessels in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the equivalent of the appointment of the Secretary of the Commonwealth as the agent of the said nonresident upon whom civil process may be served and providing for further notice to the defendant in any such suit.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Mr. LOPRESTI IN THE CHAIR.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. GOODRICH. I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. GOODRICH. Mr. Speaker, it has been called to my attention that I was recorded incorrectly on two roll calls on August 25. The bills in question were Senate Bills 478 and 479, concerning the raising of salaries for certain county officials.

I personally felt, before the passage of these bills, that the row offices in seventh and eighth class counties were the poorest paid public officials in Pennsylvania. Concerning the roll calls, I conferred with the Secretary and he said that there was a degree of confusion at the time. This is no reflection upon the recording. I am sure the employes of the House and the Members of the House will be pleased when we have an electric roll call system and a case like this could not happen again.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 382, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "Public School Code of 1949," authorizing the assessing and levying of taxes by all school board members when union districts are first created.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 510, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 7, 1901 (P. L. 493) entitled as amended "An act providing for the examination licensure and registration of persons firms or corporations engaged or engaging in the business or work of plumbing or house drainage and prescribing certain rules regulations and requirements for the construction of plumbing house drainage and cesspools in cities of the second class second class A and third class and imposing fines penalties and forfeiture for violation thereof" permitting the use of rigid polyvinyl chloride pipe and providing for the joining of pipes.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 535, Printer's No. 571,
Senate Bill No. 648, Printer's No. 1534,
Senate Bill No. 654, Printer's No. 708,
Senate Bill No. 661, Printer's No. 715 and
Senate Bill No. 662, Printer's No. 716,

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 697, entitled:

An Act authorizing the board of directors of railroad companies to constitute an executive committee from among their number and conferring such authority upon the committee as the board shall provide.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, this is a seemingly innocuous bill. As a matter of fact, all it proposes to do is to permit a board of directors of a railroad corporation to select or delegate from its midst an executive committee comprised of at least two or more of its number to exercise the authority of the board of directors in the management of the business of the company.

I would say this, that though this appears to be similar to the provisions in our Pennsylvania Business Corporation Law, our General Business Corporation Law, with regard to railroads it goes much too far. Railroad corporations have always had a peculiar significance to this Commonwealth and they have never been organized or incorporated under a General Business Corporation Law. As a matter of fact, they have always been couched and organized by special acts of the Assembly, which permit the incorporation, and when these acts were passed they were always couched with certain safeguards.

As a matter of fact, in the Act of 1868, where we permitted the organization of railroad corporations, we were very, very careful in providing that there shall be a board of directors of at least twelve men and that a majority, a quorum, consisting of seven shall make up the majority necessary to operate and conduct the operations of the railroad corporation. This was the law of this Commonwealth for a long, long time. In 1949 this was amended somewhat and provided that the number of directors necessary for a railroad corporation shall be a minimum of three, and there also we provided that this minimum number shall be able to conduct the entire operation of the railroad corporation.

What we would do by this particular piece of legislation is to further reduce the management and operation of a railroad corporation which is invested with a tremendous amount of power, and which also has the ability to throttle the communications and transportation of this entire Commonwealth. What we would do now is take away from this minimum board of directors or, rather, we would extend to this minimum board of directors of three, the power to delegate their authority to an executive committee consisting of two. Now, here we would have two men operating, managing, controlling the entire railroad transportation facilities of this Commonwealth. I would say that this is too far an extension of power for a railroad corporation or the board of directors of any railroad corporation. It would impose the ability on these men to determine policies which would be inimicable to the entire welfare of this Commonwealth. I think it is incumbent, a sworn duty, on our part to prevent this from happening in the Commonwealth.

I would point out that many Members would probably say that if this is permissible for a business corporation why should it not be permissible for a railroad corporation. The differences are many-fold. No business corporation has the right of eminent domain, which the railroads long have had. No business corporation, except in peculiar circumstances, are regulated by the Public Utility Commission; no business corporations generally have the right to throttle the entire Commonwealth by tying up the complete transportation system. I would say that it would also take away a lot of those rights which are delegated to boards of directors by stockholders and would permit a railroad corporation to act freely without any resort to the stockholders in many, many instances. I think this would be very, very poor legislation and I would suggest that as a mass we all vote against this legislation and vote it down thoroughly.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, it was explained in the caucus, if I may have the permission, that Senate Bill 697 and Senate Bill 698 are companion bills dealing with changes in the law. I would request and urge the Members to support the bills, and get them to the Governor's desk. I believe that changes in philosophy many times may occur in situations dealing with this subject. I admire the position taken by the gentleman from Philadelphia. I believe that at all times we are out to protect the rights of all individuals, the stockholders and all the people. I think these men also owe an extremely great obligation to what they handle and whom they head and whom they speak for. I urge all the Members to please support and pass Senate Bill 697 and Senate Bill 698.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, it is rare when I argue with my Majority Leader, but I will this time.

Senate Bill 697 and Senate Bill 698 are in no way companion bills. Senate Bill 698 provides for proxy voting, I believe. It has nothing to do with the appointing of an executive committee from a board of directors.

I will stick to my point of view and will say that this type of legislation is not for the welfare of our Commonwealth; it is not in the best interest of our Commonwealth. I would suggest that we vote it down thoroughly.

I would also point out that this type of legislation was debated on the floor of this House two years ago in the previous Session, and, although it did pass, it was vetoed by the Governor of this Commonwealth for the very reasons which I have just stated. I think we owe a duty to our Commonwealth to vote this type of legislation down.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, may I merely affirm what the Majority Leader, Mr. McCann, has said in connection with these bills. I ask that all of our Members vote "Yes" on them.

Mr. GELFAND. I am requesting a slow roll call on this bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the gentleman insist upon a slow roll call?

Mr. GELFAND. I think this bill is important enough that we should have a slow roll call, and I request it, and will stick to my request.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?
It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2170, entitled:

An Act to provide for the better protection of the health general welfare and property of people of the Commonwealth by the control abatement reduction and prevention of the pollution of the air by smokes dusts gases odors mists vapors pollens and similar matter or any combination thereof creating within the Department of Health an Air Pollution Control Commission and defining its powers * * * and providing an appropriation therefor.

On the question,

Will the House agreed to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 2170, Printer's No. 1812, in each of the respective caucuses, the amendments that were agreed to yesterday following a series of conferences are inserted in this bill. I believe there are gentlemen on both sides who will speak for respective segments of those who were deeply concerned regarding House Bill 2170, Printer's No. 1812, which is now an agreed-to bill as amended.

With the understanding following the conferences and the bill as it is printed, I understand it is correct regarding the amendments, we would like to request an affirmative vote in the passage of House Bill 2170.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up House Bill No. 2353.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 2353.

An Act amending the act of June 12, 1919 (P. L. 476), entitled, as amended, "An act to regulate and establish the fees to be charged and collected by the recorder of deeds in counties of the second class," fixing fees to be charged collected and paid by counties for exemplification of certain military or naval discharges and certificates of service.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 2, page 6, line 19, by inserting after the word "immediately" the following: and the provisions thereof shall be retroactive to October 1, 1959. Any county treasurer who has heretofore collected a fee for an exemplification of a military or naval discharge or certificate of service obtained for the purpose of securing benefits under "Korean Conflict Veteran's Compensation Act," shall return the same to the person who made payment thereof.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 2353 pertains to counties of the second class. It deals with the Korean Conflict Veterans' Compensation Act. The additional amendments in the bill simply state that the county treasurer who has heretofore collected a fee for the exemplification of a military or naval discharge or a certificate of service obtained for the purpose of securing benefits under the Korean Conflict Veterans' Compensation Act shall return the same to the person who made the payment thereof.

For the counties of the second class, Allegheny County, these amendments were inserted in the bill in the Senate with the agreement of the second class county of Allegheny county, and the amendments are agreed to pertaining to the permissibility to pay this money. Therefore, since they have this agreement and this will take care of the counties of the second class, the other bill is not here, House Bill No. 2355, the companion bill by which the other counties are settling their situation.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to affirm concurrence in this bill.

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, the intent of that last amendment, striking out "recorder" and placing in "treasurer," is that since this money has already been turned over, a lot of it, to the county treasurer, the county treasurer is to be in a position so he can return this money to the veterans who have already paid for this service.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS PASSED OVER

All bills remaining on today's calendar not considered were passed over at the request of Mr. McCANN.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I wonder if I might ask the Majority Leader what his schedule is for next week so far as he can tell us.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, following last night's Conference Committee that met until midnight, there is a series of propositions that are being taken to the Republican Senate Caucus on Monday.

At the same time a series of propositions presented by the Republican Members of the House on the Conference Committee are going to be presented to the Democratic Caucus on Monday. Following that conference we will be able to definitely establish what we can do regarding a series of bills which the Conference Committee was considering and is considering.

We tentatively have agreed that the House and the Senate will operate next week starting at the proper time on Monday, except I do earnestly appeal that all the Members on the Democratic side of the House arrive at the caucus by 2:30 on Monday so that we may discuss, very thoroughly, these items regarding the entire problem of the budget, the revenue and various other items as presented in the Conference Committee discussions last night.

This House will definitely operate at least three days or more next week. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday for sure at the scheduled times of 4:30, 12:00 and 10:00. I still have hopes that if the agreements can be reached that the House can complete its work and arrive at a sine die position prior to the end of the week. If it cannot, there will definitely be a recess of three straight weeks in this House, the week before election, the week of election, and the week following the election, which includes Veterans' Day, or formerly, Armistice Day, in the middle of the week.

It is still my earnest hope, and it is still my desire in the hours that we have met, night after night, clear into midnight and later every given night last week and this week, that that goal can be reached for Saturday, October 24.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, our Members who are here, I would like to urge that they promptly be at our caucus at 2:30 next Monday as well.

BIRTHDAYS

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, if the House will permit, we have a couple of extremely important dates to some people.

Today, Mr. Speaker, is the birthday of the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky.

Before we wish a happy birthday to the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky, tomorrow is the birthday of the pride of Reading, Pennsylvania, the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Yatron. So to make the two-fold purpose serve we would like to wish a happy birthday to both Tony and Gus, for today and tomorrow.

The Members joined with Mr. Dengler in singing "Happy Birthday."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky.

Mr. PETROSKY. I have escaped this for a period of twenty years, and we have had some other long Sessions, you know. But thanks kindly. A year older, possibly not wiser.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Yatron.

Mr. YATRON. Mr. Speaker, earlier in the Session we sang Happy Birthday to various House Members, and I thought for sure I would escape this by the fact that we would have adjourned by this time, but we haven't been able to do that. I want to say a sincere thank you.

RESOLUTION

Mr. GALLAGHER offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

STATEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, a brief statement for those who may have asked questions about the hotel space since I made the announcement of the schedule.

The Horse Show is here in Harrisburg this coming week. We met last week with the Hotels assistant managers of the Harrisburger and Penn-Harris Hotels and talked to the man in charge of the New Governor Hotel. Every legislative Member who has a hotel room at any one of those hotels, it is my understanding from Mr. Smith of the Harrisburger, Mr. Fair of the Penn-Harris and Mr. Jones of the New Governor Hotel, will have their rooms as many days as they need them next week, even though the Horse Show is here in Harrisburg.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. ESHLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, October 19, 1959 at 3:30 p.m. E.S.T.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 1:17 p.m. E.S.T.) the House adjourned.

Vol. 36.

HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1959.

No. 104.

SENATE

MONDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1959

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, The Venerable ALLEN R. DAY, Rector of Mount Calvary Episcopal Church, Camp Hill, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Who hast given us this good land for our heritage, we humbly beseech Thee that we may always prove ourselves a people mindful of Thy favor and glad to do Thy will. Bless our land with honorable industry, sound learning and pure manners. Save us from violence, discord and confusion, from pride and arrogance, and from every evil way.

Defend our liberties and fashion into one united people the multitudes brought hither out of many kindreds and tongues. Endue with the spirit of wisdom those to Whom in Thy Name we entrust the authority of government of this Commonwealth, that there may be justice and peace at home and that, through obedience to Thy law, we may show forth Thy praise among the nations of the earth.

In the time of prosperity, fill our hearts with thankfulness and, in the day of trouble, suffer not our trust in Thee to fail. All this we ask through Jesus Christ, our Lord.

With your permission, I would like to pray for one of your absent Members, Senator Harold Flack.

Remember Thy servant, Harold, dear Lord, and restore him to health that he may do the work which Thou hast prepared for him to do, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BERGER and Mr. BLASS, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, the resolution I am about to introduce may be an innovation in our practices. I do not recall an instance when we paid homage here on the floor of the Senate to an industrial concern.

It happens that this resolution has as its central theme the largest concern in the Fifth Senatorial District, which I have the honor to represent. This concern is the largest producer of cordials in the United States. It is now celebrating the seventy-fifth anniversary of its existence. It began from humble beginnings and it is now the leading concern in the United States. I feel that because it exemplifies the spirit of American pioneering, homage should be paid to it in the name of the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I am, therefore, presenting this resolution with the request that it be referred to the proper committee.

SENATE RESOLUTION

FELICITATIONS OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO JACQUIN et CIE, INC.

Mr. STIEFEL offered the following resolution (Serial No. 76), which was read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, October 19, 1959.

That the Pioneering Spirit of America is the motivating force of our Nation's greatness is self-evident. Verily, this spirit is the inexhaustible source of the vitality, dedication, exuberance, bravery and nuquenchable thirst for creativeness, which permeate and constitute the world-supremacy of our Nation. In this tragic era of a troublesome midcentury when multiple perplexities beset the rest of the world, the United States of America is blessed with safety and stability due and owing to that indomitable Pioneering Spirit in which is, indeed, imbedded the inventive genius of America. To this spirit, we should constantly rededicate ourselves, since it is our answer and deterrent to any foe that may dare in the future to challenge the supremacy and leadership of America.

In this day of constant flux it behooves us, therefore, to pause and pay from time to time, tribute to leaders, institutions and industrial establishments that are displaying a Pioneering Spirit typical of America's genius and greatness, together with continuity and fruitful planning.

One of Pennsylvania's industrial titans that should command the praise of our citizenry for its Pioneering Spirit and uninterrupted ascendancy from one pinnacle of achievement to another is Charles Jacquin et Cie, Inc. 2633 Trenton Avenue, Philadelphia, located in the Fifth Senatorial District of Pennsylvania, which is now celebrating its seventy-fifth anniversary, and is universally considered as the leading concern in the very vanguard of production of cordials in America.

Founded in 1884, Charles Jacquin et Cie, Inc. is recognized today as America's oldest producer of cordials, the products whereof are recognized as the standard of quality the world over.

The Jacquin plant is one of the most modern in the world and has recently been augmented by a multi-million dollar addition thereto, which would enable the concern to receive shipments in modern tank wagons by pumping the alcoholic ingredients into ten stainless steel storage tanks located above Jacquin's rectifying facilities. Fresh ripe fruits and berries are preserved at the peak of succulence, in Jacquin's own cold storage warehouses; the concern maintains its own distillation and percolation facilities; its rigid standards of quality are checked daily by its own quality control laboratories.

At the helm of this concern stands a dynamic, dedicated and enterprising industrialist, Maurice John Cooper, whose Pioneering Spirit and masterful guidance have maintained ever-rising volumes of production and whose planning conceives blueprints for progress and expansion.

Be It Therefore Resolved, That the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania extend its felicitations to Jacquin et Cie, Inc. and its president par excellence, Maurice John Cooper, on the occasion of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the concern, writing another stimulating story of American enterprise that from humble beginnings rose to industrial peaks in the true spirit of Pennsylvania's traditional leadership. TALL OAKS FROM LITTLE ACORNS GROW!

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. Fleming asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nominations reported at today's Session.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

A motion was made by Mr. FLEMING and Mr. PROPERT,

That the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the nominations reported at today's Session.

Which was agreed to.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. GALLAGHER.

RESOLUTION No. 122

In the House of Representatives, October 15, 1959.

There exists in Bucks County a strike situation between The Bristol Printing Company, publishers of the Levittown Times and Bristol Courier, and Local Union No. 71, International Typographical Union.

This publisher has steadfastly refused to meet any representatives of the Typographical Union in order to discuss the organization problem in his plant.

Twenty-nine of the thirty-four printers in this plant were forced to strike on October 13, 1958, in order to get recognition.

The employer, Mr. Murray Hotchkiss, chose to import strike-breakers of the notorious Bloor Schleppey-Shirley Klein outfit in order to replace his loyal employes, some of whom had been employed for more than twenty years.

The State of New York has seen fit to effect an investigation of the Schleppey-Klein organization, which has been using its strike-breaking efforts in Westchester, New York, disrupting the collective bargaining procedure.

This investigation by a committee appointed by Mr. Isidor Lubin, State Industrial Commissioner of New York, at the request of Governor Harrimann, has arrived at the conclusion that legislation be recommended in order to counteract organized strike-breaking activities by a commercial firm such as the Schleppey-Klein organization, in order to disrupt the orderly procedure of labor-management negotiations; therefore be it Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby urges the Honorable David L. Lawrence, Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, to appoint a committee from the Department of Labor and Industry to investigate and report to him on the strike-breaking activities of the Bloor Schleppey-Shirley Klein organization in the Levittown Times and Bristol Courier, in Bucks County, and in any other area of the State where they may be operating.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mrs. Varallo for Mr. FRANK for today.

Mr. Tompkins for Mr. STROUP for the week.

Mr. Tompkins for Mr. HELM for the week because of illness.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 460, Printer's No. 1818;

House Bill No. 1316, Printer's No. 1811;

House Bill No. 1342, Printer's No. 1820;

Senate Bill No. 146, Printer's No. 1537; and

Senate Bill No. 1107, Printer's No. 1538

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 146, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 25, 1947 (P. L. 1145) entitled as amended "Local Tax Enabling Law," further regulating taxes on the transfer of real property and imposing penalties for the recording of taxed documents without the proper stamps affixed thereto.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to Senate Bill No. 146.

This bill is an effort to take away the collection of the realty transfer tax from the local tax collector and place it in the hands of the recorder of deeds or some other person located in the county seat. It is another effort to do away with home rule and centralize our government. It further provides that the recorder of deeds, when he collects this tax and makes an error, can be tried on a summary conviction and sentenced to pay a fine of $25 or serve 15 days in the county prison.

In my own county there may be as many ordinances and resolutions for the collection of the realty transfer tax by the various political subdivisions and by the school boards as there are political subdivisions and school boards. It is placing an imposition on the recorder of deeds in the first place, and I would like to remind the ladies and gentlemen of this House that just a few short weeks ago we passed a salary increase bill for the recorder of deeds in counties from the third to the eighth classes. This bill is opposed by the Pennsylvania State Association of Tax Collectors. The speaker believes it is bad legislation and asks that it be defeated.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. McCANN from the Committee on Rules, reported as amended, Senate Sine Die Resolution.

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the Senate Sine Die resolution.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

SENATE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, August 26, 1959.

Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring) That this regular session of the General Assembly adjourn Sine-Die on (Friday, September 28) Monday, October 26, 1959 at (12:00 o'clock noon) 6 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Green, Mr. McCann.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Green permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, do I understand there is a resolution coming over from the Senate which will provide that when we adjourn this week that we reconvene on November 9?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I was informed a few minutes ago that a resolution is coming over from the Senate stating that when we adjourn this week, the Senate and the House concurring, we reconvene on Monday, November 9; I believe that is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, we are in conference on the general appropriation bill and several other appropriation bills, and we are presently deadlocked over several issues. We have no indication as of right now that those deadlocks will be broken in time to be able to accomplish this purpose. Am I right in that assumption, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. McCANN. You are if you do not want to break them, but if you do, and if the Republican Senate Caucus would agree on those major points which will be taken to them or discussed with them, then I believe we can agree that all 63 bills would be agreed upon, including the general appropriation bill. By working Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Monday we would have seven legislative days, or six more days, and anything in this House or the Senate could be acted upon from start to finish.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, that is a very good theoretical assumption, but as I understand it the Senate must take up further proposals coming from the Conference Committee, and we have no knowledge as to what action they might take. Are we not sort of putting the cart before the horse by saying that we will fix a sine die adjournment without knowing whether or not it is physically, mechanically or otherwise possible to do so?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, certainly it is physically and mechanically possible to do that, providing that is what they want to do. There is no question that the days are there. I believe all of the Members are more than willing to work the days required to accomplish this, with only the one day off, Sunday, to attend church services and rest.

The sine die will be no later than Monday, including all of the major items we have been discussing for over two weeks.

Mr. TOMPKINS. We have been discussing the major items on the appropriations, but are there not other major pieces of legislation, such as unemployment compensation, our schools and other items, which must still be taken care of?

Mr. McCANN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker, there are, and those items are also included in those which must be taken care of in the legislative days.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

In asking a roll call on this resolution I am asking the Members on this side of the House to vote no.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I am asking the Members on this side of the House to support the resolution to adjourn sine die, keeping in mind that there are sufficient legislative days to handle every one of these problems. I believe if we want to get down and really settle this business that is before us, we can settle it before election instead of after election.

We are faced with more than one problem. I want the Members of this House to carefully note that last week, when we were discussing should the sine die resolution fail, when could we come back here? The hotels of this city informed me that, for example, the week of November 16 they cannot provide any hotel rooms for any of us on Monday or Tuesday. The earliest would be Wednesday, since the State Council of Republican Women will be having their state-wide convention in the city of Harrisburg.

We have worked long and hard on the Conference Committee. The hours have been strenuous, I do not mind saying. Many nights it has been long past midnight. We are coming closer every day to agreement on points; if we continue to press we can agree in those days.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I recognize many of the things the Majority Leader has said, but we realize from past experience that a crowding of the closing days, such as is being suggested in this resolution, is a mechanical and a physical impossibility. We look upon this resolution at this time, under the circumstances, as being entirely a political gesture.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Mr. Speaker, I have before me the evening paper which says the State Legislature Calls for Recess.

Both houses of the Legislature will work through Wednesday and then recess until November 9, it was indicated today.

Senator Majority Leader James S. Berger said he and House Majority Leader Stephen McCann had notified their respective chambers of this week's three-day sitting, which knocked out McCann's target for final adjournment Saturday.

I do not know whether you would call this steam roller tactics for adjournment or not, but Mr. McCann, the gentleman from Green County, just said that another resolution was coming over from the Senate. I also understand the Senate has recessed and will not be back for two weeks. Why are we voting on a resolution now to adjourn October 28, or whatever day it was, when another resolution is coming over?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from Blair County, every week we vote on a resolution in this House, and have from the start of the Session. At no time this last week have you heard me state, either publicly or privately, that this House would only work three days this week. At no time has anyone been able to say that they have talked to me and I said this House would only operate three days this week. I do not care what was in the newspaper story. I did not write it and I did not say it. But each week we do act on the resolution that is started in the Senate which deals with the operation of the House and the Senate. It is a weekly, normal procedure. This resolution I am presenting is the sine die concurrent resolution which was passed by the Senate and sent to the House under date of September 21, with the sine die date of September 28.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, ordinarily I would be inclined to go along with this resolution, but there is one particular matter on which no one yet has informed me what is going to be the outcome, and that is the educational problem and aid to the school districts. If that is going to be solved, no one has told me anything about it, or how. Before I vote for any sine die resolution I want to know what is going to be done and how it is going to be done. That is the reason I will have to vote against the resolution.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. DAVIS and GRAMLICH.

RESOLUTION No. 123.

In the House of Representatives, October 19, 1959.

The Chamber of the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is one of the most beautiful chambers of major dimensions in America. It enjoys more than a recognizable kinship to the superlative beauty of the reception hall in the Library of Congress in Washington, D. C. The House Chamber is indeed a classic and supremely cherished possession of the people of the Commonwealth.

This fact comes to the foreground now that the House of Representatives has initiated a positive approach to the project of installing an electric vote-recording system—a definitely progressive change, the need and utility of which seem overwhelmingly proven.

Clearly it is paramount that in effecting this change that the esthetic quality of the House Chamber does not suffer; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the vote-recording system plans be tailored as necessary to preserve without the slightest diminution the esthetic quality of the House Chamber; and, be it further

Resolved, That the State Art Commission is requested to consult with the special House Committee of Evaluation appointed by the Speaker under House Resolution, Serial No. 114, and to render criticism as to the esthetic effects of various plans under consideration; and, be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House take no steps toward the purchase or lease or installation of an electric-vote recording system until the House membership has been given opportunity to examine the plans, and until such plans have been favorably and specifically voted upon by the House of Representatives.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1198 on page 21 of today's calendar, bills on concurrence in Senate amendments.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1198.

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employees in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employees of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" further prescribing the powers and duties of the Department of Mines and Industries in relation to abandoned coal mines.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 3, line 3, by striking out after the word "mines" the following: "to dewater abandoned coal mines."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

RESOLUTION

DISCHARGING COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL No. 61

Mr. GOLDSTEIN offered a resolution which was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, October 19, 1959.
Resolved, That House Bill No. 61, entitled "A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article five, section eleven of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, providing for aldermanic districts and the election of aldermen and constables in Allegheny County, providing for compensation, jurisdiction and powers of Aldermen and constables in Allegheny County and requiring aldermen in Allegheny County to be learned in the law," having been referred to the Committee on Cities—Counties Second and Second Class A on January 20, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the House for a period of over 15 days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask consent to explain the purpose of this bill so that the Members on both sides of the aisle can make their determination with a full-fact situation before them.

I do not intend to debate the merits of the bill because I am prohibited from so doing under the Rules.

House Bill No. 61—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman yield?

The gentleman is privileged to discuss the resolution but not the merits of the bill itself.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I believe I am entitled to explain what the bill provides for, not to state it or discuss the merits.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will confine himself to the Rules.

The Rule is, of course, that the bill cannot be discussed. The resolution may be discussed.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I am confining myself to the Rules by stating that House Bill No. 61 was referred to the Committee on Cities—Counties Second Class and Second Class A, on January 20, 1959. Tomorrow will be its ninth monthly anniversary of pickling. During this time, we have considered in 24 hours, bills relating to Great Danes, pay raises and pensions and other matters of little import to the general public.

This bill affects 1.5 million people in the county of Allegheny and provides for reformation of the minor judiciary in our county, a matter which has received the approval of all outstanding citizens. This bill is in line with the recommendations of the Constitution Revision Commission which recommended the elimination of the fee office of constables and aldermen in this state. It applies only to the county of Allegheny.

All I want is a discharge of the Committee so that the merits and demerits of this bill can be discussed openly and so that the people who favor it can give the arguments for it and those who do not desire it can give the arguments against it.

I am asking for a slow roll call and a complete slow roll call.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I had no knowledge that this resolution was going to be presented to this House this afternoon. The Republican party, ever since I have been a Member of this body, has consistently refused to go along with the discharge of any committee in consideration of bills. I have had nothing presented to me to change that position at this time.

I, therefore, am asking all the Members on this side of the House, because of that long-established policy, not to disturb the functioning of our regular standing Committees of this House to vote against this resolution.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I have never been bound by that so-called historical rule. I think that the Republican party is mistaken and delinquent in taking this attitude, and if I cannot get any votes on my side, I hope some strong men on the Democratic side who have often introduced discharge resolutions will give me an opportunity to have this bill debated on the floor of the House.

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, as a former member of the minor judiciary, I second this request for the improvement of the minor judiciary, which improvement is very badly needed in this Commonwealth.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Would the gentleman mind explaining just what this bill does?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman cannot do that under the Rules.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I would love to, and if you discharge the Committee, you will find out more about it on the floor of the House.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. By way of explanation, the gentleman may have the bill read for the information of the House, but the merits of it cannot be discussed.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Well, I will not read the bill in detail, but I will give you an analysis of the bill, that is all.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, this is a constitutional amendment. If it is not too long, I certainly would like to hear it read, but if it is more than a page—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will have the bill read for the information of the House.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, the bill is in pink print and, of course, not available immediately.

Mr. Speaker, let me read the title of the bill to you and I believe that will satisfy the members so they will know exactly what the contents are.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Number 61.

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Article 5, Section 11 of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania providing for aldermanic districts and the election of aldermen and constables in Allegheny County providing for compensation jurisdiction and powers of aldermen and constables in Allegheny County and requiring aldermen in Allegheny County to be learned in the law.

Referred to the Committee on Cities—Counties Second and Second Class A, January 20.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I know this is not proper at this time but we are trying to work toward an hour of adjournment tonight, and the sooner we get this roll call over there are some other items to consider. I would appreciate the cooperation of all the Members of the House to carry the roll call through. It is only delaying the procedure because we have many things to be done and tomorrow there is going to be an eight hour working day, so you will have lots of time.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. GOLDSTEIN and HOCKER and were as follows:

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I voted to discharge the committee because the bill being a Constitutional amendment the issue would have been referred to the people for a final decision.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE
BILL No. 2399

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 2399, Printer's No. 1764, entitled:

"An Act amending 'The Vehicle Code' approved April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58) increasing penalties for throwing materials from vehicles or tractors."

was defeated on Final Passage Wednesday, October 14, 1959, be reconsidered.

Mr. OGILVIE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Delaware Mr. Lippincott vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Ogilvie vote on the final passage of this bill?

Mr. OGILVIE. Mr. Speaker, I voted with the prevailing side.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. CURWOOD. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 124.

In the House of Representatives, October 19, 1959.

The Susquehanna River watershed in Maryland and Pennsylvania was once the spawning ground for millions of migratory fish.

The placing of dams across the Susquehanna River in Pennsylvania and Maryland, without providing ways or devices whereby migratory fish could ascend the main-stream and tributaries to spawn, has effectively removed migratory fish from the watershed.

It is considered desirable to restore the natural life cycle for warm water fish in the Susquehanna River watershed.

The cooperation of the sister states of Maryland and Pennsylvania is need to bring migratory fish back into the watershed; therefore, be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That it is the general sense of the House and Senate of the Legislature of Pennsylvania that fishways or other devices of similar purport ought to be installed at the dams in the Susquehanna River to enable migratory fish to ascend the main-stream and tributaries, thus restoring a natural food base of the residents of the watershed and restoring the streams of the watershed as natural breeding grounds for food and game fish, and further, that this general sense of the Pennsylvania Legislature be represented to the Legislature of Maryland together with the desire and request of the Pennsylvania Legislature that the Legislature of Maryland similarly record its sense that the natural life cycle for warm water fish in the Susquehanna River watershed in Maryland and Pennsylvania ought to be restored by installation of fishways or comparable devices at the dams in the Susquehanna River; and, be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to the presiding officer of each House of the Legislature of Maryland.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

BILLS PASSED OVER

The remaining bills on today's calendar not considered were passed over at the request of Mr. McCANN.

STATEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have permission to say a few words regarding something that occurred today and I am sure that it occurs in everyone's life at some time.

Normally I come to Harrisburg on Sunday afternoon, but this morning my wife was ill, so I left the place where I live at 4:00 o'clock this morning to come to Harrisburg and I have been upset all day. For some reason I cannot seem to get it out of my system, and to all those people to whom I may have been rather sharp-tongued today, I want to you to know that as we passed over the Turnpike this morning there was an accident in which quite a few people were lying dead. I do not know how many, though those who passed later told me there were four.

It is just one of those things that I say to myself as I travel that road each week, only by the grace of God it could be me or anyone else. All day long, ever since this morning when we passed that spot at, I believe, 6:30 or 6:45—I have not been able to get out of my system that un-Godly accident. No matter how many times I looked back, all day in a busy schedule, that one accident comes up in my mind continually.

I say, that it may be right, or it may be wrong, but this is another example and I am not the one to determine it, but here is another case, in which the medial strip or the barrier may have saved all of those lives I do not know. I do know that there was none there. I do know that the accident occurred. I do know that all are dead who were in the accident: and I do know that I have been extremely upset.

If someone today were to argue with me about whether it cost $50 million to put the medial strip, I would just ask them one question: you tell me what your life is worth, Mister, and tell me what the strip is worth. It has been most depressing. It is one of the days, although I tried all day, I have not been able to get it out of my mind. As busy as I have been this one accident comes back to my mind.

To all those who stopped in the office today on many other problems and if for some reason I seemed to be daydreaming I apologize on the grounds that I just could not think clearly, no matter how hard I tried.

CONFEREES SUBSTITUTED

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, on Senate Bill No. 868, which suggests the name of Austin M. Lee as a conferee, Mr. Lee desires to retire as a conferee, and we would suggest the name of Mr. Harry Naugle of Somerset.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lee, ask to be excused as a conferee?

Mr. A. M. LEE. I do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the gentleman from Philadelphia having asked to be excused, the Speaker has substituted the name of Mr. Naugle of Somerset as the conferee on Senate Bill No. 868.

HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1959

No. 105.

SENATE

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1959

The Senate met at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, The Venerable ALLEN R. DAY, Rector of Mount Calvary Episcopal Church, Camp Hill, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

O God, give me strength to live another day. Let me not turn coward before its difficulties nor prove recreant to its duties. Let me not lose faith in my fellowmen. Keep me sweet and sound of heart, in spite of ingratitude, treachery or meanness. Preserve me from minding little stings or giving them. Help me to keep my heart clean and to live so honestly and fearlessly that no outward failure can dishearten me or take away the joy of conscious integrity.

Open wide the eyes of my soul that I may see good in all things. Grant me this day some new vision of Thy truth; inspire me with the spirit of joy and gladness, and make me the cup of strength to suffering souls, in the Name of the strong Deliever, our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. PECHAN and Mr. BLASS, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. FLEMING, from the Committee on Executive Nomination, reported with a favorable recommendation the following nominations, made by His Excellency, the Governor:

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

October 13, 1959.

To the honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Victor L. Farrell, 59 Crestview Boulevard, Warren, Warren County, for appointment as Justice of the Peace in and for the Township of Pleasant, Warren County, to serve until the first Monday of January 1960, vice Casper W. Zinger, resigned.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

MEMBER OF THE ELK COUNTY BOARD OF ASSISTANCE

August 31, 1959.

To the honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate William M. Summerville (Republican), 413 Smith Street, Ridgway, Elk County, for appointment as a member of the Elk County Board of Assistance, until December 31, 1959, and until his successor is duly appointed and qualified, vice John W. Deegan, Ridgway, resigned.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, on November 11, the American Philosophical Society will dedicate its new Library Hall in the heart of Independence Park in Philadelphia. This is an event which will be of Nation-wide importance.

This resolution is asking for the appointment of three Senators to join in the festivities and, in that way, indicate how much we are attuned to what is transpiring and happening at Independence Park.

SENATE RESOLUTION

SENATE COMMITTEE TO ATTEND DEDICATION EXERCISES OF THE NEW LIBRARY HALL OF THE AMERICAN PHILOSOPHICAL SOCIETY

Messrs. STIEFEL, DONOLOW, CHAPMAN and SILVERT offered the following resolution (Serial No. 77), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, October 20, 1959.

Whereas, The American Philosophical Society on November 11, 1959, will dedicate its new Library Hall in the heart of Independence Park to house its great and important collections of historical and scientific materials; and

Whereas, The American Philosophical Society is the oldest learned society in America and its Philosophical Hall on Independence Square is a shrine of science and learning even as Independence Hall is a shrine of patriotism; and

Whereas, The new Library Hall duplicates in its exterior the beautiful Georgian building which was erected in 1989-1790 for the Library Company of Philadelphia, the oldest subscription library in the Country, founded by Benjamin Franklin and others in 1731; and

Whereas, The American Philosophical Society by its promotion and encouragement of scientific and scholarly research and of historical preservation has contributed greatly to the advancement of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the United States of America; therefore be it

Resolved, That the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint three members of the Senate to attend the exercises to be held on November 11, 1959, in dedication of the new Library Hall of the American Philosophical Society as representatives of the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania.

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of this resolution.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

TRIBUTE TO THE LATE GEORGE C. MARSHALL

Messrs. DiSILVESTRO, WEINER, BERGER and KALMAN offered the following resolution (Serial No. 78), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, October 20, 1959.

We pause on this sad occasion to mourn the loss of a soldier, statesman, patriot and humanitarian. Today, in simple ceremonies, George C. Marshall, one of the greatest men of our times, will be laid to rest.

A Pennsylvanian, he was born in Uniontown, Pennsylvania, December 31, 1880.

He attended the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington, Virginia, and after graduation was commissioned a Second Lieutenant of Infantry in February 1901. He had many important assignments but of particular note was his appointment as Chief of Staff of the United States Army with the rank of full General. He directed the master strategy of the United States war plan during World War II and, in 1944, was promoted to the rank of Five Star General. The European Recovery Program, commonly called the "Marshall Plan," promoted by him played a significant part in the economic recovery of Western Europe and for his untiring efforts he was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1953.

Many honors were bestowed upon him by nations all over the world and by institutions of higher learning in recognition of his services to his Country and mankind.

Freedom loving peoples in all countries have lost a great champion for their cause in the death of George C. Marshall; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania pays tribute to George C. Marshall, one of our own Pennsylvania sons, who became and was recognized the world over in his lifetime as a great soldier, statesman, patriot, and humanitarian; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Katherine Boyce Tupper Brown Marshall, his widow at Leesburg, Virginia.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, before we vote on this resolution, I would just like to state that here was a man who really gave himself for his Country. We usually hear that phrase in association with other people and sometimes it is considered a trite phrase. However, I think this man symbolizes the full import of that statement.

Unfortunately, he became part of an issue in a political campaign, in which I think he never should have become involved. Unfortunately, not too many people came to his defense in order to defend his honor at that point. I think he was maligned for no reason at all. I think he was dragged in by his heels by a man who had no business doing it, other than for the publicity which he felt would engender to himself or that he could bask in this man's reflected glory by attacking him. I think the record should be set straight and I know that only in a small way, we can do it here.

Mr. President, here was a man who not only gave of himself, but of every ounce of his energy and devotion to a Country which he felt greatly needed it. In that, he was a true patriot in that sense of the word.

Unfortunately, as history will record, many people who were Chief of Staff are not remembered in many great conflicts. Usually, the field generals are those who are remembered and much discussed in history books and in later papers, such as biographies and things of that nature. However, this man was truly one of the military geniuses and, I believe, one of the guiding lights in the last war. I think he was one of the real people who was responsible and the real architect of the peace which resulted. I am sure the Marshall Plan will go down in history and he will be noted not so much as a soldier, but for his efforts on behalf of the peace of the entire world.

I ask that all of us unanimously adopt this resolution.
And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the resolution?
It was agreed to.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. BERGER asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nominations reported at today's Session.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

A motion was made by Mr. BERGER and Mr. WATKINS, That the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the nominations reported at today's Session.

Which was agreed to.

The nominations were read as follows:

REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WELFARE, PURSUANT TO SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 18, LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, on behalf of the Majority Members of The Special Committee to Investigate the Department of Public Welfare, I am about to submit their report.

I am not sure, but I suppose the other two gentlemen may sign this report. This matter has been held in abeyance for quite sometime. We had a meeting this morning, and one of the Minority Members was unable to be there because he was not feeling well. Senator Stiefel, although he made some laudatory remarks about the report, did not sign it. Whether he is going to do so at a future time, I do not know.

Therefore, I present to the Chair the following report.

The PRESIDENT. This report will be printed in the Journal.

INTRODUCTION

Senate Resolution No. 18, introduced by Senator Frank Koprivier, Jr., and Senator Albert R. Pechan, and adopted by the Senate on March 16, 1959, directed that a committee of five Senators be appointed to investigate the affairs and activities of the Department of Public Welfare and to report its findings and recommendations to the Senate.

The Committee was directed to give particular attention to:

"... the policies, practices and objectives of the department, the degree to which the spending of the department conforms to those policies and objectives, the administrative costs involved in our public welfare and public assistance programs, the need for our present programs and the extent to which that need is supplied . . ."

The Committee has held public hearings, five in Harrisburg and one in Pittsburgh, and has heard testimony on most of the many aspects of the department's activities. In addition, written testimony in the form of reports, letters and memoranda has been submitted by the department, by interested organizations and by citizens.

It should be noted that the Committee was organized as a fact-finding group. At no time was any charge of any sort leveled by the Committee or any of its members against any part of the department. Rather the Committee saw fit to make inquiry into the many-faceted operation that is the Department of Public Welfare. This report and the recommendations contained are a result of the Committee's inquiries.

Throughout the investigation, the Committee has had the complete cooperation of Mrs. Ruth Grigg Horting, Secretary of Public Welfare, and her entire department. Mrs. Horting furnished all data requested and personally presented to the Committee testimony on the general operation of the department that aided the Committee materially in its subsequent inquiries. The spirit of cooperation exhibited by the entire department was most helpful to the Committee.

The task assigned the Committee was imposing. The Department of Public Welfare, as now created from the merger of the Department of Welfare and the Department of Public Assistance, is the largest department in the state government. With over 20,000 persons on the payroll, the department accounts for about 28 percent of all people employed by the state. Budget-wise, the Department of Public Welfare requires roughly one-fourth of the total state general fund appropriations.

The department is divided into six divisions, in addition to the administrative organization. The divisions, known as "Offices" are: Office of the Aging, Office of the Blind, Office of General and Special Hospitals, Office for Children and Youth, Office of Public Assistance, and Office of Mental Health. Each office, whose operations range in size from well under $1 million to over $173 million, has a commissioner who is responsible to the Secretary of Public Welfare.

In accordance with the purpose of the Senate Resolution, the Committee has made inquiry into the practices and policies of each of the divisions. That the department is far too large to permit anything resembling a thorough investigation by a Legislative Committee sitting during a legislative session became immediately apparent. The Committee has been able, however, to delve into the basic philosophies underlying the program of each division and to make recommendations based on its inquiries. A broad-based, long range study of several phases of the department's operations should be made.

FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

The Department of Public Welfare is one of the largest in the state government. Its functions are many and varied. As a result, the Committee found that it had neither the time nor the resources to make a thorough study of the department.

The Committee did, however, examine many phases of the department's operations, within the limits of the time and resources available. As a direct result of its inquiries, the Committee respectfully submits:

1. In spite of the Governor's announced austerity program and the present financial crisis of the Commonwealth, no study has been made and no policy formed toward seeking economies at any level of the department. On the contrary, departmental planning constantly seeks more money and more staff.

2. An intensive study should be made of the feasibility of divorcing from the department the administration of the mental health program, the operation of the state-owned hospitals and the administration of the state-aid program for other hospitals.

3. The general hospitals should remain general hospitals, whether sold to community interests or continued as state-operated institutions. Consideration should be given to the adoption of a plan whereby the Department would make collections for care and treatment in the hospitals.

4. The duplication of effort and the conflicts arising from the Commonwealth's dual administration of institutions dealing with the juvenile delinquent should be eliminated. Consideration should be given to the transfer of Morganza to the Department of Justice's Bureau of Correction. A Juvenile Division should be set up within the Bureau of Correction. The courts should commit to that Division, rather than to a specific institution and the Division should have authority to classify, assign and transfer inmates within an integrated system.

5. The Department should exercise stronger controls over the local offices in the administration of the public assistance programs. Stronger supervision and more rigid enforcement of eligibility rules will do much to reduce the number of chislers on the relief rolls.

6. The State Council for the Blind should be completely reorganized.

7. The rules and regulations promulgated by the department should have a degree of flexibility to permit their adaptation to the needs of all areas. The problems of the rural areas, for instance, are often quite different from those of the big cities.

8. The so-called "purchase-of-care" plan for payment of services for the indigent, as has been recommended to the General Assembly, should be given careful and intensive study before any decision on its merit is made.

DEPARTMENT—GENERAL

The committee has been disturbed by the general attitude that seems to prevail at departmental level—that is, that services being offered are not satisfactory or do not reach enough of the people in need of the services and that the only way the effectiveness of the program in question can be improved is by the addition of more staff and the appropriation of more money.

This fault is not unique to the department administration, however. A recent report of the State Board of Public Assistance asks for "realistic funds" for a "larger and better trained staff." During the hearings the cry for more money was frequently heard.

The possibility of doing a better job with the resources available was seldom mentioned.

The Committee is alarmed, too, by the apparent absence of plans to realize any early economies from the merger of two departments into one, as was expected by the enabling legislation of 1957. Economies, the Committee is told, are there, but will not be effective for "several" biennia. Meanwhile, it is a fact that budget requests show an immediate increase for the new department.

There was much discussion as to just how the figures are to be interpreted to determine the actual increase in 1959-61 over the total 1957-59 appropriations to the old Departments of Welfare and Public Assistance. For general administration alone, the calculations range from $700,000 to $2,300,000 increase over the last biennium. In any event, the general increases belie any hope for economies that can be expressed simply in terms of dollars saved through reduced appropriations.

OFFICE OF MENTAL HEALTH

The Office of Mental Health is the largest operation within the Department of Public Welfare, when examined from the standpoint of personnel and facilities under its supervision. Its importance is such that it is the only office whose head is accorded the status of Deputy Secretary of the Department.

The Office of Mental Health supervises 18 state mental hospitals and a series of state training schools for the mentally retarded. It operates diagnostic and evaluation centers for the study and classification of retarded children. The Office also administers grants to county institution districts, community psychiatric clinics, mental health diagnostic clinics and the like through the Commonwealth.

The operation of the Office requires the assistance of almost 15,000 employees, with the bulk of these being employed in the 18 mental hospitals. About 60 persons are employed in the central office in Harrisburg.

Total appropriations requested for the 1959-61 biennium in the name of mental health exceed $178 million, of which $167.9 million are asked for operation of the institutional programs. That the Commonwealth's mental health program is essentially a state-financed program is evident in that, of the total budgeted, only $350,000 are federal funds.

Pennsylvania's mental health program has been undergoing a metamorphosis in recent years, a change that has been evident in the treatment of mental patients throughout the country. The new "wonder" drugs have been highly successful in controlling patients for treatment and improvement. More of the mentally ill are being treated in community clinics. Diagnosis of mental illness is taking place earlier. Bridging devices, halfway homes and the like are permitting patients to prepare gradually for the change from the hospital to normal community life.

This is reflected in Pennsylvania, where the hospital patient population dropped by 2,000 between 1955 and 1958. During the same period, the patients "on leave" from a state hospital increased from 8,277 to 11,437. With a heavier total case load, the mental health program is now being operated so that the in-patient load is being reduced. Recent developments have resulted in the number of "on leave" patients being increased from 10 per cent of the total in 1940 to 23 per cent in 1958.

Quite obviously, then, what was once primarily a program of custodial care has now progressed well into the remedial field. No longer is it necessary to expect that a person committed to a mental hospital will spend the rest of his days there. No longer is that person a welfare problem. He has, instead, become a challenge to the medical profession.

The new approach to mental health brings with it highly specialized and complex problems, requiring the attention of doctors skilled in the treatment of the mentally ill. The department has had difficulty in recruiting and retaining psychiatric physicians. Testimony before the Committee indicated that the reasons for not being able to get and hold qualified personnel were not purely monetary. Rather, qualified personnel are caused to shy away from Pennsylvania because of a system that names a politician as head of the department then suffers from the change in policies which are evident with every new department chief.

One solution offered would create a separate Department of Mental Health. Another proposal would move the mental health program from Welfare to the Department of Health. Both suggestions seem to have some merit, but the reasons documented are not sufficient to support either course.

Rather, it seems that the state's mental health program should undergo a thorough examination in order to permit the General Assembly to better determine the proper role of the program within the state's services to the people.

OFFICE OF GENERAL AND SPECIAL HOSPITALS

The Office of General and Special Hospitals is responsible for the direct supervision of the ten state-owned general hospitals. It is also responsible for the general supervision of all other hospitals except for the mental institutions and state hospitals operated under the Department of Health.

It has been recommended that the state-owned general hospitals be sold to private or community interests. Legislation to permit the sale has already been introduced and is so written that if the hospitals are not sold by 1963 they would be used by the Commonwealth for purposes other than a general hospital.

While the Committee cannot object to the sale of the hospitals to a private or a community interest, it is difficult to understand how the hospitals could simply be discontinued should no purchaser be found. Certainly, the populace of the area has accustomed itself to the use of the hospitals and the removal of the hospitals facilities would require their replacement with similar facilities. If purchasers for the present facilities could not be found, how would it be proposed to secure funds to erect new hospitals?

The state-owned general hospitals have a system of screening all admissions to determine ability to pay hospital charges. The Committee is disturbed to hear that, of those patients adjudged to be able to pay all or a portion of their bills, only about 49 per cent of charges are collected. The Committee has been told that if the department could make collections on charges for medical services, rather than the Department of Revenue, as is now the case, the state would realize increase in collections, perhaps as high as $20 million. In view of the present fiscal difficulties, consideration should be given to making a change in collection procedures.

During hearings on the subject of the general hospitals, reference was made to a proposed new "purchase-of-care" plan. Discussion of this idea will be set forth separately later.

OFFICE OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

The Office of Public Assistance supervises the administration of public assistance throughout the state, developing policies and standards, eligibility regulations and the like.

This is an area in which the Committee found itself faced with a study the scope of which is far beyond the time and resources available to a legislative committee sitting during a legislative session. Without a doubt, this is an area of governmental operation that merits far more examination.

There is too much evidence of poor administration at the local level. There are too many reports indicating that rules by which one can establish his eligibility for public assistance are far too lax, permitting many persons to get on the relief rolls who have other means of support. Evidently, these persons get on the rolls too often and stay too long.

There is a definite need for closer supervision of the relief rolls to reduce the payments to these "chiselers."

One method for more effective policing of the relief rolls lies not with the department but with the courts. It seems that the courts have as a rule been far too lenient with the relief chiselers. Apparently, the department shares this opinion.

Charges have been made that the policies of the department have encouraged an increase in the illegitimacy rate in Pennsylvania. While the Committee is reluctant to accept such statements as fact, there are too many circumstances to permit the charges to be dismissed lightly. Across the state, there are 114,000 on the ADC (Aid to Dependent Children) rolls. Of these, 23 per cent are of illegitimate birth. Philadelphia statistics swell the totals in that, of 44,000 on ADC there, 38 per cent are of illegitimate birth. In Allegheny County of the total on ADC, 20 per cent are of illegitimate birth.

Here, especially, it seems that a general tightening of departmental regulations and supervision is needed. In the event the department is not able to police the program better through its internal controls, then consideration should be given to remedial legislation on the matter.

Another area of concern on administration of the public assistance program is caused by the revelation that more than a few relief recipients receive their checks at an out-of-state address. Most distressing was the number who during the winter months of 1958-1959 continued to receive relief checks while somehow being able to spend as much as two months in Florida. The fact that regulations permit the circumstance does nothing to ease the concern. The explanation usually given is that relatives pay for transportation and the vacation stay. If so, cannot those same relatives aid in the daily requirements of the indigent relative?

The responsibility for the care of needy and destitute citizens of the Commonwealth rests with the State Board of Public Welfare. While in the past it has been ineffective, it has in recent years asserted a degree of authority. However, it seems that its authority is effective only so long as the department head sees fit to put into effect the recommendations of the Board. Should the Secretary prefer to not enforce a Board policy, the policy has no status. This has been reflected in a recent Board recommendation regarding use by social workers of birth control information. While the Committee regards the subject itself as not within its purview, the Committee is concerned with the status of the Board and its policymaking powers. The Board should be a policy board and should set the general framework under which the department's rules and regulations should be promulgated. The State Board of Public Assistance should not be limited to advisory powers only.

There is reason for alarm, too, in the high rate of turnover among caseworker personnel in public assistance. During 1958 there was a 21.8 per cent turnover of the total 1,301 caseworkers in the department. While the Public Assistance Caseworkers had a relatively lower turnover rate of 9.2 per cent, other caseworkers separated at the rate of 48.1 per cent.

A Philadelphia study indicates that the primary reason for separation is "other employment." This, of course, can cover a multitude of reasons. Since the study has a separate listing for those who left because the job was unsatisfactory, then we must find other reasons why the caseworkers decided to take other employment.

A thorough analysis of the problem should be made so that steps can be taken to reduce the costly training load that is imposed by the high rate of personnel turnover.

OFFICE FOR CHILDREN AND YOUTH

The Office for Children and Youth supervises all child welfare and youth activities carried on by the department, licenses and supervises public and private institutions for dependent, neglected and delinquent children and administers the Pennsylvania Training School at Morganza and the Youth Forestry Camps.

To administer its program in the coming biennium, the Office is budgeted at almost $10 million, of which about $1 million are federal funds. The biggest single appropriation is for the operation of the training school at Morganza, $2.8 million. Subsidies for reimbursement to counties for child-care services and for operational costs at schools for juvenile delinquents are budgeted at $4.8 million. The total amount requested for 1959-1961, in state funds only, represents an increase of 58 per cent over 1957-1959 expenditures.

Departmental reports indicate a staff of 279 persons: 57 in the central office in Harrisburg, 206 at Morganza and 16 in the two Youth Forestry Camps. This staff serves two bureaus, the Bureau of Family and Child Welfare and the Bureau of Youth Services, along with several state-operated institutions.

PENNSYLVANIA TRAINING SCHOOL (MORGANZA)

The Office of Children and Youth, through its Bureau of Youth Services, assumes guardianship of delinquent boys and girls between 12 and 18 years of age at its training school at Morganza. It operates here a school that once was the most dreaded reform school in the state.

At one time, Morganza housed over 1,000 inmates. Today's capacity is set at 304. A report from the Superintendent of the school indicates that the reduction in capacity is attributed to the gradual deterioration of the buildings and the subsequent loss of usable facilities. However, the chief of the Bureau of Youth Services states that: "Under the present philosophy, we can't handle that many . . . so the capacity figure has been reduced."

Reportedly, the school is always filled to capacity and there is a waiting list for courts that want to commit delinquents to the institution. Reportedly, too, the "outmoded buildings are responsible" for a daily per capita cost for operations along the line of $6.05, if we listen to the Superintendent, or of $2.00 for "excessive maintenance on the outmoded power plant and other buildings," if we listen to the bureau chief.

Total cost of operation, the average daily cost, is given as $10.70. This reflects a most favorable reduction from the 1957 cost of $13.10 per inmate-day reported by the Auditor General from the May 1957 audit. The county making a commitment to Morganza is charged at the rate of $6.50 per day for each commitment.

While the cost of operation at Morganza has been reduced in the past several years, there seems to be much more room for improvement. Costs reported from another boys' institution are $4.35 per day, with the county being billed $4.20 daily. The White Hill Industrial School in the Department of Justice Bureau of Corrections reports a cost of $3.73 per inmate-day.

One reason for the excessive cost of operation at Morganza might be found in the size of the staff at the institution. With only 265 boys and girls at the school, a staff of 206 is required. Another institution for boys reports 61 staff members for over 200 boys. At White Hill, with over 1300 inmates, the staff totals only 375. Presumably, too, each of these institutions is handling the same type of juvenile delinquent. If such is the case, it certainly seems that a re-evaluation of the program at Morganza is imperative.

The new "philosophy" for the training of juveniles has permitted the discontinuance of the work details that were at one time so much a part of the training program at Morganza. The farms, dairy herds, orchards, gardens, greenhouses, blacksmith shops are no longer in existence. The reduced population would, in itself, dictate a reduction of the work details, but the apparent complete abandonment of the details does not seem to be in the best interest of the institution, the inmates or the cost of operation.

At one time, too, Morganza, was accredited under the Department of Public Instruction. Somewhere along the way that accreditation has been lost. Under the guidance of the present superintendent, who has been head of the school for less than two years, and a member of the Board of Trustees of the institution, attempts are being made to once again secure state accreditation for its formal schooling program.

The apparent need for more personnel under the Department's philosophy is evident, too, in the operation of its two Forestry Camps. A camp of 20 boys requires a staff of 9 including 6 counselors. Yet, the Bureau of Corrections has a Forestry Camp with 50 inmates supervised by a staff of 3 persons.

The Bureau of Corrections now handles 946 juveniles, in a total population of somewhat over 1300. The Department has a capacity of 256 at Morganza. Corrections has no welfare cases, restricting itself to delinquent only. Welfare, however, attempts to handle all juveniles.

All services for the training of the juvenile delinquent should be made a responsibility of the Bureau of Corrections. To effect this, all institutions for juvenile delinquents, including Morganza, should be transferred to the supervision of the Bureau of Corrections. Besides better administration, it is probable that economies would result from the transfer.

Further, the Commonwealth's program for training of juvenile delinquents should be re-examined. There should be established within the Bureau of Corrections a Juvenile Division. The courts should commit to the Juvenile Division, not to a specific institution. The Juvenile Division should establish a classification system and assign commitments accordingly, and should have complete authority to transfer juveniles from one institution to another, depending upon the type of program best fitted to the needs of the boys concerned.

A definite line of demarcation at any given age does not in itself determine whether an individual is a juvenile delinquent, juvenile criminal, or an adult criminal. Only by proper study and classification, with a variety of institutions and a variety of programs available, can any real progress be made in training or re-training in this field.

Family and Child Welfare

There is a strong need for the Department of Welfare to review its regulations in this area in an attempt to insert a degree of flexibility that will make it easier for the rural counties to operate the regulations.

Apparently, rules and regulations are promulgated to take care of the urban and suburban problems that are the rule. In the matter of adoption and child welfare generally, the problems found in rural areas are far different from those in the urban areas.

The department is requiring, for instance, that all county welfare agents be "trained" workers. According to the department, a "trained" worker has four years of college, a masters degree and actual training with children. Under present regulations, these requirements will be mandatory after 1963, or a child welfare worker will not be able to get a license from the department. At the very least, the "grandfathers' clause" should be incorporated into these new regulations.

The department is also trying to force compliance with state and federal regulations in this field so that the state can become eligible for federal funds. (There, again, is evidence of the belief that federal funds are there for the asking and that they cost us nothing—an attitude that the Committee finds most deplorable.) It seems inconceivable to the department (and to professional social workers generally) that there are some people that are willing to handle some of their problems on their own and without the help of the state.

Since there are local organizations that are willing to take care of their own problems on child welfare, and since some apparently are able to do a good job of it, there is every reason for the department to be cognizant of that fact in making its rules and regulations and to include a degree of flexibility that will permit the continued operation of the local programs.

OFFICE FOR THE BLIND

The Office for the Blind is responsible for all services for the blind. It does not, however, administer the blind pension program. The Office works with the State Council for the Blind, an organization that is by statute an administrative unit but in fact an advisory body only—and obviously ineffective.

There is little doubt that the State Council should be reorganized. Its present membership is seven: The Secretary of Public Welfare, the Secretary of Labor and Industry, the Superintendent of Public Instruction and four persons named by the Governor. The Board is in practice run by the Commissioner for the Blind, who is, of course, on the Board as the emissary of the Secretary of Public Welfare. A decision should be made to determine whether the Council should be policy, administrative or advisory. The Committee, while admitting that further study is desirable, suggests that the Council have policy-making powers, but no administrative responsibilities.

There seems to be a need for better administration within the Office for the Blind, administration which will result in better services being offered within the funds now available to the Office. It is difficult to understand, for instance, why the Office requires a staff of 104 persons at the central office in Harrisburg to administer a $2.3 million program. During the 1955-1957 biennium, the remedial eye care program was cut back, by administrative order, 80 per cent from the $210,000 level then in effect. Perhaps an improvement in administration would permit the restoration of at least a portion of what was at one time apparently a highly effective program.

Further, examination of the vending stand program is in order. Representatives of the stand operators advise the Committee that the 4 per cent commission which the operator must pay on his gross income represents a loss of net income so great as to work a hardship on many stand operators.

In the face of this information from the stand operators, the department has had legislation introduced to change the present 4 per cent commission to a proposed range of 2 per cent to 10 per cent, thus providing "equality of opportunity" among the blind operators. This equality of opportunity, if it means that the better paying stands would pay a higher commission than the poorer stand, would subject the blind vendor to the ability-to-pay principle.

Suggestions are made, too, that services for the blind be put on a "purchase-of-care" plan. This will be discussed separately later.

OFFICE FOR THE AGING

The Office for the Aging is the smallest within the Department of Public Welfare. Unfortunately, the Committee had little opportunity to explore the operations of the Office and is not in position to make comment on it.

"PURCHASE-OF-CARE" PLAN

The Committee has on several occasions had called to its attention a proposed new "purchase-of-care" plan. This plan is intended to replace the present system of state-aid to hospitals. It is also suggested for use in the programs for the blind and the aging and is recommended for distribution of funds in the youth service program.

Under the plan as it applies to hospitals, (the area in which it has been promoted the hardest), medically indigent persons would be placed on the public assistance rolls, for hospitalization purposes only, and payments would be made to all "acceptable" hospitals, in accord with "uniform standards," for service to public assistance beneficiaries.

While the plan at first blush seems to have considerable merit, further examination uncovers a number of undesirable features. The plan would propose an appropriation in lump sum, as is now done with the general public assistance program. From this lump sum, the Department of Public Welfare would distribute the funds, under rules and regulations set up by the department.

The "purchase-of-care" plan would apparently permit the Commonwealth to qualify for added federal funds for the administration of its services for the indigent. The exact status of such a plan, however, has not been made clear.

This plan should be referred to the Joint State Government Commission for a complete study to determine the actual impact that its adoption would have on the welfare programs it would affect and on the amount of state appropriations which might be involved.

SENATE RESOLUTION

Serial No. 18 (not printed)

Legislative Journal Page 476.

By Messrs. PECHAN and KOPRIVER.

SENATE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE AFFAIRS AND ACTIVITIES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WELFARE

In the Senate, March 10, 1959.

During the 1957 session of the General Assembly the Departments of Welfare and Public Assistance were merged into the Department of Public Welfare, creating an immense spending agency through which a great portion of the tax revenue is expended.

The maintenance of welfare institutions and the care of the indigent, infirm and needy are certainly the most humane and perhaps the most important functions of the State Government. That they be adequate and executed in the fairest, most efficient, yet most economical manner possible is an end which every Pennsylvania desires.

The confidence which the General Assembly has in the past placed in the advice and counsel of the Departments of Welfare and Public Assistance is not now in question. But recent developments have made it clear that further action of the General Assembly must be taken pursuant to a thorough and complete knowledge of all the facts, factors and problems involved in public welfare and public assistance.

We in the General Assembly have heard the advice of countless experts urging the increase, the decrease, the containment, the expansion and the reevaluation of welfare activities. We have been told of the dangers of continuing our present policy and we have been told of the dangers of not continuing our present policy. We have seen the policies of the department change with the change of secretaries, and with the change of administrations. We have learned that the employees of the department would be protected from politics and we have later learned that their right to be involved in politics would be protected. We have seen responsible public officials claim that the problem of the birth of illegitimate children was aggravated by the policies of the department.

We are aware, as is the taxpayer, that an ever increasing part of every tax dollar goes into welfare and assistance programs. We are aware that the tax burden in many cases has become onerous enough to be prohibitive of the simplest of luxuries.

We are aware that our people are such that they would not permit any human being to remain truly in need of the necessities of life. But we must be equally aware of the dangers inherent in assisting persons who are not in actual need and in spending more money than our taxpayers can supply. We must also be aware that a hope of our enemy in the cold war is that we will spend ourselves into bankruptcy; a proposition so obvious that Russian citizens have expressed it freely to Americans, including at least one Pennsylvania Senator.

The need for an exhaustive study of our public welfare and public assistance programs and the administration of them is imperative; therefore be it

Resolved, That the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint five members of the Senate who shall constitute a committee to investigate into the affairs and activities of the Department of Public Welfare, giving particular attention to the policies, practices and objectives of the department, the degree to which the spending of the department conforms to those policies and objectives, the administrative costs involved in our public welfare and public assistance programs, the need for our present programs and the extent to which that need is supplied and all other matters relating to welfare institutions and public assistance a knowledge of which would assist the General Assembly in enacting wise and adequate laws relating to public welfare and public assistance; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee may hold hearings take testimony and make its investigations at such places as it shall deem necessary within this Commonwealth. It may issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, commanding any person to appear before it and to answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee deems necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Any person who wilfully neglects or refuses to testify before the committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee so appointed shall report back to the Senate its findings and recommendations as soon as possible.

Referred to Rules, March 10.

Reported as committed, March 16.

Adopted March 16, 1959.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask that this report be laid on the table. I have been advised by the Democratic Members who served on this committee that they are going to file a Minority Report. It is not because they feel that this report is incomplete, nor is it because they feel that it does not cover the entire subject. They feel that in some areas it has not given as full a picture as they would like to have before the entire Body.

I feel it is their duty, as the Minority Members on this Special Committee, to present their viewpoints to the entire Senate and to the people of Pennsylvania who might be interested in this subject. For that reason, I ask that this report be laid on the table until such time as the Minority Report is filed so that they both can be considered at the same time, should the Senate adopt either report, which it may or may not do.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I have no objection to this report, which I just presented being laid on the table until such time as the other two Members make up their minds as to what they want to do.

While I am talking about the subject, I want to say that I think it is an unfortunate situation that the committee was called to investigate. Actually, we were not out to get anyone. We wanted to make sure that because of the large expenditures of money in the Welfare Department, that they be justified. We, in no manner, were out to get anyone. I have no objection to the other Members, if they desire, filing an Minority Report. In the meantime, my report may lie on the table.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, on behalf of the Minority Members who served on this committee, both of whom seem to be absent from the Chamber at this moment, I want to thank Senator Pechan for his open-minded attitude on this. I certainly hope that he will continue in that vein. When the Minority Report is filed, perhaps he would like to join the Members in signing their report if they cannot agree on signing this report.

WALTER WEIR, PRESIDENT OF THE PENNSYLVANIA CHIEFS OF POLICE ASSOCIATION, PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, it is very seldom that a Member of the Senate has an opportunity to introduce a man whom we are very, very proud of in Duquesne, my home town.

My Chief of Police, Walter Weir, who is not only my Chief of Police, as Mayor of Duquesne, but who is President of the Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police Association, is here this afternoon in the Chamber. I would like you to welcome him to the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Chief of Police of Duquesne, Pennsylvania please rise? Chief, we are very very happy to have you with us.

CALENDAR

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 163

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the report of Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 163, entitled:

An Act amending the "Public Utility Law" approved May 28, 1937 (P. L. 1053), excluding buses owned by or under contract with schools districts private or parochial schools for the transportation of school children and chaperons from the definition of common carrier by motor vehicle and contract carrier by motor vehicle in certain cases.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

SENATE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 163

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 163.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

THIRD READING CALENDAR

REVENUE BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1112, Printer's No. 1427, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 752, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "Public School Code of 1949" authorizing the inclusion of costs of treasurers' bonds and auditing of treasurers' accounts in estimates of costs of educating handicapped children and providing for reimbursements.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on second reading, go over in their order:

House Bill No. 1380, Printer's No. 1810; and

House Bill No. 1384, Printer's No. 1756.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am not objecting to these bills going over in order, but I think House Bill No. 1380 has been on the Calendar for quite some time. It is not a very complicated measure, but, in my opinion, it is a measure which we need very badly. I think it has been pretty badly mauled and emasculated at this point by the numerous amendments. The sooner we get this measure onto the Third Reading Calendar, passed by this Senate and then into a Conference Committee, we will have a better opportunity for us to work on it. The longer we postpone action, we are merely delaying facing the problem. I think the time to act on this matter is now.

If there is some problem in the bill which seems a little bit difficult or obscure, I will, in my own small and limited way, try to explain any questions about it. However, there is nothing complicated about this measure. I am not objecting to the bill going over in its order, but I just want to make the observation that it has been on the Calendar for quite some time and I think we should move it.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I repeat my request that the bill go over in order. I wish to say that I am sure there are some questions in the minds of some of the people, and they would like to resolve those questions themselves before the bill moves up.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bills will go over in their order.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1443, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "Public School Code of 1949" eliminating requirement for the submission of revised plans when mergers are not assented to by electors.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1496, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor to acquire certain tracts of land in the Borough of Millersville Lancaster County for the use of the Millersville State Teachers College and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 100 CALLED UP

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I call up, from page 15 of today's Calendar, House Concurrent Resolution No. 100.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The title of the resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

Requesting the Joint State Government Commission to investigate and evaluate the standards and procedures currently used by the Commonwealth in granting financial assistance to non-profit hospitals.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the resolution?

SENATE CONCURS IN HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 100

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do concur in this resolution.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am not voicing an objection to the Senate concurring in this resolution. However, I would like to point out to the Members of this Body that I think this is sort of a roundabout way to face a problem.

We are asking the Joint State Government Commission to make a study of the nonprofit hospitals and the grants-in-aid which we make to them. There have been numerous studies made in this area. There was a copy of a report placed on every Senator's desk and on the desks of every Member of the House, about three or four weeks ago, put out by the Associated Hospitals. I admit that this might be somewhat of a biased report. However, I think the facts and figures contained therein are enough of a gauge for us to come to an intelligent decision about this entire problem.

The mere act of shifting or shuffling these matters about for someone else to make another study and come up with another report, which, unfortunately, most of us do not take the trouble to read, is a rather backward step, I think, in looking at an entire picture or program. This is especially true when we are dealing with aid for the people who cannot help themselves, and especially in the area where most of our hospitals in this Commonwealth are ending up in the red and where the aid which the Commonwealth gives them every year is growing larger and larger and their demands are becoming greater and greater. Instead of studying this problem, I think we should face up to it and decide to either give them more money or firmly say to the hospitals that we just cannot afford this kind of a burden and we will have to take some other means to attack this situation. By asking other people to study it and by appointing large committees to do so, I do not think is the answer to the problem.

I hate to bring in a humorous vein to a problem as serious as this one, but it reminds me of a gentleman who came from the Far East to America. He attended quite a number of dinners and at one of these dinners he heard the person who pronounced the benediction say, "The Father, Son and Holy Ghost." After he had attended a number of these dinners, he said to the gentleman sitting next to him, "I do not understand this entire situation. What is meant by, 'Father, Son and Holy Ghost?'" The gentleman went on to explain to him at quite some length about the Holy Trinity. When he finished, the guest said, "I do not understand this, but I guess this must be a religion in America where you have the committee system."

We are reduced to the same area here. We always refer to a committee or the committee system to solve a problem. I do not think that can be done in this vein. I think we must face up to it and now is as good a time as any to do so.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I think probably the gentleman wandered a little off in left field on that one. However, at the same time, I want to point out that the Joint State Government Commission is the body representing this Legislature to which problems such as this are always referred. The Members of this Legislature of the Commission.

I have no doubt that in studying this problem they will have access to the studies which were made by the Hospital Association and by other groups on this particularly vexing situation. As the gentleman said, we are faced with increased appropriations to these hospitals at every Session. Possibly there is some better method by which we might standardize the appropriations to these hospitals. That is what we want to find out.

Mr. President, I notice that the sponsors of the resolution are Messrs. Polen, McCann, Wood and Johnson, all leaders in the House on both sides. I agree thoroughly that this problem is a good subject for study and consideration.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the resolution was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. BERGER offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, October 20, 1959.

Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring), That when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene Monday, November 9, 1959, at three o'clock p. m., EST., unless sooner recalled by the President pro tempore; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene Monday, November 9, 1959, at four-thirty o'clock p. m., EST., unless sooner recalled by the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am objecting to this resolution and my reasons for doing so are as follows:

I would first of all like to point out that there has been a Sine Die Resolution passed in the House, which would call for the Legislature to adjourn finally on Monday, October 26, 1959. I feel there is no pressing business here that should keep us in Session any longer than that date. If we stayed here and worked on these problems as they exist here now, we could clean up this Calendar and other matters that happen to be over in the House.

I also would like to point out that it costs $7,000 a day for every day that we are in Session. I think this is a large sum of money to spend on a problem of this type when we could finish our business very easily within a very short period of time. I think simple multiplication can be done by anyone here to see the amount of money that we would be spending.

I would respectfully ask that the resolution that has come over here from the House be called up and acted upon by this Body, so that we can finally conclude our work and return to our respective Districts where there may be some other work to be done before we either meet in Annual Sessions or come back here in 1961.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I heartily concur in the remarks of the gentleman, that we want to get through here just as soon as it is humanly possible to do so. As a matter of fact, I recall that back in September I introduced a Sine Die Resolution for the Legislature to adjourn around the 28th or 29th of September 1959, and it was very sincerely hoped that we could meet that date.

I think what the gentleman referred to relates to the amendment to that very resolution, as a matter of fact, Mr. President. However, in view of the situation existing, not the least of which was a statement made in the House last week that the Legislature should recess until the sixteenth day of November, it does not seem very practical that we now consider a resolution to adjourn sine die on the twenty-sixth of October.

Mr. President, we have rather insisted that we come back here on the ninth of November rather than the sixteenth as was suggested in the House, I believe, by Mr. McCANN, who has agreed that the ninth is probably a more reasonable date at the present time. Therefore, Mr. President, I do not believe that it is within the realm of possibility, as is well recognized by both sides, that we can dispose of the amount of work remaining before the Legislature to adjourn on the twenty-sixth day of October.

Therefore, Mr. President, I see no reason to have that resolution called up. It is more or less an empty gesture.

The PRESIDENT. Are you moving that this resolution be adopted, sir?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am not referring to the resolution that I just introduced. I am referring to the one the Senator wanted called up, the Sine Die Resolution.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Potter, Senator Berger.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Senator Berger, can you, as the Republican leader, give me a target date when you think we will end this Session?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I have endeavored on numerous occasions to give the gentlemen of the press a target date toward which we might shoot. By coming back on the ninth of November, we will at least have set forward the date of final adjournment by one week, rather than coming back on the sixteenth.

No, Senator Barr, I cannot give you a target date. I would be happy if you could give me one.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to inform the gentleman that the House is going to complete their calendar tomorrow.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I do not wonder about that. In the last three weeks, I think the House has probably passed more bills, which they might have acted on earlier in the Session, than they have passed during the previous weeks and months of this Session. I do believe that we ought to give some consideration to the work they have done over there.

Mr. BARR. Mr. Berger, are you insinuating that the House is not working as hard as the Senate?

Mr. BERGER. Well, I will leave that to the gentleman's own conclusion.

Mr. BARR. I will make the statement that I take my hat off to the House for the way they have worked. I cannot say the same thing for all of us over here.

Mr. BERGER. I accept the Senator's apology.

Mr. BARR. I was apologizing for the gentleman.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Wednesday, October 21, 1959, at 9:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 3:20 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Wednesday, October 21, 1959, at 9:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, October 20, 1959

The House met at 11:00 a.m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend George H. Toadvine, Jr., Pastor of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church of this city, guest Chaplain, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Who has given us this good land for our heritage, we humbly beseech Thee that we may always prove ourselves and be ever mindful of Thy favor and glad to do Thy will. Bless our land with honorable industry, sound learning and pure manners. Save us from violence, discord and confusion, from pride and arrogance and from every evil way. Defend our liberties and fashion into one united people the multitudes brought hither out of many kindreds and tongues, and endow with a spirit of wisdom, those to whom in Thy name we entrust the authority of government, that there may be justice and peace at home and that, through obedience to Thy law, we may show forth Thy praise among the nations of the earth. In the time of prosperity fill our hearts with thankfulness and in the day of trouble, suffer not our trust in Thee to fail. All of which we ask through Jesus Christ, our Lord, Amen.

O God, the Fountain of Wisdom, Whose statutes are good and gracious and Whose law is truth, we beseech Thee so to guide and bless the Legislature of this state that it may ordain for our government only such things as please Thee, to the glory of Thy name and the welfare of the people, through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord, Amen.

In the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Monday, October 19, 1959, will be postponed until printed.

The Chair hears none.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mrs. Varallo for Mr. MILLS for the remainder of the week because of illness.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up bills out of order on the third reading calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1261, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" further providing for the operation of classes or schools for institutionalized children in counties of the second class the cost thereof to be paid by the Commonwealth.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I will yield to the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations regarding the questions.

The SPEAKER. The Majority Leader yields to the gentleman from Washington, the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Mr. Polen.

Will the gentleman from Washington permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the question has been raised by our Members as to how much if anything this bill would cost to the Commonwealth?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not have the amount that this bill would cost the Commonwealth, but it would not cost anything in addition to the amounts already being paid. There would be no additional cost under this bill.

Mr. TOMPKINS. There is a cost to the Commonwealth but there would be no additional cost?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Could you give us any estimate as to what the present cost to the Commonwealth is? Are they presently subsidizing the schools?

Mr. POLEN. They are, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Could you give us an estimate on that amount, do you have any recollection?

Mr. POLEN. I do not, Mr. Speaker. It would come out of the regular school subsidies and I do not know the amount. It would be true of any school where public classes are taught. It would be under the same—

Mr. TOMPKINS. We have been subsidizing this operation, but this will not cost any additional funds, is that right, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. POLEN. That is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

HANNA PENN STUDENTS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair notes the presence in the Hall of the House, appropriately enough, of a delegation of students from the Hanna Penn Junior High School in York, Pennsylvania. They are here with their instructors, Mr. Charles Martin and Mr. John Minnich, and I am pleased to say they are the guests of the Chair.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1963, entitled:

An Act amending the act of December 22, 1951 (P. L. 1715) entitled "An act authorizing council of cities of the second class to fix the salaries of the mayor and the council members of such cities and to provide for the assessment and retention of fines for absence of councilmen from meetings "removing the maximum limitation on salaries of councilmen.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to. ..

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will one of the sponsors of this bill consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Lamb, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. LAMB. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, under the terms of this bill it will be possible, will it not, for the city councilmen to fix themselves whatever salaries they deem proper, be it $25,000 or $50,000 per year? Is that correct?

Mr. LAMB. Mr. Speaker, it would be possible, although I do not think it is probable.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Thank you.

Mr. Speaker, I merely wanted to pinpoint the fact that this is something new in the history of the city of Pittsburgh whereby city council will be allowed to name any salary it sees fit for itself. If the Members of the Legislature wish to increase the salary to the city councilmen, we feel they should do it with limitations. We believe this to be unsound legislation. We think if the councilmen of the city of Pittsburgh want to have that discretionary authority, the bill should have provided for a minimum and maximum salary and then placed the burden upon the local government. But to give them no ceiling whatsoever is a dangerous precedent. We therefore ask that we have more negative than affirmative votes on the bill.

Mr. LAMB. Mr. Speaker, I certainly realize that under the terms of this bill city council could set for itself whatever pay raise or whatever salaries it deemed advisable; however, I think there is certainly an impediment to that in that any raise they would set would certainly have to meet the approval of the electorate. Certainly they are not going to raise themselves to such an extent that the people of the city of Pittsburgh are going to vote them out of office.

This bill was proposed by the League of Cities. It was intended that the councilmen, that is, the people in the city of Pittsburgh, should certainly direct or set what the councilman's pay should be. It is another attempt to make it a matter of home rule. Certainly we here in Harrisburg are not on the scene and are not close enough to the subject to know what the councilmen of the city of Pittsburgh are worth. I feel this is good legislation, and I certainly feel, I am sure, that the council of the city of Pittsburgh is not going to raise these salaries to bring down the wrath and indignation on the part of the people of the city.

I might also say that we here in the Legislature set our own salaries, and we are somewhat akin to the members of the city council.

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, I wonder if the gentleman would consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Lamb, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. LAMB. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman from Allegheny inferred that the electorate of the city of Pittsburgh would be allowed to have a voice in the increase in the wages; is that so?

Mr. LAMB. I hope I did not say that. That certainly was not my intent, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman inferred that that would be so. I believe this a very bad piece of legislation, and that it should never have been introduced in this House. I certainly hope all my friends on this side will vote against it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. MULDOWNNEY asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Banking and Building and Loan Associations to meet during the session of the House.

STATEMENT BY THE MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have permission to announce to the House our working schedule today.

We will leave the Hall of the House no later than a quarter of two for lunch and a caucus. The recess will be requested for a period of one hour and thirty minutes, of which 45 minutes will be for lunch and 45 minutes will be for the caucus. At that time we will return to the House, and I believe we will work until about 7:30, Daylight Saving Time, hoping to clean approximately 50 bills today from the calendar, or in that neighborhood.

Controversial bills will be brought up following the caucus on a special order of business, in which debate will follow in line. Many controversial bills are scheduled today, and will be scheduled tomorrow and roll call votes will be taken.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, immediately after lunch we will have a Republican caucus. It is very important that we cover some of these bills that are on special order, so please bring your calendars with you.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2171, entitled:

An Act amending the "Second Class County Code" approved July 28, 1953 (P. L. 723) authorizing the adoption of rules and regulations concerning inflammable or combustible substances certain fire hazards * * *

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DEVLIN asked unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 3104.1), page 4, lines 18 to 20, page 5, lines 1 to 5, by striking out all of said lines.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2402, entitled:

An Act amending the "Municipal Borrowing Law" approved June 25, 1941 (P. L. 159) further providing for the borrowing of money by cities and school districts for capital expenditures for improvements and equipment without the issuance of bonds and declaring the effect and validating certain prior transactions for the borrowing of money.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2410, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 28, 1931 (P. L. 202) entitled "An Act providing for the licensing and regulation of motor boats operated or navigated upon any public stream * * * non-tidal waters of any river within the Commonwealth * * *" providing for the issuance without charge of licenses and license plates for motor boats owned and operated by volunteer fire companies or rescue squads.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

------------------------------	--	---

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2411, entitled:

An Act amending "The General County Assessment Law" approved May 22, 1933 (P. L. 853) requiring only the part of any property owned by an exempt organization that is used for non-exempt purposes to be valued and exempting concert music halls maintained by public or private charities from taxation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman does not appear to be in the hall of the House.

The Chair recognizes the Majority Leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, momentarily the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dougherty, is out of the House.

I understand House Bill 2411, even though it pertains to the general county assessment law, this pertains to exempting concert music halls that would be handled in this category and it would apply in any county under this code. Mr. Tompkins asked me questions earlier in the conference, and I would like to have Mr. Dougherty answer them, but if he is not here we will pass it over.

Mr. HEAVEY. Maybe I can answer Mr. Tompkins' questions.

Mr. McCANN. Well, that would be quite alright, Mr. Speaker, if he has the information.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, page 5 of the bill amends the prior act by inserting "concert music halls," but on the bottom of page 2 and the top of page 3 an amendment reads. "Provided however That if property owned by an organization formed primarily for purposes exempt by law from taxation, is used partly for exempt purposes and partly for non-exempt purposes only that part measured either in area or in time which ever is the lesser, which is used for non-exempt purposes shall be valued, assessed and subject to taxation."

The point of our inquiry is this, would this provision in the bill require a set-up of let us take a veterans' post, which is partly owned or used for commercial purposes and partly used for veterans' purposes, would this require assessment according to the formula set forth which I have just read?

Mr. HEAVEY. Mr. Speaker, this bill was designed to help our historical Academy of Music in Philadelphia, that was the purpose of the bill. The old academy has housed the opera and the Philadelphia Orchestra for years, and these later years they have had a deficit. They have had to make up this deficit by giving the hundred dollar dinners, by public spirited citizens and in addition to that they have collected $600,000 through these dinners and spent $300,000 remodeling the old hall. They will have to have an additional $1 million. In other words a total of $1.6 million that they intend to spend on this historical hall that houses the opera and the orchestra. It all comes from public spirited citizens, dinners and so forth. It has been running into deficiencies in later years on account of everything going up, so therefore the bill was drawn up to help the academy with their tax problems, to rebate the taxes.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am in wholehearted sympathy with the objective which the gentleman has stated. The bill on page 5 is amended to include music halls but the question which I asked was that the amendment which is contained at the bottom of page 2 and the top of page 3 is not limited to the music hall in Philadelphia, it is general throughout the state of Pennsylvania. If the gentleman wants it limited to handling things in the city of Philadelphia, particularly the music hall, we are perfectly willing to amend the bill to accomplish that purpose, but as we read the amendments at the bottom of page 2 and page 3 it opens the door throughout the entire Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and sets up confusion on all of these matters. I merely picked a veterans' post as an example, in connection with this amendment at the bottom of page 2 and top of page 3. I wish they would look at it very carefully and determine that point because we have no objection to taking care of the Philadelphia music hall, but we do have objection to setting up a formula like this statewide, which might affect all of those institutions, among which I mentioned, the veterans' post.

Mr. HEAVEY. Well, Mr. Speaker, I would be very happy to go along with Mr. Tompkins, because I am not a lawyer and I could not debate the questions in the bill which he has brought up. The statement that I made previously is really—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Fineman, who may be able to throw some light on this matter.

Mr. HEAVEY. Well, will you just let me finish for just a second, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman has the floor.

Mr. HEAVEY. Mr. Tompkins, what I previously said is the real essence of the bill and why it was brought up. I would be very happy to go over any readjustment of this bill with you to straighten you out and eliminate the confusion you seem to have.

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, with the consent of the gentleman who is on the floor, I would respectfully submit that perhaps this bill ought to be passed over temporarily until we have had an opportunity to procure more accurate information concerning it.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. FINEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1342, entitled:

An Act amending the "Liquor Code" approved April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) excepting certain clubs from the quota limitations.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MCINROY. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, this bill was defeated on October 13 by a vote of 92 to 92. I said on that day that it is doubtful whether this bill is constitutional. I would like to read into the record just a short statement made on July 5, 1947 by Governor Duff when he vetoed a similar bill.

Governor Duff said, and I quote:

Legislation conferring privileges and preferences upon war veterans in recognition of their services has been sanctioned by a grateful public throughout the history of the Commonwealth but should not conflict with police regulations or an important policy of the Commonwealth.

Making a separate class of veterans' organizations for the purpose of receiving licenses to sell liquor would, in our opinion, amount to special legislation and be clearly unconstitutional.

As I said on October 13, even if it were constitutional, it would permit the opening of the doors, and certainly many of us believe that the quota method is the best method of handling the granting of liquor licenses. If we would open the quota to thousands and thousands of clubs who might want to come into Pennsylvania, certainly our situation would not be improved.

Therefore, I ask each Member to vote this bill down.

Mr. A. J. MURPHY. Mr. Speaker, last week we discussed this bill at length. I would only like to say that subsequent to that time we have amended this bill to limit it to veterans' clubs now in existence or in existence one year prior to the effective date of this act, so it will not throw the doors open to every group of men who desire to organize and call themselves a veterans' organization in the future. It is limited to those organizations which today, in fact, one year ago, were bona fide veterans' organizations, and I again appeal to the Members of the House to cast their vote in favor of this legislation and give these veterans the same opportunity as their brothers in other clubs and organizations have had during the years.

Mr. MCINROY. Mr. Speaker, I certainly recognize that, but it would still open the quota. We are not unsympathetic to veterans' organizations, but you are giving it to veterans' organizations already in existence, so you are making an exception to the quota.

Mr. PRENDERGAST. Mr. Speaker, Mr. McInroy from Tioga County has stated that this would open the door to thousands and thousands of additional applications for liquor licenses by veterans' organizations, and as Mr. Murphy pointed out, and I want to reaffirm, this is not true. It only applies to clubs which have been in existence one year prior to the effective date of the act. I think that the constitutionality of the bill is a question for the courts and cannot be decided on this floor.

I feel that it is a good bill, a bill which should have been law some years ago. I urge every Member of this House to give this bill every consideration and vote in favor of it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. McCANN.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 459, entitled:

An Act amending "The Permanent Registration Act for Cities of the Second Class Cities of the Second Class A Cities of the Third Class Boroughs Towns and Townships" approved April 29, 1937 (P. L. 487) changing provisions relating to cancellation of registration.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOMPKINS. This bill provides that you only purge the registration rolls every four years instead of every two years. We do not believe that to be a good philosophy or a good practice, and I am asking that we vote this bill down.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1152, entitled:

An Act amending "The First Class City Permanent Registration Act" approved March 30, 1937 (P. L. 115) changing provisions relating to cancellation of registration.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call the attention of the Members to the fact that this is a bill in connection with voter purging for the city of Philadelphia only and is on the same par as the bill we just acted upon, in other words, that they purge only once every four years instead of once every two years in the city of Philadelphia. I ask that this bill be voted down.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, briefly, I ask all those who may have voted "No" because it affected their particular county, if they can give Philadelphia a vote in the affirmative, to do so.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. STEWART filed the following reasons for his vote on House Bill No. 1152.

House Bill 1152 changes the present law of a two year limitation on purging of voters to four years. I was requested by a number of elderly and handicapped voters of my district to sponsor and support this change in the Registration Act.

The present law works a hardship on the older voters of my district by disenfranchising them due to conditions beyond their control. Many times they are unable to vote in a two year period because of sickness or being physically handicapped cannot get to the polling place during inclement weather. It is my belief that this law would help the older voter and therefore for this reason I have supported and sponsored this legislation.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2347, entitled:

An Act amending "The Administrative Code of 1929" approved April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) creating the Bureau of Consumer Protection defining its powers and duties and making an appropriation.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, this bill in its present form has been restored practically to its original form. It had been amended to limit its application to the Public Utility Commission, but amendments have again restored its wide powers of application.

The bill provides that the Bureau of Consumer Protection shall have the power and duty, and I quote. "to represent the viewpoint of the consuming public in matters before any executive, legislative, or judicial body, state or federal government, including, but not limited to any proceedings seeking a change in rates or services, or costs of services or commodities."

I should like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the recent sales tax amendment increased the cost to consumers of those commodities on which the tax was imposed. If House Bill 2347 had been in effect at the time those amendments were moving through the Legislature, would the Bureau have had the authority to oppose them?

Mr. McCANN. Would the Bureau have had the authority to oppose the sales tax which is added to the selling price of an item? The answer would be no, they could not.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Does not this bill give this Commission the right and duty to look into matters before the Legislature affecting Consumers' interests?

Mr. McCANN. It does, Mr. Speaker, but certainly not in the field you have outlined here. Can you show me where that is in 2347, in its present amended form, 1813?

Mr. TOMPKINS. On page 3 they are charged with the duty to represent the viewpoint of the consuming public in matters before any legislative body of the state or federal government, including but not limited to any proceeding seeking a change of rates or services or costs.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, is there not more than one legislative body in the meaning of the term when you say "legislative body," bodies other than the House of Representatives and the Senate of Pennsylvania? The answer is; There is more than one legislative body. All those legislative bodies created by the Legislature are legislative bodies.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I would not so interpret it, because of the fact that we are the only legislative body I know of in the state of Pennsylvania. There may be bodies that have the powers of rule and regulation making, but certainly not law making.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman, I believe if he will check, there certainly are more legislative bodies than just the House of Representatives and the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Mr. TOMPKINS. This refers to "legislative," and we are a legislative body. Certainly we would be one of those bodies included in this bill.

Mr. McCANN. I answered you that they would not be a part of the legislative body in the sense of the House of Representatives, for example. As the gentleman is well aware, the type of proposed legislation in House Bill 2347 now exists in certain other states of the Union, with some deviations from the present bill. For example, our neighbors in New York have a similar law. I believe that in the New England states you will find a similar law in this field. "Legislative bodies," I think, is incorporated in their laws also.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Does not the Constitution of Pennsylvania vest the legislative powers in this General Assembly only?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe any bureau would have any powers to change any constitutional items. I believe the gentleman is well versed in the field of constitutional law, for he has served quite a number of times on constitutional revision committees. I believe he is well aware that changes in the Constitution would be handled in the manner in which they are now handled in this Commonwealth.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I am not talking about that particular matter. What I am talking about, are we not in this bill granting the bureau the power to influence this legislative body in matters which are contained in this bill?

Mr. McCANN. The influence, Mr. Speaker, would be to this extent: If you had a Bureau of Consumer Protection and that Bureau had received information, had carefully checked into any particular item and given you a complete report, and that report in itself influenced your decision as to what you may do or may not do, the answer would be yes, they would be influencing.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, now, Mr. Speaker, suppose the House and Senate passed the Sales Tax amendments over the bureau's opposition and that the bill went to the Attorney General for review and recommendation to the Governor. How would the Attorney General's opinion be kept free of influence by the bureau?

Mr. McCANN. I do not believe, Mr. Speaker, that there would be any problem. The Attorney General of this Commonwealth is the legal advisor on all matters for the Governor, so to speak the right hand of the Governor in every piece of proposed legislation that reaches his desk. As the Attorney General of the Commonwealth, he or she presents to the Governor his or her views carried out with the full intent of the law as to the constitutionality of it, as to the correctness of the bill, and all the other items required. I cannot see where the Attorney General for the Commonwealth would, in effect, in any way conflict with the Bureau of Consumer Protection in fulfilling the duties of the Attorney General of the Commonwealth in those items which you have outlined.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Is not this bureau under the control of the Department of Justice?

Mr. McCANN. This bureau would be under the control of the Department of Justice.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, would the bureau have authority to oppose an increase in state store prices by the Liquor Control Board?

Mr. McCANN. I would say that the bureau could possibly consider the prices that are paid, but that is not the intent of the Bureau of Consumer Protection. I believe the gentleman is pretty well versed on what the bureau's duties and responsibilities would be in the field of consumer protection.

Mr. TOMPKINS. The way the bill is drafted they have a right to step in where it is likely to affect the price to the consumer. Suppose the Department of Agriculture were considering more stringent regulations for the preservation of meats, or for cleansing arsenic spray for fruits, and that the cost would be certain to increase the cost of food to consumers, would the bureau have the authority to oppose the regulations because of their effect on consumer food prices?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the bureau would, within the intent and scope, have the right to oppose those items which the gentleman has outlined. But would not the bureau of Consumer Protection be the one which would be advocating those things that would be protecting the public, instead of opposing in that field?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I do not know. I am merely interrogating to get clarification on the powers contained in this bill. If it is going to affect the prices, at the same time it might affect some of the health regulations. They might find themselves in conflict with themselves.

Would the same rule apply where the Department of Mines increases mine safety requirements which in time could increase the price of coal to the consumer?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman is pretty well versed in the field of either bituminous or anthracite coal laws, the two major coal laws of Pennsylvania, and I do believe you will agree that the Bureau of Consumer Protection would not have very much to say, if anything, or if at all, ever, about the production of coal or the price of coal. But would not the bureau have the right to consider, in the consumers' protection field, that if you were buying a certain grade of bituminous coal, that you got the grade of coal for which you paid? That would be consumer protection.

For instance, in the bituminous field, on which I am well versed, there is no question that you and I know you can order, and you do order, that you do pay for a specific type of bituminous coal. When you order and you pay, you should receive that which you purchased. If the seller were mixing two or three different grades of coal—lump, nut, or different items—because he could then get his bushel and tonnage without any problem, it would be deceiving the consumer in that respect, but this would not be within the field of safety or regulations in the production in the mines.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, he is going into the question of the deception of the public. I am asking about the increased price of coal because of certain mine shaft equipment that might be required to be installed. Certainly that is a cost to the consumer and we are trying to inquire as to exactly how extensive their powers are on fixing costs and prices because of the things that they must do which would require such an increase.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman would—again I repeat—be quite well aware, and I repeat emphatically, that if the Bureau of Consumer Protection were in operation, in my opinion and I am sure in your opinion, they would have absolutely no power within the bituminous coal fields in the operation of the coal mines or the anthracite, within their operation, dealing with the items that you outlined, such as, safety help.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I agree with the gentleman. They would have nothing in that field, but what they do in that field increases the price of coal to the consumer. Then this bill would step in, would it not?

Mr. McCANN. This bill would not step in, Mr. Speaker, and no place in the bill can you read that in because the bituminous mining laws and the Secretary of the Department of Mines, as well as the anthracite mining laws, are the solely responsible laws in operation in Pennsylvania, except the Federal Mining Code.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, I can agree with the gentleman in the field of safety, but I am talking about the field of consumer protection.

Would the Bureau have authority to oppose an increase in worker's wages in a state or federal mediation or arbitration proceeding on the ground that it would increase the cost of consumer goods? Could it intervene that way in the present steel strike? In a labor dispute in the auto industry? In the coal industry?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the Bureau of Consumer Protection could not intervene within a labor dispute in which the labor dispute would involve a change in wages or earning power which eventually may change the cost of the production or the item. The Bureau of Consumer Protection could not, under any place in the bill, enter into such disputes.

Mr. TOMPKINS. The result of that dispute would increase the cost of the product to the consumer, would it not?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, there are certainly many times that the result of such a dispute has increased the cost of the product to the consumer, but there are certainly many times that the cost did not change in any way in the retail or selling price of the item to the consumer. The bureau could not enter into any of those disputes.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Now, Mr. Speaker, under the Act of 1937, the Department of Labor and Industry Wage Board may hold hearings upon whether the minimum wage for women in the clothing industry should be raised. Would the bureau have the authority to appear and oppose such increase on the ground that consumer clothing prices might have to be raised?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, that again would be within the field of negotiation of Labor and Industry in labor disputes. The Bureau of Consumer Protection would not be able to participate within the field of labor disputes. Would they be able to participate then in a field where a negotiated contract without any dispute had taken place? The answer would be that they would not be able to enter into a negotiated contract which is negotiated and agreed to by the respective parties, that would be between the Union, as the case would be, and the management of a plant or a concern.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I agree with the gentleman that they would not enter into negotiations, but where would they be in trying to do something to prevent an increase in prices to the consumer?

Mr. McCANN. In the field, Mr. Speaker, of those contracts which would be negotiated, as I mentioned, they would not participate in that field, or could I see how they could participate in the final field which may eventually result in an increase to the cost of a product or in the sale of the product.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, in the publicity released by the advocates of this bill, one of the matters mentioned was the increase in Blue Cross rates recently granted by the State Insurance Commissioner. Let us see how the bureau would operate if it had been in existence when those Blue Cross increases were first considered.

Would it have had authority to appear before the Insurance Commissioner?
